

Crawlers' Guide.

Passenger trains arrive and leave Reynoldsville as follows:

Allegheny Valley Railway.

Eastward. Westward. Train 9, - 8.44 a. m. Train 8, - 7.40 a. m. Train 1, - 1.00 p. m. Train 2, - 1.42 p. m. Train 3, - 6.57 p. m. Train 10, - 8.48 p. m.

Clearfield & Mahoning Railway.

Train No. 20, leaves at 7.10 a. m. Train No. 21, arrives at 7.30 p. m.

REYNOLDSVILLE POST-OFFICE.

Mails arrive and leave the post-office as follows:

Arrive. Depart. FROM THE WEST. FOR THE EAST. 1.15 p. m. - 7.00 p. m. 12.30 p. m. - 8.30 p. m.

FROM THE EAST. FOR THE WEST. 8.00 a. m. - 2.00 p. m. 7.15 a. m. - 1.15 p. m.

Arrives from Bathmet and Prescottville 11.30 a. m.

Arrives from Pante Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays at 2.30 p. m.

Departs for Prescottville, Bathmet, Pante 3.00 p. m.

Office hours 7.00 a. m. to 8.00 p. m.

Money order office open from 7.00 a. m. to 7.30 p. m. Register office open from 7.00 a. m. to 8.30 p. m.

Legal Holidays from 7.00 to 10.00 a. m. and from 12.00 to 3.00 p. m. J. W. Fower, P. M.

LOCAL LAONICS.

Pay your taxes. New shoes at Reed's.

Chamois Hunter 28th. Was you at the circus?

Go to Riston's for guns. Advertise in the STAR.

Read Bell's ad. Why? Brookville fair is in full blast.

Best line of boots in the county at Robinson's.

The Big Run Echo comes out now as neat as a new pin.

Fresh oysters at the City Hotel restaurant at all times.

Mrs. J. A. Welsh spent Sunday with friends in DuBois.

A new surrey and buggy for sale by A. L. Peters, Hopkins, Pa.

A new line of queensware and glassware just received at H. J. Nickle's.

Gentlemen call and inspect Bell's fine woollens for fall and winter suits. Why?

There are seven cases of typhoid fever and several cases of diphtheria in town.

John Schultze will move into Mrs. Chas. Montgomery's house on Grant street.

Paper hangers are now at work on the interior of Seeley, Alexander & Co.'s bank.

Chas. F. Dunkle bought George Jones' shooting gallery and has taken charge of it.

At King & Co.'s you will find baled hay, salt, flour and a full line of general merchandise.

L. J. McEntire has had charge of Jos. S. Morrow's store during his visit to the windy city.

Fifteen hundred dollars worth of English woollens just arrived at Bell's for fall suits. Why?

Red ribbon has become conspicuous in Reynoldsville since Will J. McConnell began his lectures here.

Go to W. C. Schultze & Son's for "Minnehaha" flour, the only place where it is sold in town.

Miss Lillie Wiant, of Broken Rock, Clarion county, Pa., visited Mrs. C. S. Armagost over Sunday.

Will J. McConnell will lecture next Sunday afternoon in Centennial hall on "Temperance and Business."

The American Express Co. sent their agent here, F. P. Addlesperger, a pretty red wheeled cart last Thursday.

The STAR is the best advertising medium in this section, if the advertiser wants large returns for money invested.

Why pay rent any longer? Walter Spry has three good houses for sale, two on Jackson st. and on Worth st., at bargains.

W. H. Glenn, of Corsica, is looking for a bay mare and a buggy which he hired to two men to drive to Brookville on the 18th inst.

Forty-five sons of Italy passed through this place on train No. 2 Thursday enroute for Pittsburg. They had been working at Medix.

John Kirker and Lizzie Warnick, both of Washington township, did not believe "marriage is a failure" and they have joined the matrimonial ranks.

Rev. E. M. Kernick, of Erie, and Rev. Herbert Clare, of Cherry Creek, N. Y., both Methodist Episcopal ministers, visited James Binney's family last week.

The mail train from Red Bank, which is due here at 1.00 P. M., was two hours late Monday. The whyfore of the lateness was a break down of the engine.

The fall convention of the Jefferson County Sunday School Association will be held in the Baptist church at this place on Tuesday and Wednesday, Oct. 17th and 18th, 1893.

