A DETROIT BUILDER, HE TELLS A REMARKABLE STORY OF HIS LIFE,

Came to Detroit About Party Years Age. LEVI PLANT'S EXPERIENCE WORTHY SERIOUS

ATTENTION. (From the Detroit Evening News.)

Away out Gratiot avenue, far from the din and turmoil of the business centre, there are nany attractive homes. The intersecting streets are wide, clean and shaded by large lenf-covered trees, and the people you meet are typical of industry, economy and honest There are many pretty residences, but none more inviting in its neatness and homelike comfort than that of Mr. Levi Elsey, the well-known builder and contractor, at 74 Moran street, just of Gratiot, Mr. Elsey is an old resident of Detroit, having moved here about forty years ago. He has creeted hundreds of houses in different parts of the city, and points with pride to such buildings as the Newberry & McMulian and Campaw blocks, in which he displayed his ability as a superintendent.

"I have seen Detroit grow from a village to a city," he observed yesterday in conver-cation with the writer, "and I don't think there are many towns in America to-lay equal to it in point of beauty. I knownlood everybody in the city, at an incident which ecently happened in my life has interested all my friends.

When I arrived home that evening I cit a ser ous pain in my left leg. I bathed it that night, but by morning I found it had grava worse. In fact it was so serious that I sent for my family physician, and he informed me that I was suffering from various vains. My leg swelled up to double its induced size and the pain increased in volume. The argony was simply awail. I was laid up and never left my bed for eight weeks. At times I felt as though I would grow frame with pain. My leg was bandaged and was propped up in the bed at an angle of thirty degrees, in or ler to keep the blood from flowing to my extremities. right through. When I arrived home that "About two years ago I noticed an article in the Ecenical Neces about my friend, Mr. Northrup, the Woodward avenue merchans. In an interview with him he stated that he had used Dr. Williams Fink Pills for Paio People and that they cured him. I knew him very well, having built his house out Woodward Ave., and I thought I would follow his suggestion. I must onfess I did so with marvelous success. From the time I began to take the Pink Pills I felt myself growing to be a new man. They acted on me like a magical stimulant. The pain departed and I soon was as strong and healthy as ever. Some three months ago I stopped taking the Pink Pills, and from the day I did so I noticed a change in my condition. A short time since I renewed my habit of taking them with the same beneficial results which met me formerly. I am again nearly as strong as ever, although I am a man about fifty-six years of age. I tell you, sir, the Pink Pills are a most wonderful medicine, and if they do as well in other cases as they did in mine they are the best in the world. I freely recommend them to any sufferer."

An Animated Gripsack.

Two men sat side by side at a table in a Chicago restaurant. One of them was evidently a city-bred man, while the other looked like a hoosier farmer. On the floor, by the side of his chair, the ruralite had deposited a small carpetbag. As he sat waiting for his order the city chap thought he noticed the grip move. He regarded it closely for a few moments and then felt sure that it moved. that it moved. "What have you there-pups?" he asked the hoosier.

"Naw, they ain't pups," replied the old fellow, as he proceeded with his

The grip rolled half over from the mysterious force inside, and the city man's curiosity got the better of him. "What have you there, anyway?" he asked.

"Wall, I'll tell ye," said the granger, deliberately. "I'm takin' home a cou-ple of game cocks. What? Yans, I know cock-fighting is agin the law, but I ain't got 'em for fightin'. It's just like this: My ol' lady has chickens an' I hev a garden. We're each proud uv our departments. But her chickens get into my garden an' scratch up all my seeds an' beds. Now I've got these game cocks, an' I'm goin' to please her by tellin' the ol' lady they're fine chickthey'll kill every darn chicken she's got. I'd rather have two chickens scratchin' in my garden than twenty—an' then maybe one of these cocks'll kill the other after they do up my wife's chickens."

