Charles Darrah, of Hopkins, has been suffering from having his body poisoned by wearing a new shirt before it was washed. Wherever the shirt touched his body it is covered with sores.

A large pair of southern seal driving gloves, with buckskin facing, were lost either in Reynoldsville or West Reynoldsville last evening. The finder is requested to leave the gloves at this office.

Glenn Milliren has just received another gross of umbrellas which are the most durable in the world for the money—from 70 cents up.

Mrs. John Trudgen was given a birthday surprise party last Wednesday evening. Large number of friends were present and the evening was pleasantly spent.

The W. C. T. U. ladies call attention of all who read this to the Thanksgiving dinner. Only 35c. for good warm dinner, turkey, chicken, etc. All temperance people come.

We stated last week that Mrs. John Marshall, of Rathmel, is a daughter of Rev. S. Miles, of Ansonville, which is not correct. She is a daughter of Robt. L. Miles, of this place.

Mrs. S. B. Gilbloom, of Punxsutawney, has rented Henry A. Reed's store room, and on Jan. 1st will start a clothing store. Money saved by buying shoes at Reed's, as all shoes must be sold.

The Keystone band will play a selection in Centennial hall on the night of the phonograph concert, Dec. 5th, and the phonograph will reproduce it. Don't fail to hear this wonderful instrument.

Conrad Mendel has opened a store in the opera house building, in the room next door to J. S. Morrow's store, where he has a fine line of china ware, glassware, tin ware, wall paper, toys, &c. Call and see his goods.

An Italian, who works at the tannery, attended all the political meetings held in Reynoldsville just before the last election and after they were all over he said the prohibitionists were the only ones that did not attack the foreigners, and that is the party he voted for.

The fall of the year is a trying season for elderly people. The many cheerless, dark, dismal days act depressingly, not to say injuriously, on both old and young. Now is the time to re-enforce the vital energies with Ayers Sarsaparilla—the best of all blood medicines.

The Baptist church was not large enough to accommodate the large crowd that gathered there Sunday evening to listen to the program that had been prepared for the occasion, it being Bible Day in that church. All who took part in the exercises done nicely.

A new laundry has been opened in the building at the corner of Fourth street and Gordon alley, near R. J. Thomas' barber shop, by Wah Sing, who will do first-class work at very reasonable prices. To be convinced that Wah Sing will give satisfaction, give him a trial.

The union prayer-meeting of the Epworth League, Baptist and Presbyterian Endeavor Societies held in the Presbyterian church last Sunday evening was a very pleasant and profitable meeting. It is to be hoped that these societies will join heartily in winning young people into the paths of righteousness.

The Punxsutawney Spirit is responsible for the statement that Christ Miller, one of the Associate Judges of this county, wants the game laws amended so as to compel pheasants to sit still long enough to be shot. The present law permitting people to shoot them at certain seasons of the year he says is a delusion and a snare.

Don't confound the phonograph to give a concert in Centennial Hall Dec. 5th with the ordinary phonograph that is seen on the streets, in hotels and at fairs. This is a special phonograph perfected and built for grand concert work, and is capable of entertaining thousands of people at one time, surpassing anything of the kind you ever heard before.

Robbers plundered the A. V. R'y stations at Dubois and Falls Creek Saturday night, but did not get much money for their trouble. A Dubois officer arrested a tramp Sunday who gave his name as John McConville. The tourist had in his possession a poke containing $4.80, most all pennies, that had been stolen from the A. V. Co. He claimed he found the money.

Henry A. Reed, the shoe man, has rented his store room to Mrs. S. B. Gilbloom, of Punxsutawney, Pa., who intends opening up a clothing store on January 1st, 1895. Every shoe must be sold in order to vacate said rooms. Money saved by all who buy shoes of Henry A. Reed. Call and examine shoes and get prices, we can save you the 25 per cent profit which other dealers get.

The following school teachers attended the institute at Brookville last week: Reynoldsville—T. R. Hilliard, A. J. Postlethwaite, W. C. Henry, Bert G. Woodward, Jessie Smeltzer, Britta Butler, Mammie Alman, Edith Sechrist, Mildred Fuller, Mollie Miles, Mattie Waite, Minnie Whitmore. West Reynoldsville—Lex N. Mitchell, Jennie White, Maggie, Butler. Winslow township—Minnie Smeltzer, A. T. Smitten, Effie Coulter, Rebecca Wyant, Mary A. McKee, Notta Coax, Kattie Lydon, G. W. Murray, J. G. Stewart, F. L. Winslow, S. Lobsach, Ethel McCreight, J. M. McCreight, J. M. Holben, Tacy Dempsey, Myrtle B. Gelst, J. D. Lewis, Hannah Stauffer, W. L. Strouse, Kate McGranor, Mary Patton, Almene Johnson.

