LOCAL LACONICS.

Vote for Miss Aiman. Bad colds are not uncommon. Sleigh-bells are not "in it" this time. The ice crop does not look very favorable yet. Robinson can save you money these hard times. Carlsbad China fruit plates 10 cents at Schultze's. Don't miss the bargains at Arnold's closing out sale. Blue is the prevailing color among the unemployed. The "Flying Vulture" at the opera house Friday night. See our men's fine shoes at $1.50 lace or congress at Robinson's. The revival service in the M. E. church is still in progress. The half of January gone. Have you kept your good resolution? Four cases of diphtheria were reported to the Health officers on Monday. Rev. H. R. Johnson is holding special services in the Presbyterian church. An eight foot silver plated shoe case, mansard style, for sale at Alex. Riston's cigar store. Tax Collector Burns will add five per cent. on all borough taxes not paid before Jan. 23rd. Evangelist Patterson will hold gospel services in the Baptist church every night this week. Sheriff Gourley issued his first court proclamation last week. It is for the February term, beginning Feb. 12th. The Pennsylvania Editorial Association will hold its annual business meeting at Harrisburg on the last day of this month. The B. R. & P. R'y Co. pays twenty-five dollars per month to the Young Men's Christian Association at Punxsutawney. Dr. Clark, specialist in chronic diseases, can be consulted at the Ross House, West Reynoldsville, Saturday, Jan. 27th. The Henry Garrett vs. Hamilton Coal Co., et. al., case is among the list of causes set down for the February term of court. One of the rooms on the third floor of the Reynolds brick block is being fitted up for a lodge room to be occupied by the I. O. O. F. There were twenty-eight applications for licenses to sell liquor in DuBois, including hotels, restaurants and wholesale. Sixteen were granted. Prof. W. W. Wingert was skating Saturday and sprained his right knee so that he had to have the assistance of a cane for a few days to navigate. The Republicans of this borough will hold a meeting in the opera house on Tuesday evening, Jan. 23rd, to nominate a ticket for the February election. An infant of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Brewer was buried in the Baptist cemetery Monday afternoon. Rev. H. R. Johnson conducted the services. If the law for profane language was enforced the borough coffers would soon be full and a person might be able to get a borough order cashed inside of six months or a year. The ice on the mill dam at Prescottville was like glass Saturday and many of the youth of Reynoldsville gracefully glided over it and joyfully squandered the hours oblivious of everything else. Next Sabbath evening, Rev. P. J. Slattry, pastor of the M. E. church, will preach on the subject, "God's Solution of Man's Mysteries." Text, John 8-17. A cordial invitation is extended to all. Services at seven o'clock sharp. The W. R. C. of this place has elected the second set of officers for 1894. The new list is: President, Mrs. J. A. Barkley; Senior Vice, Mrs. D. M. Dunsmore; Junior Vice, Mrs. Chas. Stitts; Secretary, Mrs. L. M. Scott; Guard, Miss Carrie Albright; Ass't Guard, Mrs. Wm. Copping.

