C. A. STEPHENSON, Editor and Pub. WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 8, 1894.

An independent local paper, published every Wednesday at Reynoldsville, Jefferson Co. Pa., devoted to the interests of Reynoldsville and Jefferson county. Non-political, will treat all with fairness, and will be especially friendly towards the laboring class.

Subscription price $1.50per year, in advance. Communications intended for publication must be accompanied by the writer's name, not for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith. Interesting news items solicited. Advertising rates made known on application at the office in Arnolds Block.

Lengthy communications and change of advertisements should reach this office by Monday noon.

Address all communications to C. A. Stephenson, Reynoldsville, Pa., as second class mail matter.

The total expenses of sending and maintaining the troops in the vicinity of Punxsutawney during the recent strike foots up the snug sum of $25,563,50.

The tobacco crops in Clinton county were badly damaged during a hail storm recently. It is estimated that in one township fifty acres of tobacco was destroyed.

Valentine Nowacki, of the coke regions, wants to furnish the Japanese government with 5,000 soldiers for use in their war against China. Nowacki thinks they would make good soldiers.

An exchange says it takes a rich man to draw a check, a pretty girl to draw attention, a horse to draw a cart, porous plaster to draw the skin, a toper to draw a cork, a free lunch to draw a crowd, and an advertisement in your home paper to draw trade.

Prothonotaries in different counties of the state being in doubt as to whether the act of 1893 repeals the act of 1881 respecting the methods of registration of physicians, the Attorney General has decided that a license granted by the council is prima facie evidence of proper qualification to practice, and when this shall have been exhibited to a prothonotary the production of a diploma is unnecessary.

An effort is being made by the Grand Army of the Republic to have the old battle flags now in the arsenal at Harrisburg on exhibition at the national encampment in Pittsburg in September. A committee of the G. A. R. will wait upon the governor, state treasurer and auditor general for permission to use the flags. If these officials give their consent the flags will be taken to Pittsburg under guard of a detachment of Grand Army men selected especially for that purpose.

It has been remarked that once in life, at least, every man should be a candidate for office. It would be beneficial to him. When a man is a candidate his heart becomes filled with the milk of human kindness, which makes him a friend to every man. He becomes interested in your welfare, in the progress your twin babies are making cutting their teeth, that you involuntary wish every man a candidate and that elections were held every time the moon is full. If everybody was a candidate what a happy world we would

The Bradford Era says: "As a rule a newspaper is afraid of nothing. It is continually tramping somebody's toes. The paper prints what it thinks is the most useful stuff to print, knowing that some readers will condemn and some approve. There is nothing so tiresome as the simple creature who thinks fear is the inspiring motive. Scarcely a day goes by that somebody is not in the office of every newspaper in the land, to want to fight, sue for libel, intimidate the editor or in some way raise cain. But they don't often do it. The newspaper is used to that sort of thing, and of all men in the world knows just how silly it is."

The more than 1,300 committeemen comprising the Citizens' Executive Board of Pittsburg are hustling for all they are worth to make the 28th National Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, to be held in that city September 10-15 next, a big success. The indications are for a tremendous turnout of veterans. More than 25,000 of them have been assigned to free quarters, to say nothing of the 5,000 to 10,000 who have reserved paid quarters and the 5,000 resident Grand Army men who will not need to secure accommodations. This means that there will be over 50,000 of the "boys in blue" in Pittsburg during encampment Man is a queer creature. He spends the best years of his life trying to get passes on the railways, and when be gets them they have cost him more than the railroad fare would have been, five times over. He spends a good deal of his time making a home for himself, and when he has made it he spends more time inventing excuses to keep away from it. He will raise a great row at home if he is given a spoon that has been used by one of the children since it was washed, and then he will go to a free lunch counter and shovel saurer kraut into his mouth with an iron fork that has been used by guzzlers of all nationalities. He tells his children that it is foolish to go to the circus, and then stands at the railway depot for two hours to see the elephant unloadAn Appeal For Aid.

