In some gardens mint is regarded as a weed; it grows so iuxuriantly and spreads so much that it en-croaches all over the ground. In large gardens it is often given a great deal of latitude, but in small ones it has to be restricted. This is gener-ally done by nailing four boards to gether like a frame and phoning it gether like a frame and planting it inside this. A piece from eight to twelve feet long and four feet wide will furnish mint to meet the whole of the demand of a large family. Those who complain that mint doe not grow freely with them should try it in this way. The boards should be from ten inches to one foot in depth, and, if the soil is raised ap inside half this beight and a quantity of grit or sand, and manure is put in, it will always grow freely, and by covering it over in early spring it will be ready very early. Mint may be raised from seed sown in April, and it may also be increased by lifting the roots and divid ng and replanting them at once It requires good drain-age, and, where this exists under it, a top dressing of farm-yard manure be put over it every spring, or so may often as it shows signs of becoming As a dressing for valous kinds of meats, mint is a great addition to the menu

The Shylock Quotation A good story is told on ex-Pension Commissioner Black. Everyone who knows Black is aware that he is one of the most dignified legal practition-ers in the West, and that he is also somewhat enamored of the classis Not long ago he was attorney it a usury case at Springfield. Ill, and in his address to the surv be quoted very freely from the "Merchant of Venice," and wound up by saving that although the plaintiff could de-mand his pound of fe h the terms of his bond did not enable him to go beyond this.

The attorney for the alleged usurer seemed very much amused at the line of argument Mr. Black was taking. and when that gentleman's peroration was concluded he rose and remarked with somewhat of a pitying tone that Brother Black had recently held a brief in a dressed-beef case and that he had got the two cases mixed up, concluding by assuring the jury that there was no flesh in the case at all. but only money. A legal friend of mine, who solemnly asserts he was in court on the occasion, says the look of disgust on Mr. Black's face would have been worth a small fortune to any artist who could have reproduced it on canvas,

A Fish with a Corset.

Forest and Stream s, eaks of a curious find in the Cape Ann fish mar-ket, at Gloucester, Mass. It was nothing less than a mackerel with a rubber band around the body. The band had been put on the fish when quite small, and stayed there in spite of the rapid growth of the wearer. The fish's body under the band did not grow, which caused a depression in the full-grown body of about three inches in depth. The depression was covered with a healthy skin in no way unlike that on the rest of the body. The fish measured in length 14 inches, diameter of body each side of the depression 71 inches, diameter of depression 5 inches. The fish was undoubtedly in a healthy condition, and the hand was strong and could be stretched like any other band.

ing another, and when thousands are in training for the field sports of summer months, it s well to be advised by those who know all about it.

Mr. F. C. Ferguson, 1658 Atlantic Avenue. Brooklyn, N. Y., writes to the point March 1, 1893. He says "I would like to add my estimony to your already long list. While playing ball I sprained my arm at the elbow and shoulder. It interfered with my playing considerably and lost me many good chances professionally. I tried everything I could think of, but I could get no relief. A doctor advised that the only thing to be done was to give the arm a long rest. A friend, however, recommended St. Jacobs Oil, which I tried with the result that I was completely cured Assist nature a little now and then with a gentle lazative, or. if need be, with a more searching and cleaning cathartic, thereby removing offending matter from the stom-action, and you thereby remove the cause of a multitude of distressing diseases, such as headaches, indigestion, billouaness, skin diseases, boils, carbuncies, piles, fevers and maladies too numerous to mention. If people would pay more attention to properly regulating the action of their box-els, they would have less frequent occasion to call for their doctors' services to subdue attacks of dangerous diseases.

That, of all known agents to accomplish this nurpose. Dr. Fierce's Pleasant Pellets are used, they are alreadys in favor. Their sec-used, they are alreadys in favor. Their sec-used, they are alreadys in favor. Their sec-normal sectors in the sector is the case with other pills. Hence, their great popularity with sufferers from habitual con-stipation, piles, and indigestion. The "Pleasant Pellets" are far more effec-tive in arousing the liver to action than "blue pills," calomel, or other mercurial prepara-purely vegetable and perfectly harmless in any condition of the system in orparticular care is required while using them. Togetable extracts, their cost is much mere-than is that of other pills found in the mar-ket, yet from forty to forty-four "Pellets" are put up in each scaled glass vial, as seld utrough druggists, and can be had at the price of the more ordinary and cheaper made pills. Dr. Pierce prides himself on having been first to introduce a Little Liver Pill to the hard introduces a Little Liver Pill to the but none have approached his "Pleasant Pel-tets" in excellence. but none have approached his "Pleasant Pailets" in excellence. For all laxative and cathartic purposes the "Pleasant Pellets" are infinitely supe-rior to all "mineral waters," sediitz pow-ders, "salts," cantor oil, fruit syrups (so-called), laxative "teas," and the many other purgative compounds sold in various forms. Put up in glass vials, scaled, therefore always fresh and reliable. One little "Pal-let" is laxative, two gently cathartic. As a "dinner pill," to promote digestion, take one each day after dinner. To relises distress from over-eating, nothing equals them. They are tiny, sugar-coated, anti-billous granules, scarcely larger than mus-tard seeds. Every child wants them. Then, after they are taken, instead of dis-turbing and shocking the system, they act in a mild, and natural way. There is no re-action afterward. Their help lasts. Accept no substitute recommended to be "just as good." They may be better for the dealer, because of paying him a better profit, but he is not the one who needs help.

when these conditions are caused by constipation; and constipation is the most frequent cause of all of them.

One of the most important things for everybody to learn is that constipation causes more than half the sickness in the world; and it can all be prevented. Go by the book.