The tannery whistle has been brought into use again, it having been put onto a little engine at the tannery. A small crew of men are cleaning up the vats. R. J. Thomas has added a nice children's hair cutting chair, with plush seat and foot rest, to his barber shop. Parents having children that need their hair cut should send them to his place as they will have an easy chair to sit in. Our "devil" was out skating Saturday afternoon. He done most of his skating in all conceivable ways only on his feet, and as a result of his way of gliding over the ice the "devil's" body was well covered with pretty black and blue spots. David G. Gourley, sheriff of this county, was badly injured near Brookville last Thursday afternoon by his horse running away. Mr. Gourley was riding in a cart when something broke about the cart and frightened the horse, which was a spirited animal that had runaway before. A meeting of the stockholders of the First National bank was held in the director's room in the bank on the 9th inst. to elect directors. The old directors were re-elected as follows: C. Mitchell, Scott McClelland, J. C. King, Joseph Strauss, Joseph Henderson, G. W. Fuller and J. H. Kaucher. The report of the assessors of the boroughs and townships of Jefferson county, excepting Washington township, show that from June 31st, 1893, to December 31st, 1893, there were 651 births and 204 deaths in the county. In Reynoldsville, West Reynoldsville and Winslow township the births were 119 and deaths 36. There are people in Reynoldsville who are apparently ignorant of the fact that it is a noble and great thing to cover the blemishes and excuse the failings of a friend; to draw a curtain before his stains and to display his perfection; to bury his weakness in silence, and to proclaim his virtues from the housetop. R. E. Ross, of Ridgway, and Miss Bertha Hanson, of Kersey, hid themselves away to New York state early in the month of December and were quietly married and the secret has just become public property. Miss Hanson, of Swedish nativity, was one of the milliners of Reynoldsville a few years ago. Glenn Milliren has a young horse that comes from good stock. His father was sired by a full Almont Prince with a record of 2.20. Its mother was foaled by a Virginian mare, one of the fastest runners in Baltimore. With such a pedigree of its ancestors Glenn is proud of his horse and thinks it is the making of a "goer." Superintendent of Public Instruction Schaeffer has been asked recently to decide whether the free text books furnished the public schools can be used by "Subscription schools," started after the regular term is ended. He decided that the books cannot so be used because they are purchased by taxes from all of the people. Jesse Hoover, formerly a citizen of this place, died at his home in Dakota on the 10th inst. Mr. Hoover had been out doing some chores and he stepped into the house and said he did not feel well and then dropped over and in three minutes was dead. He was married to Eliza McClelland, sister of our townsman, Scott McClelland. The Brookville Memorial Home difficulty has not been amicably settled yet. We would like to see the whole matter thoroughly investigated so that the public may know wherein lies the trouble. Where there is so much smoke there must be a little fire. At any rate the matter should be exploded and let the results rest where they belong. It is high time that the dove of peace settle upon the Home and its surroundings if it is possible to get it there. The fourth lecture of the season will be delivered by Chaplain C. C. McCabe on Friday, Feb. 9th, and the fifth lecturer will be Hon. R. G. Horr, ex-Congressman of Michigan, the famous wit and orator, who will be here Wednesday evening, Feb. 21st. If the next two lectures are fairly well attended, outside of season ticket holders, the Lecture Association will give another lecture, making the course six instead of five lectures, as promised the season ticket holders. Mrs. Mary Ann Mitchell, who had passed the three score and ten limit, died at the home of her son, Josiah Mitchell, at Rathmel last Wednesday. The funeral services were held in the M. E. church at Rathmel Friday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Slattry, and her remains were laid to rest beneath the sod of the Prospect cemetery. She was the mother of John Mitchell, of this place. The deceased's husband crossed over the River of Death twenty-nine years ago. Last week the County Commissioners sent out to the different election districts, usually to the members of the Republican and Democratic County Committees, blank certificates of nomination, the object being to facilitate the work of preparing for the official ballot, which the Commissioners are required to furnish. The persons interested will aid greatly in this matter by arranging for primary elections and the nomination of district candidates at the earliest practical date.—Brookville Republican.

