Stage People.
The janitor has an important bearing on the actor's condition, which finds its expression in his playing and possibly on his nervous organization. He supplies the house, and, in most cases, furnishes quarters for the actors such as no self-respecting slave owner would in the old days have condemned a slave to occupy.

For the public nothing is too good. For the actor, on the other hand, anything is good enough. Instead of sliken draperies, he finds only a tattered curtain on the window, if, indeed, he find a curtain at all, or even a window which it might cover.

Instead of soft, comfortable chairs. one wooden chair, none too clean, or a chair minus a back, will be the onseat, and not infrequently, if he wishes to sit down, he must do so on his trunk. Instead of delicately walls, he will find dirty walls which have not been treated even to a coat of whitewash for years. While in the auditorium a soft carpet covers the floor, in the actor's room a car-pet rarely exists, or, if by chance there be something which once was a carpet, it is so dirty that it would be better away. The washing appli-ances of the actor's room, if they are found at all, usually consist of a small basin with a tap of running

Most people would expect that, as the winter is the theatrical season, and the paints used by the actors are made with grease, hot water would be at hand. But this is rarely the case, and in many instances running water in the dressing-rooms is un-It is not uncommon for actors to refrain from using the basins, preferring to remove the "make up" is well as possible with vaseline, and to wait until the hotel is reached to complete this portion of the toilet. Tin basins and buckets are not the worst that I have seen "on the road," for once the water was in dirty, battered, old lard-tins, and basins had to be bought by our manager. - Forum.

At Home.

The highest style of being at home grows out of a special state of the affections rather than of the intellect. Who has not met with individuals whose face would be a passport to any society, and whose manners, the unstudied and spontaneous expressions of their inner selves, make them visibly welcome wherever they go, and attract unbounded confidence toward them in whatever they undertake. They are frank, because they have nothing to conceal; affable, because their natures overflow with benevolence; unflurried, because they dread nothing; always at home, because they carry within themselves that which can trust to itself anywhere and everywhere-purity of soul with fullness of health. Such are our best guaranties for feeling at home in all society to which duty takes us, and in every occupation upon which it obliges us to enter. They who live least for themselves are also the least embarrassed by uncertainties.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Bollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address.

When You Are Strongest.

Vaughan Harley agrees with Dr. amount of work done by the same set of muscles at different times of the day unde goes periodical variations; so we may accept as a fact, says the Journal of Physiology, that there is a diurnal rise and fall in the power of doing voluntary muscular work, in the same way as there is a diurnal rise and fall in bodily temperature and pelse. It is remarkable, however that instead of the greatest amount of work being done, as might have been expected, on rising in the morning, after a good night's rest, it is found that at 9 a. m. the smallest amount of work is accomplished, the powers of doing muscular work in Dr. Harley's case increasing each hour up to 11 a. m.

Immediately after lunch there is a marked rise, followed an hour later by a fail, while again an bour later, or about 3 p. m., the amount of work accomplished reaches its maximum. Then, from some unexplained cause, there is a noticeable fall at 4 p. m., which is succeeded by a rise at 5 p. m., after which a progressive fall takes place during each successive hour until dinner. Even during a prolonged fast more work was capable of being executed from 11:30 a. m to 4:30 p. m. than at 9 a. m.