In mentioning the miners picnic at Pancost last week, we neglected to say that the martial band of Pancost was conspicuous that day and furnished music for the picnickers.

A juvenile base ball nine of Punxsutawney came over Saturday to "do up" the juvenile club of this place, but in the language of the slangster, "They were not in." The score was 9 to 0, in favor of Reynoldsville.

A meeting will be held in the West Reynoldsville school house to-morrow evening to nominate candidates for officers of the new borough. It will require twenty-three candidates to fill all the offices.

The seventh series of the Reynoldsville Building and Loan Association, in which 327 shares were sold, closed Monday evening of last week and the eighth series was opened and quite a number of shares have been sold in it.

At the W. C. T. U. meeting held at Falls Creek last week Mrs. D. M. Dinsmore, of this place, was elected superintendent of railroad work for the Union. The next annual meeting of the W. C. T. U. convention will be held at Reynoldsville.

A denizen of Poverty Flat paid at the rate of 67 cents per oath for a few cuss words last week. If the law was enforced considerable money would be paid for the privilege of swearing, or else there would not be so much of it done on our streets daily.

The Clarion Presbytery of the Presbyterian church is now in session at Corsica, Pa. Rev. H. R. Johnston, Elder Jas. K. Johnston and W. L. Johnston are the representatives of the Reynoldsville Presbyterian church. They left here yesterday afternoon.

George Ayers, known as "Banty," came home from Reno Thursday afternoon on a visit. George was braking on the P. & E. R. R. In making a coupling the week before he came home he lost the front finger of his right hand between the drawheads, and he is now nursing the stub.

At four o'clock this afternoon Lo Henry and Maggie London, both of Rathmet, will join hands for life's journey. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. Dean at the old London homestead, where preparations have been made and the newly wedded pair will settle down to the realities of married life.

The remains of John F. Cox arrived at Sandy Valley Thursday noon and were interred in the Epworth cemetery that afternoon. Rev. Slattery conducted the funeral services. The funeral was largely attended and was a very sad one. The express charges for bringing the body from Stillwater, Minn., were $53.00.

Mr. D. M. Roll, proprietor of the City Hotel, Reynoldsville, was among our callers yesterday. Davy is one of Brookville's boys, and his acquaintances here will be pleased to know that he has prospered since his removal to Reynoldsville, and that the City Hotel is now one of the popular hostleries of that town.—Brookville Republican.

Among the list of causes set down for trial at the October term of the Court of Common Pleas, is one for the Poor District of Reynoldsville Borough vs. Poor District of Winslow township. The original amount which the two districts are lawing about was $35.00, but before it is settled $200.00 will hardly pay the bill when the lawyer's fees are added thereto.

Reynoldsville was well represented at Barnum & Bailey's circus at DuBois on Monday. The morning trains on the A. V. and C. & M., which had extra coaches attached, were packed even to the platform steps. The noon train was two hours late, but a large crowd, un-mindful of the rain, went to DuBois anyhow. If nothing else, they would at least have the satisfaction of looking at the big canvas.

Mrs. John M. Hays, who was away three months, to the day, returned home Thursday. She visited Iowa, Nebraska, Dakota and the World's Fair. She thinks Dakota the best of the three states visited, but personally she prefers the old Keystone state to live in. Mrs. Hays brought some of the black soil of Dakota home with her. She says the crops are very good in the sections she visited.

Some person, who is possessed with more devilishness than religion, started the report Saturday afternoon that Dr. Foust's two sons, Will and John, were drowned in the Sandy Lick creek. The news was carried to the doctor's residence and he and his wife were very badly frightened. Why such a lie was manufactured is unknown, unless it was that some prevaricating machine had run out of material that afternoon.

F. J. Black, proprietor of Hotel McConnell, received a new monkey from Penfield by express last Saturday. Jessie, the new addition, was put in the cage with the other monkey. Monday morning Jessie got out and made haste to leave her new boarding house. Four or five fellows who were loafing around the hotel gave chase, but the monkey was too smart for them and there was considerable excitement and amusement about it before Jessie was recaptured.

Vine Hicks, a noted character who committed a revolting crime on a widow 80 years old near Caledonia several weeks ago, was tried in the Elk county court at Ridgway last week and was sentenced to the Western Penitentiary for fifteen years, which is the full limit of the law for such crimes. Judge Mayer would willingly have given the fellow ten or fifteen years more in the "pen" if the law would have allowed it. Elk county's contribution to the penitentiary this month numbers four.

