The program will consist of recitations, dialogues, singing by Lowther Bros., tableaux, and to conclude with a play entitled, "My turn next."

The Patton Courier has been reduced from an eight to a four paged paper, owing to the general depression. Patton is a coal town and newspapers published in towns depending largely on coal business are effected more by a miners' strike than people may think for. Newspapers in such towns find business slow at present, at least that is our experience.

We stated last week that the children of the Catholic church had intended marching to the Catholic cemetery on on Decoration Day but were prevented by the rain. They intended joining the G. A. A robber gained an entrance into William Copping's Prescottville store last Wednesday night by way of a rear window and carried away a suit of clothes and a few small articles. It is evident that he wanted to "tog out" and did not want to spend money for that purpose. Mr. Copping had a number of empty shoe boxes on his shelves, but no shoes in stock. The robber scattered the boxes around looking for a pair of shoes.

DuBois never does things by halves. This is especially true as regards their Fourth of July celebrations and races. The meeting of the DuBois Driving Club July 3rd and 4th promises to be one of the largest and most interesting yet held on their grounds. The strike situation at Walston among the Italians at least, has assur a warlike attitude, so it is reported. They have succeeded in making a cannon out of wrought iron pipe about six feet long. It is stated that the Ikes did some target practice on an old stump and the charge tore the stump all to pieces. The big gun was charged with spikes and other pieces of iron. The firing of the homemade ordnance was distinctly heard in this city. It is also stated that the Italians are making a lot more of these cannons, but as far as we can find out only this one has been seen and heard .- Punx sutawney News. Gov. Pattison issued a proclamation on Monday of this week, June 11th, which is headed as follows: "David G. Gourley, high sheriff of Jefferson county, &c., it has been represented to me by the proper authority of Jefferson county that riotous demonstrations exist in various sections of said county whereby the lives and property, peace and safety of the people are threatened, which the civil authorities are unable to suppress." The Governor quoted the Constitution and laws of the Commonwealth giving him authority to employ militia to suppress domestic vioence and preserve the peace. shes all good citizens, and all ons within the territory and under he jurisdiction of the Commonwealth against aiding or abetting such unlawful proceedings, and commands all persons engaged in the said riotous demon-strations to forthwith disperse, &c.

Found His Bank.

Nathaniel Hipple, a farmer who lives in Beechwoods and draws a good pension, had a private place in his house which he used as a bank. The Strike.

The daily papers claimed yesterday that the coal strike is nearing the end The strike in the Pittsburg district, all of Ohio and Indiana and part of Illinois is to stop next Monday. The 60 and 69 cent rate to be paid. We are unable to make any statement of the situation at present for the reports vary greatly. It looks very much as if there would be blood shed at the mines near Punxsutawney unless a settlement is soon reached. The men are still quiet and peaceable at Reynoldsville.

Ikes Soon There.

The miners have been very quiet during the long strike, but by a little incident that occurred at Big Soldier one day last week it is evident that the Ikes were ready to investigate any action on the part of the company or their officials. Supt. Bell and E. R. Jennings went after some dynamite and fuse to use in blowing out stumps on the company's farm. Mr. Bell remained on the tipple and Mr. Jennings went to the powder house. He was only in the house a few minutes until it was surrounded by a gang of Italians and they would not let him out until he explained satisfactorily what he wanted the explosive for.

Bolger's Visited This Time.

Several times within the past year robbers have gained an entrance into W. H. Bell's clothing store and taken clothing therefrom, while Bolger Bros., whose clothing store is next door to Bell's have escaped until last Saturday night, when their store was broken into by customers whose patronage is not profitable. The robbers tried to gain an entrance by cutting putty and removing a light of glass out of one of the rear windows, but they seemed to tire of that procedure and bored a hole slantingly into the door beside the lock and knocked the lock off. The robbers did not make much of a haul, three suits of clothes was all they took. It is likely they were frightened away.

An Elopement.

Capt. T. C. Reynolds received a telephone message about five o'clock Monday evening that his only daughter, Miss Ruth, had gone to Limestone, N. Y., and was married to Merrill Rumbaugh. Ruth went to DuBois the latter part of last week to visit friends and Monday morning Merrill left Reynoldsville on the early train to visit friends at Bradford, at least he so informed a representative of THE STAR. The groom is just twenty-one years old and the bride is only fifteen. Ruth's grandmother Reynolds was married when she was fourteen and her aunt, Mrs. Ed. Seeley, was married to her first husband before she was fifteen years old. Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds were greatly surprised when they learned of their daughter's marriage.

