The Chicago Evening News Tells of the Rise of St. Louis.

St. Louis now claims a population of 600,000, which, if supported by figures, makes the Missouri metrop-olis the fifth in size of the large cittes of the United States.

St. Louis was founded in the year 3001 B. C. by a protoplasm who was off his feed and didn't care what he Having started the place, however he didn't feel like leaving and did not leave until he discovered that it was no place for a live, go-ahead proto—and he left. As nothing was ever heard of him afterward, it is believed by eminent authorities that he went up into the Ozark hills and kicked himself to death for having boomed such a town.

About the twentieth century, B. C. the late Mr. Chedorlaomer made an expedition to St. Louis and up to the day of his death he regretted it. In his memoirs he says: "If all the dead, past-due burgs that I ever honored with my presence St. Louis takes the cheese." Mr. Chedorlaomer was a close observer and knew what he was talking about. The next per-son of note to visit the town was Shalmaneser in the year 701 B. C. He mistook it for a national ceme-tery and did not stop off, but pro-ceeded on to Keokuk, Iowa.

The town wabbled on with indiffer-ent success until William the Conqueror's time, when some live business man built a morgue and then it began to grow. Abe Siupsky's discovery of the Mississippi in 1421 gave the town a boom and the census of 1425 gives it a population of 105. When it is recailed that only 4,500 years before all that there was of St. Louis was a protoplasm this rapid growth is fraught with interest. Dur-ing the last 500 years its progress has been a trifle slow but steady.

Mr. Chedorlaomer would scarcely recognize the St. Louis of to-day. It saveral business blocks, a postoffice and a railroad lands freight and passengers within walking distance of the town pump. Travelers be-tween the north and south stop off for lunch. In business it is retro-

Gets His Own Price.

Though Mr. F. Marion Crawford probably earns more money by his pen than any other living writer he is perhaps not so well paid in propor-tion to the amount of work that he does as is Mr. T. B. Aldrich. As a matter of fact, Mr. Aldrich always puts his own price on his work, and he is always sure of getting it. One magazine of New York City takes everything that he sends it. He simply writes the price in a corner of the MSS, and it is paid. What a delightful aspect of literary success this presents! A few weeks ago an editor wrote to Mr. Aldrich: "Won't you please drop a poem into our slot and draw out as much money as you want for it?" Mr. Aldrich dropped a dozen lines, as directed, and drew out $30." -New York Recorder.

Aparons of battery work, it is a curious and almost paradoxical fact that when a batter has been favored with three balls he seldom makes a safe hit.

PERSONAL conflicts on the field between ball players are becoming disgracefully fre-quent this season and the League magnates should put a stop to them.

The race for piching honors between Rusie and Meckin, of the New Yorks, will be interesting. This is the first year that Rusie has not had matters all his own way. RUSIE, OI THE New Yorks, seems to be at his best after three balls have been called on him. In nine cases out of ten he either strikes the batter out or causes him to land the ball squarely in a fleider's hands.
