LOCAL LACONICS.

To Our Delinquents.

A few people have been taking THE STAR for over a year and a half who have forgotten to pay their subscription. The sum may seem small to those who are indebted to us, but the amount runs up when a number of people forget to liquidate. We cannot run a paper on promises. We need money to keep up our supply of ink and paper. We will send out bills in a few days and hope they will be promptly settled.

If the world seems cold to you, Kindle fires to warm it! Let their comfort hide from view Winters that deform it. Hearts as frozen as your own To that radiance gather; You will soon forget to mean "Ah! the cheerless weather."

Can you write it 1894 yet? A Happy New Year to all ! Hear Major Dane Jan. 12th.

The Epworth League held a social at

Samuel Lattimer's Monday evening. The Jefferson's Columbian minstrels will show in the Reynolds opera house, Pat Ward and Wilson Barry have gone to Falls Creek to work in the tannery at that place. At King & Co.'s you will find baled hay, salt, flour and a full line of general merchandise. Pheasants, rabbits, squirrels, &c., will now get a rest from the nimrod and his dog and gun. The Jefferson's Columbian minstrels will give a funny street parade next Tuesday afternoon. The Keystone band gave a dance in

Reynolds' brick block Christmas night and New Years night. Rev. J. G. Noble, Baptist minister of Punxsutawney, will preach in the Odd Fellows hall on Sunday, Jan. 7th, at 2.30 P. M.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Trade will be held in the Masonic hall Friday evening, Jan. 5th. Important business.

John T. Stiver went to Bradford last week to learn the B., R. & P. R'y with the expectation of getting to be a conductor on that road. Barney Laverty, conductor on the C.

& M. passenger train, who has been off his run for several months, went to work the first of last week.

The Baptist Sunday school Christmas treat and entertainment, "Santa Claus and Fairy Good Cheer," was greatly enjoyed. The church was crowded.

G. J. Corwin, the photographer, took a picture of the interior of the Presbyterian church last Friday as it was decorated for the Endeavor convention. S. R. Peale, of Lock Haven, and R. R. Peale, of Philadelphia, were in Reynoldsville the past week looking after some coal interests in this immediate vicinity.

Major Henry C. Dane will lecture in Centennial on Friday evening, Jan. 12th. This will be the third entertainment of the season given by the Reynoldsville Lecture Association.

At the closing of the old year and the opening of the new, the stillness of the occasion was dispelled in this town by brass band music, the firing of guns and coral singers. Did you hear them?

J. C. Weaver, the accommodating gentleman who runs the restaurant in the A. V. R'y station at Falls Creek, is becoming more popular with hungry travelers because he keeps a good res-

The W. C. T. U. will hold their regular meeting at Mrs. J. M. Hays' Wednesday, Jan. 3rd, at 3.00 P. M.

We are promised an actual flight through the air by Paul Hector with his passenger carrying Air Ship, during the performance of the great London success, "The Flying Vulture." Opera house Jan. 19.

E. C. Sencor caught a large opossum in his camp near here a few days ago. It was quite a curiosity for many people. Instead of acting the "possum" it showed signs of fight when on exhibition in several places in town.

Thirty-nine couple attended the social hop given by Roscoe's dancing class in the Reynolds block Dec. 27th. The dancing hall was handsomely decorated for the occassion. Those who attended say it was a pleasant affair.

David Reynolds was in DuBois last Thursday attending the funeral of Solomon Spears, sr., who resided at Reynoldsville a number of years ago. Mr. Spears selected David before he died to act as one of the pall-bearers.

Thos. H. Scott, one of our old citizens, lost his reasoning power, caused by softening of the brain, and was taken to Warren for treatment the latter part of last month. The K. of P. lodge of this place will pay the expenses for the first year.

Two drunken individuals gave an exhibition on the corner of Main and Fourth streets last Saturday afternoon which attracted quite a crowd of men and small boys. Such scenes are void of anything elevating. One of the men was put in the cooler.