Punxs's Comrades.

R. W. Dinsmore, of Punxsutawney, was here last night to inspect the G. A. R. Post at this place. Frank Rowlee, W. R. Depp and C. M. Wilson, all of Punxsutawney, accompanied Mr. Dinsmore. Mrs. E. Neff knew the old comrades were coming and she invited them to take supper at her home with 'Squire.

Ball and Supper.

The members of Fire Company No. 1 will give a ball and supper in the Reynolds block on Christmas, New Year's eve, New Year's day and night. The proceeds are to buy a fire alarm and helmets. Two ladies will contest for a gold watch and two gentlemen for a gold headed cane. The fire lads hope to meet with success during their fair.

Business Change.

For a number of years Sykes, Allis and Moorhouse have been proprietors of the Reynoldsville woolen mills. By a dissolution notice published elsewhere in this issue of THE STAR it will be seen that these gentlemen have dissolved partnership, G. H. Allis and Elr Moorhouse retiring from the firm, and Geo. W. Sykes will continue the business. The new brick woolen mill has become quite a plant.

"Jocko" Dead.

"Jocko," the little monkey that has been boarding at Hotel McConnell and loafing in the pool room for over two years, succumbed to a complication of diseases last Wednesday night. Frank J. Black says the monkey has suffered for sometime from consumption, rheumatism, liver, kidney and stomach trouble, and yet up to the very last "Jocko" bore his suffering patiently. Crape was tacked to the pool room door Thursday forenoon with a notice above it that the funeral would take place at 3:00 P. M.

False Alarm.

The fire alarm about six o'clock Sunday evening at the corner of Grant and Fourth streets was quickly responded to by fire Co. No. 1. Fortunately for the owners of the building and the firemen's Sunday suits, the alarm was false. Mrs. Gray lives in the old Seder house on the corner mentioned and she had just built a large fire in the stove when five or six feet of the fuel fell in the garret and soon smoke issued from the roof of the building, and when discovered looked very much as if the house was afire.

Broke Windows for Fun.

About a dozen Reynoldsville lads amused themselves some three or four weeks ago by throwing stones through all the windows in the old building of Sam'l T. Reynolds' back of the brick block. All the windows in the building were broken. Mr. Reynolds quietly done a little detective work until he got the names of the boys who done the mischief and now he proposes to collect the damage, which amounts to six dollars, from the parents. The boys were only thinking of the fun they were having when they were throwing the stones.

Sale Postponed.

Sheriff Gourley, trustee of the estate, had advertised to sell the real estate of Mrs. Sarah A. Wayland, deceased, on Thursday, November 15th, but as the highest bid was only twenty-one hundred dollars the sale was postponed until the day of the Sheriff's sales in Brookville, Dec. 7th, at which time it will be sold. The farm is located in the Reynoldsville coal field and contains 160 acres, 80 of which is cleared, fenced and in a good state of cultivation, and the balance is timbered with hardwood. A good house, new barn, spring house and other outbuildings on the land, also good orchards of apple, peach and other fruit.

Given a Gold Watch.

The Standard mines near Prescottville, of which Geo. F. Cant is superintendent, will soon be worked out and seventy-five men will be thrown on the market for employment. For four years John D. Lowther has been mine boss at the Standard and has proven himself to be a good man for the position, both for employer and employee. The miners of that mine have been well pleased with him as mine boss and on last Saturday they gave expressions of their appreciation of his work by presenting him with a gold watch. Mr. Lowther was not apprised of the intention of the men until the watch was given him and he certainly was a pleased and surprised man.

Want the Train to Stay.

The B. R. & P. R'y will get out a new schedule next Sunday, and it is the intention of the officials to take off the morning and evening train between Reynoldsville and Falls Creek; the train to run to Punxsutawney to stop over all night instead of Reynoldsville. Our business men do not want the train taken off and on Saturday a petition was signed by a number of business men, and on Monday morning Jos. S. Morrow and C. F. Hoffman went to Rochester, N. Y., to carry the petition to General Passenger Agent Lapey and to try and persuade him to leave the train on. We understand the train has not been paying heavily, but that the travel on it is increasing. It is a very convenient train and no doubt the company will make a mistake by taking it off.

