"White Caps" on Trial.

The readers of THE STAR are acquainted with the facts of the "White ap" episode in which A. A. Swab and John Davis, of Rathmel, were accused of having participated. This is the first "white cap" case ever tried in the Jefferson county courts. Three indictments were preferred against these two men, "pointing fire-arms, riot and conspiracy." Pointing fire-arms was taken up first and the jury returned a verdict, 'not guilty," but to pay one-fourth costs. In the charges of riot and conspiracy they were found not guilty and county to pay costs.

The general impression seems to be at Rathmel that R. M. Spangler 'squealed" on the "white caps" and was instrumental in getting Snyder to have Swab and Davis arrested as part of the gang. John Davis' father had Spangler arrested as an accomplice. Spangler is charged with riot and conspiracy. His case will not come up until next term of court. It is claimed that Spangler did not accompany the "white caps," but that he is the originator of the whole

A Sad Accident.

A very sad and shocking accident oc oured on a saw mill near DuBois last Thursday forenoon. The victim, James M. Speers, was well known in Reynoldsville as he lived here a number of years ago. The mill was cutting shingles and Mr. Speers stopped in front of the circular saw to brush the sawdust away from under the saw and a tooth of the saw caught in his felt hat and his head was drawn against the saw and cut in two. His head was cut down to the left eye brow and back to the nape of the neck. Mr. Speers lived an hour but was unconscious. The deceased was married to a daughter of Rev. Sam'l Miles, of Ansonville, who was pastor of the Prescottville Baptist church when his daughter was married. Mrs. Speers is a sister of Mrs. David Reynolds, of this place. James McKinley Speers was a consistant member of the Baptist church and was a member of the American Mechanics. Speers was sawing lumber for Chas. H. Prescott, of Cleveland, Ohio.

The funeral services were held at 10.00 A. M. Sunday at Mr. Speers' late home in DuBois, and were conducted by Rev. Dean, of Rathmel, and Rev. S. Miles, of Ansonville, father-in-law of deceased. Notwithstanding the fact that the weather was disagreeable the funeral train that followed the remains to Prospect cemetery was a long one, almost sixty conveyances.

A Bur Delegation

The present bituminous coal strike would be a big bonanza for country coal banks if they were allowed to put out coal without being molested, but in this section, at least, the miners protest against such business. It has become an open secret that the A. V. R'y Co. expect to get all the coal they want their own use from the country banks along the line. There are two banks located four or five miles below Reynoldsville that have been loading coal for the company. The owners of the banks have been warned to stop work, but demand for all the coal they can put out, at a fair price, is one of the uncommon events with the country banks, and hence they are not in a hurry to shut their banks, and in fact paid no attention to the striking miners. Thursday afternoon the men at this place decided to form a line of about place decided to form a line of account two hundred and march down to Camp Run and Fullers and, if not peaceably then forcibly, persuade the owners of those banks to stop shipping coal. The crowd gathered on the ball ground and when ready to start there were 467 in line, headed with two tenor and a bass drum. A large flag was unfurled and the crowd moved towards Camp Run. Most all the Hungarians and Italians in town were in the procession

Ordination Services.

Rev. E. Lewis Kelley was ordained as paster of the brick Baptist church at this place last Thursday. The after noon and evening services were largely attended and if the weather had been pleasant the church would not have been large enough to accommodate the crowd that would have attended in the evening. Everything passed off very pleasantly. Potted plants, in bloom were tastefully arranged around the alter. The choir had their voices "keyed up" to a good tone and the music was excellent.

The Conneil called to ordain Rev. Kelley was composed of the following gentlemen from their respective churches: Rev. J. E. Dean, Brockwayville church; Allen Burtop, Gethsemane; Rev. W. M. Jennings, Curwensville; Rev. J. E. Bispham, Zion; T. M. Owens and H. H. Kness, West Liberty; Sam'l Estes, Bethel; J. A. Truitt, Punxsutawney; Rev. R. M. Hunsicker, C. S. Irvin and C. A. Carrier, Brookville; Rev. L. J. Shoemaker and Rev. John Ballentine, Clarion; Rev. Jacob Booth, W. S. Stone. W. F. Marshall and R. H. Wilson, Reynoldsville. Rev. J. E. Dean was elected moderator. The moderator announced the business of the Council. W. S. Stone, in a few appropriate remarks introduced the candidate, Rev. Kelley, stating that he had been unanimously called to the pastorate of that church. Rev. Kelley then made a very clear and satisfactory statement of his christian experience, call to the ministry, views of doctrine, church membership and organization. After a few important questions were propounded by the pastors present, and satisfactorily answered by the candidate, the Council retired for consultation. The Council considered Rev. Kelley worthy and capable to fill the position he aspired to and his ordination was agreed to by the