The regular monthly meeting of the town council was held at John M. Hays' office Monday evening, Jan. 1st. S. B. J. Saxton was elected secretary pro. tem. A secretary will be elected at the next regular meeting. A few bills were ordered to be paid and that was about all the business transacted.

A new lamp at the corner of the A. V. R'y station platform is the latest improvement in that section. Certainly a good thing, especially on a dark and muddy night, but if the lamp was left burning all night and a sidewalk built up to the platform it would be a better improvement and would be appreciated by the public.

The Bell, Lewis & Yates C. M. Co. is taking a practical way to help the poor at Buffalo, N. Y., by furnishing crushed coke at the docks of the B., R. & P. R'y Co. in that city at actual cost to the B., L. & Y. C. M. Co. to get the coke there. The company is certainly deserving of credit for this charitable and generous offer.

Chief-of-Police Addlesperger put two men in the lock-up Monday night. One of the fellows, who was locked up for abusing his family, tore one cell of the lock-up to pieces and got out about 2.00 A. M. He received assistance from some person outside. The man was re-arrested by Addlesperger and locked up again until morning.

An Italian ransacked a trunk at his boarding house one day last week and was arrested for the act. but the wrong witnesses were produced and the Italian was given his liberty. One of the trunks in the house contained seven hundred dollars, but the thief got into the wrong one and only got three or four old revolvers for his trouble. It was not the man's fault that he did not get the seven hundred dollars, however.

The Christmas entertainment and was given Tuesday evening, Dec. 26th. The church was beautifully decorated and the attendance large. The entertainment consisted of the cantata, "Mother Goose and Santa Claus," the performance of which required 18 characters. The superintendent and those who assisted him deserve great credit for the orderly and business like way in which the whole affair was conducted.

In the Pittsburg Times' list of contributors to the fund for the relief of the poor of Pittsburg week before last was five dollars from Reynoldsville without the contributor's name. We accidentally saw Henry A. Reed's check book which gave the contributor away. The story published by the Times about a little girl who was dying because her mother could not buy medicine and other necessaries to sustain life, is what touched Henry's heart and pocket book.

Edith Herpel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Herpel, was eight years old Dec. 11th. Her mother had promised her a birthday party on the eighth anniversary of her birth, but when the time arrived sickness in the family made it necessary to postpone the party until last Wednesday when thirty-two of Edith's young friends gathered at her home to enjoy the occasion. Edith received a number of presents. Refreshments were served before the youngsters returned home. The G. A. R. and W. R. C. lodges installed their new officers last evening in the G. A. R. hall. The installation was public. A large crowd was present. The Relief Corps officers were published in our last issue, the G. A. R. officers installed are: Commander, Sam'l Lattimer; Sr. V. C., Daniel Belford: Jr. V. Sergeant, Dr. J. W. Foust; Quarter Master, F. K. Mullen; Chaplain, D. R. P. Womer; Officer Day, Thos. Claughbaugh; Outer Guard, John Davis; Trustee, Jos. Shaffer; Delegate to Dept. Encampment, E. Neff; alternate delegate, R. D. Beer.

Broken Arm.

G. H. Allis, one of the proprietors of the woolen mill, now carries his left arm in a sling. The whyfore of this is because a large ladder fell at the new brick mill over a week ago and struck Mr. Allis on the left arm breaking that member just below the elbow.

Took a Tumble.

One of the large smoke stacks at the tannery was blown down during the storm Christmas night. All the Western Union telegraph wires were broken by the fall of the smoke stack, which shut off communications, by the Western Union, between the east and west.

Change in Business,

D. A. Swab, who has been running the grocery store on the corner of Main and Fifth streets, has sold out to L. J. McEntire. The change took place the first of the year. Mr. McEntire understands the business and will keep a first class grocery store. Thos. E. Evans will assist in the store. We wish the new proprietor success.

We Hope So.

At this writing we are unable to say positively that the tannery will be rebuilt in West Reynoldsville, but the indications are very favorable for it. An estimate of the cost of rebuilding and specifications for the same has been made and sent to New York where a meeting of the men who have the power to settle the question was held yesterday.

