

LOCAL LACONICS.

New shoes at Reed's. Court began Monday. Read Bell's ad. Why? Go to Riston's for guns. Brookville fair Sept. 26th. School begins next Monday. Ten pin hat racks for 10 cents, at H. J. Nickle's. Ladies' heavy shoes $1.25 at Robinson's, just arrived. The Erie Annual conference convenes at DuBois this morning. Ladies' Philadelphia toe patent tip shoe $1.50 at Robinson's. Horse, harness and surry for sale. Enquire of J. S. Morrow. Dollie Sutter went to Portland Mills, Pa., Monday to visit her sister. Have the squirrels gone to the World's Fair? If not, where are they? Gentlemen call and inspect Bell's fine woollens for fall and winter suits. Why? The winds will soon make a fellow think seriously of getting his overcoat from his "uncle." Fourteen quart tin pails 25 cts., 10 quart pails 20 cts. and 5 quart pails 10 cents at H. J. Nickle's. P. H. Swonger, who has lived in Reynoldsville for sometime, moved to Heathville this week. Go to W. C. Schultze & Son's for "Minnehaha" flour, the only place where it is sold in town. Will J. McConnell, the temperance lecturer, will lecture in Centennial hall every evening next week. The title of the picture in Arnold's window is "In the Pasture." It is the work of Miss Ella Seoley. A good many men will have to "foot it" this winter. We wish all such had a pair of Reed's $3.00 shoes. The Presbyterians of Beechwoods held their annual picnic at their church in Beechwoods last Wednesday. The new ordinance just now receiving the attention of the town council will be found in this issue. Read it. It needs no special message of the President to tell the people of Reynoldsville where Reed's shoe store is. No department of the Brookville fair, which will be held from Sept. 26th to 29th, inclusive, will be neglected. You must wear shoes if the times are close. Fit your shoes to the times and buy of Henry A. Reed, "the shoe man." An excellent picture of Hon. Isaac Grantham Gordon, deceased, appeared in the Brookville Republican last week. Why pay rent any longer? Walter Spry has three good houses for sale, two on Jackson st. and on Worth st., at bargains. The trouble about land titles at Falls Creek goes merrily on. The land will, no doubt, be valuable before the title business is settled satisfactorily. It is a sign of popularity and prosperity to see a merchant adding to his stock these days. That is just what Henry A. Reed, "the shoe man," is doing. Robt. Norris thrashed his wheat a few days ago and it turned out 28 bushels to the acre. Farms in Paradise are not barren fields, as the above will testify. The Jewish New Year began Sunday evening, which is a season of penance for that class of people. A. Katzon's store was closed Monday and Tuesday. U. G. Scheafnocker will have charge of the gas office during Mr. Simmon's absence and P. J. Quinlan, of Titusville, who arrived here Monday noon, will do the outside work. Drs. Neale, Reynolds and King removed a small tumor off Miss Alice Delaney's neck a few days ago. The operation was a success and the young lady is getting along nicely. Captain Tilton C. Reynolds was numbered with the "stiff necked" last week, but he has resumed his usual attitude again by the application of a remedy prescribed by his family physician. E. W. McMillen, who is booked for a speech at the picnic to be held at Pancoast Friday, requests us to say that on account of previous arrangements it will be impossible for him to attend the picnic. Rev. P. J. Slattery, who has been pastor of the Reynoldsville M. E. church the past year, is attending conference at DuBois this week. There will be no preaching services in the church next Sunday. To-day the A. V. R'y sell the first excursion tickets to Pittsburg Exposition. From Reynoldsville to Pittsburg and return, including admission to exposition, the fare is $3.85; tickets good until 16th inst. We have been requested to state that business of importance to every member of the O. U. A. M. will be transacted at the regular meeting of that lodge on Monday evening, Sept. 25th, and that all are urged to attend.

