

LOCAL LACONICS.

Brookville fair. New shoes at Reed's. Go to Riston's for guns. Clearfield fair this week. Read Bell's ad. Why? Night school will open soon. Brookville Fair next Tuesday. Go to Riston's for ammunitions of all kinds. Pay your tax before Oct. 6th, if you want to vote. A new line of neckties and scarf pins at H. J. Nickle's. Fresh oysters at the City Hotel restaurant at all times. G. J. Corwin will open his photograph gallery on the 25th inst. Horse, harness and surry for sale. Enquire of J. S. Morrow. The West Reynoldsville public schools open Monday, Sept. 25th. The Emerickville Lutheran church was re-dedicated last Sunday. Robinson on deck with shoes for everybody and prices to please. Oscar Steve took his wheel of fortune to the Clearfield fair Monday. Robinson aims to give you shoes worth the money they cost you. George Lane got the little finger of his left hand smashed the other day. Gentlemen call and inspect Bell's fine woolsens for fall and winter suits. Why? The A. V. R'y pay car made its monthly trip over the road last Friday. Two break downs at Hopkins mill last week gave the men two days' idleness. At King & Co.'s you will find baled hay, salt, flour and a full line of general merchandise. Go to W. C. Schultze & Son's for "Minnehaha" flour, the only place where it is sold in town. Don't miss the Brookville fair this year as it will surpass all former fairs on the Brookville grounds. Umbrellas, guaranteed fast black, with steel rod, worth $2.00, are selling at 98c. at Glenn Milliren's this week. We received a communication yesterday headed, "Injustice to the young student," which was crowded out of this issue. Why pay rent any longer? Walter Spry has three good houses for sale, two on Jackson st. and on Worth st., at bargains. John Schultze and bride returned home Monday evening and were serenaded by the Keystone band and call-thumpians. M. B. Wynkup killed a black snake near his residence in West Reynoldsville last Friday that was five feet and two inches long. The regular monthly meeting of the Reynoldsville Building and Loan Association was held Monday evening. Over $4,000 was sold. The C. & M. R'y is selling excursion tickets to Clearfield this week to give those who want to go an opportunity to attend the Clearfield fair. Robert J. Thomas has moved into his new tontorial parlor on Fourth street, opposite Hotel Benlap. "Bobby" has a pretty barbershop now. Copies of the premium list for the Brookville fair, which are in pamphlet form, can be obtained from A. D. Long, secretary of the Association. It is a sign of popularity and prosperity to see a merchant adding to his stock these days. That is just what Henry A. Reed, "the shoe man," is doing. A nine-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wils Troupe, of Rathmel, died Sunday afternoon and was buried in the Prospect cemetery yesterday afternoon. From last evening at six o'clock until this evening at six o'clock is a holy day with the Hebrews, the Day of Atonement. N. Hanau's store will be closed until six this evening. On another page of this issue will be found the advertisement for the Brookville fair. Read it and don't fail to attend and enjoy the exhibitions and other attractions. The best yet. Anna Cummings, of Chautauqua, N. Y., secretary of the Home Missionary Society, for the Erie Annual Conference District, addressed a meeting at Centennial Hall Monday evening before the temperance lecture began. Peter Snyder, whose house and barn mysteriously went up in smoke the past year, left Reynoldsville Monday. He said he was going to Newbery, "a place behind Williamsport." Peter's physiognomy will not likely be seen on our streets soon again, as he left for "keeps." It is expected that the A. V. R'y local freight that has been running between DuBois and East Brady will be changed and this will be the stop over instead of DuBois. The train stopped here Monday evening and it will be tried for a short time before the change is a settled matter and a new schedule issued.