False Report. It was reported last week that the Bell, Lewis & Yates Coal Mining Co. was going to close the mines at this place for an indefinite time. We are glad to say that the report is false and that there is no grounds for such report. Good For One Only. Hereafter the A. V. R'y Co. will not issue mileage tickets to families or firms. The person named in the mileage book only will be allowed to ride. The old tickets were all called in. M. J. Farrell received a supply of the new ones a few days ago. Attempted Robbery. Robbers attempted to gain an entrance into David Bollinger's house in West Reynoldsville last Wednesday night. The thieves took the lower sash of a window out and carelessly let it fall to the ground with a crash which awakened the inmates of the house and frightened the night marauders away. Will Be Rebuilt. It is with pleasure that we are able to announce to the readers of THE STAR that the tannery in West Reynoldsville will positively be rebuilt. Just how soon the work will be commenced and the size of the new plant we are not able to say at this writing. The company has not got the insurance settled yet. The work of rebuilding will be commenced soon, however. This will be a blessing to this neighborhood. Water or No Water? The town council of the borough of West Reynoldsville resolved, at a recent meeting, that they would submit the question of a "water tax for fire protection" to the voters of said borough at the next regular election, February 20th, 1894. West Reynoldsville, or any other town, cannot well afford to be without water protection, and for that reason there is little doubt but that "water tax" will win next month. The water company has considerable pipe laid in West Reynoldsville, and we understand that they expect to extend the line to the tannery. A Politician Gone. Geo. W. Weiss, of Punxsutawney, one of the politicians of Jefferson county, died very suddenly last Thursday morning and was buried on Sunday. George was an active Republican and would have been a candidate for Assemblyman this year. Last year we were at Harrisburg the last day of the Legislature and Mr. Weiss was there and he said the next time the Legislature opened he expected to occupy a chair in the House of Representatives to look after the interests of Jefferson county. But alack, "man proposes and God disposes." The messenger of death has no respect for man's ambition or plans. Heart failure was what caused Mr. Weiss' death. An Explosion. There was great excitement in the borough schools just about the noon hour last Friday when the entire building trembled like an aspen leaf for a few seconds and the rooms were all filled with soot. The janitor, J. L. Ewing, says he left the gas burning under the boiler and when he returned it was out and he set fire to a piece of paper to light the gas and an explosion was the result. Mr. Ewing was badly burned about the hands and face. The paper and plaster was torn off the chimneys in every room of the building. It was certainly a very narrow escape not only for the janitor but also the scholars of the school. 'Tis not strange that there was a great commotion in the school for a short time. Major Dane's Lecture. From the time Rev. H. R. Johnson introduced Major Henry C. Dane at Centennial Hall last Friday evening until the close of his lecture, Major held the attention of the large audience. His subject was "The Great Naval Battles of the Rebellion." Major is a fluent and eloquent talker, possessed with great descriptive powers. Our people express themselves as being highly pleased with the lecture. Mr. Dane could deliver many more lectures in Reynoldsville and have a different subject each time. He has been an extensive traveler. His lecture on "Rambles among the Ruins of the Seven Churches of Asia," would be one of great interest to the lecture going people of Reynoldsville. Surprised Himself. It is seldom, if ever, a good word is spoken for the tramp, simply because they are never guilty of doing anything deserving of credit. One of the strangest freaks yet heard of for a tramp to perform, occurred at the Salt Works school house last Thursday night. If his fellow-tourists hear of his act they will certainly ostracize him from their ranks, but he, no doubt, can get a good position with some dime museum. The tramp broke into the school house where he found two cakes of soap and a towel. He took one cake of soap, cut the towel into two pieces and took one piece of it and in the morning went to a run hardy and risked his life by indulging in a good washing and then went begging for bread. Had he found two ginger cakes and an overcoat in the school house it may be possible he would not have been so willing to divide.

