FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC.

What is Transpiring the World Over. Important Events Briefly Told.

DISASTERS, ACCIDENTS AND FATALITIES.
A boat containing twenty-four Commonwealthers was capsized while attempting to land under Douglas street bridge, Omaha, Neb., and eighteen were drowned.

WASHINGTON.
Continuance until otherwise ordered of the experimental free delivery postal service at the following places has been authorized by Acting First Assistant Postmaster General Lamar: Rutland, Pa.; Shoenekersville, Pa.; Harrison, O.; Emporia, Pa.; Jenkintown, Pa.; Terre Hill, Pa.; Davis, Va.; and Berwick, Pa.

CRIMES AND PENALTIES.
Ed. Maynard and Gilbert Sant left a valise containing $1,100 in their buggy near Greensburg, Ind., while they were swimming in an adjacent stream. When they came out the money was gone.

James H. Burns, ex-auditor of Ramsey county, Minn., has been arrested on the charge of defrauding the county treasury out of $2,800 on a false claim that it owed his paper, the St. Paul "Herald," the money.

CAPITAL AND LABOR.
George S. Beall, of the Beall Dry Goods Company, of Columbus, O., has asked for a receiver.

Nine hundred men have been laid off at the Brooklyn navy yard on account of the lack of appropriations.
During the 11 months ended May 31 immigrants into the United States numbered 288,020, as against 430,120 for the corresponding period last year.

Receiver Daniel B. Sickels is having a lot of trouble in settling the affairs of the Harlem River Bank, N. Y., the worst being over the books of John Keen, accused of $30,000 misappropriation.

FOREIGN.
The Emperor and Empress of Germany sailed from Kiel for Norway.

Twelve cases of cholera, six of which were fatal, have been reported at Cronstadt, Russia.

The Prussian Cabinet Council has approved Miquel's propositions for a tobacco tax and alcohol monopoly.

All the Berlin beer houses except 58, which do not belong to the communal brewers' ring, have been boycotted by the Socialists.

Mrs. Brown-Potter's daughter, Miss Anne Truheart Potter, is suing for a partition of the estate of her great-grandfather, James Brown.

Coxey spoke to a few hundred people at Minneapolis, making a plea that prisoners be shipped to Washington for the Commonwealth army.

WAR ON NON-UNION MEN.

Mine Officials Kidnaped and One Man Killed by Idaho Miners.

Seventy-five masked men from Durkin entered the town of Gem, Ida., and seized and bound Supt. O'Neal and Foreman Summers of the Gem mine and Frank Higgins and West, non-union miners. The mob started to the blacksmith shop, where John Nebo was working. Nebo saw them coming and sprang through the back window. The mob fired, killing him instantly, and his body rolled down the hill.

The leaders of the mob held a short consultation and gave the signal to close in around the prisoners, who were then marched over the range toward Montana. When word reached Wallace many deputies were sworn in and citizens joined their organization. They are now in pursuit of the mob. The trouble is a revival of the fight of 1892. Union men have made frequent threats to drive all non-union miners out, and a few weeks ago fixed June 17 as the date non-union men must leave the Coeur d'Alene regions.

Poisoned by a Chicken Bone.

A week ago Cornelius Vreeland, a farmer who lived at Dundee, between Patterson and Passaic, scratched his finger while carving a chicken at the dinner table. The knife slipped and the skin on his hand was lacerated by a fragment of bone. The injury pained him severely the next day, and two days later his arm was swollen to the shoulder, blood poisoning having set in. His entire body was swollen to almost twice its normal size, and he died in agony.

Six Feet of Hall.

A cloud burst occurred in the canon just above the town of Hot Springs, Ark., followed by a tremendous hail storm. Drifts of hail six feet deep were lodged in the streets. A great wave of water came down Fall river, washing out bridges and covering the Elkhorn tracks with debris. Two lumber yards and other buildings were carried away. The damage is great, but no estimate can be made. Deadwood and other Black Hills towns suffered from heavy rains.

The Revival of Cholera.

At St. Petersburg since Sunday last 80 cases of cholera, 26 of which were fatal, have been reported. A Stockholm dispatch says: Four more passengers on board the steamer Dobeln, which arrived here recently from St. Petersburg, are suffering from cholera. Nineteen passengers on the steamer S-wach have been detained at quarantine under suspicion.

One Hundred Drowned.

A terrible drowning disaster is reported from Mad near Tokay in Northern Hungary. A ferry boat which was crossing the river Tisza, near the town mentioned, was capsized with 200 people aboard. It is reported that about 100 of the passengers were drowned.

AN OLD-TIME INDIAN TERROR.

An Aged Indian Warrior Who for Ten Years Terrorized the Settlers of Arizona.

They were talking about the present Indian outbreak when one of the party, who had been for many years a resident of Arizona Territory, remarked:

"I tell you, gentlemen, that this Indian business is liable to become really serious before long. Why on earth the government don't enlist 5,000 men and have those red skins rounded up once and for all is something I cannot understand.

