and the Grand Duke Michael, a boy in his teens. The young man who on the deatn of Alex ander III, ceases to be the Grand Duke Nicholas and becomes the next ruler of more than 100,000,000 people, is only 26 years old, having been born in May, 1868, the eldest aon of the czar. But into his brief life has been compressed the experience of ages so far as instruction by the best masters, extensive reading, travel and mental and physical de-velopement could do so. Gossip has coupled the name of the Czare-witch with that of an opera dancer, who is said to be causing some trouble on account of his approaching marriage to Princess Alix, or Alice, the English form of the name. The health of the Grand Duke was for a long time delicate and it was often predicted he would not live to wear the crown. Recently his health has improved and he is said to be now in good physical condition. He has two brothers and two sisters, so that the line direct from the Romanoffs will continue on the Nussian throme for some time, in spite of the Nihilists and of the mailit, which seem to be part of the royal family's heredi-taments.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

President Cleveland Lesignates Thursday, Nov. 29, for Its Celebration.

In his annual Thanksgiving proclamation President Cleveland says:

In his annual Tranksgiving proclamation President Cleveland says: The American people should gratefully rend-er thanksgiving and praise to the Supreme Ruler of the Universe, who has watched over them with kindness and fostering care dur-ing the year that has passed; they should also with humility and faith supplicate the Father of All Mercles for continued blessings accorded to their needs, and they should by deeds of charity seek the favor of the giver of every good and perfect gift. Therefore I, Grover Cleveland, President of the United States, do hereby appoint and set apart Thursday, the twenty-ninth day of November, inst., as a day of thanksgiving and prayer, to be kept and observed by all the people of the land. On that day let our ordinary work and business be suspended, and let us meet in our accustomed plases of worship and give thanks to Almighty God for our preservation as a Nation, for our immunity from disease and pestilence, for the harvests that have reward-ed our husbandry, for a renewal of national prosperity, and ior every advance in virtue and intelligence that has marked our growth as a people. and intelligence that has marked our growth as a people. And with our thanksgiving let us pray that these blassings may be multiplied unto us, that our national conscience may be quick-ened to a better recognition of the power and goodness of God, that in our national life we may clearer see and closer follow the path of rightcousness. And in our places of worship and praise, as well as in the happy reunions of kindred and friends on that day, let us invoke divine approval by generously remembering the poor and needy. Surely He who has given us comfort and plenty will look upon our re-lief and our ministrations of charity as the work of hearis truly grateful and as proofs of the sincerity of our thanksgiving.

As might be expected from a mild-man-nered young man, he is not partial to war, as some of his forefathers have been. There if nothing of the Don Cossack in him. He has no ambition to crush the Turks or to wage war with Austria or with England on the Eastern frontier. He is a peaceable young man who would rather improve the somewhat expensive ground now known as Russia, and no one denies that there is room for improvement. He is unlike his two brothers in this respect. There is one thing to be said of the young man that cannot be said of other knights of his age. His life has been clean. His name is unsmirched by scandai. He has lived quietly with his books and studies. His habits have been and are of the simplest.

(Pa.) When near the viaduct, on the Center county side of the Moshannon, a coupling pin broke. Several cars left the rails and toppled over a steep embankment. When the trainmen went to the scene they found three men killed outright and one other badly crushed. The latter was placed on an engine to be taken to Phillipaburg Hospital, but he died before they reached that place. Later in the morning the body of a fifth man was found, and it is believed that four of the first were killed outright. The sensational feature of the accident lies in the fact that a complete set of burglars' tools, consisting of drills, first, ropes, dynamite, rubber gags and five first-class buildog revolvers were found with the party.

The thieves then proceeded to ransack the showcases and scoop the watches into a gunnysack. The door of the safe stood open and the bandits emptied the cash box, obtain-ing a considerable sum of money. All this required only a few minutes and the men soon made their escape. The senior Brethauer returned about 3:30 and soon heard a sound of pounding on the vauit door. It was hastly opened and the imprisoned man taken out, nearly exhaust-ed. So far no trace of the thieves has been obtained

The Law for Tillman.

A daring robbery was committed in the heart of the business center of Chicago Tuesday afternoon. The amount of plunder secured is notknown, but was given as$6,000 in watches and other jewelry. Soon after 2 o'clock G. W. Brethauer, the soon after 20 clock G. w. Brethauer, the senior member of the firm of Brethauer A Co., wholesale jewelers, left the office, leav-ing his son in charge. The office of the firm is on the first floor of the building. It is lo-cated in the southwest corner and in plain view of the occupants of the office buildings round about. round about.

Young Brethauer says he was bending over a showcass fall of watches in the rear of the room when two men entered the door. One of them carried a revolver in his hand and the other was armed with a piece of lead pipe about two feet long. The jeweler was com-manded to throw up his hands, which he was slow in doing. The two men then ordered him into the walt, the door of which stood open. Brethauer demurred, and one of the men, he says, caught him by the throat, threw him into the vault and pushed the door shut. the door shut. The thieves then proceeded to ransack the