Only Ten Per Cent. Archie Campbell, who was an eccentric chap that lived in Reynoldsville when Willie O. Smith, of the Punxsutawney Spirit, roamed the streets of this place a bare-footed urchin, will not be forgotten by those who had any dealings with him. As Smith says: "Archie was a large, corpulent Irishman with a lame leg and an eye to business. He was quite wealthy as wealth went in Reynoldsville in those days, and he had a knack of turning an honest penny here and there and cleaving to it with a tenacity that was something astonishing. Yet he prided himself on his liberality, and when he gave anything, he did it with great ostentation. He was perfectly willing that not only his left hand, but all his neighbors, should know what his right hand was doing when he gave money to a good cause. He was a faithful member of the Presbyterian church, and a service that was not graced by the presence of Archie and his good wife Mary Ann did not appear natural." Archie met David Reynolds one day and said, "David, when the flood cums and yez want any munny yez can huy it and it'll not cost yez a cent." Mr. Reynolds borrowed two hundred dollars from Archie and when he returned it Archie said: "Poor old Cummel has no other way to make munny and I'll only charge yez ten per cent for the munny." David had to pay the interest. Fire at DuBois. Our neighboring town, DuBois, was visited with a $90,000 fire very early last Friday morning. The fire originated in Grier Bros' hardware store, destroying that building entirely with the immense stock it contained. The Commercial Hotel was so badly damaged that there is talk of building a larger hotel on the old site. The building occupied by the Express was close enough to get so badly damaged that the press work on the Express cannot be done in the old quarters and through the kindness of the Courier it is printed on the Courier press. The money expended on the DuBois fire department returned with big interest on this occasion for with the strong wind blowing at the time the fire fiend would have devoured a large portion of DuBois with gosh like. This makes the fifth time that Grier Bros. have been burned out and their rebuilding is doubtful. James Grier, one of the firm, was an engineer on the A. V. R'y at one time and he is a gentleman deserving of success. Save Your Coupons. When the Pittsburg Times made the magnanimous offer to take fifty popular school teachers to the World's Fair last year there were three teachers voted for from this place. Why not select one this year for the vacation offered by the Times and all vote for the one teacher. The Times has a good circulation in Reynoldsville and vicinity and if the votes were all sent in for one person there would be some chance to have our town represented on the excursion. Since the above was written and set in type Miss Mamie Aiman's name has appeared in the list of teachers published in the Times to be voted for. Miss Aiman is a very nice young lady, and one who is deserving of such a vacation as the Times offers. As Miss Aiman is the first to receive votes from Reynoldsville why not all join in and vote for her. Two Maidens Scared. Two young ladies of Grant street were badly frightened last Saturday night. They were traveling a dark street when a man got after them and the girls started to run. One of them used her voice to such a good purpose that those living on the street hastened to the doors to discover what was wrong. One of the young ladies had been out skating and she could not walk as gracefully as it was her wont to do, but when the twain thought a man was after them, the young ladies' limbs limbered up and she outstripped her companion. A Neat Publication. The Monitor, which had been published at Curwensville, has been moved to Clearfield and it made its appearance from its new home last week enlarged and printed in new type. It is a Prohibition paper. S. C. Watt, editor and publisher, in giving his reasons for moving to Clearfield among other things he said: "Because it is the county seat, because it is political headquarters of the county, because the Monitor, like the cause it represents, is nothing if not political." The paper is a very neat publication. Prohibition Ticket. The Prohibitionists met at Solomon Shaffer's office last evening and nominated the following ticket for the Feb. election: Burgess, J. Van Reed; Council, Joseph Shaffer, T. J. Davis, A. E. Dunn; School Directors, V. R. Pratt, Matthew Phillips; Judge of Election, Rufus Kirk; High Constable, John Pomeroy; Tax Collector, S. Shaffer; Overseer Poor, D. W. Stiles; Assistant Assessors, E. L. Evans, M. S. Sterley; Auditor, E. C. Davis. Instruction Amusement. A play that gives us an exhibition of travel through the air, with singing, dancing and other happy features is what "The Flying Vulture" offers. At the Opera house Jan. 19th.