The young couple returned last evening. They took supper at the Commer cial and then went to the home of the groom's parents in West Reynoldsville.

Team Ranaway Monday.

The Hotel McConnell bus team created quite a lively time for a few minutes Monday afternoon by running recklessly down Main street. Thos. Black drives the team and after returning from the 1.42 P. M. train the team was hitched into the wagon to go to the station for baggage for several commercial men. When driving out the alley from the barn Mr. Black applied the whip to one of the horses and it responded by kicking and getting one leg over the tongue, then the horses came in mad haste onto Main street in front of the hotel where one of them fell down and broke the tongue of the wagon. The horse was soon up again and down the street they ran with the broken tongue flopping about their legs and running into the street occasionally. At Patsy Welsh's store the tongue struck the paved street and the horses were thrown into the ditch in front of Ab. Reynolds' residence. Mr. Black and son, Eugene, and the porter, John Furley, were in the wagon when the team started to run. "Hunch" and Eugene got out near the hotel without in jury, but Mr. Black was thrown out in front of Geisler's tailor shop and reseived an ugly wound just below the knee on his left leg which required three stitches to draw it together. He was also badly shaken up. The horse escaped with only a few scratches.

Simply Outrageous.

The most outrageous breach in the laws of our state by those who are supposed to enforce the law, was that perpetrated in Elk county over a week ago. The Sheriff of Elk county and Judge Mayer, of Lock Haven, both deserve evere censure for the part they have taken in the matter. The miners had been notified not to trespass on the coal company's property at Shawmut. The company attempted to start their mines with new men and a number of old miners, headed with a brass band, marched past the works on the the publie highway last Tuesday. The Sheriff of Elk county was there with a number of deputies to guard the company property and he immediately arrested sixtythree of the men, who made no resistance and showed no signs of intending to commit any depredations. They were tied together and taken to Ridgway jail, where they are now packed in shamefully. N. L. Strong, of Brookville, candidate for District Attorney, and his partner, Carmalt, are attorneys for the miners now in jail at Ridgway. They done all in their power to have the men released on a habeas corpus, but all attempts were fruitless. Carmalt went to Ridgway and asked the Sheriff if he had a warrant for their arrest or commitment papers, and the Sheriff's answer was, "No." He was then asked by what authority he held the men, to which he answered: "Judge Mayer told me to arrest them if they came near the property." Mr. Carmalt went to Williamsport to see the Judge, who was then at that place. Judge said the men would get a hearing on the 18th inst. and that is all the satisfaction he got from the man who claims to be a dispenser of justice. Shame on such conduct. The men are entitled to an immediate hearing, and should have it. If the miners, who are striking for living wages, cannot be protected by the law, how can the people expect them to respect the law? It is high time there was a revolution in affairs in Elk county. No man, or set of men should control things as it is done in Elk

Two Genuine Darkies.

We were at Falls Creek Monday and coming down on train No. 2, interviewed two jet black darkies who were fresh from the southland. One of the fellows who, if possible, was a shade darker than the other, was very talkative. The neck of a pint bottle was conspicuous in an inside pocket of his coat. This chap said "these darkies get back to Alabama some way; don't know where we am at; better be out of work among people what knows us than among strangers." Then he wanted to know if the white people would let them perish up here. Their story to us was the same they told a DuBois Courier reporter while in DuBois Monforenoon, which is as follows: They alleged that they had been engaged at mining in Alabama, but at the time they were induced to come north by the Shawmut Coal company, they were on a strike, the same as the miners in Pennsylvania. It was represented to them, so they allege, that they were wanted to work at grading on a railroad and to mine a little coal occasionally. For the railroad work they were promised $1.50 per day, and for what per ton in a six foot mine. When they arrived here they were told a mistake had been made in the price of mining. The scale was forty cents and the colored men found that instead of six feet the vein being worked was from three to four feet, and that there was no railroad grading to be done. They claim that they were surprised when they discovered that they had been brought north to work in a region where a strike was on, and the fact that they are skipping out as speedily as they can to elude the guards, makes their statement appear as truthful.

An Ancient Relic.

