WESTERN MINE EXPLOSION

SIXTY MEN KILLED.

Most Terrible Mine Disaster in the History of the West.

The details of the explosion at the Bocky Mountain Coal and Iron Company's mine, No 5, five miles north of Evanston, Wy., at Red Canon, mark it as one of the most horrible in the history of coal mining in the West.

There are forty men lying dead at the bettom of the mine at this writing, covered with tom of the mine at this writing, covered with debris. As many as can are working to re-cover their bodies. The bodies of nineteen have been recovered. Fifty of the dead men were married and nine single. There are fifty widows and 230 orphaned children as a result of the disaster. About thirty of the men killed belonged to the Ancient Order of United Workneen. In which scients thay were immed for $20,000 which society they were insured for $2,000 speed to uncover the dead. There is no fire in the mine. The slopes and entrances to the lower workings are all blockaded by wreckage, and it is thought at least three days will be re-quired for rescue parties to reach the bodies. The explosion in the mine shocked the whole country round, wrecked the power plant, a fan-house and several other build-ings, entailing heavy loss, but the death roll far overshadows other consideration . Around the mine is a population of about 2,000. Many families are bereft of their fathers or sons. A more serrowful com-munity could not be found. Scores of children and women are mourning the loss of husband, father and brother. The explosion is described by many as most terrific, shaking the whole town and causing women and children to run into the streets crying: "Oh, my husband?" "Oh, my papa" with raised hands, imploring for the safety of the beloved ones.

ANOTHER CASHIER MISSING. Handled Both Money and Books, and Stealing Was Easy.

Christopher W. Larrabee, cashier and head accountant for Boyd, Stickney & Co., wholesale coal dealers, at 175 Dearborn street, Chicago, and a nephew of ex-Governor Lar-Chicago, and a nephew of ex-Governor Lar-rabee, of Iowa, is missing, and his accounts are short. Experts are at work on his books and untii they linish the amount of the short-age cannot be known, but it is thought it will not exceed $10,000. The American Sursty company, which is on his bond for $8,000, has detectives looking for him, but nothing has been heard of his whereabouts since he disappeared, last Wednesday. Young Larrabee had been with the firm for eight years, and was highly trusted by his em-ployers. As he was at the same time cashier and nead bookkeeper, it was comparatively easy for him to conceal his defaleations, the more so as no examination of his accounts has more so as no examination of his accounts has been made since he assumed his duties.

INCOME TAX RETURNS

Coming in Rapidly and Said to Exceed Expectations.

A large number of income tax returns are being received at the internal revenue bureau by every mail and the work of examining, extending and filing them is well in hand, extending and filing them is well in hand, and is going forward without any hitch. Nearly all of the collectors throughout the country have made their February reports. They show a very satisfactory acquiescence on the part of income taxpayers in all of the regulations governing the collection of the tax. The office force connected with this branch of the service is being augumented as rapidly as needed by transfer of capable elerks from other bureaus, and altogether the work is stated to be in an eminently satis-inctory condition. The utmost secrety as to the work is such to be in an entry which inctory condition. The utmost secrecy as to the amount and character of the returns is being observed, but it is believed that the receipts so far are beyond the expectations of the officials.

at Fittsburg Monday. The objects of the association are to con-trol prices and regulate the production, to settle the wage question with the workers, to shat out foreign competition and to get the business on a paying basis. Hereafter the trade will be controlled by the new organization, which will also ar-range the wage scales with the Window Glass Workers' association, and the other employes of window-glass houses. The manufacturers say the present organ-ization is not a trust or pool, but admit this is the first step in that direction. They wanted to have the interests more closely alided and the hatchet buries before that step was undertaken, and it is thought after the present organization has been in successful existence for about a year or two, it will be possible to form a trust on a more 'equitable basis. Ali the manufacturers agree a trust could not be formed with justice to all cou-cerned at the present time. According to the roll-call 1,400 window-glass pots, representing the interests of the three districts indicated by the cardinal points, were represented. Almost every manufacturer was present in person. A few sent leiters, but they were not counted in the 1,400 pots.

GREAT SLAUGHTER.

More Than One Thousand Dead Bodies Lying in the Streets of Lima, Peru.