"Why, down in Arizona, we lived or fifteen years in a state of terror on account of the marauding band of apaches that had things pretty much their own way all this time, in spite of all that the government troops could do to keep them in check.

"I call to mind particularly Old Victorio. There was a warrior for you. He commanded a band of some two hundred bucks. They were the Chiricahua Apaches, and the murders, robberies and depredations committed by that band during those ten years in which they were on the warpath are almost incredible.

"Old Victorio was nearly ninety years of age when the trouble began. He ruled those red skins with a rod of iron in spite of his years. And he was paralyzed, too, completely paralyzed. He was only able to use his left arm a little, just enough to lift a cigarette to his mouth.

"He was constantly in the saddle, and had to be strapped on like a bale of goods. His band had the finest ponies to be found anywhere. They would sometimes appear at one place and in less than twenty-four hours you would hear of them at some place 100 miles distant. All throughout southern Arizona and northern Mexico Old Victorio continued his raids until the settlers finally gave up in despair. The government troops appeared to be utterly powerless in the matter.

"Why, that band of red skins would sometimes plunder a wagon train right under the noses of the troopers, and by the time the latter were mounted and ready to start in pursuit, they would be out of sight. The next day, perhaps, the wares would tell of some fresh depredation committed by the same band in a section of the country over 100 miles away.

"This old war dog, however, was finally rounded up and shot. He died in the saddle, fighting to the last, and his band, what was left of it, dispersed. Of course the settlers heard of it and were delighted. Dismissed followed, however, when Cochise took the field. This Indian ran things pretty much the same way for five years, and then came old Geronimo.

"The Indians of the Northwest are much more numerous and better armed. You may take my word for it, gentlemen, we haven't seen the last of the Indian troubles. We're hardly seen the beginning of them. The government will wake up to the fact before long, too."—New York Herald.

Both Wept.

When Lawrence Barrett's daughter was married Stuart Robson sent a check for $5,000 to the bridegroom, Miss Felicia Robson, who attended the wedding, conveyed the gift.

"Felicia," said her father, upon her return, "did you give him the check?"

"Yes, father," answered the dutiful daughter.

"What did he say?" asked Robson.

"He didn't say anything," replied Miss Felicia, "but he shed tears."

"How long did he cry?"

"Why, father I didn't time him: I should say, however, that he wept fully a minute."

"Fully a minute!" roared Robson, "why, I cried an hour after I'd signed it!"—Chicago Record.

Brisk Menagerie Market.

There has of late been a sudden and unprecedented increase in the demand for wild animals, not only for the continent, but for the United States. The stocks in most of the European zoological gardens have decreased of late, a shrinkage partly caused by the closure of the Soudan by the Dervishes. In America the popularity of the great menagerie at the World's Fair started the boom in wild animals of all kinds. Circuses and private menageries are competing with the zoological gardens and scientific societies for rare and interesting animals and the demand for America is far greater than for the continent of Europe. After five or six years of neglect there is such a boom in the wild-beast trade as is hardly remembered. Until the expeditions which Hagenbeck and others have dispatched into Central Africa, via Herbera, and into Borneo and the West coast of Africa, return, there is little to fall back upon but the average supply which arrives without system and in chance ships. A single purchase by an agent from the Philadelphia zoological gardens included a leopard, a hyena, a pair of cheetahs, a Bornean bear, antelopes, emus and other birds.

His Order.

A speaker who has planned an address for a multitude, and finds himself confronted with but a single auditor, sometimes fails to readjust his remarks, and the result is apt to be ludicrous. A little story illustrative of this point is told in connection with a former president of the University of North Carolina.

One day, as this dignified and stately personage was walking about the campus, he observed an unlawful assemblage of students at some little distance. He did not hasten his steps, but proceeded slowly toward them with his head down and his eyes apparently bent in contemplation of his own boots.

When this leisurely proceeding had brought him to the spot where the students had been gathered, only one young man remained, the others having precipitately departed.

The president raised his head and surveyed the solitary culprit with apparent severity, although the young man always contended that he detected a twinkle in his keen eyes.

"Sir," said the president in a commanding tone, "instantly disperse to your several places of abode!"

Difficult though the feat required certainly was, the young man executed to the best of his ability by "dispersing" without further delay.

by Columbus brought enlightenment to the world. New fields of enlightenment in the century are in the line of science. The triumph of Conservative Surgery is well illustrated by the fact that RUPTURE or Breach is now radically cured without the knife and without pain. Clumsy, chafing trusses never cure but often increase the trouble. PILE TUMORS, however large, Pileitis lower bowel, are permanently cured without the pain or resort to the knife. STONE in the Bladder, no matter how large, is crushed, pulverized, washed out and perfectly removed without cutting. STRICTURE of Urinary Passage is also removed, without cutting in hundreds of cases.
