Joe Mitchell is enjoying an attack of the mumps. Read the advertisement of J. B. Arnold and see the bargains you are missing.

Friday night is the regular monthly meeting night of the Reynoldsville Board of Trade. E. C. Sencor has been making good use of the snow the past week on his log slide at Sandy Valley.

Easter Sunday will be particularly early this time. It will not come so soon again for twenty years. Chas. Messick slipped and fell off the porch at his home Saturday and sprained his left wrist very badly.

Four candidates for burgess of Reynoldsville borough, Republican, Democrat, Prohibition and Peoples Party. There will be nearly two hundred criminal cases at the February term of court in Clearfield county. Think of it.

What was supposed to be a picture of J. Van Reed, Prohibition candidate for burgess, appeared in the Grid last Saturday. The wet snow stuck to the trees Monday afternoon, making the scenery on some of the streets of Reynoldsville very beautiful.

When, oh when! will all the old cattle be killed off in this section? It's "tough" to eat some of the meat found in the markets to-day. Last Monday morning Alex Riston received a live alligator from Jacksonville, Florida, which is now on exhibition in his cigar store.

The box supper in the Prescottville band room last Wednesday evening was not a great financial success on account of the inclement weather.

The snow storm of Monday afternoon, Monday night and yesterday would certainly please the people who have been anxiously waiting for snow. Congressman Cribbs sued J. J. Shick, editor of the Clarion Jacksonian, last week for libel, as a result of the fight over the postmastership at Clarion.

The Sons of Veterans of this place held a special meeting last night in the G. A. R. Hall. Division Commander, H. M. Lowery, of Indiana, was present. Some of the machinery for the woolen mill was received a few days ago. Sykes, Allis & Moorhouse expect to have the mill in operation before the first of May.

The returns from the Corbett-Mitchell prize fight at Jacksonville, Florida, last Thursday was looked for with considerable interest by some of the sports of Reynoldsville. Two robberies were committed at DuBois last Saturday night. Both places plundered were where liquid refreshments were served. Beer, whiskey and coats were the plunder taken.

Commencing Feb. 1st, passengers paying fare on trains of the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh R'y will be charged an excess of ten cents from stations where ticket offices are maintained. Chaplain C. C. McCabe will lecture at Centennial Hall on Friday evening, Feb. 9th. No one who enjoys the influence of true eloquence, or the effect of sweetest song, should fail to hear the Chaplain lecture.

N. L. Strong, an enterprising and self made young lawyer of Brookville, who is held in high esteem by all who are acquainted with him, will be a Republican candidate for District Attorney of Jefferson county at the coming primary election.

The average daily attendance in the Reynoldsville borough school is seven hundred and twenty-five. This is a large school to be accommodated in eight rooms.

Rev. H. R. Johnson, pastor of the Presbyterian church, closed the special meetings in his church last Friday evening. The meetings were held three weeks. Sixteen persons were received into the church.

C. N. Lewis' hound had one of its legs broken in a dog row Monday forenoon. Dr. S. Reynolds dressed the fracture and it is expected that the canine will be able to run on all fours again before many weeks.

Prof. W. J. Weaver, one of the teachers of our schools, is enrolled in the long list of popular school teachers being voted for on the Pittsburg Times' vacation offer. The list of teachers now number over three thousand.

Royal Phosphoric coffee is prepared with special reference to health. It contains no poisonous element and no extract. It has a delicious taste, and is especially adapted to the most delicate as well as the most robust. Ask your grocer for it.

We care not what others may say, but speaking for ourselves, we never enjoyed a lecture, recitation, sermon, or dramatic play as we enjoyed "The Bright Side of Life in Libby Prison."—Winfield (Kan.) Courier. At Centennial Hall, Reynoldsville, Feb. 9th.

Fifty-six probationers were taken into the M. E. church at this place last Sunday. Up to and including Monday night there have been seventy-one persons at the altar, a large percent of whom are married people. The revival services in this church seems to have just begun.

A disgraceful fight occurred near the Arnold Block, on Main street, last Wednesday evening between a gang of boys in this place. The boys soon drew a large crowd and were urged on by the crowd. Such conduct is no credit to the boys who were engaged in it nor the men who urged them on to fight.

Wednesday, February 7th, has been announced as the day appointed for appeals from the assessments from the following boroughs and townships of Jefferson county for 1894, to be held at the office of County Commissioners: Reynoldsville, West Reynoldsville, Winslow, Warsaw and Washington.