John Beck had his right arm injured in the mine Friday, which has forced him to lay off work since, but he hopes to be able to go to work soon. The DuBois Courier contained very little telegraphic news last week, but gave its readers an excellent report daily of the proceedings of the M. E. conference. A temperance meeting will be held in the Centennial Hall at 3.00 P. M. next Sunday and at 7.30 P. M. Both meetings will be addressed by Will J. McConnell. J. C. Williams, who is now living on the Dean farm, came into town Monday morning and brought the STAR force some choice grapes, which were thankfully received. Glenn Milliren has just returned from Buffalo where he purchased one of the finest lines of hats ever exhibited in Reynoldsville. Call at his store, examine the goods and get prices. He can save you money. There will be a special meeting of the Women's Home Missionary Society held in the lecture room of the M. E. church Thursday evening after prayer meeting to elect delegate to the convention at East Brady. The Reynoldsville Epworth League, of which Wagon Womer is an ex-president, held a farewell social for him at William Burge's Friday evening. The time was pleasantly spent and refreshments were served. The Daughters of St. George will hold an English tea party and entertainment in the G. A. R. hall on Saturday evening, Sept. 23rd. Tea 25 cents and entertainment 10. Tea from 5.00 till 7.00 and entertainment immediately following. Ed. Burns, the liveryman, drove his black pony to the A. V. R'y station yesterday forenoon and left the nag stand without being tied. The pony got frightened and ran up Main street at a rapid speed, but was stopped near the barn without doing any damage to the buggy. The third annual re-union and camp fire of the honorably discharged soldiers and sailors of Clearfield county, was held at DuBois last Friday. A few of the soldier boys of Reynoldsville were at DuBois to enjoy the occasion. The reunion next year will be held at Curwensville in June. The A. V. R'y time table, as it appears in the DuBois Courier, is off twenty minutes on one train, and that is train No. 6 which leaves DuBois at 6.50 A. M. instead of 7.10, as it appears in the Courier. It may be possible by date of schedule, Dec. 18, 1893, that the paper is running a schedule that is to be. When the appointments for the Erie Conference were read at DuBois Monday forenoon Rev. P. J. Slattery's name was read for Reynoldsville. Rev. Slattery has entered into his labors as pastor of this church for the second year. To have a successful year it will require a co-operation of the laity with the pastor in the work of the church. Alex. Whitehill, who twirled the ball for the Tyrone ball team a few months, returned home Friday, as the season for the league he was playing in closed Thursday. Alex. pitched eleven games and only lost two. He played good ball and will get a good position next year if he wants to play ball, as several offers have already been given him. Lavern Rumbaugh, a young lad of this place, conceived the idea that he would like to visit an aunt at Red Bank, and without permission from his parents or his Sunday clothes on, on Tuesday morning of last week he left home and did visit his aunt. His visit, however, was cut short when his whereabouts was ascertained, and on Saturday he returned to the parental domicile here. The ring of the school bell was lost last summer when the bell fell from the belfry to the ground and it has not been found. Of course it was not needed until school began, but now the old crackle thing grates more harshly on the ear of the would-play-truant lad than ever before. If any person finds the ring and will hand it to Prof. Stamey so that it can be replaced, they will confer a favor upon the people of this place. Harry M. Shaney telegraph operator and agent at Tyler, Pa., was married to Miss Alice Scofield, daughter of James L. Scofield, of Penfield, last Wednesday morning and passed through Reynoldsville in the afternoon on their wedding trip. They will visit Chicago and several other western cities on the trip. Mr. Shaney is a brother of Mrs. Geo. Armor, and is well known in Reynoldsville, having worked here at one time. The bride is a cousin of Miss Belle Arnold, of this place. Saturday afternoon our office door opened and in walked a bright looking youth with a 2x4 smile illuminating his countenance and we were greeted with a "hellow STAR! I'm the Falls Creek Herald!" The youth proved to be Arthur B. Whitehill, "devil" of the Herald office. Harry Taylor, a kneecap-lad of the same village accompanied the "devil." They came down on bicycles. An invitation to sit down was declined, as they had to make haste and get back to the parental roofs before darkness would overtake them.

