LOCAL LACONICS.

"Soon will come the drear December,
Days when men will not remember
How the summer blizzards through,
And they'll ask you with a shiver,
Penetrating lights and liver,
'Is this cold enough for you?'"

"Shut the door!"

Festival to-night.

Give thanks to-morrow.

Read Bell's ad. Why?

Decorated lamps at Schultze's.

Wool boots $1.00 at Robinson's.

Blizzards will be the bad this winter.

See the fine dress arctics $1.50 at Robinson's.

Many gobblers will be gobbled to-morrow.

Oyster supper from six to eleven this evening.

Plain and decorated dishes at Schultze's.

Four weeks from Monday until Christmas.

The slander's whisper is wafted on the chilly breeze.

Fall underwear for ladies and children at H. J. Nickle's.

THE STAR office force will take a vacation to-morrow.

Will your place of business be closed on Thanksgiving Day?

Another case of latest style stiff hats just received at Glenn Milliren's.

Gentlemen call and inspect Bell's fine wools for fall and winter suits. Why?

By buying Robinson's shoes you get a good sole and the upper is a sure thing.

Since last Friday morning David Brumbaugh has been papa of twin boy babies.

At King & Co.'s you will find baled hay, salt, flour and a full line of general merchandise.

Clearfield wants a train to leave there in the morning for DuBois and return in the evening.

Fifteen hundred dollars worth of English woolsens just arrived at Bell's for fall suits. Why?

Remember the oyster festival in S. T. Reynolds' new brick November 29th, given by the Fire Co. No. 1.

Read David C. Whitehill's advertisement in this issue. Mr. Whitehill proposes to give the people rare bargains.

Ladies don't fail to attend the Third Annual Opening and Souvenir Day at C. F. Hoffman's, the jeweler, Dec. 5th, 1893.

Fire Co. No. 1 will give an oyster supper in Reynolds' new brick block this Wednesday, evening, from 6 to 11 o'clock.

Are you going to close your place of business for at least half the day to-morrow? Have you nothing to be thankful for?

A very desirable farm of 80 acres one mile west of Reynoldsville for sale. For particulars inquire of Mrs. M. E. Weed or Mrs. A. J. Burris.

Jay Evans, who works for the Reynoldsville Hardware Co., took a tumble off a step ladder a few days ago and injured his right hand badly.

The program for the Farmers' Institute to be held at Sandy Valley on the 11th and 12th of next month, will be found in this issue of THE STAR.

The Pittsburg Times of Monday says: "The friends of W. O. Smith, of the Punxsutawney Spirit, want him to stand for re-election to the Legislature."

From the numerous notices that appear in our exchanges of burglary, we are led to think that burglars are now laying in their winter supply.

Soon time for the boys who attend Sunday school faithfully three or four Sundays before Christmas to select the school they are going to attend and start in on the good work.

There are a great many rodent mammals slain in this vicinity this season, but all the nimrods who shoulder a gun and meander through the woods do not bring rabbits home with them. A good dog and a good marksman bring in five and six at a time.

Bro. Shick, of the Marienville Express, truthfully remarks that "A local newspaper does an immense amount of gratuitous work for its town and the inhabitants, and is entitled to some consideration of its people."

The Board of Health investigated the Polander case on Railroad street, reported last week, and found the report without foundation. Persons who know of any cases of contagious disease that needs attention should report it to the Board of Health.

E. S. Gray, one of the editors of the DuBois Courier, was married to Miss Blanche Mead, one of DuBois' charming young ladies, last Wednesday evening. The STAR extends congratulations and best wishes for smooth sailing on the matrimonial sea.

The National Council of Jr. O. U. A. M. has designated next Sunday as Thanksgiving day for the Jr. O. U. A. M. Councils, and suggests that all Councils attend Divine services that day. The lodge here will attend the M. E. church services next Sunday morning in a body.

C. F. Hoffman, the jeweler, has just added the silver and gold plating process to his already well equipped jewelry store. There is no other town between Pittsburg and Williamsport where this kind of work is done. It is not necessary to send away to have such work done now.