Postoffice Report. The public has not been informed yet who will take charge of the postoffice at this place when the present postmaster's time expires, which will be the 11th of next month. It has been reported that Dr. Foust will be re-appointed, but this is only talk, because the Doctor does not want it for another term, on account of poor health, and it is a "time honored" custom "to the victor belongs the spoils," and with the change of administration all office holders are retired and others take their places, and thus it will be with the Reynoldsville postoffice. Whoever the new postmaster may be he can make up his mind that the public is not easily pleased, in fact it is an impossibility to please all at least. It is hardly necessary to enumerate the thousand and one questions he will be compelled to answer daily. There is one redeeming feature about being a postmaster and that is that he can have three or four hours to himself on legal holidays if he leaves town or hides from the public. Below we give a report of the business done in the Reynoldsville postoffice during 1893: Sold 117,000 two cent stamps; 21,500 one cent; 1,200 four cent; 2,000 five cent; 1,000 ten cent stamps; 18,600 postal cards; registered 1,045 domestic letters and parcels; 62 foreign letters and parcels; issued 2,328 domestic money orders, amounting to $18,265.40; issued 93 foreign money orders, amounting to $1,015.62; issued 1,400 postal notes, $1,062.30; paid 430 domestic money orders, $4,301.84; paid 29 foreign money orders, $466.26; paid 105 postal notes, $365.95. Not including stamped envelopes and several other things the amount of business done during 1893 figures up to about $32,000. List of Jurors. Below we give a list of jurors drawn for February term of court from Reynoldsville, West Reynoldsville, Winslow and Washington townships: GRAND JURORS. Reynoldsville—John M. Hays, David E. Jones, Washington township—Fred Caldwell, J. S. Dougherty, W. W. McGeary, Gust Miller. PETIT JURORS. First week: Reynoldsville—William King, W. C. Schultze, Winslow twp.—Henry Hodge, Washington Mahoney, Milton Null, A. R. Schuckers, John Welling, Washington twp.—M. E. Basher, P. J. Gill, W. A. Mahoney, R. C. Osborne, A. T. Strang. Third week: Reynoldsville—D. W. Atwater, J. J. Hoffman, L. J. McEntire, A. F. Yost, West Reynoldsville—Patrick McEnteer, Winslow twp.—Wm. K. Hutchison, Washington twp.—John Britton, W. H. Henry, J. C. Wilson. Fourth week: Reynoldsville—David Hartman, West Reynoldsville—Daniel Bollinger, Winslow twp.—Wm. K. Garvin, Washington twp.—J. W. Hunter. What a Woman Can Do. Make her mother-in-law like her. Shop all day long and not spend more than 50 cents. Wear thin-soled shoes and wonder why she has neuralgia. Entertain unwelcome visitors and make them feel at home. Talk about servant girls and woman suffrage in the same breath. Have a nervous headache and go to a show and forget all about it. Walk the floor with the baby half the night and not be bad tempered at breakfast next morning. Subsist on a diet composed chiefly of cakes, buns, pickles and tea. Dance for hours in shoes two sizes too small and yet have "a perfectly lovely time." Do fancy work for four months before Christmas and yet enjoy that holiday before it comes. Sleep peacefully with steel prongs sticking into the head, their purpose being to crimp the hair. Keep house, raise the children, attend church, sew, belong to several lodges and then feel sorry for "poor John" because he has to work so hard. Prescottville Schools. Report of the Prescottville schools, for the month ending Jan. 8, 1894: Whole number enrolled in grammar grade 42, number of boys 19, girls 23; per cent. of attendance, boys 83, girls 93; highest rank in the "A" grade, May Corbett; highest rank in "B" grade, Hannah Hiles, Alexander Adam, Robert Reynolds; highest rank in the "C" grade, Alice Funey, Nellie Dugan, Ella Madden; number of visitors, 3; number of excuses, 83; those missing no days and never tardy, George Hiles, Sadie Reynolds, Floy Hoemer and Robert Reynolds. MABELLE KENERSON, Teacher. PRIMARY DEPARTMENT. Number of pupils enrolled, boys 27, girls 33; per cent. of attendance, boys 82, girls 85; highest rank in "A" grade, George Handyside, Edward Reynolds, John Marshall; highest rank in "B" grade, Jennie Whitaker, Frank Wiley, Mary Reynolds, Florence Benauer; highest in "C" grade, Clara Muhollan; those missing no days and not tardy were, Iva Heemer, Lizzie Dougherty, Mary Nelson, Walter Heemer, Willie Dorwart. MINNIE E. SMELTZER, Teacher. At King & Co.'s you will find baled hay, salt, flour and a full line of general merchandise.

