The long dry spell is giving the A. V. R'y people some trouble in furnishing water for their engines. The plug at Mortimer Run has failed and an engine was taken there Monday to be used in pumping water from the creek into the water plug.

Malarial and other atmospheric influences are best counteracted by keeping the blood pure and vigorous with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. A little caution in this respect may prevent serious illness at this season. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best all-the-year-round medicine in existence.

The receipts of the festival held in the Prescottville Baptist church Monday evening for benefit of the Union Sunday school was $32.00. The supply of ice cream, 72 quarts, was not sufficient for the demand or the receipts would have been more.

Dr. J. W. Foust, one of Jefferson county's congressional conferees, went to Jeannette, Pa., yesterday to attend the second conference held at that place to nominate a candidate for 21st congressional district. How many ballots will be taken before a nomination is made remains to be revealed by time.

Twenty-six tickets were sold at this place last Sunday for the excursion to Bigler camp meeting. According to reports from those who were present a "tough" crowd was attracted to the camp meeting grounds Sunday, and the conduct outside of the grounds was shameful; a disgrace to a civilized community.

P. J. Pisher, the blacksmith, who comes to town semi-occasionally and gets "happy as a lark" and then drives through town in a very reckless manner, lost a wheel in West Reynoldsville one evening last week. He had a companion in the cart when the wheel came off and they were both scattered around precipitously but escaped injury.

Lawyer G. M. McDonald received word from the home of his parents in Porter township, this county, last week that his fourteen-year-old brother, LeRoy, had been badly injured by a team of colts running off that he was driving in a wagon. The boy had six ribs broken, three of them in two places, bone broken in his face and shoulder sprained.

The B. & P. R'y Co. seems to think that anything is good enough for Reynoldsville people, but they are mistaken and should give the people better accommodations on excursion trains. One extra coach was attached to the 7.10 train for DuBois yesterday morning to accommodate between two and three hundred passengers. The coaches were jammed uncomfortably full and the platforms were crowded, even the last steps of each car had passengers standing on them.

A brass band was organized in the Beechwoods Settlement some time ago known as the Mill Creek band. Last Friday night the band made its first appearance in public. The boys attended a lawn fete at D. B. McConnell's and convinced the hundred people present that they know how to manipulate horns. The lawn fete was given by "Deek" for the purpose of giving the young people of that section an opportunity of enjoying themselves which they did do immensely, judging from the report we received of it.

For the benefit of those who are curious to know how the various occupations are represented in the jury list drawn for September term of court in Jefferson county, the Punxsutawney News has summed it up as follows: "There are 45 farmers, 24 laborers, 10 miners, 7 carpenters, 5 merchants, 2 lumbermen, 2 stonemasons, 1 bricklayer, 1 millwright, 1 postmaster, 1 policeman, 1 lather, 1 electrician, 1 salesman, 1 wagonmaker, 1 millman, 1 gunsmith, 1 liveryman and one law student.

W. L. McCracken, District Attorney of Jefferson county and candidate for second term on the Democratic ticket, was in Reynoldsville last Friday and attended the picnic in the Reynolds orchard. The Falls Creek Herald says: "Mr. McCracken has filled his term, which is about ended, with ease and to the entire satisfaction of all. His administration has been one of economy, without in the least neglecting or shirking any of the duties pertaining to the office. He has always advocated the settling of petty cases without the expense of a court trial, and in many cases he has worked directly against his own personal interests in order that expense might be spared the county. Besides being careful and economical his administration has been business-like and professional. The time has never appeared when he lacked in ability to fill properly his office, and the judgement he has at times displayed might well be coveted by many lawyers much older than Mr. McCracken."

A Big Tree.

Martin Strouse, who lives on the Miller farm, hauled thirty-two hundred pounds of bark to the tannery at this place Saturday which he peeled off one tree. It was a very large tree.

Shut Down.