We can't blame a man for being watchful of his dollars, but all are not watchful; if they were, they would trade at Reed's. The A. V. R'y will sell excursion tickets to Pittsburg and return Wednesday, Sept. 20th, for $3.85, good until the following Saturday. Miss Flo Best has been in the city for the past week attending the September opening. Flo will display a fine line of early fall goods on her return. She will also attend October openings. An excursion was run from Reynoldsville to DuBois Sunday morning on account of the dedication of the Catholic church at that place. Over four hundred and fifty people, including the Keystone band, went on the excursion. David Reynolds has had quite a time with diphtheria in his family the past few weeks. Five of the children have had a tussel with the dread disease and have all, apparently, gained the victory only one little boy who is in a dangerous condition. The following services will be held in the Lutheran church at this place next Saturday and Sunday, conducted by Rev. J. Ash. Preaching at 7.30 Saturday evening, and 11.00 A. M. Sunday, followed by communion; preaching at 7.30 Sunday evening. The Brookville fair this year will be a concentrated gathering of the various products of shop, soil and household. It will be a home celebration commemorating discovery, illustrating achievement, and will be to this locality what the World's Fair is to the whole country. A party of Driftwood ladies visited Reynoldsville yesterday, as follows: Mrs. F. E. Richardson and Mrs. Chas. F. Lotten, were guests of Mrs. J. S. Morrow. Mrs. Samuel Lauck, Mrs. Frank W. Mitchell and a lady friend of Pittsburg, were the guests of Mrs. Camden Mitchell. The annual exhibition of the Clearfield Agricultural Park Association will be held on their grounds at Clearfield Sept. 18th to 21st, inclusive. We received a premium list last week which is gotten up in a neat pamphlet form. Excursions will be run to the fair on all railroads. The Evangelical Lutheran church at Emerickville, which has been repaired and beautified, will be re-dedicated at three o'clock next Sunday afternoon. Rev. J. Ash, of this place, will preach the dedicatory sermon. The Lutheran choir of Reynoldsville expect to furnish the music. It costs considerable money to attend the World's Fair, but it will cost merely a trifle to visit the big county fair at Brookville, where bicycle racing, horse racing, foot racing, &c., will be some of the sports, while the exhibits will be numerous and the crowd of spectators will be immense. Attend and see. A portable saw mill will soon make the hum of industry sound on the hills and in the valleys in Paradise. Noah and C. E. Strouse have over 300,000 of hemlock, besides considerable of hard wood, which they are going to have ripped into pieces this fall. Jack Kuntz will move his mill into Paradise in a week or two and then the work will begin. An example will be made of a fellow in a few days who tied his horse to a shade tree in this borough and allowed the animal to peel the bark off the tree. A man who lacks the required amount of judgement to keep him from doing such a trick should get a reminder that he will not soon forget. Shade trees are not planted to have some thoughtless fellow come along and tie his horse to. E. Neff and wife went to Georgeville, Indiana county, Pa., yesterday afternoon to be present to-day to help celebrate Mr. Neff's father's 79th birthday. There was a family of eight children, one dead, and it is expected the living will gather around the old hearth stone together to-day for the first time in twenty-five years. Mr. Neff's mother is 72 years old. Patrick Horn, who was an old engineer on the A. V. R'y but was only promoted to a regular passenger run last winter, when the evening train was put on to Driftwood, quit running on the A. V. a few days ago by special request of the superintendent. It is hard luck to get discharged when a man has reached a passenger run, but it is too responsible a position to be trifled with. Last Wednesday morning dawned anything but encouraging for a picnic, but the Methodist Episcopal Sunday school hoped the dark clouds would disappear and the day turn out to be a pretty one, for it was the day for the school's annual picnic, and their hopes were not blasted. Many of the scholars enjoyed the picnic, but the outlook in the morning kept some at home. The following young ladies drove to Reynoldsville Thursday evening and tarried in town several hours. A few of the young men of this place acted as guardians over the ladies while here: Misses Helen Wheeler, Lillian DeMott, Kate Gaffey, Annie Evans, Tat Sharpe, Mary Guthmiller, Kattie Heldrick, Cora Heitner, Jennie Baum, of DuBois, Kate Miller, of Erie, Vina Heldrick, of New Bethlehem, Mrs. Lotta Andrea, of Philadelphia.