Almost a Blaze.

The dwelling house near the corner of Main and Fifth streets, occupied by L. C. Price came very nearly being destroyed by fire at noon yesterday, caused by a defective flue. The house is lined with muslin and paper and had Mrs. Price not discovered the fire when she did several buildings would have been burned. The fire slarm was given but the fire was put out with buckets before the fire company got there.

County Officials.

The new officials of Jefferson county were sworn into office on Monday of this week, and are as follows: Prothonotary and Clerk of Courts, W. D. Clarke; Register, Recorder and Clerk of Orphans Court, John S. Barr; Sheriff, David G. Gourley: Treasurer, John Waite; Commissioners, S. M. Shields, Daniel Brewer and Sam'l States; Auditors, Sam'l C. Ewing and C. A. Morris. J. B. Jordan having moved out of the county the Court will have to appoint an auditor in his place.

Drove off the Bridge. A Mr. and Miss Smith, son and daughter of Will. C. Smith, of Washington township, were in Reynoldsville the first of last week and started for their home after the sable of night had swooped down upon the town. Near Sam'l Sutter's house, in West Reynoldsville, is a small bridge without railing on the sides, and when Mr. Smith came to this point of his journey he and his sister got out of their buggy without any forethought about it. The buggy landed upside down and was so badly crippled that the young couple had to get another buggy before they could proceed on their journey. The buggy sustained the only damage in the mishap. All bridges should be provided with railings.

John Temple Graves.

Although expectation had been wrought to the highest pitch by the lavish encomiums of the press, yet the people were not disappointed who went to hear John Temple Graves lecture in Centennial Hall last Friday evening. Mr. Graves was suffering from the effects of la grippe, yet he held the attention of the large audience from first to last by his eloquence. The lecture, "The Reign of the Demagogue," was a magnificent one which contained much for the people to carefully consider. Mr. Graves said to ye editor that his best lecture is "Uncle Tom's Last Cabin." The people were well pleased with the lecture they heard. About seventy of the "cream" of DuBois and Falls Creek society came to Reynoldsville on the 7.35 P. M. train on the C. & M. R'y to hear Graves and returned home on a special at 10.30 P. M. Reynoldsville people enjoy and appreciate a visit from such ladies and gentlemen.

Sons of St. George.

The Sons of St. George of Reynoldsville, and many of their friends, had a very pleasant time in the G. A. R. hall on Christmas night. The first thing on the program was an elegant supper, which was followed by an entertainment consisting of songs and recitations. William Copping presided over the meeting. During the evening H. A. Taylor, of DuBois, Pa., who recently returned from a visit to England, was introduced. He gave a brief statement of his trip and showed a few photographs of scenes in England. Mr. Taylor presented Washington Lodge, No. 124, with a Union Jack flag. The stars and stripes were not forgotten when the Union Jack was presented. Wm. Copping, in a neat little speech, received the English flag for the lodge. In speaking of England and America, Mr. Copping said: "While the Engglishmen are faithful to the wife they have married, yet they do not forget the mother that gave them birth."

New Officers.

The officers for the Presbyterian Sunday school were elected last Wednesday night, as follows: G. W. Palen, superintendent; M. H. Stiles, asst. supt.; Vincent Reynolds and Miss Mary Cooper, librarians; Miss Maggie Butler, secretary; M. E. Weed, treasurer; Miss Isabel Arnold, organist.

The following were elected as officers of Reynoldsville Baptist Sunday school for 1894; W. S. Stone, Supt.; R. L. Miles, Asst. Supt.; R. A. Wilson, Sec.; A. W. Pentz, Asst. Sec.; G. A. Milliren, Trens.; W. Ellenberger, Librarian; Blanche Whitmore, Asst.; Eulalia Pentz, Organist; M. C. Coleman, Chor-

At a stated meeting of the Deemer Cross Roads Council, No. 604, Jr. O. U. A. M., held Dec. 29th, 1893, the following officers were elected: Councilor. C. K. Mohney: Vice Councilor, C. A. Schuckers; Asst. Recording Sec., Calvin Doney; Warden, Daniel Doney; Conductor, William Doney; Inside Sentinel, William Schuckers; Outside Sentinel, Jonathan Snyder; Trustee, Sebastine Snyder. The Secretary, Financial Secretary and Treasurer were elected last June for one year.