The Prohibitionists of Winslow township nominated the following ticket at a recent caucus: Tax collector, F. M. Lucas; supervisors, Geo. Charlton, sr., S. E. Brison; school directors, A. Shugarts, Benjamin Hocking, James Beveridge, sr.; auditor, D. E. Phillips; overseer poor, Daniel Isenuth; inspector of election, John Siple.

Fifty-four applications have been made for license to sell liquor in Jefferson county, forty-eight retail, two wholesale and four brewers. There were ninety-six applications over in Elk county, and that county is just about one-half as large as Jefferson county. The people of Elk county must keep their whistles wet all the time.

We received a calendar for 1894 a few days ago from the Buffalo Courier, which is the neatest thing in the shape of a calendar that has ever been received at this office. The Courier Co., general printers and lithographers, of Buffalo, N. Y., is second to no other establishment of the kind in the country for turning out good work. Accept our thanks for the calendar.

The town council of Driftwood is thinking seriously of holding a special election to give the people of that town an opportunity of voting for or against water works for that town. And why not? Enough property has gone up in smoke in the last decade to pay several times what water works would cost them. The Gazette, which is an enterprising sheet, is in favor of the project.

The special meetings held in the Baptist church at this place during the past three week, conducted by Rev. W. G. Patterson, Evangelist for the Pennsylvania Baptist State Mission Society, closed Sunday evening. The meetings were interesting and well attended. Twelve persons were baptised, eight last Sunday evening, and nineteen were added to the church as the fruits of the special meetings.

Persons who believe in luck and signs will doubtless agree that it is unlucky to be struck by lightning on Monday, or to take hold of a circular saw in motion on Tuesday, or tumble down stairs with a coal scuttle on Wednesday, or be hit by a car on Thursday, or fall overboard on Friday, or marry on Saturday a girl who swings ten-pound dumb-bells, or be one of thirteen at dinner on Sunday, when there is food for only ten.

An exchange truthfully remarks: "Lawyers stand up in court houses before jurors, in the presence of large audiences, and denounce men as liars, scoundrels, thieves, perjured villains, and when the court adjourns the men thus abused appear to harbor no ill will against them. But let a newspaper faintly intimate that a man's character is blemished, and he has to confront a horse pistol, stand a libel suit, or suffer what some people think to be the greatest of all mortifications—lose a subscriber."

The Lawyer's Wooing. "I have an Attachment for you." The lawyer told Ethel one night. "And for your affections, I sue; My case is of love at first sight." "And in my best suit I have come To Court, but—the lawyer low spoke—" "I sit by your stove very dumb And burn your pa's Blackstone and Coke." "My Footslop I wear like a dunce; I haven't the courage to plead, And life will be brief if this once You don't take the Will for the Deed." "Consider I've popped, and I decide If you will Retain me or not; O, Judge how a lover is Tried Who cannot Appeal from his lot." "I'm told, sir, you stand at the Bar, And Cross-questions ask," said the maid, "And make people swear, and you are Too Fee-bill to live, I'm afraid." "O, miss, I object, and I take Exceptions to all that you say; A motion to go I shall make, If you do not grant me a stay." "Well, then, I won't Witness your woo," She said, "and my words I withdraw; I'll try you be-cause, sir, I know, Your need of a mother-in-law." —H. C. DONNER.

Begin Next Week. It is expected that the insurance on the tannery at this place will be adjusted this week and the work of rebuilding will be commenced next week and pushed rapidly to completion. The plant will be in working order before the first of July.

Glad to Hear It. The DuBois Courier, of last Thursday, says: "C. J. Bangert and W. T. Hay, who commenced bottling Alceia water at Penfield some time ago, have dissolved their co-partnership and Hay is continuing the business alone. Bangert has signed the pledge." We are very glad to hear that the editor of the Falls Creek Herald has signed the pledge.

Banquet To-Night. About forty members of the Brookville Jr. O. U. A. M. will come to Reynoldsville this evening to visit the Jr. O. U. A. M. here. This is the regular meeting night of the Reynoldsville lodge, and after the "goat" has been exercised, the routine of business gone through and the paraphernalia locked up, then the Reynoldsville boys will give their visitors a banquet in the lodge room.

A Fond Parent. Officers of the Pennsylvania Railroad department are telling about a man in Italy who immediately sent two remaining sons to this country upon receiving the news of another son's death on the Pennsylvania railroad and a check for $505, representing a death benefit held by the son, who belonged to the relief department. It is said to be an actual fact, the other two sons being now employed as laborers on the line and being members of the relief.—Lock Haven Express.