A dispatch has been received by Secretary Gresham from Minister McKenzie, in Peru, in reference to the recent revolution there. According to Mr. McKenzie there was bitter and sustained fighting in and around Lima for three days. At the end of this time there were more than 1,000 dead bodies lying unwere more than 1,000 dead bodies lying un-buried in the streets, and both sides were ex-hanated. An Armistice was agreed upon to permit to dead to be buried and the wounded cared for. After this was finished negotia-tions were still continued, and finally an agreement of some ort was reached by the leaders of the contending factions, but the de-tails of this were not learned by the minister, Some sort of a provisional government now seems to be in control. A dispatch to the London "Times" from Lina, Peru, says that the loss in killed and wounded on both sides in the lighting about the capital, was 2,000. No foreigners were wounded on both sides in the lighting about the capital, was 2,000. No foreigners were killed. The city is now quiet. The dispatch adds that General Pierola, the commander of the insurgents, entered the city with 2,000 men at dawn Sunday. The government forces made a brave defense, and street fighting continued until early Tuesday morning, when the diplomats arranged a truce that was to be in force until 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. This truce was ar-ranged to allow both sides to bury their dead. It has now been arranged that General Caseres and his forces, as well as General Pierola, shall retire from the city.

He is the vicercy of the province of Chi-Li, but really premiter of the empire because the ablest man in the govern-ment. He is reported to be the wealthiest man in Chia, with the exception of the emper-or. He is even said to be worth $150,000,000, invested in lands and buildings in the treaty ports and in commercial ventures; but all estimates of bis wealth are simply conjecture. He reached his eminence by sharing the glory of General Gordon's warfare against the Tai-Ping revels, having assumed at the outset that Gordon would be successful. Both Gordon and himself were decorated with the yellow riding jacket and the three-eyed pea-cock's feather, the highest decorations in the emperor's glit. They are only worn at court, on the field and during official journeys. At the outbreak of this war Li Hung Chang's enemies charged him with treason—in having maintained friendly relations with the Japan-ese, particularly with Count Ito, who is now chief envoy of the Japanese government in the peace negotiations.

the notorious Mexican revolutionist and out-iaw, who for a long time operated on the northern border of Mexico along the Bio Grande. The minister said that Garza, for some time past, had been residing in Costa Rica, but recently left Port Limon for san Juan del Norte, Nicaragua. At that place he gathered around him some thir-ly men, chiefly Colombian exiles' and se-bared money and a quantity of arms. A unall sailing craft was chartered and the party embarked March 2, landing the fol-lowing day at Cohuita, C. R., thirty-flyce miles south of Port Limon. Here Gatza sook quarters with an American named Rey-nolds and awasted the expected arrival of the solds and awaited the expected arrival of the Columbian exiles from the interior. In this, however, he was disappointed, as his govern-neat immediately stopped communication with Port Cohuita and dispatched a body of oldiers by land to capture the revolutionists, the minister of war himself going as far the minister of war himself going as far as Limon. On March 8, Garza received warning of the approach of Costa Rican troops and with sixty followers, embarked in two small craft for Bocas dei Toro, Colombia. Upon arriy-ing at that point the party at once attacked the barracks, but were defeated. Garza and sloven followers, including Dr. Pereira Cas-tro, second in command, and Gen. Moroira, were killed, the remainder of the party being taken prisoners by the Columian authori-ties.

Pittisutus, Pa.—But for the coal miners strike the condition of the working classes in this city and throughout the State could be termed as most satisfictory as compared with a year ago. There are perhaps fewer men-idle now than at any time during the past eighteen months, apart from the miners, and it is now believed that in a very short time more of them will be at work than before the beginning of the strike. Improvement is noticeable in almost every line, and all per-sons, both employers and employes, feel en-couraged and hopeful of the luture. ### ELECTRIC CALLS.

Congressmen Won't Have to Clap Their Hands Now.

One item of legislation quite escaped attention in the hustle and excitement incident to the closing scenes of congress. It is a provision appropriating $1,000 to introduce an vision appropriating €1,000 to infroduce an electric call system in the house. Ever since congress has been in existence the members have called the pages by lightly clapping their hands together. Members are always calling the pages and this light clap-ping of hands goes on whether anybody is speaking or not, but the old system is gener-ally most in evidence when a member is ad-dressing the house. This will be done away with at the instance of Congressman Cannon, with at the instance of Congressman Cannon of Illinois, of Illinois. When the Fifty-fourth congress meets every member will find a button at his desk which will insure the coming of a page. An electric wire will be connected with the call-board similar to those used in hotels. When a member wants a page he presses the button, an indicator tumbles down, showing the number of the congressman's desk and the waiting page darts off to answer the sum-mons.

Congress will hereafter no longer waste the people's time by using it for the readi-tion of eulogies, so-called, of dead Con-gressmen who may and may not of been worthy. Senator Manderson secured the adoption the other day of a resolution sgainst this foolish custom.
