The railroads are running cheap excursions this season.

This is the season of the year when our business men should make good use of printers ink.

It takes four hundred millions to run the jails and only fifty millions to run the churches in this country.

The Clearfield Spirit, a Democrat paper, contained sixteen editorials last week touching on the Hastings-Quay battle now on.

The Pennsylvania R. R. has ordered one hundred new freight engines. This looks very much as if the company expects business to be on the increase.

By a new law passed at the last session of the legislature judges and inspectors of election will hereafter receive $3.50 for election, and clerks will be paid $3.00. The new law was enacted with the view of settling all disputes as to what was meant by $1.50 per day, as the old law read.

There are a great many people in Reynoldsville who say they are on the side for temperance and yet they never attend a temperance meeting, nor show signs in any other way of being what they profess, temperance people. It is all talk with them, and talk don't count for much unless it is backed by actions of some kind.

An alarmed exchange, gazing into the future, almost frantically remarks: "When the breezy bloomers are the universal go, how will tailors press the creases into them, I'd like to know? When the baby's head is nodding and it wants to take a nap, how can mamma lull her darling in a bifurcated lap? When chickens go a grubbing in the garden in the spring, how can Bridget 'sho, the chickens with no skirts to flop and fling?"

Why were strawberries so-called? Why were they not called grass berries or red berries? They are in no way suggestive of straw. Well, then, this is the reason: Strawberries were called strawberries because in ancient times the rusties were wont to bring them to market strung upon straws. As they are now brought to market in boxes, they might more appropriately be called box-berries, but perhaps we had better let it go as it is.—Punxsutawney Spirit.

As the result of a careful examination of the compulsory education law, Attorney General McCormick has given the School Department an opinion under which the law will not go into force until next year. The law says that assessors must make a registry of the children at the spring assessment, but the assessment in the spring of 1895 had been completed before the law was passed, therefore the assessment will not be made until next spring, and the law not go into force until the fall of 1896.

At the last session of the Legislature an amendment was passed on the marriage license law, which was signed by the Governor on June 18th. The amendment makes a marriage license now good in any county in the State, instead of simply in the county of issue. The party performing the ceremony must make the return to the office who issued the license. It would be well for clergymen and others authorized by law to perform marriages to make a note of the above fact, as there is a heavy fine for a failure to properly report within thirty days all marriages performed. The act went into effect at once. In all other respects the law remains as it was.

An act of the last Legislature, which is of interest to constables, provides that on the third Tuesday of February, 1896, and triennially thereafter, the electors of every township and borough and, where the boroughs are divided into wards, of every ward, shall vote for and elect a properly qualified person for high constable in each of the said districts, and a properly qualified person for high constable in each of the said boroughs, and the persons so elected shall serve for three years. The constables all over the State were elected for three years last February. Previous legislation had done away with the high constables. Now the constables will, apparently, have to run again for their offices next February.—Ex.

For the N. G. P. Encampment.
 General Superintendent David McCargo and General Passenger Agent James P. Anderson, of the Allegheny Valley railroad, after a month of hard work, can rest a little upon their oars, feeling that Glencairn is about ready for the annual encampment of the Second brigade, National Guard of Pennsylvania, which opens August 3. With the traffic department of the road they have also concluded all arrangements preparatory to transporting the guard and visitors to the camping grounds.

Since it was decided that the guard would camp at Glencairn, the Allegheny Valley officials have had their hands full. The grounds which were originally pretty, have been improved to such an extent that they would scarcely be recognized. A siding has been constructed through them, water piped from the Freeport water works and gas turned into the parts where it will be needed. The floors for the tents are all laid and in fact everything is now in readiness for the opening.

The encampment will open on Saturday and on Sunday guard officers estimate that there will be about 30,000 visitors to see the state defenders. The Allegheny Valley has arranged to run 14 trains daily between Pittsburgh and Glencairn during the encampment, and on Sundays as many trains as are needed will be in operation. People have already begun to visit the grounds. It is said that last Sunday saw almost 500 people inspecting the place.—Pittsburg Press.

Resolved, That while we bow in humble submission to the Divine will, we mourn with deep sorrow the loss of them who to us were true friends and brothers, who had won our highest esteem and our hearts' deepest affection and whose nobility and purpose in the work of Virtue, Mercy and Charity endeared them to us; and be it

Resolved, That in the death of brothers Flickinger and Jackson our Council and the Order are deprived of the services of brothers who by their devotion to the principles of the Royal Arcanum and the cause of humanity have left an example worthy the emulation of all who may enlist under the banner of our Order; and be it

Resolved, That we tender the members of the bereaved families the heart-felt sympathy in this hour of sad affliction, assuring them our friendship for the departed extends to those whom they loved and commend them for consolation to that Power, whose wisdom, love and mercy surpasses man's understanding; and be it

Resolved, That our charter be fittingly draped in mourning for a period of thirty days, that these resolutions be spread upon the records of our Council and that copies be sent to the bereaved families, and that they be published in the Reynoldsville STAR.

A Light, Cool, Efficient Truss, One that would retain the hernia under all forms of exercise, and could be worn with comfort has long been looked for.

Recommended and Endorsed by Highest Authorities.

MYERS BROS.,
 Druggists.
 St. Louis.
 "The Silver Truss is light, clean and comfortable to wear, and can be easily put on or off; in fact, it is simplicity itself. Eminent physicians of the United States, Canada and Europe have recognized its great value, and the reports from dealers and patients are most favorable."

LANGET, London,
 Eng., 1891.
 "The Silver Truss, from its adaptability, peculiarity of shape, and mode of application, adjusts itself to every posture of the body without displacement, and is worn with comfort."—From Clinical Lecture by Richard Davy, F. R. S. E., Surgeon to Westminster Hospital.

American Druggist and Pharmaceutical Record.
 New York.
 "The rapid introduction of the American Silver Truss, and subsequent sale of them with gratifying success by the druggists, have demonstrated the fulfillment of all claims made for them by the company. They are, unquestionably, the neatest, lightest, cleanest and most easily adjusted truss of any on the market, and almost every druggist who has stocked this truss pronounces it to be the truss of the future."

The Pharmaceutical Era.
 New York.
 "The wearer of a truss is always looking for something better, and it is, therefore, an easy matter to command attention when the American Silver Truss is brought to the notice of a prospective buyer. It is light and simple, made of one continuous piece of metal, without nuts, screws or rivets, and can be formed by the hand to the exact shape of the body, and when placed in position does not move."

The Medical Epitome.
 Indianapolis.
 "Dr. J. A. Cominger, Indianapolis, Ind., formerly Dean of the Medical College of Indiana, and Surgeon-General of the State of Indiana, who has used this truss for two years in fully ninety per cent. of his cases, recommends and endorses it as entirely satisfactory in more cases than any other appliance he has ever tested."