The School Question.

One of the crying needs of this borough is better school accommodations, which is well known to all our citizens. For a number of years the scholars of this town have been crowded into eight rooms in the public school building, to the inconvenience of the scholars and disadvantage of the teachers. In the primary department half the scholars attended school in the forenoon and remained at home in the afternoon while the other half filled the school room in the afternoon. This year four rooms were rented on the second floor of the Reynolds block and fitted up to accommodate the smaller scholars. Even with this additional room the schools are well filled.

In June, 1892, a special election was held to bond the borough to the amount of $40,000 to provide school room for the pupils of this place. The tax-payers voted for the bond-issuing but there was a dissatisfaction arose as to whether the school board should erect one or two school buildings. The school board was in favor of putting up two school buildings, and a number of citizens who were in favor of one building served an injunction on the board, and the case has since been in the hands of a Master and Examiner and the Honorable Court until October 20th, 1894, when Judge Clark filed an opinion and decree in the case. Which is to the effect that the election of June 25th, 1892, is illegal and void, and that the said school district of the borough of Reynoldsville pay all the costs of the proceedings, including the fees of the Master and Examiner. The costs in the case will amount to about $200.00. The borough of Reynoldsville is now back to where it was before the special election of 1892, so far as school buildings are concerned. The only thing to do now is to hold another election to bond the borough for the purpose of erecting sufficient school room to accommodate the pupils of this borough. It is to be hoped that no malice or ill feelings will interfere with the erection of school room, and that as soon as it is possible to do so a new building will be erected. The Reynolds block will answer in an emergency, but it is not a very good place to send the children, especially in the two rooms on the east side of the building where the scholars get light only from windows in one end of the rooms.

Thrilling Experience.

A few weeks ago we mentioned that Robt. J. Thomas, the barber, and Sam. Williams, better known as the "Indian," had gone to the wilds of Mexix Run on a hunting expedition. The train returned home Friday and brought two deer and a big black bear weighing 390 pounds, home with them. "Indian" had a thrilling experience with bruin. On Monday the bear was tracked into a hole between two large rocks. "Indian" sent "Bobby" on top of the rocks with a long pole to disturb bruin so he would vacate the place, and the "Indian" crawled into the hole some distance and, with gun in hand, waited for the bear to come out. Robt. and the long pole soon persuaded the bear to move out. The "Indian" says when the bear saw him it stopped to size up the situation for a few minutes, and then, frothing at the mouth and growling furiously, it advanced towards the man lying in its pathway. About that time the case was as interesting to the "Indian" as it was to bruin, and as escape was then impossible for the "Indian" he had to face the savage beast of the forest. The situation meant death to either the man or bear. When the bear was within six feet of "Indian" he took deliberate aim and planted a piece of cold lead in a tender place in the bear's head and thus won the victory. The story might read differently had the hunter missed his mark.

The hunters say that a farmer who lives within a few miles of where the bear was killed, informed them that during the summer the bear carried off seventeen of his sheep. One time he saw the bear going to the woods with a large sheep in its mouth. As the bear was very fat it is evident that it had not been roaming the forest hungry during the summer.

Will Not Stick.

A school teacher may use a rod on a boy and get him to stick to his books, but a half dozen lickings will not make the last lot of postage stamps Postmaster McGaw received stick to a letter. The harder you lick the less they will stick. When Uncle Sam sends out such contrary postage stamps the sooner they are replaced with new ones the less cuss words will be said. People don't want to carry a muclage bottle in their pockets.

Since the above was set in type the postmaster has received a new supply of good stamps.

Times are rather hard, no use of denying it. It is best to try and save all the money one can. We have rented our store room to Mrs. Sarah B. Gilbloom, of Punxsutawney, Pa., for a clothing store. I must vacate on January 1st, 1895. Shoes must be sold, here is a chance for you to save money on shoes.

FIVE CENT REDUCTION.

Mass Meetings Held—Miners Hardly Making a Living—Drivers Discharged.

We stated last week that the B. L. & Y. C. M. Co. had given their men notice that on the 16th inst. the price of mining coal would be reduced from 40 to 35 cents a ton. Of course the men were not delighted to hear such news, and it was only after holding three mass meetings in Centennial Hall, two on Friday and one on Saturday, and carefully and wisely considering the matter and having a committee confer with the manager of the company, did they decide to accept the reduction without striking.

