"A red rose, drooping to the ground,
 With delicate beauty flushed,
 By a careless foot, at evening,
 Was trampled on and crushed.
 Christlike, the injured flower returned
 No thorn-prick for the blow;
 But gave instead a sweet perfume
 To him who laid it low."

Yesterday was the thirtieth anniversary of General Lee's surrender to General Grant.

The DuBois Courier has been giving the bourgeois of that hamlet mention the past week that is anything but complimentary to that official.

A bill has passed the house at Harrisburg prohibiting the killing of wild deer in the State for a period of five years, and making it a misdemeanor to transport, sell or have in possession during that period.

The Pennsylvania State Editorial Association will convene in adjourned session in Harrisburg Tuesday, April 23rd. An attempt is being made to get all the live and active editors or publishers of the state to join the Association. Applications for membership, endorsed by one or two members of the association, and the $1.00 initiation fee should be sent to the secretary, R. H. Thomas, at Mechanicsburg, Pa., before April 20th.

It is amusing to observe the different changes in fashion or what is called style in these later days; the different fads in dress and millinery are enough to set the average woman in this fashionable world in a continual whirl. In our grandfather's days women dressed tastefully, neatly and plainly, and were as much admired and thought of as the gayly bedecked butterflies of fashion of the present. In former times from eight to ten yards of material were amply sufficient to dress the average woman neatly, but now it requires that amount for the sleeves of the stylish costume, with an extra twelve or fourteen yards for flounces, furbelows, &c., and with all this conglomeration of material surrounding them, they flounce up and down the avenues like a full rigged clipper ship, to be admired by the devotees of "Fashion," and as the poor husband fishes about in his pocket-book and takes therefrom the solitary nickel left after gorgeously bedecking wife or daughter, he realizes the truth of the old saying "That man was made to mourn."

Hon. James G. Mitchell, of this county, has introduced a bill in the Legislature granting a pension to an officer, soldier, sailor or marine who enlisted from and was credited to this State between the fourteenth day of April, 1861, and the first day of May, 1865, and whose services between said dates was at least ninety days in the volunteer or regular army or navy of the United States. Such claimant to be a resident within this Commonwealth at the passage of this act, providing that no charge of desertion remains uncancelled against him and that he is not a pensioner nor an applicant under the United States Statutes. The rate of such pension to be a monthly allowance of one cent per day for each day's actual service between enlistment and discharge, provided that proof of an honorable discharge from each enlistment shall be exacted in every case. Auditor General shall require proof that the claimant is free from intemperate habits. Payments to be made semi-annually in such manner as the Auditor General shall deem best. Payments of pensions shall cease on a removal of the claimant beyond the jurisdiction of this State or when he shall be pensioned by the United States.

On the 14th inst., the day the Bank of DuBois suspended, the Express said: "If the creditors take matters coolly and give the directors a reasonable time to collect their loans the Express has every reason to believe they will receive every cent they have deposited." At that time the individually liable stock holders were able to pay $5.00 on every $1.00 deposited. The stockholders were willing as well as able to assume their individual responsibility. On the 15th or 16th there would have been little difficulty in getting them to sign a trust judgment that would have been worth something and would have protected every creditor. But the opportunity was lost. An investigation of the bank was commenced and so many shady transactions and so much infernal rottenness was discovered that the stockholders got scared. Financial ruin began to stare them in the face and all except one commenced to secure or transfer property. The amount the depositors will now get depends upon the manner the stockholders meet their honest obligations, the way the receiver handles the business entrusted to him, and the results of the legal proceedings already taken or to be instituted.—DuBois Express, March 29th.

Provides a Loafing Place
 J. G. Allen & Son, the Allen's Mills merchants, have introduced an innovation, for a country store, at least. And that is a smoking and loafing place for the male population of that community. Every country store is the meeting place of the whole neighborhood, and oft-times the good nature of the storekeeper is severely taxed. The Allen's Mills store has a business which many a town store might envy, and consequently has no room for loungers. So separate accommodations has been provided for them. The new department is termed "the reading room."—Brockwayville Record.

Astronomers say that on Good Friday next, April, 12, the heavenly bodies which gravitate around the sun will be in exactly the same position they occupied in the firmament when Christ died on the cross. It will be the first time such a thing has occurred since that great day, 1,862 years ago. That was the 33d year of the Christian era, which dates from the birth of Jesus Christ. At 11:20 p. m., April 11, the moon will pass before Virginia (Spica) and hide that constellation for over an hour.

Our line of dimities is of excellent quality and style. See them April 12 and 13. Deemer & Co.