An ancient relic in the form of a double entry account book, containing 200 full size pages, was found Friday by John W. Ritchie, the blacksmith, in a bundle of old rags at the paper mill in Lock Haven. The book is 117 years old, bearing dates from 1772 to 1774, and is in a good state of preservation except the backs, which are missing. The writing is in German and Latin, and the penmanship is very fine.-Lock Haven Express.

REYNOLDSVILLE PROFUSELY DEC-ORATED FOR THE OCCASION.

O. U. A. M. REUNION.

Large Crowd-Pleasant Time-Parade, Speeches, Music, &c.

When Reynoldsville wants to she can throw on as much style as any of our neighboring towns, which was proven last Thursday when preparations had been made for the third annual reunion of the Western Reunion Association, Order United American Mechanics, held in this place Thursday, June 7th. The town was beautifully and profusely decorated with flags and spruce. Six arches spanned Main street, at 'ron bridge, Third street, Fourth street, Fifth street, Sixth street and Ninth street; large flags fluttered in the breeze across Main street, and most all the business houses and many private residences were bedecked in Fourth of July style. Had the day been half as pretty for the occasion as were the decorations, it would have been a much larger day for the town. Notwithstanding the chilly atmosphere and favorable indications for rain or snow, a large crowd came to town just the same. Early in the morning conveyances commenced coming in and continued all forenoon. At 9.45 A. M. a special train came in over the R. & F. C. R'y which brought a big delegation from Clearfield, Punxsutawney, Big Run and DuBois. The reception committee was at the station with the Keystone band to meet the visitors. This train returned to Falls Creek to meet the B., R. & P. accommodation train from Brockwayville and Ridgway, but when it came into Revnoldsville at 11.10 the conductor and brakemen bad the entire train to themselves, not a passenger on the train. The noon trains on the A. V. R'y brought in a number At two o'clock the street parade took place which was diminished in numbers by rain that was falling at that time, but notwithstanding the rain the parade was large and formed in the following order: Keystone band, officers in carriage, school house on wagon. This structure, which was 7x10x7, was well built and painted. It was complete with a belfry, bell and chimney. A school teacher and a few scholars occupied the interior. On a platform in the rear was Thos. Claughbaugh, a G. A. R. sentinel, and Miss Laura Kline representing the Goddess of Liberty. Next in line was the Falls Creek band, Du-Bois lodge, Luthersburg band, Luthersburg lodge, Clearfield lodge, Punxsutawney band, Punxsutawney lodge, Paradise lodge, Big Run lodge, Reynoldsville Juvenile band, Reynoldsville odge. After the parade Centennial hall, which had been handsomely decerated, was packed with O. U. A. M. members and their friends to listen to music and speeches. The Keystone band occupied the platform with the speakers and singers. The first thing on the program was music by band, followed with music by choir; address of welcome by H. Alex. Stoke; speech by Hon. S. B. Elliott; patriotic song by M. E. church quartette, Wm. Ram-sey, D. M. Dunsmore, Misses Louisa Koehler and Annie Northy. The song was so well received that the quartette had to sing it over again before the auace would be satisfied. Ex-State Councillor A. B. Saybolt was introduced who delivered an excellent address.

Dr. J. B. Neale, R. D. Beer, R. E. McKee and M. Mohney, of Reynoldsville, John McGinnis, of DuBols, and Wm. Nickeson, of Punxsutawney, were the marshals on horse back.

While the speech making and singing was in progress in Centennial Hall the delegates met in American Hall and elected new officers for the ensuing year and awarded the prizes. The officers of last year, C. N. Lewis president, J. W. Walker vice president, and David Snyder treas, and sec., were present The minutes of last meeting read and approved. Treasurer's report was read. The following officers were elected for the Western Reunion Association: Pres ident, J. I. Goodlander, editor Clearfield Republican; Vice-president, Jonothan Shaffer, of Luthersburg; Treasurer and sec., David Snyder, of Punxsutawney. Clearfield was selected as the place for holding next reunion. The time will be decided on later. A report from the committee on count and inspection of parade resulted in the prizes being awarded as follows: First prize, full set officers jewels, was given to DuBois Council for best appearance; second prize, a Bible for use in Council, for second best appearance in parade, Clearfield Council; first prize, an Ex-Councillors Collar and Jewel, for largest percentage of members in parade, Paradise Council: second prize for second largest percentage of attendance, an Emblem framed, Sandy Valley Council.