J. C. Pifer was working on the first floor of the new woolen mill last Saturday when a loose brick from above fell and struck him on the forehead and knocked him insensible for eight or ten minutes. A gash over an inch long was cut in his head and his left eye was enclosed in a jet black circle for several days.

The Epworth League gave a free entertainment and lunch to the members of the Methodist Episcopal church in the G. A. R. hall last evening. The literary program rendered was a good one and all who took part done nicely. The lunch served was gotten up in an appetizing style. There was a large crowd present.

The ladies of the W. C. T. U. will serve dinner in the G. A. R. hall to-morrow for thirty-five cents. The bill of fare will be, turkey, chicken, waffles, vegetables, fruits, pies, cranberries, celery, pickles, salads, sauces, cakes, &c. Can you get up such a dinner at home for thirty-five cents? Supper twenty-five cents.

Sykes, Allis & Moorhouse's new brick woolen mill is being pushed rapidly towards completion. If the weather had remained favorable Monday and Tuesday of this week, the brick work on the building would have been finished and the entire structure under roof. The large building will be a credit to the town when completed.

A lumber contractor of Clearfield county came to Reynoldsville last week and filled up on "tangle foot" and then claimed some person had robbed him of $42.00 in cash and about thirty thousand dollars worth of notes, &c. He raised "merry-need" for a few hours and was going to have several parties arrested, but after sleeping off the effect of the "booze" the man quietly left town.

We have frequently heard people wish for cold weather, but when we get a whiff of the on coming chilliness, then the very same people howl for a warm breeze. The coldness of winter time is far more preferable than man's ingratitude, therefore, with the poet we say:
"Blow, blow, thou winter wind
Thou art not so unkind
As man's ingratitude;
Thy tooth is not so keen,
Because thou art not seen,
Although thy breath be rude."

A gentleman came into town Monday afternoon with table oil cloth thrown over his shoulders to turn off the rain. Of course it was an uncommon sight and attracted the attention of a number of boys and girls on their way home from school, and their sport about it was embarrassing to the old gentleman and exceedingly unbecoming to boys and girls who have had better training. No doubt it was all the old man had to wear.

A few of the citizens of West Reynoldsville are somewhat exercised about a name for a new postoffice in that borough. Some want to call it "Vaughan" postoffice, in fact a petition has been circulated to get signers to sanction the name of Vaughan. What's the matter in calling it West Reynoldsville post-office? If it must have another name, why not find a name in the new borough and not go to New York after it? We believe in patronizing home.

David C. Whitehill is closing out the entire stock of his Piano and Organ House in Brookville. This large stock of pianos, organs and sewing machines will be sold at your own prices, as no reasonable offer will be refused. Everything included in a first-class music store. Many of the instruments are just arriving from the factories of such celebrated makers as Mehlin & Sons, New York; Newby & Evans, New York; Schubert Piano Co., New York; United States Organs, Cleveland, Ohio; Farand & Votey, Detroit, Mich.; Chicago Cottage Organs, Chicago; and other makes are included. All kinds of small musical instruments from a jews harp up, and all must be sold. First come will get first selection and easy terms of payment will be arranged for those who cannot pay cash.

A Dear Waist.

An exchange says Emily Peterson, of Warren, Pa., obtained a judgement of $1,000 against Henry W. Williams for injury to her feelings because he put his arm around her waist.

State Appropriation.

The school board received the state appropriation a few days ago which was $2,653.00. The appropriation last year was $2,829.65, making the amount $176.65 less this year than it was last year.

Known Abroad.

A letter was mailed in Canada recently to a lady at Hotel McConnell, and the only direction on the envelope, including the lady's name, was Hotel McConnell, Jefferson county, Pa. The letter came directly through. This shows that Hotel McConnell is known far and near.

A Snake in His Stomach.

"A young man, of Tyrone, has been suffering for some time with intense pain in his stomach. Yesterday he was taken with a spell of vomiting and threw up a garter snake seven inches in length." This item was clipped from an exchange and we do not vouch for the truthfulness of it.

Church Burned.

The Presbyterian church at Falls Creek, with organ and furniture, was destroyed by fire early last Sunday morning. The origin of the fire is unknown, but the general presumption is that it savors of incendiarism. The church property was valued at about $3,000. The building was insured for $1,000. Falls Creek has had several mysterious fires lately.