Hopkins big mill was compelled to close Saturday on account of low water which makes it difficult and expensive to get logs to the mill. The mill will remain idle three weeks, and may not resume this season.

Collar Bone Broken.

Alta Marie, little daughter of Rev. Jas. H. Jelbart, fell out of a hammock at the M. E. parsonage at Emersville last Friday and broke her collar bone. The parents brought the child to Reynoldsville as soon as possible after the accident happened to see a physician.

Log Road.

County Surveyor Jas. B. Caldwell and several assistants were in the neighborhood of Sandy Valley last week surveying a four mile railroad up the hollow a half mile east of Sandy Valley. There is now one and a half mile of track at that place which Degnan & McDonald, of Reynoldsville, had built to haul their logs out of the forest and they are having the road extended for the same purpose.

Engine Derailed.

On July 4th, 1894, obstructions were placed on the A. V. Railway track near Penfield, which resulted in derailing the locomotive hauling the eastbound mail train. James Laboard, Frank Laboard, Augustus Rowe and Alfred Drugg, four boys of Winterburn were arrested on Monday of this week by Detective Adlesperger, it being alleged that they placed the stones on the rail. Their case will come up in the Clearfield September term of court.

Didn't Join.

Henry A. Reed went to DuBois Monday evening to attend the firemen's convention as a delegate from Reynoldsville Fire Co. No. 1 and Hose Co. No. 2, to make application for admitting the two companies into the Central District Firemen's Association. The convention voted not to admit them as the district is limited to Clearfield and Centre counties, and Tyrone and Bellwood, and, therefore, Reynoldsville firemen did not join the Association, but were granted the privilege to participate in the parade.

New Collector.

It is an open secret that Ed. C. Burns, the man who was elected by the people as tax collector, has failed in collecting the tax as the work should have been done and that he wanted to resign and have some person appointed to collect collateral into the borough coffers. The court declared the office vacant and it went begging for some one who was willing to take up the work where Mr. Burns left off. Joseph Penta has agreed to act as tax collector. He will get his bonds men and issue his notices in a few days and will collect the outstanding taxes as fast as possible.

Don't Waste It.

During the drought from which this section of the country is suffering, the equal of which we have not experienced for many years, the supply from the Reynoldsville water works has not failed, but we have been informed by Mr. Sterley that unless it soon rains that the water supply will have to be husbanded so as to be ready in case a fire should visit our town. Mr. Sterley says there is enough water yet but requests the people to be saving and not to waste any water. There is too much water wasted for sprinkling and in other ways. Economize on the water until the earth is visited with copious showers.

Who Was He?

A Swede who lives in the neighborhood of Falls Creek, whose name could not be learned, was in Reynoldsville one day last week visiting and taking a social glass with some of his countrymen. When ready to go home it was evident that he had tarried too long at the beer mug. He got into his buggy, applied the gad freely and smashed the borough ordinance, for fast driving, into smithereens. At the East End of Main street he ran into a cart in which two women and a baby were riding. A wheel was torn off the cart, the occupants thrown out and the baby badly injured, but the drunken Swede did not stop to help gather up the wreck he had caused.

Ate Fly Paper.

P. A. Hardman's ten-month-old boy came very nearly making a vacant place in that family last Friday morning. Mrs. Hardman was working in the kitchen and the baby was creeping around on the floor and got under the table. The mother heard the boy apparently having a good time and paid little attention to him. After a while the baby came out from under the table very sick and began vomiting. When he threw up some brown fly paper his mother was badly frightened because she knew her baby was poisoned. Dr. Neale was called quickly who gave the child an antidote and by evening it was out of danger. Mrs. Hardman had intended burning the fly paper but it fell down behind the table and was forgotten. If the little chap had not eaten so much of it the case might have been more serious.

Mrs. Watson Dead.