Fractured a Bone. Louisa, daughter of Mrs. Joanna Anderson, fell out of a hammock while attending the M. E. picnic in the grove last Wednesday and was injured so that she could not walk home. One of the small bones of her right ankle was fractured. Church Dedicated. St. Catherine's church at DuBois, which costs almost $50,000, was dedicated last Sunday in the presence of nearly 1500 people. Rev. Father Casey, vicar general, of Erie, delivered the dedicatory sermon. Right Rev. Bishop Mullen, of Erie, dedicated the church. Miss Mamie Crowley, of Renovo, played the big organ and the choir was composed of fifteen voices. Will Come Friday. Rev. Herbert R. Johnston, the new pastor of the Reynoldsville Presbyterian church, will arrive here with his family Friday of this week and will occupy his new pulpit next Sunday. The parsonage has been repainted outside and makes a good appearance. Rev. Johnston will move into the house immediately. He will certainly receive a hearty welcome from the Reynoldsville congregation. Forgot His Coat. A preacher of the gospel, who tends the sheep-fold for a flock in the neighborhood of Panic, had to do some trading before he was ready to enter the pulpit a few Sundays ago. He put on a long duster and went to the barn to get his horse to drive to his appointment. Intending to take off the duster and put on his "ministerial coat" before he left home, but he forgot it and had to trade his duster to one of the brethren for a broad-cloth to wear while in the pulpit. 'Twas Buckwheat! Two handsome young ladies of Reynoldsville went to Clearfield not long since and when crossing the river to the Market street station on the C. & M. they commented on a field of grain hardby. One of the ladies said "that is a beautiful field of wheat." The other said, "that is not wheat. Don't you know the difference between wheat and rye?" When the girls got home one of them told her mother about the field of rye at Clearfield. She said "it was about a foot high, red stem and white flowers on top." It was a field of buckwheat. A Big Scores. The business men and clerks of the east side of Main street and the business men and clerks of the west side of same street, played a game of ball at this place Wednesday afternoon which was interesting, not on account of the small score, for the home base was reached 47 times, but it was the exhibition of base ball talent that amused the players and lookers on. The game required almost a full half day to play it in. The score was 23 to 24, in favor of the west side. There was more fun, by big odds, than good playing from beginning to end of game. Runaway. A team of ponies owned by John Champion, a coal miner, runaway from a young man Monday afternoon. He was driving down Jackson street in a buggy and when near the M. E. parsonage one of the ponies began kicking which frightened the other one and they became unmanageable. The young man jumped out and the ponies had a lively run down Jackson st., up the alley and across Main street near Hotel McConnell. The buggy was upset near Fourth and Grant streets and the ponies were caught. The damage to the buggy was slight. Changed Throttles. Andy Denny, a local freight engineer on the A. V. R'y, has been promoted to a passenger run. He will haul M. J. McEnteer. Mike Montgomery, who has been hauling local freight between this place and Driftwood and spending his Sundays at Driftwood while his family lives here, has been changed to the other side of the run and will now spend his Sundays in Reynoldsville. Pat. Foley, engineer on through freight, will get the local freight run between this place and Driftwood with Sunday lay over at the latter place. He will move his family from East Brady to Driftwood. "It is an ill wind that does not blow somebody good," for this change was made by the discharge of one passenger engineer. Cow's Disappearing. Six or seven cows have disappeared in the Paradise Settlement within a radius of three miles since early in June. Where they have gone is a mystery to the owners of the bovines, as there is no trace of them. Last week an article appeared in the DuBois Courier about several cows disappearing at that place and the owners finding their hides at the Penfield tannery. One of the cows had been bought by the butcher at Penfield from a strange young man who drove the cow into town. Perhaps the Paradise cows have been driven away and sold. It seems strange they would all stray away and nothing ever heard of them. It is a man's duty, if a cow strays on his premises, to advertise her, but an investigation has been made and none of the cows have been advertised.