Organized. A meeting of the miners and mine laborers of this vicinity was called for last Wednesday night to form an organization of the United Mine Workers of America in this place. The number who gathered at Centennial hall was so small that the meeting was postponed until Thursday night when the organization was formed with a membership of about one hundred and twenty-three. The organizers and speakers were a Mr. Henderson, of Houtzdale, and Mr. Butler, of Osceola.

Changed Her Name. Chas. G. Witter, a telegraph operator at Keating, on the P. & E. railroad, and Miss May Iseman, of Reynoldsville, were married at Emporium at two o'clock Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 24th. Mr. Witter's parents live at Tyrone and are members of the Presbyterian church and choir of which Rev. Furbay is pastor. It is probable that the young couple will go to housekeeping at Keating. May's voice will be missed in the Reynoldsville Presbyterian church choir, as she is a sweet singer.

Stop-off Privileges. Railroad companies have some difficulty in getting the traveling public to understand what stop-off privileges they are entitled to when they purchase a ticket. Some people seem to think they can stop-off as often as they want to. M. J. Farrell received a circular from the general passenger agent of the A. V. R'y a few days ago, which reads as follows: "Only one stop-off is allowed on a first-class unlimited ticket. Conductors do not issue stop-off checks when the rate between the point passenger wishes to stop and the destination of the ticket is less than twenty-five cents."

A Little Fire. Last Thursday afternoon the girl that works at Fred Alexander's, in raising one of the windows, pushed the lace curtains into the blaze of a gas jet. The curtains caught fire and would have done destructive work had not the fire been looked after immediately. As it was, a ten dollar rug, a pair of lace curtains, a good carpet and a number of little trinkets on a bureau had the cash value knocked off them. The fire alarm was given but the fire company's services were not required. Fred Alexander lives on the second floor of the Arnold block and THE STAR office is on the first floor of the same block, therefore, we were very much interested when we discovered the fire was in that block. Fire, like death or any other calamity, has a tendency to intensify the interests of a man or woman when it gets into their home.

Tickets Nominated. The Prohibitionists of West Reynoldsville met at the school house of that borough Saturday afternoon and nominated the following ticket: Justice of Peace, W. L. Johnson, Philip Koehler; Councilmen, Henry Herpel, Sam'l Sutter, H. L. Hoke, John Benson, G. M. Davis, Geo. W. Dampsey; School Directors, David Bollinger, G. H. Allis, M. E. Weed, M. H. Stiles, G. G. Williams, James Orr; Overseer poor, D. B. Stauffer, A. Hoover; Assessor, Robt. S. Williams; Collector, R. W. Miller; Auditors, W. E. McKeen, M. B. Wynkup, W. Z. Burris; Judge of Election, J. N. Small; Inspector of Election, J. E. Boyles; Constable, Thomas Snow; High Constable, George Riggs.

The Democrats of this borough held a caucus in the opera house last Friday night and nominated the following ticket for the February election: Burgess, C. J. Kerr; Council, M. C. Coleman, Jacob Deible, Peter Burkhart, Ninian Cooper; Collector, Dr. J. B. Neale; School Directors, David Wheeler, Wm. F. Marshall; High Constable, Henry M. Iseman; Overseer Poor, O. F. Smith; Auditor, Glenn Milliren; Judge of Election, W. J. Weaver; Inspector of Election, Sam'l H. Bloom.

Saxton, Robert Vasbinder, Dennis Murphy; school directors, August Kleinhaus, Henry C. Keller; tax collector, J. N. Baughman; high constable, A. J. Pierce; overseer poor, J. L. Bailey; auditor, John Robinson; judge of election, James Lusk, jr.; inspector of election, George Roller, jr.

The Act of Assembly, approved May 23rd, 1893, says that the qualified voters of every borough in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, shall on the third Tuesday of February, 1894, and triennially thereafter, vote for and elect a properly qualified person for chief burgess in each of said boroughs who shall serve for the term of three years, and shall not be eligible to the office for the next succeeding term. He shall not hold any other borough office or appointment during the term for which he is elected, nor be a member of, nor preside at the meetings of the town council of said borough. Every ordinance and resolution passed by council shall be presented to the burgess, if he approve, he shall sign it, but if he shall not approve, he shall return it with his objections to said council at next regular meeting thereof. If two-thirds of all the members elected to said council shall vote to pass such ordinance or resolution, it shall become and be of as full force and effect as if said burgess had signed it. If such ordinance or resolution shall not be returned by the burgess at the next regular meeting of said council after the same shall have been presented to him, the same shall likewise become and be in as full force and effect as if he had signed it.

