The Trip Through Arizona Deserts -- Water High Priced.

The United States internal boundary commission has arrived at San Diego and is completing the work of establishing 268 monuents marking the line between Mexico and the United States from El Paso to the Pacific Ocean a distance of about 700 miles. The commissioners are Col. Barlow, United States rommissioners are Col. Darlow, United States army: Lieut, Gaillard, United States army; and Mr. Moseman, of the United States const and geodetic survey. Their staff of engineers roldfers and laborers number about eighty. For two years and a half this party has been in the field erecting the monuments and sur-veying the boundary line, which was original-by established by Commissioner Emery from 1849 to 1853.

ty established by Commissioner Emery from 1849 to 1853. The fifty-two monuments then erected have been supplemented by 206 more, which are for the most part plain iron shafts on rock and eement foundations. By aggree-ment with Mexico any errors discovered in the original survey by the present commis-sioners shall not be corrected, so far as ownership of territory is concerned. Fow errors have been found in the first survey. The largest was along the New Mexico bound-ary, where Uncle Sam gains nearly forty spare miles of land which the new survey shows to be in Mexico.

Much of the trip of the commission was through Arizona deserts. At times it cost twenty-five cents a gallen for water needed at certain remote points by a small party of men and horses.

An interesting feature of the New York dele-gation in the parade was the continental drum corps, composed of men ranging in age from 72 to 80 years. They had served in the Black Hawk, Mexican and Civil wars, wore three cornsred bats with red and white cockades and carried a drum that was beaten in the revolutionary war.

In the big parade Louisana and Florida were represented by soldiers mostly colored. Those from Louisiana carried sugar canes while those from Florida bore banana trees and a stuffed alligator. The Texans carried steer horns.

Seven survivors of the Kearsage crew are resent. They are: Henry S. Hobson, Austin Quinby, William B. Poole, Thomas Buckley, Julian G. Baker, James O. Stone and John Pope.

Among those attending the encampment is D. R. Ellis, of Somerset county, Pa., who is one of 16 survivors of the Monitor.

The next national G.A.R.encampment is to held at Louisville in 1895

On Thursday Mrs. Emma R. Wallace, of Hilmois, was elected president of the Woman's Relief Corps.