Draws Crowds.

Will J. McConnell continues to draw large crowds to Centennial hall nightly. He is a forcible and eloquent speaker, and he has something new to tell his audience each evening. He will lecture every night this week and twice next Sunday, afternoon and evening. Over five hundred people have signed the pledge.

Severely Scalded.

Mrs. Joseph Reed, sr., was very badly scalded while at work in her kitchen last Saturday forenoon. She had a kettle of boiling water on the stove and in some accidental way fell on the stove and upset the water, which scalded the right side of her body severely. The old lady will not be able to be very active for sometime.

Well Attended.

The English tea festival in the G. A. R. hall Saturday evening was a success. The festival wound up with an entertainment in which the following talent participated: Recitations by Annie Northy, Agnes and Emma Grix, John Fossett, of DuBois, Wm. Copping; duets by Emma and Ellen Mitchell, Mary Pomroy and Lizzie Northy, Mrs. Kite and Mrs. Phips; songs by Wm. Brooker, John Young; solos by Samuel Lowther, Ralph Reed, Mrs. Elizabeth Kite, Mrs. Phips, Lizzie Braund; select reading, Annie Northy.

Will Soon Move.

M. J. McEntee, an A. V. R'y passenger conductor, who has been a resident of Reynoldsville for sometime, will move to Driftwood in a few days, and thus our town loses another good citizen. Mrs. McEntee is a very pleasant lady and has made many friends during her stay here. She will be a good addition to the society of Driftwood, and is refined and cultured enough to circulate with the "best of them," as she done in Reynoldsville. Mike's position has occupied his attention so that he had little time to squander in "society," but he is a pleasant, gentlemanly fellow and makes a citizen of whom no one need be ashamed.

Missed His Game.

Two brothers-in-law who live near Reynoldsville had some difficulty a few days ago and one drew his knife on the other. The one who had nothing but his fist to fight with went home and got his gun and returned to the battle field and shot at his brother-in-law, but fortunately he missed his mark—if he tried to hit it—and Jefferson county court was saved from a murder trial. The man who done the shooting was arrested and placed under three hundred dollars bail for a trial before Squire Ford on the 30th inst. It would be much better for the brother-in-laws to shake hands and make-up and forever after leave guns and the law alone, because they are both dangerous to foot with.

Bank Creditors Meet.

It was announced in the Ridgway papers last week that a meeting would be held at that place yesterday afternoon for the purpose of taking some steps to secure and protect the creditors of the Ridgway Bank, which closed its doors the 22nd of June. The call for the meeting was signed by a long list of prominent citizens of Elk county, and there is no doubt but that the meeting was well attended. Many of the laboring men in and around Ridgway had their "little all" in the bank and it is to be hoped they will get dollar for dollar on their deposits. Closing of the bank doors closed the World's Fair to many in Ridgway. Mr. Oyster, however, had enough "boodle" left to attend the Columbian Exposition.

John Kellar Knocked Down.

John C. Kellar, the shoe maker, narrowly escaped serious injury last Friday as the evening twilight hovered over Reynoldsville. Mr. Kellar was crossing Main street, near Truugen's grocery store, and John Flick and another gentleman were driving up street in a buggy. Flick saw Mr. Kellar and tried to stop his horse, which was hard to handle, but before he could stop the nag—he could not turn aside because a pile of plank were on the street—Mr. Kellar was knocked down and the front wheel of the buggy ran over his breast. He escaped with a fright, bloody nose and was a little sore for a few days. Flick was "hauled-up" before the Burgess, but as he was not driving fast and could not manage his horse, he was discharged without paying a fine.

Echo Says Who?

One evening last week about half past seven we were traveling along Fifth street, toward Main st., and noticed across the street whom at first we supposed were three young men walking along leisurely each puffing at a fresh lighted cigar, and when nearer the trio were astonished to discover three young females of our town. We will not publish their names this time but promise them if we ever see them parading the streets again with a cigar between their lips we will feel at liberty, after this warning, to give their names to the public. There are not many more disgusting sights than to see a woman with a cigar in her mouth. Better things are expected from ladies than for them to soil their lips, pollute their breath and have tobacco about their clothing.

