P brunry, 1966, is referred to by tronomers as "the month without a tell moon." January and March of that year had each two full moons, while the intermediate month did not have one. Says a writer in an astronomical journal, referring to this fact: "Do you realize what a rare thing in nature it was? It has not happened before since the hoginning of the Christian era or probably since the creation of the world! It will not occur again, according to the computations of the astronomer royal of England, for-how long do you think? Not until after 2,500,000 years from

The editor of the Punxsutawney Spirit, who is representing this county in the Lower House at Harrisburg, and has for associates at present Representatives and Senators, who is also in a position to occasionally rub against leading politicians, says: "The more a man sees of the world the more firmly he is impressed with the notion that the best men are not the best known men. The estentatious fellows who court notoriety, and who "rush in where angels fear to tread." often pass for a generation as men of superior talent, when their superiority consists only in a superabundance of assurance and gall."

Reference has been frequently made to the enterprise and excellence of the Pittsburg Times as a newspaper. Just at this time another feature worthy of mention is noticed. That is the consistency of the Times in adhering to its policy of giving all the news in concise form. The American people are so busy that it is an imposition to ask them to wade through a column article when all the facts may be given in a few lines. When you get the Pittsburg Times, you find all the news of the world in such form that the busiest man can keep fully informed concerning the events of the day. The space thus saved is filled with so many bright special features that it is no wonder the Times is now the most popular family newspaper in Pennsylvania. If you are not now a reader, subscribe at once. The cost is only one cent a day; sample copies free.

The bill that has been presented in the Legislature to provide revenue by taxation and to secure greater uniformity of taxation and to provide for the payment to counties and local sub-divisions of certain taxes heretofore paid to the State, and for the payment to local sub-divisions of certain taxes heretofore paid to the counties, and to provide more effectual means for the collection of State, county and local taxes, &c., &c., makes a provision for a taxation on insurance companies, building and loan associations, and various other things Section 14, with reference to building and loan associations reads thus: "Every building and loan association or company doing business within this Commonwealth shall be subject to and pay into the Treasury of the Commonwealth annually on or before the first day of July in each year a tax at the rate of one mill upon each dollar of value of the shares of its capital stock held or owned within this Commonwealth as determined in accordance with the tenth section of this act and it shall be the duty of the treasurer or other officer having charge of any such company upon which a tax is imposed by this act to transmit the amount of such tax to the Treasmry of the Commonwealth Rathmel. P. R. R. Tours to "The Golden Gate."

Apart from the rare pleasure of visiting new places and witnessing novel scenes, the Pennsylvania Railroad Commany's tours to California will prove better educators than any number of lectures or books on travel. The immense scope of territory traversed will expand the ideas of all tourists, indelibly impress upon their minds enlarged views of this mighty Union and its vast posessions, and they will return to their homes prouder than ever of the great land whose borders are protected by the stars and stripes.

These tours have been arranged under the company's renowned personallyconducted tourist system, and magnificent Pullman trains will leave New York and Philadelphia on February 20 and March 20, 1895.

Detailed itinerary will be sent on application to Tourist Agent, 1196 Broad way, New York, or Room 411, Broad Street Station, Philadelphia.

The following gem, which has been going the rounds of the press without credit, should be cut out by every man and carried in his pocket as a reminder of his duty, when he desires to speak ill of any woman: "Remember this, young men-Bc careful how you speak of a woman's character. Think how many years she has been building it, of the toils and privations endured, of the wounds received, and let no suspicion follow her actions. The purity of women is the salvation of the race, the hope of future greatness, the redemption of man. Wipe out her purity and man sinks beneath the wave of dispair, with not a star to guide his life into a channel of safety. Think, then, before you speak, and remember that any hog can root up the fairest flower that ever grew, so the vilest man may ruin the purest woman's character.'