Attempted Murder. A man named Chas. Haller, of Punxsutawney, attempted to butcher his wife with a hatchet at DuBois last Wednesday. He came very nearly being successful. The woman started from Punxsutawney for Ohio on Tuesday, went to Falls Creek and returned to DuBois. Some person notified the husband and Tuesday evening he went to DuBois to look for his wife, whom he had not implicitly confidence. After the show at the opera house was over Haller saw his wife come out with another man and a scene was enacted then and there, but the woman stuck to her new "mash." The next day Haller called on his wife and attacked her with a hatchet and then left her, as he supposed, dead, and skipped out of town. He was captured at Sabula Thursday and is now in the Clearfield county jail. According to reports on both sides it is "six of one and half dozen of the other."

Lacks the Cash. A Reynoldsville youth became acquainted with a fair maiden several years ago and was soon entangled in the silken meshes of love. He fell at her feet and offered her his heart and hand, (it was all he had to offer, as he is a loafer who lives at his father's expense) and was extravagant with words of love. The maiden at first declined the offer because the fellow lacked enough cash to pay the preacher, even at a reduction, but when he demurred, submitted a brief, and her dad concurred: And so it was settled the twain should be One and the same for eternity. The necessary amount of "filthy lucre" had not been raised yet to pay the preacher and the twain are not one. Buy your felt boot at Robinson's, $1.00 per pair.

An Old Settler. Peter Cox, one of the old settlers of this section, died at four o'clock Thursday morning, Jan. 25th, 1894, aged 73 years, 3 months and 13 days. He was born in Columbia county, Pa., October 12, 1820. He settled in Washington township, Jefferson county, in 1846, and in 1849 located on the farm near Sandy Valley, where he lived until removed by death. Mr. Cox cleared and improved the farm himself. For thirty years he was a prominent lumberman of the county. He was father of fourteen children, nine boys and five girls. His wife and five children preceded him through the veil of death to try the realities of the Great Beyond. Mr. Cox, who was a hard worker, had been ailing for more than a year. A few minutes before the old gentleman died one of his sons, who was standing at the bed-side, felt his hand and said: "Father you are cold, put your hand under the clothes," but he said, "No, my son, that is death." Mr. Cox then folded his hands across his breast and his heart ceased its throbbings. The funeral services were held Sunday afternoon and his remains were buried in the Epworth cemetery beside his wife, who died so suddenly in the A. V. station at this place over a year ago. The deceased was a brother of John T. Coax, near this place, and father of Wm. T. Cox, who owns a grocery store in Reynoldsville. Rev. Hicks conducted the funeral services.

Figs and Thistles. (Ram's Horn.) Truth never dodges, no matter who shoots. We forget the sunlight when we notice the shadow. Spiritual dyspepsia is as hard to cure as the other kind. You know a man when you know the company he keeps. It is impossible to travel far with the man who rides a hobby. Ante-rooms to both heaven and hell can be found in every great city. The man who lives only for himself is engaged in very small business. It won't do any good to paint the pump if there is poison in the water. There is more life in one grain of wheat than there is in a bushel of chaff. You will miss it if you undertake to measure a man's religion by the length of his face. The man who will steal chickens is often found hiding behind a hypocrite in the church. The glory of love is that it delights in doing for nothing what others will not do for pay. The man who howls at the passing of the hat in church will pay a big hotel bill with a smile on his face. One of the times when a woman has no mercy on a man is when he comes to her store to buy a bonnet for his wife.

Dangerous Practice. Two Kittanning boys about twelve years old, while playing in that town one day last week, had a little difficulty and one struck the other. The boy who was slapped said, "I'll fix you for that," and drew a revolver and fired it. The ball struck the boy in the left breast, passed through a lobe of the lung and lodged deeply in the body. The Kittanning Times says that many boys in that town, ranging from twelve to fifteen years of age, are in the habit of carrying revolvers, and that it is not an uncommon occurrence even in the school room for one boy to display his weapon to another. The parents of Kittanning, Reynoldsville or any other town should see to it that their boys do not carry revolvers, as such weapons are dangerous even for men to handle. If the Kittanning boy dies, which is probable, the boy who deliberately shot him will have his young life stained with another boy's blood. How will the parents of the murderer feel? If you have any doubt about your boy carrying a revolver, search his pockets every night to be on the safe side.