THREE STORY BRICK.

The Woolen Mill to be Built in this Borough.

Since the morning of July 20th, 1893, when the large woolen mill of Sykes, Allis & Moorhouse ascended heavenwards in blaze and smoke, the question has been, will they rebuild their mill at Reynoldsville again? Inducements were offered to the woolen mill men from other towns to persuade them to move. In the meantime the Reynoldsville Board of Trade, which is yet an infant, was making an effort to keep the mill in our own town, where it rightly belongs, and we are glad to make the statement that the Board of Trade's efforts were not in vain, for the work of excavating for the foundation for a three-story brick woolen mill has begun. We believe we are safe in saying that had it not been for the Board of Trade the woolen mill would not have been rebuilt here. The Board of Trade recognized the fact that if it was unable to keep a manufacturing establishment in town that was burned out here, it would not be able to induce outsiders to move manufacturing establishments into our town.

The Board of Trade secured the loan of $9,000.00 for Sykes, Allis & Moorhouse and $500.00 was raised in three and given to the firm to help buy the three lots from Lawyer Cam. Mitchell, at the corner of Jackson and Third streets, which were purchased at a consideration of $750.00.

The new mill will be built near the corner of Jackson and Third streets, west of the Lutheran church. The buildings to be erected are as follows: The main building, 40x100, three-stories high; engine house, 20x40 feet, two-stories high, dye house 30x50 feet. All to be built of brick. The work will be pushed to completion as rapidly as possible.

Jackson and Third streets have never been opened in the location of the new mill, but Burgess Hays put a force of men on the streets last week to open them up for travel. The streets would not have been opened perhaps for years had it not been for the building of the woolen mill in that locality.

A Fair Affair.

Jos. M. Hutchison and Miss Jemima Hawthorne, a fair lad and lassie of Pancost, boarded the early train Wednesday morning, Sept. 20th, 1893, and paid their fare to Clearfield where they intended visiting the county fair. The young couple had previously decided that it would be fair for them to have the nuptial knot tied. They called on Rev. Dr. R. A. McKinley, Presbyterian pastor at Clearfield, and before him they made the solemn vows which allowed the minister to announce the twin one. Joseph paid the preacher the regular matrimonial fare for making them one, and the benedict found out before he got home that he had to pay railroad fare for two just the same as he did before the preacher said they were one. When Joseph and his bride got back to Pancost Friday evening they were not forgotten by the male portion of that hamlet. The martial band and the callithumpians, with two circular saws, tin pans, tin horns, &c., played a few delightful (?) pieces before they were invited into the house. Ice cream, cake and cigars were given the serenaders. We hope as the couple traverse the thorough-fare of life that their sky of prosperity may always be fair and bright.

A New Borough.

West Reynoldsville is now a borough and on the 12th day of October, 1893, the first election of qualified voters of said borough will be held at the public school house for the purpose of electing a Burgess, constable, high constable, tax collector, six school directors, six town councilmen, two overseers poor, assessor, auditor, judge of election and two inspectors of election. S. E. Brillhart was designated by Judge Clark to give notice of election; Wm. Burge to be judge of election, and David Bollinger and W. L. Johnston inspectors of election to be held October 12th.

On the 1st day of March, 1892, a decree was issued granting a request that the portion of town known as Ohiotown be organized into a borough to be called West Reynoldsville. An appeal was made to the Supreme Court and the matter has been pending since until last Saturday and at two o'clock Monday, Sept. 25th, 1893, the people across the creek were living in a new borough.

Big Potatoes.

George Washington Fuller, the poetically inclined genius, who owns A No. 1 farm within two miles of this city, brought a dozen very large Dakota Red potatoes into town with him a few days ago and put them on exhibition at the Reynoldsville Hardware Co.'s store. They were enormous potatoes, a few of them would weigh ten pounds. Through the kindness of Mr. Fuller the "murrhies" are now in ye editor's cellar awaiting their turn for the kettle.

Death of an Infant.

A ten-weeks-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Harris died Sunday night and was buried in Beulah cemetery Tuesday afternoon. The infant was a constant sufferer during its short life. Rev. P. J. Slattery conducted the funeral services.

A Bold Robber.