Thanksgiving Services.

Union Thanksgiving services will be held in the M. E. church at 10:30 A. M., Thursday. The sermon will be preached by Rev. H. R. Johnson, pastor of the Presbyterian church. It was Rev. Derr's turn to preach the Thanksgiving sermon this year, but his moving away turned the duty to Rev. Johnson. It has been customary for very small congregations to attend these services, and those who do go are generally late. It is not only a privilege, but also a duty, for every professed christian to attend the Thanksgiving services. If you have been faithful in staying at home heretofore, turn a new leaf and go to church to-morrow.

New Publication.

Vol. 1, No. 1, of The Patton Courier, published in the interest of the new booming town of Patton, in Cambria county, Pa., reached our exchange department last Saturday. The paper is an eight page, six column paper, same size as THE STAR, and the first edition certainly bears unmistakable indications of a live newspaper. The paper also has a good display of advertising which speaks well for the business men of Patton, for where business men lack enterprise enough to advertise in their home paper, then the outlook for a town's future is not very flattering. The Patton Publishing Co. have our best wishes for their success.

Paste in Your Hat.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Trade will, or should, be held in the Masonic Hall next Friday evening. Most all our business men are members of the Board, but they all, with a very few exceptions, stay at home, or want to be coaxed to attend the meeting. There is no use acting boyish about important matters. These meetings should be attended by every member who can possibly get there. The Board has some important business to transact which should have been done two or three months ago. Cut this out and paste it in your hat so you will not forget the meeting. Strange how easily we can forget some things.

Burglars at Luthersburg.

Masked burglars visited Daniel Goodlander's store at Luthersburg Sunday night and blew his safe to smithereens, but as they found no filthy lucre there they decided not to leave empty handed and they took several hundred dollars worth of clothing, tobacco, &c., away with them. The thieves borrowed Mr. Ellinger's horse and buggy, unbeknown to the owner, to haul their plunder out of town. The horse and buggy was found Monday homeward bound without a driver. The manner in which they "cracked" the safe and done other odd jobs around the store gave evidence that they were up to their business. Mr. Goodlander is a brother-in-law of F. K. Arnold of this place.

Financial Sand Bars.

This is a poor season for shows. "Old Zad Hasting" ran onto a financial sand bar a few nights after appearing at this place. "A Hero in Rags" did not get here to fill an engagement on the 16th inst., and Aymar's Uncle Tom's Cabin Co. had "hard sledding" here two nights last week. The second night the door receipts amounted to $9.75, and had it not been that Mr. Reynolds donated the use of the opera house that night and the hotel trusted the manager for about an X on the hotel bill the company would have either stranded or left some of their possessions here. There were twenty members in the company, but there were only four that amounted to anything as showmen. The company disbanded at DuBois.

Changed His Parish.

Rev. E. T. Derr, who has been pastor of the Baptist church at this place for over two years, resigned his pastorate at the prayer-meeting services last Wednesday evening, to take effect on Monday, he having accepted a twelve hundred dollar call to a mission church in Cleveland, Ohio. His resignation went into effect soon after it was tendered because the people whom he is going to serve were anxious for him to come immediately. Rev. Derr is not only an honorable and upright man, but one as polite and gentlemanly as he at all times, is rare in this community. To show their regard for him, the Methodist Episcopal people dispensed with the services in their church Sunday evening and went to hear Rev. Derr preach his farewell sermon. The auditorium and Sunday school room of the Baptist church were taxed to their fullest seating capacity. The Reverend selected his text from 2 Cor. 13-11, "Finally, brethren, farewell. Be perfect, be of good comfort, be of one mind, live in peace; and the God of peace shall be with you." Red noses, tear-stained cheeks and white handkerchiefs were not barred out of the services. "God be with you till we meet again," was the closing hymn. Mr. Derr stationed himself at the door and bade good bye to all as they passed out. The young people of the Baptist church held a social in the church Monday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Derr, which was well attended considering the inclement weather. THE STAR joins with others in wishes the clergyman and his helpmate unbound success in their new field of labor.

Miraculous Escape.

