C. A. STEPHENSON, Editor and Pub. WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1893.

An independent local paper, published every Wednesday at Reynoldsville, Jefferson Co., Pa., devoted to the interests of Reynoldsville and Jefferson county. Non-political, will treat all with fairness, and will be especially friendly towards the laboring class.

Subscription price $1.50 per year, in advance. Communications intended for publication must be accompanied by the writer's name, not for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith. Interesting news items solicited. Advertising rates made known on application at the office in Reynoldsville, Pa.

Address all communications to C. A. Stephenson, Reynoldsville, Pa. Entered at the postoffice at Reynoldsville, Pa., as second class mail matter.

"Don't talk too much about giving the devil his due until you are sure if he had it he would not have you."

A fellow in Smithville who couldn't spare two dollars a year for a newspaper sent fifty two-cent stamps to a down-east Yankee to know how to raise bees. He got an answer. "Take hold of the tops and pull for all you are worth."

An exchange says: The man or woman who gets mad at what the newspapers say about them, should return thanks three times a day for what the newspapers know about these individuals and don't say. People should not imagine that an editor puts in black and white what he knows about people. The half is never told.

The glory of a victory arises from the severity of the struggle through which it was won. Not so much what was accomplished, according to worldly estimates, but rather what was involved in the accomplishment, determines the heroism displayed. It may be only a personal temptation, or an individual inclination to sin, which is conquered; but the victor who triumphs in his warfare against it is crowned with glory.

MacDonald says: "We are, perhaps, too much in the habit of thinking of death as the culmination of disease, which regarded only in itself is an evil, and a terrible evil. But I think rather of death as the first pulse of the new strength, shaking itself free from the old mouldy remnants of earth-garments, that it may begin in freedom the new life which grows out of the old. The caterpillar dies into the butterfly. Who knows but disease may be the coming of the keener life breaking into this, and beginning to destroy, like fire, the inferior modes or garments of the present? And thus the disease would be but the sign of the salvation of fire; of the agony of the greater life to lift us to itself, out of that wherein we are falling and sinning. And so we praise the consuming fire of life."

The best law is the Golden Rule; the best philosophy, a contented mind; the best statesmanship, self-government; the best medicine, cheerfulness and temperance in all things; the best music, the laughter of an innocent soul; the best science, the extracting of sunshine from gloom; the best art, painting a smile upon the brow of childhood; the best biography, the life which writes charity in the largest letters; the best telegraphing, flashing a ray of light into a gloomy heart; the best engineering, building a bridge of faith over the river of death; the best diplomacy, effecting a treaty of peace with one's own conscience; the best journalism, printing only the good and the true; the best navigation, steering clear of the rocks of personal contention; the best mathematics, that which doubles the most joys, subtracts the most sorrows, divides the gulf of misery, adds to the sum of human pleasure, and cancels all selfishness.

There are men who never have a good word to say of anybody. No matter how noble and of good repute a man may be, these backbiters will continue to say something to his disparagement. They do not often speak directly against a good man, but by implication and innuendo seek to besmirch a fair and honorable reputation. Such men are a blight and bane to society. Of ill-repute themselves, they would drag others down to the same low level. The sight of an honest, trustworthy, high minded citizen is sufficient to give them a bad attack of the spleen, which they seek to remedy by inventing stories derogatory to character. Their own inherent badness causes them to think others must be bad or indifferent also. The chronic backbiter would seem incurable. He will listen to no arguments in a good man's favor. That all men are more or less vicious is his premise, and the most convincing proof would not drive it from his mind. Truly a most deplorable state of mind and heart to be in! Were there no honest men in the world things would come to a standstill, and the earth would almost cease to revolve. It is they who make life and civilization what it is, and keep us from the primal chaos. But the born backbiter will entertain no such view as this and goes on in his daily round of belittling everything and everybody. He seems to take great delight in it, and to roll it out as a sweet morsel under his tongue. We think if he could see how small, petty and insignificant such a course in life is, and how it dwarfs and belittles his humanity (if there be a grain left in him), he would instantly reform and speak nothing but good of mankind forever afterward.

Thanksgiving Dinner.

The Thanksgiving dinner and supper formerly announced by the W. C. T. U. will duly be given. The dinner will consist principally of turkey, chicken, first-class waffles, vegetables, fruits, pies (pumpkin, mince, etc.), cranberries, celery, pickles (sweet and sour), salads, sauces, cakes, etc., too numerous to tell. It is the object of the W. C. T. U. to establish a reading room in the near future for the young people of this community. We work conscientiously for those who need it. Every responsible citizen, as well as woman, knows it is a deplorable fact that the moral and civil education of the rising generation of this place has been sadly neglected. We call your attention to this, claiming that you also must account for this state of affairs and the only way open for us to wash our hands of the stains of their sins is to give liberally, work faithfully and hard to overcome the neglect and ask God's forgiveness for the great sin of omission which we as parents, citizens and women (and not idiots) have committed. Come then all of you and partake of our dinner and supper, and you will help along the good work that is begun. W. C. T. U.

At King & Co.'s you will find baled hay, salt, flour and a full line of general merchandise. Best $1.50 fine shoe, for ladies, in the county at Robinson's. Try our 75c. child's shoe. Best in town. ROBINSON.

There are a number of parents in Reynoldsville who will soon learn in all its forceful meaning that the "streets are the devil's school of vice, and freedom from restraint is the sure road to ruin and shame," unless they curb the propensities of their children for roaming the streets at night until a late hour and with improper company. Two for One.

We are making a special offer to each of our readers paying a year's subscription to the STAR in advance, and to all new subscribers paying in advance, we will give them the best local paper in Jefferson county and will give them free, either the Womankind or American Farmer, for one year. The two papers above mentioned are excellent monthly papers and the subscription price of each is $1.00 a year. This offer is made only to those in Pennsylvania.

THE COLUMBIAN ALBUM.

Magnificent Souvenir of the World's Fair Placed Within Reach of All.

The Pittsburgh Times, which has a reputation for enterprise and liberality which is equalled only by its excellence as a newspaper, caps the climax with an announcement which is certain to be universally commended. It proposes to distribute among its readers, and all who will become readers of the Pittsburgh Times, the "Columbian Album," a splendid collection of photographic views of buildings and points of interest about the grounds of the World's Columbian Exposition. There will be ten parts, each containing 16 large photographs reproduced on fine paper and accompanied by clear descriptions. The whole will form a magnificent and enduring souvenir of the Great Fair, which is at once the pride and wonder of the century. Beginning Monday, November 13th, The Times will print in each issue a coupon. Upon receipt of six of these coupons, from different issues of the paper, and five two cent postage stamps, or their equivalent in cash, The Times will send to any address one part of the "Columbian Album." All the parts can be obtained in the same way, so that at the end of ten weeks everybody who reads The Times can have the complete album. The work will give its possessors who were unable to go to Chicago almost as much pleasure as a trip to the Fair, and those who did walk up and down the streets of the White City, it will be an invaluable souvenir. Look out for the Pittsburgh Times Monday and every succeeding day. It will give you all the news for one cent a day, and will also give you an opportunity to obtain the "Columbian Album." If there is no agent for The Times in your locality, you can build up a profitable business by writing to The Times and securing the agency at once.