Joseph Scheider lives on Pleasant avenue and keeps boarders. Saturday morning a young man called at the house and asked for boarding. He told Mrs. Scheider that he was going to work at the engine house at night and wanted a quiet place to sleep during the day. After getting permission to board there he said he had worked Friday night and wanted to go to bed. The lady of the house went up stairs and examined the trunks of the boarders and found them all locked and then the young man was assigned to the bed he was to sleep in. He undressed and went to bed but did not stay there long. He came down stairs and said the rain kept him awake and he would go over town and get his trunk. Mrs. Scheider ran up stairs and found the trunks unlocked and a gold watch and some money missing. She made haste to get down stairs again and out on the street after the new boarder. She called to him and the fellow stopped and she requested him to return the money and watch. They went back to the house and up stairs together and the thief put the watch and money, $35.00, into the trunks from whence he had taken them and he requested the woman not to say anything about it. She threatened what she would do and the fellow grabbed for her, but she was too quick for him and ran down stairs. The daylight burglar ran to the window to jump out but discovered the "game was up," for several men were already on the ground and one of them had brought his shot gun along. When Mrs. Scheider went up stairs with the thief she told her little daughter, in German language, to give the alarm and the fellow did not understand what was said. John Fink, with his shot gun, guarded the thief until Frank Addlesperger arrived. The fellow told Addlesperger that his name was William James and that he was from Reading, Pa. The police asked him what he was doing at the house. His answer was, "I was after money." William was locked up until after dinner and was then taken before Squire Neff for a hearing. He acknowledged taking a watch chain which was found on him after he was put into the lock-up. He thought because he had put the money and watch back they should let him go, but the law differed with William and he was taken to Brookville jail Saturday night where he will remain until December before he gets a trial.

Dr. Foust thinks he is the same fellow who was loitering around on Russ street and acted so suspiciously when Miss Lou Foust was on her way home from the postoffice a few nights ago, as mentioned in the STAR last week. William James, or the robber in question, was seen on the streets at two o'clock Saturday morning with a "pard." Mr. Addlesperger found a key ring with twenty-two keys on it in the fellow's pocket Saturday. They were mostly trunks and bureau keys. It is better for the community that such chaps board with Sheriff Young.

German Comedian.

Mr. Barnes, who will appear at the Opera House Thursday night, Sept. 28th, is unquestionably one of the best German comedians now before the public. His physique is commanding, his face round, of the good natured type, and his voice sweet and melodious. The company supporting him are composed of such people as Miss Belle Gilbert, Miss Adalade Russell, Mr. Jackson B. Cooper, Harry P. Coffin Wm. Morrow, and with such a cast the performance cannot be but first-class.

New Supt.

J. H. Bell, of West Virginia, to whom was given the position of general superintendent of the Bell, Lewis & Yates C. M. Co.'s mines at Reynoldsville and DuBois several weeks ago, shouldered the responsibilities of his office yesterday. Mr. Bell had charge of the mines at Beechtree at one time, and also the Adrian mines. He will move into M. J. McEntee's house at the corner of Grant and Fifth streets. Those who are acquainted with Mr. Bell speak highly of him.

List of Jurors.

Following is a list of jurors drawn from Reynoldsville borough and Winslow township for special term of the Court of Common Pleas, commencing Monday, Oct. 23: First week—Reynoldsville, H. E. Daniels, Ed. Jennings, sr., M. Mohney, Alex. Whitehill, Winslow twp., John M. Strouse, John T. Stiver.

Second week—Reynoldsville, William P. Martin, Winslow twp., John Waite.

A Foot of Snow Sept. 25, 1844.

Forty-nine years ago to-morrow morning the people who inhabited this mundane sphere awoke to find the ground covered with a foot of snow. Our memory does not run back that far, but Ninian Cooper says the above statement is a real fact. A foot of snow to-morrow morning would surprise the oldest inhabitants.

An Italian Injured.

Payquali Di Pirro, an Italian, who was working in Big Soldier mine, received an ugly scalp wound Saturday by a fall of coal.

Those laced bluchers at Reed's are easy as an old shoe.

PERSONALS.

Thos. E. Evans and wife were at Punxsutawney Sunday.

Mrs. U. G. Schoenbocker is visiting her parents at Brookville.

Mrs. M. M. Cribbs, of DuBois, visited in Reynoldsville last week.

W. H. H. Bell, the clothier, was in Pittsburg several days last week.

Miss H. J. Nickle will start for the World's Fair to-morrow morning.