Mrs. Jos. S. Watson died at her home on Jackson street at 8.10 P. M. Saturday, August 18th, from the effects of consumption. She had been a constant sufferer for almost three years. She fell asleep about a half hour before dissolution took place and she never awoke again. She was conscious up to the time when she fell asleep. Her maiden name was Mary Fauver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Fauver. She was born in Center county in 1838 and was 56 years, 3 months and 11 days old at the time of her death. On the 23rd of August, 1857, Joseph S. Watson and Mary Fauver were united in marriage at Clearfield. Unto them five children were born, two girls and four boys. One daughter predeceased the mother from time into eternity. The husband and four children, as follows, survive the deceased: Mrs. John A. Doyle, of Clarion, Elmer E., Harry J. and Chas. F. Watson. Mr. and Mrs. Watson moved to Reynoldsville seventeen years ago, and hence are well known in this place. Mrs. Watson had many friends who were sorry to hear of her demise. The funeral services were held at her late home at 10.00 A. M. yesterday, conducted by Rev. H. R. Johnson, pastor of the Presbyterian church, of which Mrs. Watson was a member, and her remains were buried in Beulah cemetery. This is the first member of the Reynoldsville Presbyterian church that has died since Rev. Johnson became pastor of the church, fifteen months ago. Thus one by one the human family passes into the Great Beyond.

The pall bearers were Wm. M. Foster, Jos. J. Shaffer, Major Epler, Jas. P. Dillman, C. C. Gibson and E. Neff.

Water Knocked Out.

The special election held in West Reynoldsville last Saturday for the purpose of providing water for that borough resulted in 39 votes against water and 14 votes for water. If the election notice and tickets had been prepared the way the people wanted it there is no doubt but that the vote for water would have carried. As we understand it the town council and many of the citizens wanted water for fire protection, which the Reynoldsville water company would furnish them, but in place of the lawyer so stating who wrote the election notice he made it read for "erection of water works." The town council discovered too late that the word "erection" was going to defeat their purpose to get fire protection, and they tried to explain their position to the people and requested the citizens who were in favor of water for fire protection to vote for it and if the council attempted to erect water works to serve an injunction on them, but the people apparently thought the best plan would be to knock out the erection and be on the safe side. Another election can be held if the citizens of that borough desire it.

Half Rates Only.

It was announced in one of the Pittsburg papers sometime ago that all railroads would sell excursion tickets to the G. A. R. encampment in September at the rate of one cent per mile. Some of the G. A. R. men of Reynoldsville said last week that one fare for round trip would be the best rate they could get. In times past the A. V. R'y has run excursions to Pittsburg at one cent a mile rate, and thinking the company would do as well by the old soldiers as they had with the common run of humanity in other days, and that there was a mistake about the "one fare" report, we wrote to Jas. P. Anderson, general passenger agent A. V. R'y, and received the following in reply: "The rates to Pittsburg from Sept. 8th to 14th, inclusive, good returning until Sept. 25th, will be one fare for the round trip on account of the G. A. R. Encampment. This will make the round trip rate from Reynoldsville to Pittsburg, $4.20."

Letting off Steam.

Dr. J. B. Neale and C. F. Hoffman, of this place, and M. J. McEnteer and Andy Denny, of Driftwood, went down the Susquehanna a bass fishing several weeks ago and it must have been simply awful the way Dr. Neale yelled occasionally. An old farmer, who lived quite a distance over the mountains from the river, heard Neale's lung test-er go off, left his work and made haste to the river thinking sure that some person was struggling for life with the merciless waves. When the farmer, almost exhausted, arrived at the water's edge expecting to find some clue at least of the unfortunate man, he was surprised to see four fishermen amusing themselves by trying to lure the big mouth fish from the water with poor innocent cat fish minnows.

Contemptible Trick.

Some person was contemptible enough to peel a large piece of bark off of every shade tree in front of the Presbyterian church. The act was done one night last week. The trees were set out last Arbor Day and were not far advanced but that would not excuse the guilty one if the parties who set the trees out could find the person who peeled the trees. The man or boy who would be guilty of destroying shade trees would not hesitate long about incendiarism if they had a grudge at any person. Such acts are the blossoms from a very evil disposition.