A Widow's Pension. (DuBois Courier.) After six years in securing evidence, Justice Woodring Monday succeeded in procuring a pension for Mrs. Philippa Kopp, of Troutville, widow of the late Captain Kopp, who died less than a decade since. Mrs. Kopp received $1,400 back pension, and will in the future receive $20 per month. This amount will come in very convenient to her in keeping together and educating her family and is a just recognition of the services of the father, given to his country in the time of peril and in the best years of his life. The money has been received and deposited in one of the DuBois banks.

Official Notice. The stockholders of the Reynoldsville Building and Loan Association will hold their annual election in Flynn's Hall Feb. 19th, 1894, at 7.30 P. M. for the purpose of electing five directors from the following candidates: H. C. Deible, M. E. Weed, Dr. S. Reynolds, T. E. Evans, Wm. B. Alexander, A. A. Kleinhaus, Joe S. Morrow, John H. Kaucher, Charles Herpel, T. J. Davis, and D. Wheeler, also one auditor from the following: L. J. McEntire, B. E. Hoover. GLENN MILLIREN, Secretary. An eight foot silver plated show case, mansard style, for sale at Alex. Robinson's cigar store.

Mrs. George Mellinger and daughter, Lydia, visited friends in Driftwood last week. N. G. Pinney, one of Brookville's insurance agents, was in Reynoldsville Monday. Mrs. Cearing Peters, of DuBois, visited friends in Reynoldsville last Saturday. John W. Phillippi, of Punxsutawney, tarried in Reynoldsville several days last week. Miss Ella Dwyer, of Sabula, Pa., visited Miss Lulu Creighton during the past week. W. A. Neale, ex-prothonotary of Jefferson county, was in Reynoldsville on Saturday. Earl Sutter has accepted a position in the wagon manufacturing establishment at Brookville. J. W. and Al. Mayhew, of Rathmel, were at East Brady visiting their father during the past week. Joseph Shaffer, the Adams Express agent at this place, has been on the sick list for a few days. Dr. William Crawford, of Georgeville, Indiana county, was the guest of Ed. D. Sealey during the past week. J. B. Hoosey, of Rimersburg, was the guest of Sam'l and Wallace Lowther at this place during the past week. Miss "Peep" Craig, of New Bethlehem, visited Misses Lucile and Annie Mitchell at this place during the past week. Mrs. L. D. Rearick, of Falls Creek, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Hoon, at this place during the past week. Mrs. Tom Windle and children went to Shawmut, Pa., last Friday, where they will reside, Mr. Windle being a mine boss at that place. Mrs. Susanna Murphy, of Emerickville, returned home Saturday after a short visit with her daughter, Mrs. Fred Zeitler at this place. Miss Nannie Furgeson, who has been in Reynoldsville since last October, returned to her home at Putneyville, Pa., yesterday afternoon to remain an indefinite time. Dr. J. W. Foust was at Brookville last Friday to attend a meeting of the Jefferson County Medical Association, but as there were not enough medical men present for a quorum, there was no business transacted by the Association. Geo. Mellinger, Esq., Superintendent of the Shawmut Coal Mining Company, made us a pleasant call on Tuesday last. Mr. Mellinger is a practical man of large experience and ability, and the Shawmut Coal Mining Company's business is prospering finely under his Supervision.—Ridgway Advocate. Mrs. H. M. Iseman and son, Frank, left Reynoldsville last Thursday morning for Prairie Home, Ill., where Mrs. Iseman's mother, Mrs. C. W. Hennigh, is dangerously ill. Mrs. Iseman will remain with her mother until she dies, which is only a matter of a very short time as cancer is eating her life out. W. H. Baker, editor of the Ridgway Advocate and president of the Ridgway Publishing Co., was in Reynoldsville last Saturday and made THE STAR office a pleasant call. The Publishing Co., of which Mr. Baker is president, turns out as good blank work as any city house and at as reasonable terms. County Auditor's Settlement. (Punxsutawney Spirit.) The county Auditors, J. B. Jordan, C. A. Morris and S. C. Ewing, completed the work of settling up the affairs of the county for 1893, last Wednesday. The county is in debt about $70,000. The last county treasurer redeemed about $15,000 of county bonds. The cash in the county treasury at present is very low. There is $2,600 due to the late Treasurer and $1,100 to Ex-Sheriff Young, and the Treasurer is not in shape at present to pay it. About $10,000 is due the county from various townships for the keeping of the insane. An error of $5,000 in the county's favor, which had been made at a previous settlement, was discovered and corrected. As soon as tax collectors get their money paid in the treasury will be all right again, but until that time it may be necessary for Treasurer Waite to negotiate a small loan to tide us over present emergencies.