Under the circumstances the men done the wise thing by not striking, although some of the miners, especially those in Big Soldier were barely making enough before the reduction to keep soul and body together. What we state is not guess work, but real hard facts. About three hundred men are employed in the Big Soldier mine and they are averaging from $20.00 to $25.00 per month. When a man feeds and clothes a good sized family on that amount a month there is bound to be a shortage somewhere. The men in the Sprague and Hamilton mines are getting more work, and hence are making a little more money. Our readers not acquainted with the workings of the mines may wonder why the miners of one mine make more than others in the employ of the same company. The reason is this, the Big Soldier is the only mine here that digging machines are used in and these machines are kept at work all the time, and the pick men of this mine get what cars are left that the iron men can't use. Many of the miners have homes here they are trying to pay for and they do not like to sacrifice what little they did make when times were better by leaving the town, and they remain hoping against hope, for better work in the mines here.

Notwithstanding any assertions to the contrary, it is our honest and candid opinion that the secret of the hard times among the miners of this place is the company store. The mines are crowded with men and the company store gets very nearly all, if not all, they make. The more men, the more business for the company store.

There are miner families in Reynoldsville that are suffering for the necessities of life. Children are compelled to stay at home from school because they have no shoes and clothing to wear. We do not mention these things because we delight in doing so, but because they are stubborn facts. Who is to blame?

After an idleness of five days, caused by four drivers being discharged, the miners resumed work yesterday. The trouble first started by a driver being discharged for burning "black strap" in his lamp, which is a violation of the rules and laws of the mines. All who enter the mines are supposed to burn nothing but lard oil in their lamps. The lard oil costs forty cents a gallon and the "black strap" is much cheaper, but it would be impossible for the men to work in the mine if all of them burned "black strap." A driver, or any one else, who willfully violates the laws of the mine can not complain if he is discharged for doing so, but why not use all alike? It is claimed that the son of the man who reported on the driver burns the "black strap" himself and also furnished it to this driver at ten cents a gallon. It is also claimed that there are others who burn the car oil in their lamps.

A Correction.

EDITOR OF STAR,
DEAR SIR:—You will confer a great favor on the undersigned by giving space in your columns to the following correction:

I have been informed that certain parties, desiring no doubt to injure me, have been circulating a report that while I have been advocating prohibition during the past year, yet on election day I cast my vote for the republican party candidates. Now I desire to say to all parties concerned, there is not a word of truth in that report. I voted as I always vote viz: for the prohibition party candidates and if I had a thousand legitimate votes they should all be cast for that party. I never try to force my politics on any man. I vote my conviction and cordially accede the same privilege to my fellow citizens. I cheerfully grant permission so far as I can do so to any who may be curious to know how I voted to examine the vote I placed in the ballot box and I assure them beforehand that they will find it to be a prohibition vote. My ballot contains the name of Mr. Strong for District Attorney.

Prof. R. B. Teitrick, principal of the Brookwayville schools, which by the way are in excellent condition, stopped at Reynoldsville long enough last Friday on his way home from institute to have his name added to THE STAR subscription list.

J. Bernard McCracken, who for four or five years has been migrating to the southland about the time the breeze smells as if it came direct from the north pole, left Reynoldsville last Thursday for Northern Pines, North Carolina, where he expects to remain until the frosts of winter have been kissed from mother earth by Old Sol in the spring time.

L. E. Weber, of Dubois, spent Monday afternoon in Reynoldsville trying to make arrangements to have a special train run from this place to Dubois this evening for the John Thomas Concert. The time for getting enough people interested in the scheme was short and it was decided not to attempt to run a special train on this occasion. The concert company is one of the best on the road to-day. Mr. Weber called at THE STAR office Monday. He is a very pleasant gentleman.

Brookville School Case.

[Jeffersonian Democrat.]
A dispatch received in Brookville on Monday announced that the state supreme court had reversed the decision of Judge Clark in the case of the Memorial home against the directors of the Brookville public schools, in which the local court decided that the borough was compelled to admit to her schools, on the same terms as resident pupils, all the children who may be inmates of the home. We felt when the lower court decided this case, that a greater burden was being placed upon our schools, and school district, than they ought to be required to bear, but refrained from comments, as the case was to be speedily heard and determined by the supreme court.