LINDSEY, PA., July 25, 1894. To the organized Miners of Central Penn-sylvania, and Organized Labor in general:

BROTHERS: On the evening of July 5th four Polanders imported from New York by the Berwind-White Coal Mining Company to take the place of their old hands, who have been on strike for living wages since April 21st, while passing through the borough of Lindsey were overtaken by some persons, alleged to be strikers, and were given a severe beating. It appears that the notorious Captain Clark, who has command of the armed police who are guarding blacklegs at the Berwind-White mines at Horatio and Anita, and the company's officials are endeavoring to make a big thing of the affair, believing it will eventually be the means of causing the miners to distrust each other and break ranks and go to work at their terms. In order to carry out their nefarious schemes they have made a raid on the strikers and caused wholesale arrests to be made; and it is said a great many more will follow in the near future. The parties arrested are men of excellent moral character, and have never been known to commit any unlawful acts, and are zealous members of our organization. They have been forced to either give bond in the sum of $1,000 or languish in jail until Court convenes on the first Monday of next September on the serious charges of unlawful assemblage, riot, assault and battery, and larceny. The lawyers of the prosecution are making their boast that each one of the accused, whom they denounce as loafers, will be sent to the Allegheny penitentiary. The defendants are all poor men, having exhausted their resources in making this heroic fight for the compromise scale paid by nearly all bituminous coal operators in the United

The Miners' Central Committee of this region has decided to take a hand in this matter and have retained four eminent lawyers to defend our brothers in the courts. And as we havn't any money on hand to conduct the cases, we appeal to organized labor everywhere to assist us in this worthy cause by donating us such amount of money as they can afford. We trust you will respond promptly for, as already stated, the Court convenes in September, and your aid may be the means of freeing innocent fathers and brothers from the clutches of the law and restoring them to the bosom of their families.

Send all contributions to John Weber Lindsey, Jeff. Co., Pa.

ROBERT McDonald, President, ENOCH HAWLEY, Secretary, JOHN WEBER, Treasurer.

The above appeal has been presented to the office of District No. 2, United Mine Workers of America, and has received its full endorsement. When members of labor organizations are being unjustly prosecuted it becomes the duty of organized labor to come to their rescue and render such aid as lies in their power to give.

Hold Gospel Services.

EDITOR THE STAR, DEAR SIR:-I was gratified to see your article last week on Y. M. C. A. work in this place. I hope that you may be able to get the citizens of this place interested in the young men that work in our mines, many of whom doubtle are deprived of the privilege of good periodicals and newspapers. The small amount of money that it would take to start this work I believe would be gladly given, by those that have large interests here, if attention was only called to the immense advantage it would be to Reynoldsville. It would be money well invested. I have a plan of work which I should like to suggest. That we begin the 1st of September to hold gospel services every Sunday afternoon in the hall. Now to do this successfully we shall have to rely on eight or ten of the christian young men of our bands to furnish us the music that will lend the attraction. Then if we could get a chorus of twenty young men to lead in the singing, everything would go off so vigorously that men would be attracted there to hear the gospel. I can speak for one of the pastors that I stand ready for one of the pastors that I stand ready to do my part in this work.

This would afford an opportunity for the christian young men of our churches to become better acquainted with the methods of christian work, and at the same time it would unite them in a bond of christian-fellowship that would prove a blessing to our different churches. After this spirit of co-operation among our churches is thus established, then we can, by winter unite in some among our churches is thus established, then we can, by winter unite in some plan for our much needed reading room. The expense of this would not be much. Are there not young men that will volunteer their services to the editor of this paper, and others that will send in their subscriptions so that we may enter into this work at once?

On Sunday evening, July 29th, Rev. H. R. Johnson preached an able and instructive sermon in Rathmel and one worthy of the greatest attention and study by the business men and laboring men. Subject, "the Unseen Obstacles."

Miss Mary Patton, the teachers elect for the Rathmel schools, are good teachers and such that the citizens feel proud to have for instrctors for their children. All praise is due the school board of Winslow township for the kind recognition the applicants from Rathmel received at the last school letting four residents having been appointed.
