"Breaking Home Ties" and "Last Hours of Mozart," two pictures on exbibition in the art gallery at the Pittsburg Exposition, are so life-like that one can almost imagine they can hear the mother's kind words of advice and affectionate good-bye in "Breaking Home Ties," and the last words of the dying man in the other picture. These pictures cannot be appreciated by a hasty glance.

The Presbyterian Synod, of Pennsylvania will hold its thirteenth arnual session in the First Presbyterian church of Tyrone from Oct. 18th to 22nd. Three hundred commissioners, representing the churches of twenty-four presbyteries will be present. This Synd has within its bounds 191,739 municants. Last year the Presbyterian church contributed to all of her agencies over $14,000,000. Of this sum the Synod of Pennsylvania gave $3,000,000. Rev. Moiley, of Jersey City, declares it to be his belief that there are no women in heaven. He believes that there shall be no sex in the future life-especially the feminine sex. "Man was made for the glorification of God, and woman for that of man," he says: "As there are no marriages in heaven, there is no need for women." He then quoted from St. Luke, xx, 35: "But they which shall be accounted worthy to obtain that world and the resurrection from the dead, neither marry nor are given in marriage."-Bradford Era. True there will be no marriages in heaven, and there may be no sex there, but we believe there will be women there, and the self-denying, whole-souled, kind-hearted women who do so much for the out-casts and sin-sick souls of earth will be recognized and honored before the throne in the kingdoms of eternal joy.

Do you possess that subtle, fickle, fascinating something women call a dis-tinctive personality? It outshines the rarest jewels, scorns the latest fads, pushes back into the background the most seductive frocks and gives its mistress an enviable part to play in life's drama. Ah! the charm of it. Men are captivated by it, women are won by it. The woman who holds her head like a queen receives her full meed of admiration whether she is found behind the counter or in a palace. I met such a woman the other day. She stood like a goddess at her station in the lace department of a big establishment, and every shopper who spproached the fair young creature seemed to feel the spell which a strong individuality had woven about her. Apologetically they sak-ed the price of laces and watched each motion of the superb one as she moved from place to place.—Ex.

Resolutions

The following resoulutions were adopted by the Jefferson county W. C. T. U. at the convention held in Reynoldsville Oct 3rd, 1894;

Recognizing the Triune God as the source of all just power in government, and the Lord Jesus Christ as the sovereign ruler of nations, we do hereby declare-

1. That the liquor traffic of this pation is responsible for nearly all the murders, bloodshed, riots, poverty, misery and woe. It breaks up thousands of happy homes every year, sends the husband and father to prison or the gallows, and drives countless mothers and little children into the world to suffer and die. It furnishes nearly all the criminal business for our courts and blasts every community it touches. Therefore it cannot be licensed without

That the government of the United States should honor the Lord in stopping its business on the Sabbath and in giving every one engaged in the U. S. mail service, the telegraph and railroad service his divinely-appointed rest day. Then the states would be free to protect all wage workers within their own borders in their God-given Sabbath, and that this would go far towards solving the labor problem.

3. That as woman is the most trustworthy guardian of the home, she should have the right of suffrage and a voice in the making of laws to protect her home and children from the devices of wicked men.

4. That this is not a government of the people, as women are people and have no voice in it, and that taxation without representation is tyranny.

5, That we heartily endorse the action of railroads and all companies who will not employ men known to use intoxicating drinks, and we tender our thanks to the A. V. R'y company for the many favors we have received by way of reduced rates to our conventions. And also resolved that we seek the co-operation of our railroad brothers in our temperance work, being well aware that in their strength and faithfulness we would find an active and earnest ally.

That we do rejoice in the defeat of Col. W. C. P. Breekinridge and hope that a man with a pure, clean heart and enough brains to know that he shall be judged by his actions and not by his religion may take his place.

8. That we highly commend the action of the ladies of the Ashland district for their noble and public stand for purity and and uprightness in governmental affairs as well as the home, and that their example be followed by the ladies of the land in similar cases, and ask that a copy of these resolutions be sent those ladies for their encouragement in the peformance of noble duty.

9. Whereas, it has pleased our Heavenly Father in His all-wise providence to remove from time to eternity our beloved sisters, Caroline E. Mitchell and Anna Walker, resolved that in their death we as a Co. W. C. T. U. have lost earnest and exemplary members; that while we sadly miss them we hope the meekness and christian grace of their characters may still be with us for future good and that we heed the exortation "Be ye also ready for in such an hour as ye think not the son of man ometh.

10, Resolved that our sincere thanks tendered to the ladies of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Reynoldsville for the good arrangements made for the comfort of this convention, to the trustees of the M. E. church for use of the same, to those who have so hospitably entertained delegates and visitors, to those who provided the music and to all who in any way contributed to the success of this convention.

Editorial "We."

Someone who wants to explain what editorial "we" signifies says it has a variety of meanings, varied to suit the circumstances. For an example: When you read that "we expect our wife home to-day," we refer to the editor-inchief; when it is "we are a little late with our work," it includes the whole office force, even to the devil and the towel; in "we are having a boom," the town is meant: "we received over 700,-000 emigrants last year," it embraces the nation; but "we have hog cholera in our midst," only means the man who takes the paper and does not pay for it is very Ill.-Clearfield Journal.