Arm Broken. A little daughter of O. H. Johnston fell off a porch yesterday morning and broke both bones of her left fore-arm. Family Re-union. A family re-union was held at Joseph Syphrit's, in Paradise, yesterday. Joseph has four sons and six daughters, two of whom are married to Methodist ministers, and all were present. Rev. Hicks, one of the son-in-laws, was appointed by the Conference to the Falls Creek circuit. Tannery Resuming Work. The first invoice of hides, since the tannery shut down, was received Monday and a few men have gone to work in the beam house and it will be a matter of but a short time until the entire plant will be in operation again, although not as many men will find employment right away as worked there before. New Landlords. J. C. Burns took charge of the Burns House about twenty-two years ago and has been landlord of that hostelry ever since save about three years. Eighteen or nineteen years ago J. P. Dillman run the hotel for a short time. About ten years ago Harry Karstorp run the hotel for two years. Last week J. C. Burns again stepped out and rented the hotel to Thos. McPherson and Barney Shannon. The license was transferred to the new landlords last Thursday. Mr. McPherson has been the bartender at the Burns House for sometime and understands catering to the public. Mr. Shannon is mine boss at the Big Soldier. Clip It. Have you read the new Borough ordinance "for the better preservation of the public health and to prevent the spread of communicable diseases," which was published in the STAR last week and which is also published in this issue? Every reader of this paper should clip the ordinance and save it for future reference, for if it is enforced, and we believe it will be, there will be a few changes in our town. House refuse, offal, decaying vegetables, butcher shops, livery or other stables, pig pens, privy-vaults, cess-pools, cellars, sewers, precautions to be taken when a contagious disease appears, &c., are all dealt with in the new ordinance, and for that reason you should preserve a copy of it. Typhoid fever and diphtheria are now lurking in our midst. Preacher No. 3. M. W. Womer, a young man who so far in life has worked much of the time in and around the coal mines, left Reynoldsville Monday with his brother, Rev. G. S. Womer, for Delaware, Ohio, where he will enter the University to prepare himself for the ministry. Wayne has ability, if he applies himself diligently to his books, to make a good preacher. Rev. G. S. Womer will graduate at the Delaware University next spring. Rev. Parley P. Womer is now a student at Yale. He also attended the Delaware University. The three young men who are preparing themselves for the Methodist Episcopal ministry are sons of our well known and worthy townsman, D. R. P. Womer. Our wish is that Wayne will be as successful in his search after knowledge as his two older brothers have been. A Suspicious Chap. Friday evening after the postoffice was closed Miss Lou Foust started home. She went up Main to the Presbyterian church and down Russ to Jackson st. She had only gone down Russ, which is a dark street, a short distance until a man got up from the edge of the sidewalk ahead of her and tip-toed slowly on. Lou stopped and so did the man. She got frightened and retraced her steps back to Main street and there met her father who was on his way up town to make a professional call. She told him of the suspicious actions of the man, and while they talked about it, the fellow took a near cut across the vacant lot next to the Catholic parsonage. Doctor followed him down town and at the same time looking for Ad-desperger. The fellow walked along leisurely until he reached the alley at the Reynoldsville Hardware Company's store and he quickly disappeared in the darkness. The man was a stranger and wore a slouch hat. Borough Schools. The borough schools began Monday with an enrollment of over 800 pupils for eight school rooms, with the following corps of competent teachers: Prof. W. H. Stamey, principal of schools and teacher of room No. 1; No. 2, W. J. Weaver; No. 3, Mollie McDowell; No. 4, A. A. Wingert; No. 5, A. J. Postlethwait, assistant principal; No. 6, Britta Butler; No. 7, Mamie Aiman; No. 8, Edith Sechrist. The school opens in a way that betokens success during this term. One great difficulty, which is not a new one by the way, is how to manage 800 pupils—and all who expect to attend have not been enrolled yet—in eight rooms, when we should have at least sixteen rooms. It is to be most earnestly hoped that the day is not far distant when our citizens can agree on the school building question and furnish the required amount of school room for the scholars of our public schools to be able to attend without being crowded uncomfortably.

