

Weak Nerves

Indicate as surely as any physical symptom shows anything, that the organs and tissues of the body are not satisfied with their nourishment.

They draw their sustenance from the blood, and if the blood is thin, impure or insufficient, they are in a state of revolt. Their complaints are made to the brain, the king of the body, through the nervous system, and the result of the general dissatisfaction is what we call Nervousness.

This is a concise, reasonable explanation of the whole matter.

The cure for Nervousness, then, is simple. Purify and enrich your blood by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and the nerves, tissues and organs will have the healthful nourishment they crave. Nervousness and Weakness will then give way to strength and health.

That this is not theory but fact is proven by the voluntary statements of thousands cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Read the next column.

FROM THE MONGOLIAN WAR

PEACE FOR A TIME

The Emperor of Japan Orders an Unconditional Armistice With China.

A cablegram has been received at the Japanese legation at Washington stating that an unconditional armistice with China had been declared by the Emperor of Japan.

China made the offer of the armistice, and the peace plenipotentiary of Japan was empowered by the Emperor to accept it without condition. This was done in view of the "unexpected event" that happened, viz., the attempted assassination of Li Hung Chang.

The armistice, Minister Kurino, of the Japanese legation, said, will be effective until the peace negotiations are concluded. After a meeting of the peace ambassadors had been decided on, China requested the declaration of an armistice, but this request had not been acted upon favorably by Japan.

His government, Minister Kurino said, had not been inclined to stop warlike operations, except on certain conditions. These conditions are not known, but it is suggested that probably the occupation of Taku might have been one, Japan wishing something as a guarantee of the willingness and earnestness of the Chinese for an amicable settlement of the war.

China evidently could not arrive at a conclusion to agree to the stipulations demanded by Japan, and the attempt on the life of the Chinese peace ambassador solved the problem for the time being, and hostilities will be suspended. There will be no withdrawal of the Japanese troops from Chinese territory, however.

Koyama Rokuzo, the young Japanese who attempted to assassinate Li Hung Chang has been sentenced to penal servitude for life.

The armistice established by order of the Mikado extends to April 20, but it will be terminated if the peace conferences are broken in the meantime. According to the terms of the armistice the movement of troops and transportation of contraband of war by sea are forbidden. The new distribution of troops, not intended to augment the armies in the field, is allowed.

The presence of the detectives evidently frustrated their plans. Officials of the road had been notified for some time of a plan to rob the train, and the officers were in readiness. Algood being pressed into service as an extra baggage man, the dead brigands were left lying on the track while the officers got off and gave chase to the fugitives.

Two of the attacking party escaped, one being the man guarding the engineer.

TWO BANDITS DEAD.

Two robbers dead and a third mortally wounded are the results of an attempt to hold up the southbound passenger, No. 3, on the Cincinnati Southern road Wednesday morning.

The train had just emerged from tunnel No. 9, two miles north of Greenwood, Ky., when a white lantern swinging in the middle of the track just ahead brought the train to a stop. A tall, long, leonard countryman, perhaps 45 years old, mounted the steps of the engine, and thrusting the barrel of a pistol into the face of Engineer Tom Springfield ordered him to stop the train.

While Fireman Rankin, who was next to the outlay, observed a discreet silence.

Three other men, wearing broad-brimmed slouch hats and home-made clothes, climbed into the baggage car, which they evidently mistook for the express car. J. Donovan, baggage master, was not disturbed. Three road detectives, Thomas Griffin, chief detective from Somerset, Will Eddie, of Oakdale, Tenn., and Will Algood, of Chattanooga, were on the train.

The train stopped. Algood stepped out on the right side to see what was going on. As he stepped down he was ordered to throw up his hands by a man who had a revolver, but instead he pulled his own revolver and began firing.

The other two robbers took flight at the shooting and jumping from the baggage car began a fusillade. Eddie and Griffin had appeared on the scene and it is believed they brought down two of the robbers, one of whom died instantly, while the other lived till 4 o'clock. A third man was wounded in the breast, perhaps fatally. He clambered upon the tender and refused to budge till the robbers had been reached. There he was given in charge of the operator.

A YOUNG GIRL'S TRIALS.

NERVOUS TROUBLES END IN ST. VITUS' DANCE.

Physicians Powerless—The Story Told by the Child's Mother.

(From the Reporter, Somerset, Ky.) Among the foot hills of the Cumberland Mountains, near the town of Flat Rock, is the happy home of James McPherson. Four months ago the daughter of the family, a happy girl of sixteen, was stricken with St. Vitus' dance.

The leading physicians were consulted, but without avail. She grew pale and thin under the terrible nervous strain and this was fast losing her mental powers. In fact the thought of placing her in an asylum was seriously considered. Her case has been so widely talked about that the report of her cure was like modernizing a miracle of old.

To a reporter who visited the home the mother said:

"Yes, the reports of my daughter's sickness and cure are true as you hear them. Her affliction grew into St. Vitus' dance from an aggravated form of weakness and nervous trouble peculiar to her sex. Every source of help was followed to the end, but it seemed that physicians and medicine were powerless. Day by day she grew weaker until we despaired of her life. At times she almost went into convulsions. She got so that we had to watch her to keep her from wandering away, and you can imagine the care she was.

"About this time, when our misery was greatest and all hope had fled, I read of another case, almost similar, that had been cured by a medicine known as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Almost in desperation I secured some of the pills and from that day on the wonderful work of restoration commenced; the nervousness left, her cheeks grew bright with the color of health, she gained flesh and grew strong both mentally and physically until to-day she is the very picture of good health and happiness.

"It is no wonder that I speak in glowing terms of Pink Pills to every ailing person I meet. They saved my daughter's life and I am grateful."

The foregoing is but one of many wonderful cures that have been credited to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. In many cases the reported cures have been investigated by the leading newspapers and verified in every possible manner. Their fame has spread to the far ends of civilization and there is hardly a drug store in this country or abroad where they cannot be found.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are now given to the public as an unfailing blood builder and nerve restorer, curing all forms of weakness arising from a watery condition of the blood or shattered nerves. The pills are sold by all dealers, or will be sent post paid on receipt of price (50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50—they are never sold in bulk or by the 100) by addressing Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.