PERSONALS. J. M. Stewart went to Brockwayville Monday on a visit. Dr. E. K. Gorow has returned from Washington, D. C. Miss Mary Moore, one of our milliners, visited in DuBois last week. Mrs. M. A. Brockbill, of Brookville, is the guest of Mrs. Geo. Mellinger. Miss Jennie McGrady visited friends in St. Marys during the past week. Miss Annie McIninch, of Brookville, is visiting friends in Reynoldsville. E. Neff, Justice of the Peace, and wife, were in DuBois last Thursday. Miss Maggie Butler is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. C. Hirst, at Lawsonham, Pa. Miss Inez Boyles, of DuBois, visited her cousin, Miss Eleanor Reed, last week. Miss Annie Walker, of Brookville, is visiting Mrs. F. W. Campbell in this place. Mrs. Andy Denny is visiting her sister, Mrs. M. Britton, at Brockwayville. Miss Irene Hays spent three or four days of the past week visiting friends in DuBois. Mrs. Frank Richardson, of Driftwood, was the guest of Mrs. Geo. Mellinger last week. Miss Ella Campbell, of East Brady, was the guest of Mrs. D. M. Dunsmore the past week. S. C. Roll, of Corning, N. Y., is visiting his brother, David M. Roll, proprietor of the City Hotel. Tom Kearns was at Brookville Monday night assisting to furnish music for a dance at that place. Mrs. Wm. Dougherty went to Rockton yesterday to attend the wedding of her sister, who is to be married to-day. Clarence Patterson, the accommodating clerk of the Commercial Hotel at Brookville, spent Sunday in Reynoldsville. W. H. Bell jr., proprietor of the large clothing store in this place, accompanied by his wife, was in Buffalo, N. Y., last week. Miss Lulu Rumbaugh has gone to Red Bank Furnace to stay with her grandparents until "the robins nest again." County Treasurer John Waite, of Brookville, came up to Reynoldsville Friday evening to hear Major Dane lecture. Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Cooper and son, Samuel, of Brockwayville, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ninian Cooper in this place. Mrs. Malissa Bing, of Unionville, Center county, is visiting her son and daughter, Andrew T. Bing and Mrs. E. C. Sensor, in this place. Evan Thomas McGaw, ex-Justice of the Peace and an aspirant for the Reynoldsville postmastership, was in Harrisburg last week attending the Democratic State convention. Eli Moorhouse, of the firm of Sykes, Allis & Moorhouse, went to Blairsville Monday and from there he will go to Philadelphia to-day to help G. W. Sykes select machinery for the new woolen mill. Rev. J. C. McEntire conducted services at Mead Chapel for Rev. Jas. H. Jelbart last Sunday, he being called to another part of his charge that day. Rev. Jelbart is holding a successful revival at Mead Chapel. David Neale, of Perryville, this county, is visiting his brother, Dr. J. B. Neale, in this place. David is a politician of the Democratic persuasion. He was a delegate to the Democratic state convention at Harrisburg last week. Tom Windle, a mine boss at Shawmut mines, spent Sunday in this place. Mr. Windle expects to move his family to his new job in a week or ten days. Mr. Windle was formerly a mine boss for the Bell, Lewis & Yates C. M. Co. at this place. John Butler, at one time a resident of Armstrong county, now of Iowa, visited his aunt, Mrs. Joseph Butler, in Reynoldsville the past week. He went from here to Brockwayville and will visit friends elsewhere before returning to the Hawkeye state. Dr. Jos. S. McCreight moved his family to Ridgway the latter part of last week. Mrs. Annie Gibson went to Ridgway Monday, where she will make her home with the Doctor's family for a short time. We wish the Doctor success in his new field and hope that his family may find Ridgway a pleasant place to live. We are of the opinion that Ridgway would be a pretty nice place to reside, in fact we believe it is next best outside of Reynoldsville. The Trouble Over. A prominent man in town exclaimed the other day: "My wife has been wearing out her life from the effects of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint and Indigestion. Her case baffled the skill of our best physicians. After using three packages of Bacon's Colery King for the Nervous she is almost entirely well." Keep your blood in a healthy condition by the use of this great vegetable compound. Call on W. B. Alexander sole agent, and get a trial package free. Large size 25 and 50 cents. Buy your mining shoes at Robinson's $1.25 all solid.