Resigned Monday. Monday evening George Mellinger, superintendent of the mines at this place for the Bell, Lewis & Yates C. M. Co., handed the company his resignation to take effect soon. Mr. Mellinger has accepted a position from Hall and Kaul as general manager of the Shawmut mines, in Elk county, and will take charge of those works the first of November. While we regret to lose Mr. Mellinger and family from Reynoldsville, which will be the outcome of the change, yet we congratulate him on the promotion, and Hall & Kaul are to be congratulated on securing such a capable man to manage their Shawmut works, for Mr. Mellinger is a shrewd business man and is thoroughly competent to assume the position. Mr. Mellinger has been in Reynoldsville eight years the 28th of this month and he has been a hard worker during those years. The B. L. & Y. C. M. Co. will find few men who can fill his place. Besides the duties his position with the company brought him daily, he is a public spirited man and was interested in the town's welfare. At present he is a school director, vice-president of the Board of Trade, president Reynoldsville Building & Loan Association, and a director of the Reynoldsville Water Co. Mr. Mellinger has many friends, not only among the people who do not work in the mines, but also among the miners. Mrs. Mellinger is one of those kind and pleasant women who creeps into people's affections without trouble and is one that is a credit to the best of society, and is a good christian lady. Mr. Mellinger will either move to Brookwayville or Ridgway next year. The town that gets them will find what we have said to be true. Shot Boys. A callithumpian gang visited a house in West Reynoldsville one night last week to serenade a couple who had just gone into the state of matrimony. The woman of the house stuck her head out of an upstairs window and informed the callithumpians that the parties they were looking for were not there, and warned the boys to leave if they did not want to get hurt. The boys kept right on with the serenade until the window was raised again. This time the muzzle of a shot gun was pointed at the serenaders, four or five of whom were standing together, and the pesky thing was discharged. The gun had been loaded with beans and three of the boys got a bean apiece. One chap was shot on the forehead, one on the left cheek just below the eye, and the other one was hurt on his hand. A callithumpian serenade is not the most enjoyable thing in the world, only for the participants, and many people get "miffed" when tendered with that kind of a "blow out." The party who shot into the crowd would certainly have felt very badly had he blinded one of them for life. In this nineteenth century it is time to do away with callithumpian serenading, but it should be done by some other means than with a gun. Pancoast Picnic. The re-union of the ex-coal miners and operators of Pancoast was held at that place last Friday, as previously announced. A large crowd was in attendance and pleasure ran riot all afternoon. It was one of those gatherings where the people return home from feeling exceedingly glad that they had been there. Men who had not looked into one another's faces for seventeen years, shook hands and chatted of by-gone days. Hon. John Truhy, of Gazzan, F. M. Lucas, of Rathmel, Dr. W. H. Reynolds, of Prescotville, and F. K. Mullen, of Reynoldsville, entertained the picnickers with speeches, the ladies furnished chickens, mutton and an abundance of good things to tickle the palate. Alfred Wiggert had a supply of soft drinks on the grounds to quench the thirst of those present, and the Pancoast brass band enlivened all by playing some very delightful music. This band is coming to the front rapidly. The whole affair wound up by many of the young and supple "tripping the light fantastic" on a platform erected for that purpose. The picnic was such a success that it was decided to hold them annually henceforth. Buried Thursday. Mary J. Medley died at her home in DuBois on Tuesday, Sept. 12th, 1893, and was buried in the cemetery at that place Thursday afternoon, Sept. 14. She was 20 years, 5 months and 7 days old. The deceased was the wife of Robt. Medley, to whom she was married at Reynoldsville early in Nov. of 1892. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lockyer of this place. Sixteen days before her death a baby came to their home and only lived five days, and from that time on the mother began to decline and at last succumbed to the destroyer of family circles—death. Mrs. Medley was a member of the Daughters of St. George and twenty-six members of Reynoldsville Lodge attended the funeral. The bereaved husband is a member of the K. of G. and that lodge attended the funeral. A large number of Reynoldsville people besides Daughters of St. George followed the remains of Mrs. Medley to the tomb. Rev. P. J. Slattery, of this place, conducted the services. Donation Last Night. The donation party given to Rev. H. R. Johnston, the new Presbyterian minister, last evening, was well attended and no one went empty-handed. Besides the things for the "inner man," each one took with them a generous supply of good cheer, and notwithstanding the fact that they filled the pastor and his wife with cheerfulness, yet they all returned home with more cheerfulness than they had when they went. Special Meeting To-Night. A special meeting of the Board of Trade will be held in the Masonic hall this Wednesday evening. Business of importance will come before the Board.