The evening program was as follows: Scripture reading by Rev. H. R. Johnson, pastor Reynoldsville Presbyterian church; prayer, Rev. Jennings; selection by choir; ordination sermon, Rev. Shoemaker, of Clarion, from Psa, 126: 5-6. They that sow in tears shall reap in joy. He that goeth forth and weepeth, bearing precious seed, shall doubtless come again with rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him." Ordination prayer, Rev. Dean; hand of fellowship, Rev. Bispham; anthem by choir, charge to candidate, Rev. John Ballentine; charge to church, Rev. Hunsleker; doxology; benediction by Pastor Kelley; The choir sang several selections during the evening services.

Sandy Lick Creek Overflowed. It is not an uncommon event for the Sandy Lick creek to overflow its banks in the neighborhood of Reynoldsville, in fact the people expect it at least once a year. The heavy and continued rains of last week resulted in inciting the Sandy Lick to swelling until its bed would not and could not contain it and the waters thereof overflowed the lowlands along the stream. A number of houses in West Reynoldsville and a half dozen in Reynoldsville were inundated. On the south side of town the small creek was transformed into a raging river. The R. & F. C. track from just below the Main street bridge almost to the company store was cover-C. & M. passenger train, which lays at DuBois over Sunday, could get no farther than the Main street station Monday morning.

The damage from the flood in this place was not very great. Of course the houses that the water ran into were somewhat damaged by the mud and dirt. Most all the gardens along the section overflowed were destroyed.

A washout just on this side of Fullers station came very nearly dumping the Driftwood accommodation into the creek Monday morning. The west-bound train due here at 7.40 A. M. was held here on account of the washout until 11.55 A. M. A number of people were waiting on this train to go to court as witnesses, plaintiffs, de-fendants and attorneys in a case to be tried at 9.00 A. M. A few of them drove to Brookville, some walked and others waited on the train. The railroad bridge east of the Brookville tunnel was swept away by the mad waters, and passengers have to be transferred through Brookville, a distance of two miles.

The Biggest Man.

Thomas Pifer, of Henderson township, is the biggest man in Jefferson county, and probably larger than any one in any county adjoining Jefferson. His weight is 383 pounds. He measures 54 inches around the waist, and 66 around the abdones. His health is good, and he would be able to work every day were it not for his excessive flesh. He was born in Jefferson county, and has lived nearly all his life in Paradise settlement, Honderson township. About the only exercise he takes is driving in a buggy. It takes four and a half yards of cloth to make him a pair of pants.—Brookville Democrat.

Mr. Pifer was in Reynoldsville last Friday and his attention was called to the above statement and he said it was correct. Thomas Pifer, of Henderson township,

DOCTRINAL VIEWS.

Rev. E. Lewis Kelley's Statement to the Church Council.

I believe in God, the creator of this universe, who is so iterwover in Nature that it is a partial revelation of himself.

I believe that the Scriptures, as we have them to-day in the original, are the best and most complete revelation of God. The strongest proof to me that the Scriptures are a Divine revelation is the record of the fulfillment of prophesy. Another proof of almost equal strength is the high character of the moral tenching, and its power over the lives of men to-day.

I believe that the Scriptures are inspired. That is I believe that there was a special Divine influence upon the minds of the Scripture writers by virtue of which their productions, apart from errors of transcription, and when rightly interpreted, together constitute an infallible and sufficient rule of faith and practice. This allows no room for the belief that reason is a source of rewell-tion of God, but its true office is to seek for the right interpretation of the sevention of the that is a seek for the right interpretation of the sevention of the that is a seek for the right interpretation of the sevention of the sevention of the seventice.

practice. This allows no room for the belief that reason is a source of revelution of God, but its true office is to seek for the right interpretation of the servelation that is given in the Scriptures.