John Trudgen, a coal miner, miraculously escaped instant death by a fall of coal in the Big Soldier mine last Thursday morning, as it was he was badly injured. He fired a blast Wednesday afternoon and the coal had not all fallen and on Thursday morning he was working at the coal to get it down when a portion of the roof fell. Mr. Trudgen's head and left shoulder were badly cut, his left hand smashed, left leg below the knee and right ankle badly injured. Almost twelve hundred pounds of coal fell upon him, several pieces so large that they had to be broken to be removed. Those who found him cannot understand how he escaped sudden death. The injured man was brought in from the mine in a box car in a painful condition. A surgeon was called who dressed the wounds and pronounced them not necessarily dangerous. Mr. Trudgen suffered intensely for several days, but we are glad to say, is improving nicely now. Had the accident resulted fatally, Mr. Trudgen was ready to enter into the "Beautiful City."

Committed Suicide.

James McWilliams, blacksmith at Rockdale Mills, received a telegram from Saginaw, Mich., last Thursday afternoon that his son, Warren McWilliams, who left home several months ago, had committed suicide. Dame Rumor says the young man was engaged to be married and his parents were not satisfied with the choice he had made and therefore, opposed the marriage. The young man left home and last week ended his earthly career by the water route. He left a note in the hotel, where he was stopping, in which he stated he had taken laudanum, but as it had failed, the river would answer. He left directions to dispose of his little stock as follows: "Watch for father, ring for mother and the ten dollars for Rosa." James McWilliams and his son-in-law, William Britton, went to Michigan Friday, but had not succeeded in finding the young man dead or alive at last report.

A Beautiful Building.

The new public school building at New Bethlehem is one of the best, if not the best, school houses within many miles of Reynoldsville. New Bethlehem is a small town but the people are not given to making public improvements on a cheap scale. The town is way ahead of Reynoldsville when school building and sewerage is the consideration. Just think of a town the size of New Bethlehem—about 1,400 inhabitants—squandering $24,000 for a school building. The people of that town have sound judgment about some things at least.

Look Out for Him.

A Doylestown exchange says that a fakir is going around the country and getting away with a good many dollars of the unsuspecting youth in the following manner: On arriving at a town he gets all the boys he can to sell pictures of the World's Fair, and requires each one of them to put up one dollar as a guarantee of good faith. He gives them a few pictures worth about one cent each, and while they are trying to sell them the fakir disappears with the dollars.

Only a Rumor.

Some person started a report in circulation that the Bell, Lewis & Yates, C. M. Co. were going to build two hundred and fifty new houses at Big Soldier mine and take off the train that hauls the men to and from their work, and compel their men to live at Big Soldier. We have been reliably informed that there is no truth in the report, and that it is the result of some chap's carelessness in handling the truth.

GENERAL INFORMATION.
The foregoing program will be adhered to as strictly as is practicable so that those unable to attend all of the sessions may select the topics they most desire to hear discussed. Time will be given for the discussion of each subject after it shall have been presented by the essayist. All addresses are expected to be written and handed to me for delivery to the State Board for compilation. A question box will be upon the table for the reception of all proper questions, which will be answered at the close of each session, or as time will permit, or as the audience may desire. No collections for any purpose.

Your humble servant,
JAMES MCCURRIEN, Frostburg, Pa.
For information regarding entertainment enquire of the local board of managers: A. T. McClure, W. J. Borer, Henry Stevenson, Robert Walte, James McGhee, W. T. Cox.

The New Law.

Walter Spry, the assessor, commenced the work of assessing yesterday. He carries a book with him this time to register all births and deaths from June 1st, 1893, to December 1st 1893, for which the county pays him five cents for every one registered. The questions to answer on deaths are: Name of deceased, color, sex, age, place of birth, occupation, place of death, cause of death, duration last illness, place, month, day and year of interment, name of father and mother. Questions on births: Name, residence, parents, occupation father, month, day, year and place of birth. By this new law girls cannot remain "sweet sixteen" until they are twenty, and linger around the twentieth birthday when they are chasing the fourthly closely, for the records at the county seat will not agree with them.

Getting a Library.

