Four persons were poisoned at West Liberty, four miles out from DuBois, last Friday by eating a poisonous herb they found in the garden and thought it was burdock. Two of them came very nearly "shuffling off."

Prof. Lex N. Mitchell's normal school in West Reynoldsville is better attended than was expected by Prof. There are about seventy-five students in the school, four or five of whom have teacher's certificates. Most all the higher branches are taught.

A special meeting of the town council was held in the council chambers Friday evening. The only business transacted by council was to exonerate Tax Collector Jos. R. Pentz from a list of uncollectable taxes which was on the duplicate in his possession.

Some Brookville lads who were fishing in the creek at that place last week, found the body of an immature girl baby. While examining the body a woman made her appearance and advised the boys to consign it to the water again, which they did do. A remarkable find and remarkable advice for a woman to give. This is not the first time such a find has been made in the creek at Brookville.

The Kittanning Times is "kicking" on the rates over the A. V. Ry between Kittanning and Pittsburg, and want a reduction to two cents a mile. Just why the citizens of Kittanning are any more entitled to a 2-cent rate than the citizens of Reynoldsville are, we fail to see. If a 2-cent rate is given at Kittanning do likewise here. The Times wants the company to dispense with the round trip tickets.

Notwithstanding the fact that on Monday morning, first day of the trout season, a chilly breeze was blowing and flakes of the "beautiful" were plainly visible, Ed. Gooder, jeweler, and R. J. Thomas, tonsorial artist, two nimrods of this town, hid themselves to a rippling stream that runs hard by Hancock to entice the speckled trout to bite their "flies." Ed. and "Bobby" shivered along the stream until they succeeded in getting twenty-one "beauties" in their baskets and then they returned home.

Capital Idea.

A. B. Weed thinks it would be a capital thing to have an electric bell on church collection baskets and when people get interested in the choir and do not drop a contribution in the basket the collector should touch the button and ring the bell. It would either increase the collections of the church that would put the bells in use or decrease the congregation. Too many people take advantage of churches because they believe salvation is free. True it is, but it requires hard cash to keep a church and preacher in good condition.

A Peculiar Death.

Charles Trainer, twelve-year-old son of Patrick Trainer, of Worth street, met with an accident Thursday which resulted in his death on Friday. Young Trainer was playing with some other boys in Solomon Shaffer's lumber yard at the foot of Fourth street and he ran around one board pile into another which he did not know was there. The sharp end of a board struck him above the left eye and another one cut his lower lip. The boy walked home after the accident occurred, but died as stated above, from the effects of the injury received. His remains were buried in the Catholic cemetery.

Will be Enforced.

We have been instructed by Burgess Lattimer to notify the citizens of this borough that Sec. 2 of ordinance No. 16, "To prevent animals, &c., from running at large in the borough," will be enforced. The section is as follows: "No person or persons shall wilfully permit his, her or their cow or cows to go or be at large within the limits of said borough between the hours of nine o'clock P. M. and five o'clock A. M., and if any person or persons permit said cow or cows to remain at large between the said hours he, she or they shall be subject to a fine of not less than one nor more than three dollars, to be collected as provided in the first section of this ordinance."

Miners Meeting.

The miners of this place held a meeting in Centennial hall Tuesday evening of last week, as stated in this paper, and appointed a committee to request the company to give the advance of five cents per ton on and after April 16th. A meeting was held in Centennial hall Saturday afternoon to hear the company's answer to the committee. The committee reported that Mr. Elliott, manager of the company, said "No," most emphatically. He also added that they had the company's proposition which they could accept or reject, just as they pleased. At the meeting Saturday the miners decided to let the matter rest until the convention, which will be held at DuBois on Friday of this week.

Board of Trade.

A special meeting of the Board of Trade was held in the Flynn hall Monday evening to consider some propositions for inducing industries to locate in Reynoldsville. A gentleman from Mahaffey was present and wanted $3,500 and one acre of ground to locate an industry here that would employ 25 men. He proposes to manufacture saw sets, combined screw driver and gimlet, self supporting hinges, door locks, &c. A communication from B. J. McFreeley, of Spangler, Pa., was read. That gentleman wants to locate an industry in Reynoldsville that will employ 200 men, boys and girls and will have an average pay roll of $450.00 a day. He did not make a proposition and the secretary was instructed to communicate with him.

The secretary was instructed to write to the Allegheny parties who want to locate a plant here to manufacture plumbers' supplies.

The secretary was instructed to notify Clark Bros., of Big Run, that $685.00 has been raised to purchase a location for them.

Watson's Hallucination.

Chas. F. Watson, the cigar maker and cornetist in the Keystone band, was not only the victim of an hallucination last Friday night, but he got Postmaster McGaw and several other citizens excited over what he thought was an attempt to break open the safe in the postoffice and abscond with the contents thereof. About the time ghosts stalk abroad Charles was meandering down Main street meditating on Cupid's pranks, and when he got in front of the bank of Seeley, Alexander & Co., he was quickly brought from the realms of "confectionery" things to think that bold, bad men were breaking the safe open in the postoffice. As soon as he could swallow the lump in his throat, he stepped off the sidewalk onto the plank street and stealthily hastened down town to get some help to capture the robbers. Several citizens were aroused and Postmaster McGaw was also called out of his warm bed, reluctantly, to save Uncle Sam's property. McGaw was the first one to arrive at the postoffice but he did not succeed in getting the front door unlocked until some of the other well armed citizens got there. It was then discovered that it was all caused by the steam heat toying with the radiator in the postoffice. The postoffice, like THE STAR office, is supposed to be heated with steam heat, and when water gets into the radiator it makes a noise which sounds like some one pounding or cutting iron with a chisel.