Ab. Reynolds and Alex. Riston returned from the Fair Friday evening.

Mrs. Geo. Rhoads and son, G. M. Rhoads, went to the World's Fair Monday.

Charles Kah and Dr. B. E. Hoover went to the World's Fair last Thursday.

Miss Morna Corbett, of New Bethlehem, is visiting relatives in Reynoldsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Gooder went to Brookville yesterday afternoon on a visit.

A. Katzen went to New York Monday morning to buy a new stock of goods.

Mrs. A. S. Moulthrop, of DuBois, visited in Reynoldsville several days last week.

Miss Kate Crow, of East Brady, visited Andy Denny's family at this place last week.

Mrs. Mariah Shank and Miss Annie Eufor, of Lock Haven, are visiting friends at Hopkins.

Mrs. Daniel Foust, of New Bethlehem, came up Monday to see the new baby at Dr. Hoover's.

Mrs. David Cochran went to Walk Chalk, Armstrong county, last Thursday to visit her parents.

Walter Scott, of Portland Mills, is visiting old time friends and relatives in Reynoldsville this week.

Miss Cora Remalia, of Cochran's Mills, Pa., is visiting the families of John W. Fink and Jos. M. Cathers.

W. H. McCright, who has been at Jefferson, Wis., for three months, returned to Reynoldsville last week.

Mrs. Fred. K. Alexander left here Thursday morning for a four weeks' visit with her parents at Liverpool, Ohio.

Mrs. Malvin Dixon, of Brookville, visited her sisters, Mrs. Wm. Lucas and Mrs. Jas. Cathcart, at this place last week.

Miss Maude Morrison, of Colridge, Neb., accompanied Mrs. J. M. Hays and Mrs. Hannah Prescott to Reynoldsville last week.

Mrs. Catherine Coleman, of Oak Ridge, is visiting her son and daughter, M. C. Coleman and Mrs. J. C. King, at this place.

D. A. Allen and C. M. Keys, two young sports of Allens Mills, returned Saturday from a two weeks' visit at the World's Fair.

Wm. Dougherty and family, of Salladasburg, Pa., have been visiting the families of S. T. Reynolds and G. W. Fuller the past week.

Jacob Detar and Jas. Kensa, of Greensburg have been visiting the family of John McCright, in Paradise, during the past week.

John H. Ewing was at Johnstown last week attending the Jr. O. U. A. M. State Council as a delegate from Hiawatha Council No. 733.

Mrs. D. M. Dunsmore is at East Brady this week attending the Home Missionary convention as delegate from the M. E. church of this place.

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Llewellyn, formerly of Reynoldsville, who have been living in Alabama for a few years, returned to this place last Thursday.

Mrs. W. B. Young, nee Emma Cochran, who has been visiting her parents at this place for several weeks, returned to her home at Claringdon Saturday.

Rev. Jacob Booth is holding a big revival at Homewood church, near Ford City. He was called home last Friday but returned to his meeting Saturday.

J. D. Woodring was called to Wilkes-barre, Pa., Monday to attend the funeral of his wife's brother, Joseph Patton. Mrs. Woodring's health would not permit her to go.

Mrs. B. F. Robb, Mrs. D. M. Dunsmore and Mrs. James Gibson were Reynoldsville's representatives at the W. C. T. U. convention at Falls Creek on Wednesday of last week.

George P. Miller, editor Big Run Tidings, was in Reynoldsville Thursday evening. George was "devil" in the printing office at this place a short time when Frank J. Black was editor of The Paper.

Harry King went to Philadelphia Friday evening to take up his second year's studies as a student in the Jefferson Medical College of that city. Harry expects to have M. D. attached to his name by and by.

W. S. Sankey, of Mt. Union, one of the old time merchants of Reynoldsville, was in town this week on business. Mr. Sankey has not been here for four years and he notices great improvements in our town.

A. B. Weed, the joke-loving train dispatcher on the A. V. R'y, accompanied by his wife and Miss Lulu Creighton, spent a few days of the past week at Grampan Hills. A. B. will come back replenished with snake stories.

T. Edward McCright left Reynoldsville yesterday morning for a western trip. He will visit the big show at Chicago and where he will go from there he knoweth not, but seems to have some notion of "growing up with the country."