Morgan Thomas, jr., son of Morgan Thomas, sr., who lives on a small farm several miles out of Reynoldsville, was kicked by a horse last Tuesday evening and died from the effects of it on Wednesday evening, Sept. 6th. The young man, who was eighteen years old, was crossing the field on his way home from the Sprague mine, where he worked, just as a storm cloud was appearing and his mother called to him to drive the horse in from the pasture field. The horse, which was considered the laziest animal on the place, walked to slow for the boy and he hit it with a stick and the horse kicked him with one foot just below the right ribs and injured him internally. There was not a mark on his body. The boy and his parents thought there was nothing seriously wrong, but a doctor was sent for and not until a few hours before he died was the real danger comprehended. His body burst open after death. The remains were buried in the Prospect cemetery Friday afternoon. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. P. J. Slattery, the M. E. minister of this place. The Guilty Fleeth. Chief-of-police Adlesperger went down to the flat below town Saturday, where a game of ball was being played, to look for a man whom he wanted to subpoena to attend court. Another game, not requiring such violent exercise, was in progress under a shade tree not far from the ball players. Adlesperger saw his man in the crowd and walked on towards the card players. When they saw him coming the players and lookers on raised like a flock of and gave "leg ball" and Frank after them. The guilty fellows each one thought he was after them for gambling. In the chase Frank suddenly ran onto another "gang" playing with cardboard and when they saw the police, cards flew in all directions and so did the players. Frank chased the man whom he wanted to subpoena to No. 1 bridge before he caught him. "The guilty fleeth when no man pursueth." The whole gang thought they were "goners." It is said an officer of this borough, whose name we will not give this time, was in the last flock frightened up by the Chief. Unsuccessful. Poverty Flat, the scene of many a hand to hand combat, tongue lashing and disgraceful sight, furnished another excitement Monday night, and unless the law makes a raid in that neighborhood soon some of these nights some person's soul will be sent—by the bullet route—to the place where ice cream is an unknown luxury. A woman who has an unenviable reputation lives on the flat and on the night referred to some person made an attempt to blow her and the shanty she occupies into smithereens with a stick of dynamite, but only succeeded in tearing up the ground near the house. After the explosion five or six shots were fired without effect. There are a few young men of this town who visit the flat who still have a little manhood left and would blush to see their names in print in connection with such places as are found there, and yet if any accident happens in that locality and they are connected with it their names are likely to appear before the public. Talented Orator. A union temperance meeting will be held in Centennial hall at 7.30 next Sunday evening which will be addressed by the great temperance lecturer, Will J. McConnell. Last week's Punxsutawney Spirit spoke of the lecturer as follows: "The talented temperance orator, Will J. McConnell, has been holding a temperance revival in the M. E. church for the past few days and has been meeting with good success. He is a very entertaining as well as a forcible talker. He has a rich variety of anecdotes, an earnest demeanor, and is apt at illustration. And he can rise to very fine flights of eloquence, too. But not the least of his accomplishments is an air of honest candor. He has himself been an unfortunate victim of the drunk habit. He does not attempt to disguise this fact, but humbly confesses his weakness, and wins the sympathy of his audience by modest and penitent humility. He is a pleasant little gentleman socially, too." Sound Doctrine. (Big Run Echo.) The times would not be so dull if people would spend their money at home, and with the people who will use it at home. When men employ the home workmen and deal with the home merchants they are helping to make money plentiful at home. Donation Party. The members of the Presbyterian church, and all interested in the welfare of the church, will give the new pastor, Rev. Johnston, and family a donation party at the parsonage on Tuesday evening, Sept. 19th. Fifteen hundred dollars worth of English woollens just arrived at Bell's for fall suits. Why? Have you seen Reed's $3.00 shoe? A new line of neckties and scarf pins at H. J. Nickle's. Go to Riston's for ammunitions of all kinds. Reed sells a handsome shoes at $3.00. Ten piece decorated toilet set for $3.50 at H. J. Nickle's.

