FOR ASSEMBLY,

W. O. SMITH,

OF PENNSYLVANIA.

Subject: to decision of the republicans of Jefferson Co. at their primary election in June.

George W. Childs, of the Philadelphia Public Ledger, died last Saturday morning. Mr. Childs was a true philanthropist who was well known in these United States. The Philadelphia Times in speaking of Mr. Childs' generosity says: "A million of dollars has been mentioned as an estimate of his contributions and gifts in the past twenty-five years. He has built monuments, given houses, sustained families, been a supporter of institutions, aided and built churches and hospitals, bridged firms over financial difficulties, loaned money to young men starting in life and educated many young men and girls at his own expense." It is said that he has been so liberal in the past ten years that his large income was given away. His income from the Public Ledger alone is estimated at $1,000 per day. Mr. Childs was not only the rich man's friend but was also the poor man's friend. We can only wish that more minded men had the philanthropic spirit of G. W. Childs.

Don't snub a boy because he wears shabby clothes. When Edison, inventor of the telephone, first entered Boston, he wore a pair of yellow linen breeches in the depth of winter. Don't snub a boy because his home is plain and unpretending. Abraham Lincoln's early home was a log cabin. Don't snub a boy because of the ignorance of his parents. Shakespeare, the world's poet, was the son of a man who was unable to write his own name. Don't snub a boy because he chooses a humble trade. The author of The Pilgrim's Progress was a tinker. Don't snub a boy because of physical disability. Milton was blind. Don't snub a boy because of dullness at his lessons. Hogarth, the celebrated painter and engraver, was a stupid boy at his books. Don't snub a boy because he stutters. Demosthenes, the greatest orator of Greece, overcame a harsh and stammering voice. Don't snub any one. Not alone because, some day, he may far outstrip you in the race of life, but because it is neither kind nor right nor Christian.

Sleep will do much to cure irritability of temper, peevishness and uneasiness. It will build up and make strong a weary body. It will do much to cure dyspepsia, particularly that variety known as nervous dyspepsia. It will relieve the languor and prostration felt by consumptives. It will cure hypochondria. It will cure the headache. It will cure neuralgia. It will cure a broken spirit. It will cure sorrow. Now no man should do more work of muscle or of brain in a day than he can perfectly recover from the fatigue of in a good night's rest. Up to that point, exercise is good; beyond are waste of life, exhaustion and decay. When hunger calls for food, and fatigue demands rest, we are in the natural order, and keep the balance of life. When we take stimulants to spur our jaded nerves, or to excite an appetite, we are wasting. There are wrong and mischief in all waste of life. A man should live so as to keep himself at his best and with a true economy. To eat more food than is needful is worse policy than tossing money into the sea. It is a waste of labor and a waste of life.

In this issue will be found the announcement of W. O. Smith, editor of Pennsylvania Spirit, for assembly, subject to the decision of the Republicans of Jefferson county at their primary election in June. William Orlando Smith, who has represented the people of Jefferson county two terms in the Legislature of Pennsylvania and now announces his willingness to serve the same people a third term, if they wish him to, was born, reared and imbibed good health from the pure air that envelopes the best town in Jefferson county, which is well known to be our own beloved Reynoldsville. Of course Smith strayed away from home and settled in Punnstutawney. This fact, however, and his two term's experience in the Legislature are no just reason why his party should not nominate him at the June election. Editorially we gave our views recently on the custom of passing around the honors of office without considering the value of a man's experience. Smith has a host of friends in this county who are not under the impression that experience disqualifies a man to any great extent from occupying a seat in the House of Representatives, if he can get it.

Great Triumph
Instant relief experienced and a permanent cure by the most speedy and greatest cure in the world—Otto's Cure for Lung and Throat diseases. Why will you continue to irritate your throat and lungs with that terrible hacking cough when W. B. Alexander, sole agent, will furnish you a free sample bottle of this great guaranteed remedy? Its success is simply wonderful, as your druggist will tell you. Otto's Cure is now sold in every town and village on this continent. Samples free. Large bottles 25 and 50c.

Life is a Lottery.

Perhaps,
But you can't afford to take any chances when you're sick. Don't let the druggist enrich himself at your expense. Lookout for impure drugs. They are cheaper, of course,—for the druggist—but how about you? Then again, how about accuracy and skill in compounding your prescription? That counts for something too, don't it? We pride ourselves on combining all these features.

In Memoriam.

The following was written on the death of Scott Marshall, son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Marshall, of Rathmel:
In the school room we were sitting,
Not a cloud was in the sky,
Yet the room seemed strangely dreary
As we thought of days gone by.
One there was among our number
Whom we never more shall see;
He now sleeps in death's cold slumber,
God has said, "Come home to me."
Is that so? Shall we never see him?
Shall we never more that face behold?
Shall we not in heaven meet him
As he walks those streets of gold?
Yes, if faithful to our saviour
We shall then that face behold;
We shall then in heaven meet him
As he walks the streets of gold.
Other school mates have gone before him,
He perhaps has met them there;
Then let us all be true and faithful
And we'll all his gladness share.
Then school mates let us all be ready,
So when Death says the school's dismissed
We will all meet up in heaven
And not one of us be missed.
And our teachers kind and faithful,
Let God's blessing on them fall;
And God will say when their work's finished,
Come up higher; there's room for all.
—A SCHOOL MATE.

About

Prescriptions.

The best of medicines are none too good for sick folks. It's bad enough to be sick without running chances with second grade drugs. That's the reason we buy only the very highest quality of everything. It's a great satisfaction to us to know that every prescription we send out is just as good as drugs will make it. No matter what you paid for it you couldn't get it better.

On Saturday, freight engineers and conductors on the middle division of the Pennsylvania railroad who have been in the company's service for ten years, or more, received annual passes for themselves and wives, over the entire system. It is understood passenger engineers will be granted the same courtesies.—Lock Haven Express.