Married To-day.

Rev. G. S. Womer, who took one year's course at the Dickinson College at Williamsport, graduated from the University at Delaware, Ohio, and who has been attending a Theological Seminary at Boston, Mass., for one year, graduates from single-blessedness this 17th day of April, 1895, and enters the matrimonial school. He pays his first tuition in this school to a Methodist minister at Provincetown, Mass., the home of Miss Angie F. Blake, the young lady who to-day joins hands with Rev. Womer as a helpmate in life's conflicts. The happy couple will live in Boston, where Mr. Womer is filling a Methodist pulpit and will take another year's course in the Theological Seminary. Rev. G. S. Womer, who is familiarly known in Reynoldsville as Sylvester, who was one of the ertswahle boys of this city, has succeeded nobly so far in climbing the ladder that leads to success not only for time, but for the after life. He has proven himself to be a son that our townsman, D. R. P. Womer, has great reasons to be proud of. As to the young lady whom Rev. Womer has chosen for a wife, we only have his word for it that she is the "best woman on earth to-day," but as we have no reason to doubt his truthfulness, and judging from his sound judgment in the past, we believe he has made a wise choice in selecting the young lady from the Bay State.

THE STAR joins with Rev. Womer's host of Reynoldsville friends in wishing he and his bride unbounded and unlimited success as they sail o'er life's tempestuous sea together.

Mrs. J. W. Fink Dead.

Mrs. Julianna Fink, wife of John W. Fink, of Pleasant Avenue, died at ten o'clock yesterday morning, April 16th, after an illness of over two weeks. First it was rheumatism, then "grip," then symptoms of several other diseases made their appearance and finally heart trouble severed the silken thread of life. Last Thursday afternoon she became dangerously ill and from that time on she hovered between life and death. The family were expecting every minute that the Death Messenger would come.

Miss Julianna Cornmesser was married to John W. Fink at Bellwood, Blair county, July 18th, 1863. Unto them ten children were born, four of whom preceded their mother through the "Valley and Shadows" to the bright eternal shores. The husband and six children, Mrs. Richard Ramsey, Mrs. Jos. M. Cathers, Miss Lulu, Ford, Earl and Johnnie survive the deceased. Johnnie, the youngest, will be ten years old in June. Mrs. Fink was 50 years, 6 months and 16 days old. She joined the M. E. church four years ago last winter. Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon and the interment will take place in Beulah cemetery. The deceased was an affectionate wife, a gentle and loving mother and kind neighbor. She will be sadly missed in the home now left with a mother's vacant chair.

Big Timber Sale.

Dr. W. B. Alexander and L. P. Seeley, of the Seeley, Alexander & Co. bank, of this place, and Degnan & McDonald, also of Reynoldsville, have closed a deal with Heidrick, Osburn, Coleman & Co. for the hemlock off the tract of land up the North Fork owned by the Reynoldsville parties for the consideration of $60,000. They also sold the bark to Wilson Kistler, of Lock Haven, for $40,000, making the sale amount to $100,000. The sale of timber depended on the branch road being built from the A. V. Ry to Heidrick, Osburn, Coleman & Co.'s mill at Brookville. This is evidence that the branch is an assured thing. It will not only be a great benefit to the Brookville people, but will be a great convenience to the traveling public, as it is expected that Low Grade passenger trains will run into Brookville.

Give us a Town Clock.

A town clock would not only show that we are a progressive people and keeping up with the times, but it would be a great convenience to the people of Reynoldsville. While the school directors are planning for the new school house, that will certainly be a credit to our thriving young city, why not make calculations on putting a town clock in the tower, and thus lead the van in modern improvements. Most all towns of any consequence can boast of a town clock, but few have them on school houses, and for the extra cost that would be incurred thereby, Reynoldsville can afford to put a clock on the new school house. We believe if it was submitted to the people they would vote for a town clock. The directors are not considering the clock question yet, but we hope they will do so and put the finishing touch on the new school house by putting a clock in the tower thereof. All the citizens of this town who are interested in the scheme should make it a point to express their opinion of it in the presence of our school directors and try to induce them to put the clock in. After the clock would be in a short time the people would just about as soon give up the new school house as to do without the clock. Then it gives the town some prominence to speak of the town clock. The newspapers could say such and such a thing happened as the town clock struck ten, or whatever time it might be. A town clock would increase the value of property in Reynoldsville.

Easter in the Churches.

The auditorium of the Methodist Episcopal church was handsomely decorated for a special Easter service which was given in the church at 11:00 A. M. Sunday by scholars of the M. E. Sunday school. All who were on the program done exceedingly well. The cutest thing on the program was the song by little Eugene King, three-year-old son of Wm. M. King. The church was crowded, a number of persons were compelled to stand during the entire services.

The usual Easter services were held in the Catholic church Sunday with the exception of an orchestra. For years an orchestra has prepared special music for the Easter occasion in the church at this place until this time. The church was handsomely and profusely decorated with potted plants and cut flowers. The services were well attended.

The union prayer meeting held in the Presbyterian church at seven o'clock Easter morning by the Presbyterian and Baptist Endeavor Societies and the Epworth League was largely attended by the young people of the societies and was a very interesting meeting.

The Lutheran church was beautified with potted plants and evergreen for Easter and special Easter services were conducted by Rev. Metzenthin. Appropriate sermons for Easter were delivered in the Baptist and Presbyterian churches Sunday.