M. J. Farrell, ticket agent for the A. V. R'y at this place, received a telegram Friday which stated that his brother, Robert Farrell, had been badly injured at Putneyville, Armstrong county. The ticket agent returned home Monday and from him we got a statement of the extent of his brother's injuries. He received a scalp wound that required seven stitches to sew it up; left leg broken, left arm broken, ligaments of right thigh torn loose and right leg badly used up; his back terrible lacerated. Mr. Farrell was working on a pier of a new bridge being put up across the Mahoning creek at Putneyville when the accident happened. In place of using guy ropes on the derrick used for hoisting the stone, it was braced with heavy boards, and when raising a large stone one of these broke and the derrick whirled and Mr. Farrell was caught between the derrick and pier with above results, which was almost enough to kill any ordinary man, but Mr. Farrell is getting along nicely, all things considered. M. J. Farrell says the people of Putneyville are the kindest and most accommodating it has ever been his lot to meet. Figs and Thistles. (Ram's Horn.) The devil catches every fish that bites at his bait. Some of the most deadly serpents have the brightest skins. Smallpox is not any more contagious than a good example. The man who is always looking for mud generally finds it. A David who goes wrong is as much to blame as a Judas. The biggest dollars we see are those just out of our reach. The devil has no anxiety about the man who is mean to his wife. If the devil had to do all his work in the daytime he would soon quit. A quarter in the pocket will buy more groceries than a dollar somebody owes you. Religion, pure and undefiled, does not leave all its money at home when it goes to church. It often happens that the man who pays the preacher the least, wants to boss him the most. People who boast that they never did any harm are generally those who haven't done much good. Farmers' Institute. We received the following notice from James McCracken, of Frostburg, resident member of Pa. State Board of Agriculture: A Farmers' Institute will be held at Sandy Valley Dec. 11 and 12, 1893, under the auspices of the Pennsylvania State Board of Agriculture. The expenses of the meetings are paid by the state and they are for the benefit and entertainment of the whole people. They are not in the interest of any organization whatever, but for farmers and their families and all others who will attend. Ladies especially invited. Every body will be made welcome and highly entertained. Mr. F. B. Terry, of Ohio, one of the most successful farmers in America will be among the corps of able instructors. Gov. Pattison has been requested to attend but his reply is not yet received. Don't miss the greatest treat ever offered the agricultural people of Jefferson county. Up With the Times. A. T. McClure, supervisor of West Winslow township and a farmer of Pancoast, came into the STAR office last Friday with a paper bag under his arm which contained a few choice potatoes, "Rural New Yorker No. 2," which he had raised on his farm. They are an excellent potato. Mr. McClure gets most all the latest improved farm implements. He used a potato planter, which is quite a saving of time to the farmer, to plant his potatoes this year and last week he got one of Hoover's Diggers on trial which saves about $8.00 per acre in digging potatoes. The above named gentleman has a good farm and he does not only get the best seed on the market, but he also keeps the best of stock. He farms in a business like way. Annual Convention. The annual convention of the W. C. T. U. of Jefferson county will be held at Falls Creek Tuesday and Wednesday, September 19th and 20th. An interesting program has been prepared. Mrs. E. D. C. Mair, of Pittsburg, will be present and address the convention on the 20th. Rev. Millen, of Bellview, and other ministers will take part in a platform meeting on the evening of the 19th. A good attendance is desired. Names of delegates and visitors expecting entertainment should be sent this week to Mrs. C. E. Pifer, Falls Creek. Why Not? (Brookville Democrat.) The question of building an electric railroad from Brookville to Punxsutawney is beginning to be agitated. We think such a road would be practicable, and could be built at a reasonable cost. It is believed it would pay. We may refer to the subject again soon. Buy your children's shoes at Robinson's and get a school tablet with each pair. Dish pans for 20, 25 and 35 cents at H. J. Nickle's. Do unto others as you would have them do to you. Deal fairly. That is Henry A. Reed, "the shoe man's," motto.