Iron Men Again.

After the national strike of coal miners had been declared off the men at Reynoldsville remained out for a time on account of grievances concerning contract machine digging. The matter was settled by the company paying so much per day for running the machines in place of letting the work out at contract. The company thinks the men who are loading after the iron men are "soldiering" a little too much and propose to let the iron men out at contract, as before the strike, and so informed the men last week. The contract price to be 17 cents for loading and firing and from 6 to 8 cents for cutting. As most all the machine work will be done in the 6 cent vein for cutting it will only give the men on an average about 23 cents per ton. Twenty-five cents per ton is paid for machine work at Adrian. A mass meeting was held at the watering trough Saturday forenoon to take some action in the matter. At that meeting it was decided to refer the matter to the Local District Board which was organized in Punxsutawney last Saturday of July, and which was holding a meeting at Punxsutawney last Saturday. The duty of this board is to deal with any grievances that may arise with the B. L. & Y. C. M. Co. or H. C. & I. Co. and their employees. As the miners expected District President Thomas Bradley and W. B. Wilson, of Blossburg, who are both members of the National Executive Board, here on Monday, they decided to remain idle Monday and hold a mass meeting at the watering trough, which they did do. The two men named addressed the meeting. The men resumed work yesterday.

Reynoldsville, Falls Creek and Adrain are the only places in the district where iron men are used and these places elected three delegates apiece to meet the local board at DuBois yesterday to make a scale of prices for machine work in the district and present it to the companies. Just what the result will be remains to be seen.

A Young Prisoner.

The following reward notice has been conspicuous in the A. V. R'y stations along the Low Grade and other places since last April: "The A. V. R'y Co. will pay a reward of fifty dollars for such information as will enable it to arrest and convict the person or persons who on March 10th, 1894, between 12.43 and 1.58 o'clock P. M., put or placed an angle bar, link and pin on one of the rails of its railroad track at a point about three quarters of a mile east of Fullers station, at a culvert near a spring." The people of Reynoldsville were surprised to learn that a fourteen year old boy of our town had been accused of placing the obstruction on the track, yet such was the case and Laverne Rumbaugh is now in Brookville jail awaiting the decision of the Court on the case. The boy has acknowledged to the deed. On the day the obstruction was put on the track Laverne jumped a freight train and rode to Brookville and there got on a freight coming to Reynoldsville. He was put off at Iowa and had to walk home and it was while on his way home that he set the trap. The west bound passenger train was the first train due at that point, but on the day referred to the freight train that Rumbaugh had been put off of was returning west as first section of the passenger train and the obstruction was seen in time to prevent a catastrophe. F. P. Adlesperger, special detective for the A. V. R'y, got to hunting the case up and was not long in discovering the guilty party but it took him some time to get evidence enough to convict the boy. Adlesperger arrested the boy last Wednesday afternoon and put him in the lock-up and he made a confession to the officer. The boy was taken to jail on the evening train.

Ida Reynolds' Picnic.

The picnic held in Reynolds' orchard last Friday afternoon was the picnic of the season. About three hundred invitations were issued and nearly two hundred people responded by their presence in the orchard. The crowd was made up of married and single people and it is seldom that a jollier or pleasanter crowd is ever found even on a picnic ground. Every lady apparently tried to take her basket filled with the best the market afforded and such a lay out! yum! yum! The tables almost groaned with the feast spread upon them, but if the tables did not groan some of the picnickers did after havoc had been made of the good things on the tables. A real sociable time was a prominent feature of the picnic. The men kicked a hole in one foot ball and gave another very bad usage. It was fun then but the next day a number of the men moved around slowly. Miss Ida Reynolds, who gave the picnic, had the hearty thanks of all present for giving them an opportunity of having such a pleasant time. Make it an annual picnic, Miss Ida.