I believe that God is Spirit, infinite and perfect, the source, support and end of all things. He is a Spirit, [Jh. 4: 24) "God is Spirit." "He is the living God" (Jer. 10: 10). He has personality, He is the great "I AM;" (Ex. 3: 14). "And God said unto Moses I AM THATTAM: and he said, Thus shalt thou say unto the children of Israel, I AM hath seat me unto you." He is infinite, (Pas. 145: 3) "His greatness is unsearchable." He immutable. (Pas. 105.27) "Thou art the same;" (Mal. 3: 6) "Il the Lord change not;" (James I: 17) "With whom is no variableness, neither ahadow of turning." He is the God of Ferfection, in that He is the God of Truth, (John 14: 6) "I am the truth;" in that he is the God of Love, (I John 4: 8) "God is Love;" and in that he is the God of Holiness, (Ex. 15: 11) "Glorious in holiness" (Is. 6: 3) "Holy, holy, holy, is the Lord of hosts." He is the source for "He is from everlasting to everlasting" (Ps. 90: 3), and (I Kings 8: 27) "Behold heaven and the heaven of heavens cannot contain thee." He is omnipresent, that is he is everywhere, (Ps. 139, 7-12) "Whither shall I go from thy presence? If I ascend up into heaven, thou art there: if I make my bed in hell, behold, thou art there. If I take the wings of the morning and dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea; even there shall thy hand lead me, and thy right hand shall bold me. If I say, Surely the darkness shall cover me; even the night shall be light before me. Yea, the darkness shall cover me; even the night shall be light are both alike to thee. He is omniscience, that is he knows all things, (Heb. 4: 13) "Neither is there any creature that is not manifest in his sight; but all things are naked and opened unto the eyes of him with whom we have to do." He is omnipotent, that is he has power to do. ed and opened unto the eyes of him with whom we have to do." He is omnipotent, that is he has power to do all things that are objects of power, (Eph. 3:20) "Now unto him that is able (Eph. 3:20) "Now unto him that is able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think:" (Matt. 19:28) "With God all things are possible." He is at the end of all things in that in his relation to His moral beings He exhibits that perfect standard of Truth, Love and Holiness which is the ideal pattern for us.
I believe that holiness is the fundi-

I believe that holiness is the fundi-mental attribute of God; He must be hely rather than a God of Love.

I believe that there are in the God-head three eternally distinct persons, that these three persons are equal, and that while there are three persons there is but one exercise.

that while there are three persons there is but one escence.

I believe that God has decreed every event in this universe, past, present and future to be as it was, is or shall be. (Is. 46: 10,11) "Declaring the end from the beginning, and from ancient times the things that are not yet done, saying. My council shall stand, and I will do all my pleasure: Calling a ravenous bird from the East, the man that execute the My counsel from a far country rea, I have spoken it, I will bring is to pass: I have purposed it I will also do it."

from the East, the man that executed My counsel from a far country; res. I have spoken it, I will bring it to passi. I have purposed it I will size to it. So that Creation, Preservation and Providence are but the execution of the decrees of God.

I believe that there are good and evil angels. That at the first they wars, all created good, for God saw everything which he had made, and behold it was very good. That some of them have fallen and some are yet in their original state, good. Those that have fallen are called angels of evil, or the devil and his angels; while those that have preserved their innocency are called angels of light, or angels of God.

I believe that man in his original state as created by God was free from all sin. He was created in the image of God. This is the ground of the universal fatherhood of God, and the brotherhood of man, and it is also the ground of the possibility of salvation for fallen man. I believe that the human race is all generated from an original pair. I believe that the three clan theory of generation.

I believe that in man's moral nature there are the powers of conscience an will. That conscience invariably main right decisions according to the list that it has before it as a standard, believe that conscience in the right oug to be done, or the wrong ought to avoided. The office of the will is choose between motives and to direct the soul in its subsequent activities a cording to the motives thus chosen.

I believe that in Adam, as our natural head, the whole human race fell. (Ro 5: 12-19) "For through the disobedier of one many were made sinners. That there are none that doeth go no not so much as one;" (Eph. 2:3) "were all by nature children of were all by natu