Schultze went to Pittsburg this morning on business. Holland Clawson and family went to Fairmount Saturday on a short visit. Mrs. G. N. Durnell, of Connessville, is visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs. A. B. Weed. Harry and Vere King and Reid Wilson went to the World's Fair the first of this week. Margaret Carroll, of Brookville, visited Misses Nellie and Lettie Sutter yesterday. Lou Anthony, of New Bethlehem, is visiting her brother, Ellsworth Anthony, at this place. Mrs. F. M. Brown and daughters, Misses Inez and Christina, visited Clearfield last Thursday. Harry B. Fields and wife, of Kansas City, are visiting Andrew T. Bing's family on Grant street. Glenn and Cora Millen, Olive Jones and L. F. Styles went to Niagara yesterday on the excursion. G. L. Deeds, of Rathmel, was called to Red Bank Saturday by the illness of his father-in-law. Mrs. S. W. Hildebrand, of Johnstown, Pa., visited her son, S. B. Hall, in West Reynoldsville last week. Frank Flynn and John Kearns returned to the St. Bonaventure College at Allegheny, N. Y., this week. Blanche Emery returned to her home at Brookville Saturday after a visit with her sister at this place. J. C. Baker and wife, of Oak Ridge, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Mellinger several days last week. Lida Phalen returned to the St. Elizabeth Academy at Allegheny, N. Y., last week after a vacation at her home in this place. A. J. Postlethwait, R. L. Brand, Britta and Maggie Butler, drove to Sugar Hill, in a stylish two-horse turn-out last Friday to visit friends. Mrs. John H. Kaucher and sons, Howard and Clifford, went to Clarion Monday where they will remain and the boys will attend the Normal school. Dick Hughes, of Rathmel, Henry Shields, of Prescottville, and J. D. Patterson, of this place, left here yesterday to attend school at West Sunbury. Mrs. A. M. Woodward and sister, Mrs. Jennie E. Truitt, whose maiden names were Corbett, were at Baxter, Pa., last Thursday attending a Corbett reunion. G. Walter Palen and wife, Lucius M. Simmons and wife went to the Windy City Monday morning to get jammed in the crowd that is taking in the World's Fair. Byron L. Brand, of Trenton, N. J., formerly one of our pedagogues, makes an occasional visit to Reynoldsville. The past week he enjoyed one of these pleasant visits. Miss Addie B. Ross, the young lady who keeps house for Ben. Haugh, left here Thursday for a trip to Kansas. She will tarry at Chicago a few days to look at the Fair. Mrs. W. H. Bunce, of Greenville, came to Reynoldsville Saturday evening. She will go to conference at DuBois to-day. Mrs. Bunce has many warm friends here who are always delighted to see her. Rev. E. Cressman and wife, of Ridgway, stopped off at Reynoldsville over night the first of this week on their way to Greensburg, Westmoreland county, to attend the Pittsburg Synod of the Lutheran church. Mrs. A. P. Utter, Mrs. W. S. Koss and Miss Birdie Ross left here Monday for Middlesborough, Ky. Mrs. Ross and Birdie will return in about six weeks and Mrs. Utter will remain with her husband there. Mrs. J. B. Corbin, of Rice county, Kansas, daughter of William McConnell, of Beechwoods, who has not been at the home of her parents for over four years, was called to Beechwoods last week by the serious illness of her mother. G. G. Williams, night dispatcher on the A. V. R'y at this place, accompanied by his wife, went to Wheeling, West Va., Saturday, where he will remain a few days, return to Pittsburg and visit the Exposition and come home the latter part of this week. Rev. J. P. Hicks, a Methodist Episcopal minister who has been preaching near Corry the past year, with his wife has been visiting her father, Joseph Syphrit, in Paradise, the past week. Rev. Hicks is attending the conference at DuBois this week. W. H. Baker, editor of the Ridgway Advocate, was in Reynoldsville Monday and called at the STAR office. Bro. Baker is a genial and first-class newspaper man. Under his management the Ridgway binery turns out work to compare with any city work. Our latch string is out to such visitors. Rev. E. T. Derr, Robt. L. Miles and A. E. Dunn were to attend a meeting to receive a Baptist church that had been organized at that place into the Association. Mrs. Dunn accompanied her husband as far as Curwensville and visited friends there a few days. J. Van Reed accompanied his brother-in-law, Dr. E. M. Boyles, of DuBois, to Philadelphia last week where the Doctor entered the Jefferson Medical College for treatment. Doctor, who was at one time an officer of this borough, has been indisposed for sometime and his friends fear that unless he gets relief speedily he will leave this mundane sphere.
