EARTHQUAKE KILLS MANY. Great Loss of Life Caused by Seismic Disturbances in Italy.

Earthquakes in Southern Italy have caused great loss of life. Procopio, a village of 1,200 inhabitants in Reggio di Calabria, has been obliterated. Virtually all the buildings were thrown into ruins. The number of deaths is not known, but in one church 47 persons were buried alive under falling walls. The last report was that the list of dead was about 60. In another village of the same province eight persons were killed outright by falling build-ings. The damage to property has been enormous.

Ings. The damage to properly has been enormous. Troops and officials are going to the help of the suffering districts. King Humbert has sent several donations. In Triparai 20 buildings were laid in ruins and several persons were killed. In Mileto, also in Catanazaro, many were injured. A school house was shaken to the ground, but the tenchers and pupils escaped a few min-utes before it fell.

the teachers and pupils escaped a few min-vies before it fell. Reports of deaths, injuries and the demoli-tion of buildings have been received from 17 communes. In Bagnaro seven persons were killed outright. In Oppido Mamartina, four; in Santa Euphemia, eight. Scores of others were injured in these towns. The people of Messina still fear to return to their houses, and the majority of them are living in open spaces, railway carriages and ships. Electric lights have been set to re-place the lighthouse, which was destroyed, and a torpedo beat patrols the channel. In Milazzo, near Messina a sharp shock was felt Sunday. ## Miss Frances E. Willard Speaks of the Work of the W. C. T. U.

Under the banner, "For God and Homand Native Land," delegates representing every state in the Union, and a following of thousands of wearers of the white ribbon, assembled in Music hall, Cleveland, to open the twenty-first annual convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union. The feature of the convention was the speech of Miss Frances Willard. In it she said:

sidd: The aggregated and systematic self-respect of women is making itself felt against the debasing exhibitions of her form, whether pletured or real, before audiences of immoral men. The victory gained by Mrs. Henry Somerset, Mrs. Ormiston Chant and other White Ribbon women in bringing evidence to the London county council, which caused it by a vote of 5 to 32 to refuse liquor and prom-enade licenses, so that prominent places of amus:ment in London are closed, is perhaps the strongest proof that a better day has dawned, and deserves to runk beside the victory of women in Kentucky over the per-jured Breekenridge and of women in New York offer the tight of Tammaiy. He also made a sharp criticles of the banking laws and advised a few minor changes in the preamble of the order. At the close of the address the report of the General Executive Board was presented and referred to the several committees. The convention listened to an address by Vice President George W, Howard, of the Ameri-can Baliway Union, in which he urged amalgamation of all the great labor organ-izations of the country into one association and under one management. General Worthy Foreman M. J. Bishop, of Boston, read his annual report, which was received and accepted. It was an outline of the work done by him and the order during the past year.

the progress made, if less than the sangulae expected, is at least encouraging. The decision to offer $20,000,000 bonds for the repletishment of the Treasury reserve was by lankers generally approved. It is generally assumed that the bonds will be taken at once. The effect is less easy to an-ilicipate, for the formal anhonnement that after a general reconstruction of the revenno laws it is still found necessary to borrow largely tends to raise doubt about financial provisions for the future. The reported fm-portation of gold from London, with a loss on its face of $7,500 at present exchange mites, is presumably meant to affect bond subscriptions. There have already been some withdrawals of gold from the Treasury by redemption of notes to make payments for bonds, and goods, rather than gold, are like-by to come from Europe. upon business have been disappoint-ed. Buyers have not jumped into the mar-ket, and the volume of business has shown practically no increase. The feeling is better but there are other considerations which out-weigh that in shaping the near future of the irro trade. The modest demand for finished material is making the steel works more indifferent buy-ers of Bessemer pig, and that has created a weakening tendency. Thus far the balance-has been well poised. In the wire trade the latest development is the rupture of the new-ity formed barb wire combination, while war goes on vigorously in the wire raids. The motest of much significance. # The Massacre of Armenian Christians One of Unparalleled Atrocity.

The London "Standard's" correspondent in Varna describes the recent massacre of Armenian Christians as of equal importance with the Bulgarian butcheries which led to the Rosso, Furkish war. He says:

The trouble began with the refusal of the Armenians to pay taxes, on the ground that the Rurdish raids had so impoverished them as to render it impossible. Troops were sent to enforce the payments, but were benten off. An imposing force was then sent and shot down the defenseless populate of 25 villages. In one pince 300 or 400 women were as-saulted by the soldlers and then hacked to pieces with swords and bayonets. In an-other place 200 weeping women begged at the commander's feet for merey. The com-mander ordered the soldlors to assault them word. In one case 60 young brides and maidens were driven into a church and were assaulted and butchered until their blood lowed from the doors. # WHOSE MONEY IS IT?

Counter Claims for That Jar of Johnstown Gold.

Charles Kistner, a boy employed by Undertaker Loebrich, of Johnstown, while chopping wood last June in the cellar, made a

misstroke and the axe crashed into an earthen jar, revealing a lot of glittering $20 gold pieces. He filled his hat and upon counting pieces. He filled his hat and upon counting there was $1.100. It is stated upon teiling his employer he was asked not to say any-thing about it and Mr. Loebrich took the money promising to divide with the boy. Failing to divide the lad told his story. Now Mr. L. Wein, a shoedealer, who lives next door, says the money is his, having been hid in his cellar the time of the flood and washed over. Wein threatens to sue for the money. Christ Kimpel owned the premises at the time of the flood. Kimpel and his wife were both drowned. Over $3,000 of paper money was found on his body. Kimpel's case was one of the peculiar ones to seath after the flood, as relatives of both he and his wife claimed the money found on the body, the court had to decide which died first.
