Consul Doty's Kanaka Wife.

The telegraph brought the news a few days ago that J. Lamb Doty, Amer-Ican Consul to the Society Islands, bad married a native, a half caste, and had set up housekeeping. It seems that the girl bears the name Mueva Turnero Raurl, and she is said to have brought a neat dowry to her husband. She is only 16, and Doty first met her a few months ago on the beach of a neighboring island, where she was trying to bring to shore her capsized cance. Young Doty induced her to elope to another island, where he married her according to the simple native formula, which merely requires that the contracting parties eat together and make a number of pledges. No wedding ring is required, no cake, no clergyman's fees, and no license. When Doty returned to Tahiti with his bride, he rented a house, and the pair are now living in South Sea Island style, with a good stock of cocoanuts and tare root. The girl's guardian appeared soon after they set up housekeeping and wanted to take her back to his house, but Doty showed him this would be unwise and be consented to let her remain. Young Doty was not of age when Cleveland appointed him Consul at Tabiti nine years ago. Since then he has been a South Sea masher, for he has been engaged to two island princesses, but in each case the relatives prevented marriage. Doty is well known in Washington, where he has influential relatives. His mother has a close friend in Ambassador Bayard, and his brother is an Episcopalian clergyman in Washington. He was a bright boy, who first started as a page in the House, but since he has been in the south seas he has developed many eccentricities.

The Food Cure.

To the many who abhor the taking of bitter drugs, the food cure opens an alluring prospect. This is positively the latest idea, introduced into England by physicians of advanced ideas. They claim that certain foods contain all the elements necessary to effect cures; that they have made up a list which embraces tonics, febrifuges, diureties, and, in fact, every medicinal agent that is defined in the pharmacopla. These foods are of the simplest character, but the English doctors do not disclose them, except to their patients. They say that in the course of ten years there will not be one-third the medicine used

MORE ADVANCES.

A Steady Movement Toward Better Times-Labor Notes.

Again the largely increased number of wage advances has been the feature most prominent in the week's history of matters industrial. It is conservatively estimated, based upon what figures and facts are obtainable that not less than 60,000 working people in the United States are to-day repeople in the United States are to-day re-seiving greater compensation for their labor than they received ten days age, and by a little figuring it might be ascertained what a great amount of good has thus been done. With the wages of the working people of the country nearing the standard of three years age, the volume of money in circulation is, as a natural consequence, greatly augmented, and the business channels in every direction are thereby being opened up, many of which have been almost entirely blocked for sev-eral meaths. Crop prospects brighten with sral menths. Crop prospects brighten with each succeeding report, and the feeling of hopefuness and confidence becomes more general and stancher every day.

wage scale at Youngstown on a $4 a ton basis for puddling, was accomplished with less trouble than had been anticipated, and as it stands means that the wages of from workers will be generally advanced.

The settlement holds good in all the mills now under the jurisdiction of the Amalgamated Association, and the scale as signed will be in effect in all of them. The scale is based on a bar from card rate of 11-10 cents per pound, and for every advance of 11-10 cents in price of bar from the workers will receive ten cents additional per ton. As from is now quoted at 1.15 and 1.2 cents per pound, it virtually means that the workers will receive $4.25 a ton for puddling. The scale is aimost universally satisfactory to the members of the association. Orders are plentiful in all mills, and a long and prosperous season for both the manutacturers and the workmen seem assured to the end of the year.

No radical changes have been made, and the scale is now arranged for the coming year, and will go into effect August 1, at which time the present agreement expires. Under the present scale either side could abrogate it by giving notice sixty days in advance. The clause has been eliminated from the new scale, having proven unsatisfactory to both sides during the past year. President