The city chap opined that it would be a very good scheme if it worked.

concurs in the opinions expressed in some quarters that the bright projection on Mars seen by M. Javelle at the Nice Observatory, July 28, is a signal from the Marsians to the people on earth. He says:

"There is the best scientific evidence to prove that man is a native of Mars and lived there millions of years before he was transplianted to the earth leaving the greater part of the human family behind. The Marsians regard us as their lost brethren and have been searching for us for thousands of years. They have been especially hopeful since they saw the electric lights in our cities. We will be able to converse with them by signals before another century passes.

'It is much easier for the Marsians to see our signals than for us to see theirs, for the earth appears to them to wax and wane like the moon, so that they can easily see lights on our hemisphere while their planet always has its light side toward us."

THE STEAMSHIP CHARLESTON

Held in Readiness to Sail for Scenes of Trouble in Asiatic Water.

It is believed at San Francisco that the United States steamship Charleston, now lying in the stream off Mare Island pave yard, fully equipped for sea, is soon to sail for the scenes of trouble in the Asiatic waters. The cruiser's entire crew are now in that city enjoying a short leave of forty-eight hours. It is their first opportunity in many months for recreation on shore: not one of them was allowed any "shore money." Immediately upon the arrival of the Charleston there after her long service in Braizl and at illuefields, her marines were rushed into service against the strikers. The rest of her crew were kept closely on hoard. Many of the sailors are complaining of the apparent intention to rush them off to Asia. yard, fully equipped for sea, is soon to sail

While She Was Playing Ghost in a Sheet to Frighten Him.

At Newbern, Ind., Dr. Con Beck was spending the evening with Miss Grace Cohee, and shortly before midnight Miss Cohee left the Doctor sitting on the front veranda, the Dostor sitting on the front veranda, and went back through the house to get a drink. While back she took her slippers off, and throwing a white wrap over her shoulders, came around to the front veranda playing Ghost. The doctor did not suspect it was his sweetheart, and pulling his pistol, called to the apparition to halt three times, but she heeded him not. Then he fired twice, one ball passing through her stomach, and one through her leg. She is still living, but it is not thought she can live. The Doctor is almost Insane over his fatal blunder.

Strong Guard Still Left at Danger Points in California.

The State troops are withdrawn from the Geld in Northern California. The several companies of the Fifth regiment and the second artillery regiment vacated Oakland Monday morning. They left behind, however, a military guard of about 190 men to preserve order in the railroad yards. At lacramento the six companies of the Sixth regiment broke camp Monday and staried for their homes. The State troops at Dunsmuir will be held there for an indefinite period, United States Marshal having reported that the strikes at that point are still in a mood to make trouble Strong forces of United States regulars are still on duty at Sacramento, Roslyn and Truckee. It is often said that a benefit conferred does more to promote friend-ship than a favor received. If you would cultivate a friendly feeling toward another, do him a kindness; if you would secure his lasting friendship, get him to do you a kindness. There is some truth, at any rate, in this view of the case; and it applies even to dogs, as is shown strikingly by a story related in "Gold. Sport and Coffee-Planting in Mysore," by Mr. R. H. Elliot.

Mr. A. told me that he once wounded a tiger which afterward sprang on him, knocked h m down, and seized him by the hand and a m. With Mr. A. was a large dog, which at once attacked the tiger, and diverted him from Mr. A. After driving off the dog, the tiger returned to Mr. A., and commenced worrying him, but was again attacked by the

The dog, which was not affectionate, belonged to Mr. A.'s brother, and previou-ly had taken no interest in any one but his master. Now, however, he refused to go home with his master, but stuck closely to the wounded man, and when some carbolic acid, which caused pain, was applied by Mr. A.'s brother to the wound, the dog legan to growl and show other signs of displeasure.

When Mr. A. was carried to the dector, some thirty-five miles away, the dog went, too, and on the dector s applying carbonic acid and setting the bones, which caused the patient to cry out, the dog at once seized the doctor by the leg.

In about three months Mr. A. was quite cured. After that the dog lost all interest in him, and returned to his master; and if he met Mr. A. by chance, merely acknowledged his recognition of him by the faintest way of his tail.

A year afterward, happening to meet the doctor, whom he had not seen in the meantime, he at once trousers.