The following officers were installed in the Masonic lodge at this place on Tuesday night of last week: Henry Herpel, W. M.; Henry Deible, S. W.; Lawrence J. McEntire, J. W.; Joseph S. Morrow, tressurer; Charles A. Herpel, secretary: William Copping, Frank Hoffman and Cash. C. Gibson, trustees; Charles Herpel, Grand Lodge Representative. After the officers were installed the members went to the City Hotel where an elegant mid-night meal was served for them.

Lady Winslow Lodge No. 205, D. of R., installed the following officers Dec. 11th: Noble Grand, Lille Gross; Vice Grand, Carrie Herpel; Sec., Ella Ferris; Asst. Sec., Louella Miller; Treas., Minnie Herpel; Warden, Emma Weber: Conductor, Mrs. Seibert; Chaplain, Mrs. E. Gibson: R. S. to Noble Grand, W. Gross: L. S. to Noble Grand, C. Ferris; R. S. to Vice Grand, Mrs. Deters; L. S. to Vice Grand, Mrs. Shurick; Outside Guard, Maggie Ora; Inside Guard, Mrs. A. Anderson. After the officers were installed the ladies held a banquet in the hall.

Knocked Unconscious.

Bob, Norris, son of Henry Norris, and 'Son" Russell got into an altereation at the Jenks school house on Friday evening, Dec. 22nd, where they were attending a sack supper given by the school, and Russell came very nearly murdering Norris. The trouble began by Norris grabbing Russell's hat off his head, not being careful how hard he pulled Russell's hair when removing the hat. Russell stepped outside and picked up a club about five foot long and when Norris came out he struck him on the side of the head and knocked him unconscious, in which condition Norris remained for five hours. It raised quite a commotion for a short time, as it was first thought that Norris was dead. Norris is a much larger and stronger man than Russell, and it is said by those who are acquainted with both men that Norris apparently has annoy Russell every time he caught him out, and hence it did not take much to get Russell mad on this occasion. It was a close call for Norris.

Into Business Again.

Chas. H. Gordon, who for a score of was one of the busin of Reynoldsville, has gone into business in the City of Washington, D. C., where he moved to in March. 1893. The Washington Evening Star of a recent date contained a long article about Mr. Gordon's new venture. We clipped part of the Star article as follows: "In my meanderings around on Capitol Hill, I came across a hew enterprise, corner of 8th and East Capitol streets-a very creditable improvement-a fine residence and business block, owned and managed by C. H. Gordon. To say I was agreeably surprised to find so finely equipped, well stocked and well managed Shoe Store on East Capitol is but putting it mildly. By the kindness of Mr. Gordon I was shown through the building and stock. The citizens in that vicinity should congratulate themselves that so fine an irstitution should spring up in their midst. The variety and elegance of stock cannot be surpassed by any store of the same line in the city.'

Come Again.

Prof. J. L. Allison, principal of the Punxsutawney public schools and one of the proprietors of the Punxsutawney News, was in Reynoldsville last Thurs day attending the Christian Endeavor Convention, and gave the convention "New plans for creating an interest in the Y. P. S. C. E. prayer-meetings." Prof. did not forget THE STAR office while in town. He is certainly a pleasant gentleman.

Rev. H. H. Ryland, pastor of the Big Run Presbyterian church, and one of the publishers of the Big Run Echo, accompanied by Misses Rilla Stoner and Myra Covert, typos on the Echo, called at THE STAR office last Friday morning. Bro. Ryland is a pleasant gentleman, and the young ladies were none of your homely creatures, not by any means. It is likely a couple of young men of this office will return the call soon.

Endeavor Convention.