Erie Conference. The fifty-eighth session of the Erie Annual Conference held in the M. E. Church at DuBois since our last issue, closed at noon on Monday. The next one will be held at Fredonia, N. Y. The Conference just closed was a very interesting one, and many Reynoldsville people had the pleasure of attending Conference and hearing a Bishop preach for the first time. Bishop Hurst, who presided, is a learned man. He has mastered eight or ten different languages. He is a graduate of two German Universities, besides the degrees conferred upon him by American institutions of learning. He is said to DuBois' credit, that the citizens entertained the Conference nicely. The list of appointments for the Clarion District for the ensuing year is as follows: F. H. Beck, Presiding Elder; Arroyo, W. R. Buzza; Beechtree, D. A. Platt; Bellsview, E. Platt; Big Run, J. H. Miller; Brookport, George Collier; Brookwayville, W. W. Dale; Brookville, J. W. Blaisdell, Callensburg, W. E. Frampton, Clarion, J. C. Gillette; Clarion Junction, B. F. DeLo; Corduroy, to be supplied; Corsica, to be supplied; Cranberry, Abram Bashline; DuBois, Cearing Peters; DuBois Circuit, W. H. Robinson, East Brady, C. C. Rumbaugh; Emerickville, J. H. Jelbart; Falls Creek, J. P. Hicks; Glen Hazel, T. W. English; Hazen, H. F. Miller; Knox, D. S. Steadman, Luthersburg, Thomas Pollard; Marionville, J. H. Vance; New Bethlehem, W. S. Gearhart; President, O. H. Sibley; Punxutawney, J. C. McDonald; Putneyville, L. O. McElhattan; Reynoldsville, P. J. Slattery; Ridgway, A. R. Rich; Rhimersburg, Joel Smith; Ringold, Anthony Groves; Rockland, W. F. Flick; Rolfe, Clinton Jones; Salem, J. G. Harshaw; Shipperville, J. C. Wharton, Sigel, Lewis Wick; Silgo, E. N. Askey; Summerville, F. S. Neigh; Walston, to be supplied; Washington, J. K. Adams. Killed on the Rail. The following message was received at the Western Union telegraph office at this place at 9.45 last Sunday evening from St. Paul, Minn.: "A man by the name of John F. Cox fell from the top of a freight train last night near Stillwater Minn., and was badly hurt. He was taken to nearest hospital across the river at Hudson, Wis., but died from shock early this morning." The man who met his death on the rail as above described, was the youngest son of Peter Cox, of Sandy Valley, and a brother of Wm. Cox, who runs the grocery store in this place. The young man had been away from home for many years, but returned over a year ago and remained a few months and then went west again. His remains are expected at Sandy Valley to-day and will be buried in the Epworth cemetery at that place. John Cox was thirty-six years old and leaves a wife and two children in Venango county to mourn for him. He expected to visit in this section in a couple of weeks. Death's Doings. Mrs. William McConnell died at her home in the Beechwoods at one o'clock Saturday morning, Sept. 16th, 1893. Her maiden name was Catharine Rodgers, sister of Jas. Rodgers, of Pancoast. In the fall of 1856 she was married to Wm. McConnell. Mrs. J. H. Corbin, of Kansas, is the only child. Mrs. McConnell was an estimable lady and had a host of friends, and when the funeral procession followed her remains to the Cooper graveyard Sunday afternoon almost one hundred conveyances were in line. The deceased would have been 67 years old had she lived until the fourth of next month. On Sunday, Sept. 17, Mrs. Rebeckah Shick, wife of Christ Shick, died at her home at Allens Mills, Pa., at the age of three score years. Six children and a husband mourn for the mother and wife who has left the family circle never more to return. Fifth Year. Rev. Jas. H. Jelbart was returned to the Emerickville charge for the last time, as this will make his fifth year there and that is the limit for a Methodist minister's stay at one appointment. Emerickville charge was Rev. Jelbart's first work in the ministry and during those four years, besides doing his work as a pastor, he had studied to pursue to pass examinations at conference each year. Last Sunday afternoon he was ordained by Bishop Hurst as an elder in the M. E. church and he is now a full fledged Methodist Episcopal preacher. Rev. Jelbart has done an excellent work on the Emerickville charge and his people were glad to have him return for the fifth year. New Schedule. A new schedule went into effect on the C. & M. R'y last Monday morning. The morning train will leave here at the usual time, 7.10 A. M., and arrive at Clearfield fifteen minutes earlier, 8.45 A. M. The train leaves Market street, Clearfield, 6.00 P. M., a half hour later than before, and gets here at 7.35, five minutes later. This shortens the time fifteen minutes going to Clearfield in the morning and twenty-five minutes on the evening train. Will Want a Teacher. I. C. Faulk, who was to have taught the Steele school in Winslow township the coming term, has resigned that school and accepted the principalship of the Mt. Pleasant schools, which is a more lucrative position. I. C. is a bright young man and will make a good principal for the Mt. Pleasant schools. The Winslow township directors will now have to look for another teacher for the Steele school. An Excursion. Parties who want to attend the Barnum & Bailey show at DuBois next Monday, can buy excursion tickets at the C. & M. R'y office in this place for 90 cents, which includes admission to the show. The Lecture Association will meet in Centennial Hall at the close of the temperance meeting Friday evening of this week. Fifteen hundred dollars worth of English woolsens just arrived at Bell's for fall suits. Why? Those laced bluchers at Reed's are easy as an old shoe. Dish pans for 20, 25 and 35 cents at H. J. Nickle's. Have you seen Reed's $3.00 shoe?