One of the things Reynoldsville has never had in connection with the public schools has been a library. An effort is now being made to put a good library in the school building. The teachers and scholars who have taken hold of the matter are receiving substantial encouragement, they have a number of good books already and have good prospects of getting more. This is an excellent move and should meet the approval of all our citizens. If the boys and girls have good books to read they will not spend their time reading cheap literature. The library should be stocked with at least two hundred books.

Beechwoods Benedict.

By references to the list of marriage notices to be found in another column it will be seen that Allen Burtop of Washington township and Mrs. Sarah C. Diveler were married at the bride's home, Brookville, on Wednesday last week. Mr. Burtop is a prosperous farmer, and the newly married pair went immediately to their comfortable country home.—Brookville Democrat.

Another Well Brought In.

(Brookville Republican.)
The Oil City Fuel Supply company very recently completed a gas well near the old Spring Creek road, in Heath township, that has proven a heavy producer of the peculiar fuel. The well is located five miles south of Raughts, and as it is off the gas belt as heretofore defined many think a new gas territory has been discovered. At any rate the patrons of this company need not lay awake of nights for fear of having to return to coal for fuel.

Mrs. Elijah Trudgen visited the home of her parents at Summerville last week.

Wm. M. Foster, the confectionery dealer, was in DuBois on business last Friday.

Mrs. Jos. Butler is visiting her daughter, Mrs. John C. Hirst, at Lawsonham.

Father Winker, of Clayville, and Father McGivney, of DuBois, were in Reynoldsville Monday.

Mrs. Solomon Hoch, of Maysville, visited friends in West Reynoldsville during the past week.

Mrs. C. E. Coryell, of Penfield, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Milliren, at this place last week.

C. B. French, a life insurance agent, is in Pittsburg this week attending a meeting of insurance men.

Mrs. J. F. Mohney, of New Bethlehem, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Dunkle, in this place last week.

M. K. Williams, of Ridgway, auditor for the Elk Tanning Co., visited the tannery in West Reynoldsville last week.

Mrs. J. M. Corbett, of New Bethlehem, was the guest of Mrs. S. B. Rumsey, in West Reynoldsville, during the past week.

W. S. Weaver, of the Brookville Republican, was in Reynoldsville last Thursday and did not forget to call at THE STAR office.

John W. Fink and son, Earl, went to Port Matilda, Pa., Saturday, where Mr. Fink's brother, William, is lying dangerously ill.

Henry A. Reed went to Pittsburgh this morning to see his cousin, Van McElhiney, who is dying with typhoid fever in a hospital.

Mrs. John Wylam, with three small children, left here yesterday afternoon to go to Tennessee to join her husband, who has been there several months.

D. W. Atwater, plumber of this place, got the contract of doing the plumbing in the two large brick buildings for Miller Bros. in Big Run. He commenced the work this week.

Ethan E. Stewart, of Seattle, Wash., who has been "growing up with the country" along the Pacific coast for four or five years, is visiting his mother, on the "old Steward farm," near Reynoldsville.

Jas. Dognan and Pat McDonald, lumber jobbers of this place, will put in twenty million this season. Twelve million between this and Falls Creek for the Hopkins mill, and eight million at Green Briar.

Rev. E. T. Derr and wife were to have left here yesterday afternoon for Cleveland, Ohio, but through the neglect of the clerk at Hotel McConnell to send the bus to Mr. Wilson's to take them to the train, they missed the train and had to remain over until this morning.

Edward Franke, who has lived on a farm within a few miles of Reynoldsville for almost a decade of years, moved his entire farm, save the land and buildings, to Petersburg, Va., this week, where he intends following farm life. Mr. Franke and family have made many friends whose best wishes go with them to Virginia.

E. Will Green, who has been foreman of the Volunteer office almost two years, has resigned that position to take charge of the Patton Courier for the proprietors of the DuBois Courier, who are proprietors of the new publication. Mr. Green will remain here until the first of the new year. We wish him success in his editorial career.

S. E. Pool, of Pittsburg, special agent for the German National Building and Loan Association, is in town this week for the purpose of organizing a branch office in Reynoldsville. Mr. Pool is meeting with good success and expects to be able to organize with 500 shares early in Dec. He is stopping at Hotel McConnell and will gladly explain the workings, &c., of the Association to any who are interested enough to call and inquire.
