Subscription $1.50 per year, in advance. C. A. STEPHENSON, Editor and Pub. WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1894.

An independent local paper, published every Wednesday at Reynoldsville, Jefferson Co. Pa., devoted to the interests of Reynoldsville and Jefferson county. Non-political, will treat all with fairness, and will be especially friendly towards the laboring class.
Subscription price $1.50 per year, in advance. Communications intended for publication must be accompanied by the writer's name, not for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith. Interesting news items solicited. Advertising rates made known on application at the office in Arnolds Block.

Lenghty communications and change of advertisements should reach this office by Monday neon.

Monday noon.

Address all communications to C. A. Stephenson, Reynoldsville, Pa.

Entered at the postoffice at Reynoldsville, Pa., as second class mail matter.

Owens, the man who defeated Breckenridge in the Ashland district of Kentucky for Congress was elected by a small majority.

The unveiling of the monument erected by the State at Cherrytree to mark the boundary line of William Penn's purchase from the Indians, will take place on Friday, November 16th.

The total vote last Tuesday for the four candidates for Governor of Pennsylvania is as follows: Hastings, Rep., 573,699; Singerly, Dem., 331,705; Hawley, Pro., 20,329; Ailman, Pop., 16,171.

Samuel N. Williams, aged 22 years, who was recently released from the Huntingdon reformatory after serving one year for robbing registered letters in the Tyrone postoffice to the amount of $1,000, committed suicide at Tyrone last Wednesday by taking laudanum.

Hereafter, it is reported, the Pennsylvania railroad is to adopt as its standard rail a length of sixty feet, instead of thirty, and a weight of one hundred pounds to the yard instead of eightyfive as at present. The heavier rail is to carry heavier locomotives at an increased speed, and the greater length is to make the road smoother by lessening the number of joints with their inevitable "thump."

Chalmers says do good, and leave behind a monument of virtue the storm of time can never destroy. Write your name in kindness, love and mercy on the hearts of thousands you come in contact with, year by year; you will never be forgotten-your name, your deeds will be as legible on the hearts you leave behind as the stars on the brow of evening. Good deeds will shine as the stars of heaven.

A sleeper is one who sleeps. A sleeper is that in which the sleeper sleeps. A sleeper is that on which the sleeper runs while the sleeper sleeps. Therefore while the sleeper sleeps in the sleeper the sleeper carries the sleeper over the sleeper under the sleeper until the sleeper which carries the sleeper jumps the sleeper and wakes the sleeper in the sleeper, by striking the sleeper under the sleeper on the sleeper until there is no longer any sleeper sleeping in the sleeper.-Ex.

"The glare and heat of civilization have killed more Indians than have the bullets of the pioneers," said George H. Williamson, recently from the Indian territory, to the Pomona Progress. The Indian's blood from a long line of ancestry is tainted with scrofula, and the ease and comforts of the white man's life vitalize the scrofulous tendency. To make plain what I mean, I will tell you what I observed at the government school at Lawrence, Kas., a | direct to them. few years ago. The government heated the quarters of the pupils by steam, and in a while the Indians began to die off like sheep from consumption until the steam pipes were removed. The Indian needs a hardy, tough life on the plains. Under such conditions he thrives and is healthy, but just as soon as you confine him to the limits of a warm room pulmonary tuberculosis seizes him and carries him off. Heat and ease set the scrofula to work in his blood with disastrous effects. That's the reason why the American Indian will soon be a reminiscence - his constitution can't stand the civilization of the paleface."

It was discovered recently that the marriage license law of Pennsylvania, which has caused many matrimonialinclined people to skip the state line Day. Following is the bill of fare for and have the knot tied in New York dinner: state, is not yet in force, nor will it be until Oct. 1st, 1895. The marriage license act was passed in 1885, and was amended in 1893, but owing to an error in the transcribing of the supplement of 1893 to the act of 1885, the clerks made a mistake of writing "five" for "three" and the result is the delay of two years in the operation of the supplement. The error was discovered shortly after the Legislature adjourned, but it was then too late to rectify the mistake. Whether people will continue to apply for marriage licenses, or will get married without consulting the county seat official until Oct. 1st, 1895, will be made known by time. If the act is a "to be law" in a year from now, a number of five dollar Williams that would otherwise be carried to some other state, will remain in Pennsylvania. Attorney General Hensel says the law is alright, and couples intending to marry will have to procure a license as heretofore.

Mark Twain's New Book.

Mark Twain's most popular and successful books have been sold by subscription and the American Publishing Company of Hartford, Conn., announce for early publication his new book, "The Tragedy of Pudd'nhead Wilson and the Comedy of those extraordinary Twins." The Tragedy and Comedy were at first a dual story-two stories in one-and the authors account, as given in the preface, of the difficulty he had in writing the book, of the incompatibility of some of the characters and of his having to finally separate them by pulling one of the stories out by the roots and leaving the other-a kind of Cæsarean operation, is certainly one of the most original, breeziest and cleverest chapters-choice fun-that has been written for many a day. We are told that "there is a time to laugh" and The Churchman says, "the reader will begin to smile at the very first paragraph."

The book will be sold only by sub scription and as it possesses, in a pronounced degree, the remarkable characteristics of the author's best works it is sure to have a large sale. Each page will be beautifully illustrated with marginal sketches, the work of one of our best artists, and the publishers have wisely decided to sell the volume at a popular price-bringing it within the reach of all.

Brookville's Branch Railroad.

Messrs. Heidrick, Coleman, Osburn & Co., and a number of other gentlemen, interested in the building of a branch railroad from the Low Grade Division of the A. V. R'y., to the mill property of the gentlemen named, in Brookville, have been soliciting the right of way from property owners on the Southside of Water street, and we are pleased to learn that in nearly every case an agreement has been reached It is the purpose of the instigators of enterprise to form a stock company for the purpose of raising the funds necessary for the construction of the road, and they have assurances that the bonds of the proposed company will be promptly purchased by interested parties, the new lumber firm taking a majority of the stock to start with. We believe this to be a commendable enterprise, and that our people should give it all the encouragement necessary to make it a success, as it is possible that if the present opportunity is permitted to go by unimproved another may not be presented again very soon.-Brookville Republican.