C. R'y, was in Pittsburg last week. Jasper McEntire and sister, Jennie McEntire, went to the World's Fair Saturday. Evan T. McGaw went to the windy city this week to attend the Columbian Exposition. Mrs. Samuel Wiles, of Alleghany City, is visiting Robt. L. Miles' family at this place. M. E. Weed and wife are taking in the Columbian Exposition at Chicago this week. John Howells and family, of Minneapolis, Minn., are visiting the family of John Harries. D. L. McConnell and Libbie McConnell, of Allen's Mills, went to the World's Fair this week. C. B. French and G. J. Corwin went to Center Hall Saturday to attend the Grange picnic. Rev. Sam'l Spangler and wife, of Reidsburg, Clarion county, visited O. H. Johnston's family last week. Will G. Kline, who is studying law with W. C. Arnold at DuBois, visited his parents at this place Sunday. Frank A. McConnell, one of the proprietors of Hotel Pantel, Punxutawney, was in Reynoldsville yesterday. Rev. Jas. Perry and wife, of Conneaut Lake, visited the Reverend's sister, Mrs. Barry, at this place last week. John Beck was called to New Bethlehem Saturday to attend the funeral of his brother Frank's little girl baby. Mrs. John Quinlan, of DuBois, the handsome young bride of a few weeks, is visiting relatives in Reynoldsville. N. Hanau, one of our leading merchants, has been at Philadelphia and New York the past week buying his fall stock. Fred Reed came home from Williamsport to take charge of Henry A. Reed's shoe store while he attends the World's Fair. Mrs. Hattie Emery, of Buffalo, N. Y., and Annie Black, of Brookville, were the guests of Mrs. C. G. Matson several days last week. Robt. Beer, of Mead, Neb., son of R. D. Beer, is visiting his parents in this place. Robert is a telegraph operator and has a good position in Nebraska. Mrs. John S. Smith, of Okdale Station, has been in Reynoldsville the past week visiting friends and looking after some repairing on her property on Tenth street. Mrs. A. E. Wells, ticket agent for the A. V. R'y at 43rd Street, Pittsburg, Mrs. Bolton and Fred Coals, of the same city, visited D. M. Dunsmore's family last week. Henry A. Reed, the shoe dealer, left here Tuesday morning for Pittsburg where he will be joined by Fred A. Alexander Thursday and they will attend the World's Fair. Mrs. M. J. Farrell was at Kittanning the past week to see Robt. Farrell, who was so badly injured at Putneyville over ten days ago. Robt. is getting along nicely. Jos. S. Morrow, one of our merchants, and wife, Dr. S. Reynolds and family, and F. M. Brown and family all left Reynoldsville the first of this week to visit the World's Fair. King Hamilton, formerly one of the young men of Reynoldsville, who left here over seven years ago, now located at Boyers, Butler county, was shaking hands with his friends at this place the past week. Dr. B. E. Hoover, the dentist, who, since Tuesday night of last week, has two daughters to provide for instead of one, will go to the World's Fair to-morrow afternoon and his office will be closed ten days. John T. Stiver, formerly a conductor on the R. & F. C. R'y, who has traveled over four or five western states in the past few months, is now in Reynoldsville. He expects to stay here several weeks and then go to Kansas and locate. Will L. Strouse, a bright young man of our community, went to Waynesburg College the first of this week where he will spend nine months in hard study. Will wants a good education and we have not the least doubt but that he will succeed nicely in his efforts. Daniel Foust, conductor on Driftwood accommodation, started on an extended trip this week. He will visit the wonderful show at Chicago, and from there will visit several places along the Pacific coast. It will take Daniel a month to make the trip he has mapped out. George Mellinger and family will leave Reynoldsville this week for a trip to Miles City, Montana, to visit Mrs. F. W. Kriedler, nee Etta Mellinger. They will travel via Chicago and tarry there several weeks taking in the greatest show ever seen in these United States. F. M. Arnold and wife, of Clarion, attended the M. E. conference at DuBois the past week. They stopped at Reynoldsville on their way to the conference. Mr. Arnold heretofore has not been much of an astronomer, but heretofore he will devote a little time every week gazing on THE STAR of Reynoldsville. Francis Mullen and John Nolan are now students at St. Vincent's College, Latrobe, Pa., where they expect to spend ten months wrestling with the difficult lessons that may be assigned them daily. The two young lads left here Monday. Thirty-five years ago F. K. Mullen, father of the first named youth, was a school boy at the same college. Is Drawing a Crowd. Will J. McConnell, the great temperance lecturer, began a series of meetings in the Centennial Hall Sunday evening. The hall was packed and then some crowded in. There was no services in the Presbyterian, Baptist or Methodist churches. The speaker need have no fear of being compelled to speak to empty seats, as he has ability to draw the people. He will lecture every evening this week.