The sixth semi-annual convention of the Jefferson County Y. P. S. C. E. was held in the Presbyterian church at this place last Thursday. The young people of this place interested in the convention made special efforts to make the meeting a grand success, and their efforts were not fruitless. The interior of the church was beautifully decorated with potted plants and interlaced with gothic arches covered with spruce; the chancel rail was decorated with rhododendron. Sixty-six delegates were in attendance besides the two societies in Reynoldsville. As each delegate registered they were given as a souvenir a small china plate, decorated in gold, having date and place of meeting printed upon it. Three very interesting sessions were held. The program for the sixth semi-annual convention was as follows:

Adjournment.

AFTERNOON.

Devotlonal—Led by Rev. R. M. Hunsicker, of Brookville.

"Christian Endeavorers as Temperance Workers."—Opened by G. W. Knox, Ridgway.

"How to Overcome and Prevent Indifference in Our Sacioties."—Opened by Rev. II. H. Ryland.

Praise Services Conducted by Evangelist towser.

Recitation—Mrs. J. B. Arnold, Reynoldsville.
Rev. D. A. Platt, of Beechtree, reluctantly ook the place of the chief speaker of the eveing, who was absent.

The convention closed with a conse cration service, which was led by Rev. H. H. Ryland, and was participated in by nearly all the delegates. Those who attended the convention returned home feeling that the meeting was a complete

The next convention will be held in Big Run in June.

Father and Daughter.

John Franklin Mulhollan died at his residence on Main street at 4.00 A. M. January 2nd, 1894, after a short illness. Pneumonia was the cause of his death. Mr. Mulhollan was born in Boggs township, Center county, Pa., January 17th, 1822, making him 72 years old, lacking fifteen days. He was married to Miss Rebeckah Jane Passmore forty-five years ago, unto whom five sons and one daughter were born. One of the boys was killed by attempting to jump onto a timber stick for a ride on his way home from school in 1870; the daughter, Mrs. D. B. London, was buried on Monday of this week. The widow and four sons, A. W., Frank, Edward and Jesse Mulhollan survive the husband and father. Mr. Mulhollan was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church, and had been for thirty-four years. His remains will be taken from the house at 1.30 P. M. Thursday and the funeral services will be held in the M. E. church taken delight in the past year or two to at two o'clock, Rev. P. J. Slattery will conduct the services. The interment will take place in the Baptist cemetery.

Mrs. Clara London, of Rathmel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Mulhollan, and wife of D. Barton London, died Dec. 30th and was buried in the Baptist cemetery Monday afternoon. Her funeral services were held in the Reynoldsville Baptist church, conducted by Rev. J. E. Dean, assisted by Rev. P. J. Slattery. Mr. Mulhollan wanted to see his daughter and when bringing her to the church the coffin was carried into the sick man's room and he was raised up in bed to look upon the cold remains of his only daughter whom he so soon followed into the Great Beyond. Mrs. London left five little children, one two weeks old, to mourn for what they will never again have-a mother's love.

Nuptial Knot.

George F. Engle and Miss Charity Spears were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Spears, at half past ten o'clock last Wednesday morning, in the presence of about sixty friends. Rev. P. J. Slattery, pastor of the M. E. church, of which both young people are members, performed the ceremony that made the twain one. John Spears, the bride's brother, and Miss Lizzie Binney stood up with the contracting parties. The bride was dressed in green silk and the bridesmaid was dressed in pink silk. After the ceremony and congratulations an elegant dinner was served. The presents were numerous, useful and pretty. Mr. Engle and bride left Reynoldsville on the east bound train at 1.00 P. M. for a wedding tour. They will visit Philadelphia and other eastern cities. If a shower of rice is an omen of succes in the matrimonial voyage, Mr. and Mrs. Engle will certainly be successful. George is a sober and industrious young man, and he certainly has selected a good help-mate, as Charity is a highly respected young lady. We join with their friends in wishing them smooth traveling as they go hand in hand towards life's journeys end.

The Problem of Air Travel Solved at Last. The great London play "The Flying Vulture" exhibits an air ship flying through the air, carrying human freight. Opera house Jan. 19.
