A negro murderer was lynched at Stroudsburg, Monroe Co., Pa., Inst Wednesday. The perpetrators of this crime deserve to be punished for their deed. The negro escaped from jail and when recaptured he was hung on a tree.

The $50,000 breach of promise case of Congressman Breckinridge of Kentucky, and Madeline Pollard, that is now receiving attention in the courts of Washington, shows that Congressmen are not all what they should be. And in the face of all this Col. Breckinridge claims to be confident of his re-lection to Congress.

The annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal church for Central Pennsylvania was held at Harrisburg during the past week. Reports to conference from the districts of Altoona, Harrisburg, Danville, Juniata and Williams port show over 12,000 conversions during the year. This is 2,000 in excess of any previous year.

It is said that no matter how things may go, the poor always suffer. The nabobs who own railroads don't think anything of running over a poor man's horse. Yes, and the man who can afford to own a horse runs down the poor fellow on a bicycle, and the fellow on a bicycle runs down the poor fellow who has to walk. That's it, and the man that walks stumbles against the poor cripple who goes on crutches, and the cripple on crutches spends most of his time jamming his sticks down on other people's corns. This is really a selfish world.

It will be noticed since the atmosphere has lost its extreme chilliness that the robins have come again and many of our young men loiter on the streets in the evening. Many of the robins will return to the southland in the fall none the worse for their early migration north, save only that their breasts will not be as red as when they came here, but how about the boys who loaf on the streets? Will they return to the parental roof in the fall-after a summer spent on the streets at night-as pure as they should be and none the worse for such an expenditure of time? To save the boys would it not be wise to have a reading room or same attractive place for them to spend their evenings?

Who can gainsay the statement that has been made that a young man who is petted too much at home is seldom any good. What is wanted now-a-day is a practical man who can do something else besides twist a cane and smoke cigarette. The time to learn to work and to learn business habits is in one's youth. He who leads an aimless life until he is twenty-five or thirty years of age, and then recognizes the fact that he has made nothing of himself, has precious little to recommend him if he applies for a job. This may be a chestnut but it fits not a few young men in every community. There is nothing like being practical and there is one way to be so. Acquire business habits and train yourself to honest hard

It is an old saying that "corporations have no souls," yet it is a fact that men who work for them have, and while corporations have no respect for the Sabbath day or its privileges, they should have some respect for the men in their employ. Of all the corporations that seem to have the least regard for Sunday, the railroads take the lead, and why? Some times railroad companies get hold of freight of a perishable character that might be necessary to run through, but lumber, oil, coal and general merchandise will not be any the worse by standing in some freight yard over Sunday. The stockholders of railroads will attend church on Sundays and think because their conscience is seared over by "it is necessary" that they are doing nothing wrong in "winking at" the desecration of the Lord's Day by sanctioning the running of trains on Sunday. It is as unnecessary to run freight trains on Sunday as it is to engage in any other secular business, and were it not for the money in it the work would be abandoned on that day. It is said that the Pennsylvania railroad is endeavoring to suspend freight train running on Sunday as far as possible, to the benefit of trainmen in giving them needed rest and permitting them to enjoy and observe the Sabbath at home. At the Harrisburg yards no freight except that of a perishable character of the food class is sent out from 2 o'clock P. M. Saturday until Monday at 6.00 A. M. We will add right here that we do not endorse the running of passenger trains on Sunday, much as some people may imagine it would inconvenience them.

As Viewed from a Distance.

The following notice of W. O. Smith, from the Clearfield Public Spirit, considering that it comes from an ultra-Democratic source, and one whose usual assumption is that "no good things can come out of Nazareth," is a pretty strong endorsement:

strong endorsement:

"It looks very much as though W. O. Smith, editor of the Punxsutawney Spirit, would succeed himself for the third term as the Representative of Jefferson county in the State legislature and from present indications the Republican primaries out there will award him the nomination prize without much if any opposition. Now this is as it should be and the disposition on the part of the people to have it so reflects credit upon their intelligence and part of the people to have it so reflects credit upon their intelligence and patriotism. Smith is a brainy fellow and although he is a bold bad tariff robber he is capable of doing the best for his county that could be done under any circumstances, and his honesty has never been questioned. It is a good thing for the acceptance. never been questioned. It is a good thing for the predominating party in any county to keep a man in the State councils who is trained and who is industrious, honest and patriotic, in the discharge of his duties. Such a man all parties could look to with safety and confidence and know all the time that the country is in safe hands. It is right to send Smith back to Harrisburg as often as he will go. It will be a good thing for the people and it won't hurt Smith."

Howorth's Hibernica Company gave an excellent entertainment last Monday evening in the opera house. The prevailing opinion before the show commenced seemed to be that they promised too much, but those thinking so were happily disappointed. The music. singing, dancing, comedy and the panorama are all deserving of the highest praise. A large number from Portland attended, notwithstanding other attractions in that town .- Middlesex County Record. At Reynolds opera house Monday evening, March 26th. ## A Great Timber Tract.

[Punxsutawney Spirit.] The greatest tract of pine timber in Jefferson county, and perhaps in the State, is in Polk township. It contains 2,700 acres, and a careful estimate of the pine on it places it at 57,000,000 feet. The pine is of the finest quality, too. Besides this there is a great quantity of hemlock and oak on the tract. The lands belong to the Hayes heirs, of Pittsburg, and the appraised value is $317,000.

Pleasant Thoughts.

O mind of man, when thou art given To blessed thoughts of hope in heaven Its eye can see the starry gate Where my dear Saviour he will wait. O then what heights we shall attain When with our Faviour we shall reign. No light is needed, God is there: We shall his glories ever share.

O then let's work that we may rise To the endless realms beyond the skiest For pains or death will be no more When we are on the glory shore.

O God of grace then bring us near That all thy statutes we may fear. And on thy word we'll surely stand Till taken to that brighter land.

Life is a Lottery,

Perhaps,

But you can't afford to take any chances when you're sick. Don't let the druggist enrich himself at your expense. Lookout for impure drugs. They are cheaper, of course,-for the druggist-but how about you? Then again, how about accuracy and skill in compounding your prescription? That counts for something too, don't it? We pride ourselves on combining all these features.
