Ask some men for an advertisement or a few locals and they will say they don't believe in advertising—a paper is never read. Let one of them be caught kissing his neighbor's wife or trying to hold up the side of a building sometime and his tune changes instantly, and if the printing office is in a garret of a seventeen story building he will climb up to the top and beg the editor to keep quiet—not to publish it in the paper. The paper is not read—oh no!

At twenty-five, when a man is young, he thinks he knows it all, he likes to wag his active tongue and exercise his gall; he struts around in noble rage—the world is all his own, he laughs to scorn the world of age and lists of self alone. He wears a window in his eye, to see his whiskers grow, he thinks the ladies pine and die because they love him so. At forty, as you may suppose, he's knuckled down to biz, it's not till sixty that he knows how big a chump he is.—Ex.

Umpires, Litz and Copping.

There is a good-sized boy running the streets of Reynoldsville who is deserving of a great amount of sympathy and who should be treated kindly by all people, yet the boy seems to be full of devilry, and when requested to stop any of his pranks is very abusive and uses language that is simply terrible for a boy, or any one, to use. Some attention should be given the boy by those who have proper authority over him. There are institutions that he could be sent to in which he would be compelled to be obedient and would receive a fairly good training, while if he continues to run the streets it will be difficult to tell what the result will be.

Hard Striker.

Frank Stauffer, while boxing with another boy Saturday evening, fractured one of the knuckles of his right hand.

Fifteen Applicants.

Prohibition Candidate.

The Prohibitionists of Jefferson county held a convention in Centennial hall at this place last Wednesday afternoon to nominate a candidate for President Judge for Jefferson county. Seventeen Prohibitionists attended the convention. H. T. Ames, of Williamsport, was the unanimous choice of the convention as candidate for President Judge. There was no other business transacted. The meeting was called especially to make the one nomination.

A Widow Committed Suicide.

Mrs. Dasie McGeary, relict of Warren McGeary who died about one year ago, committed suicide last week at the home of her mother-in-law, Mrs. David McGeary, who lives on a farm in the Beechwoods. The young widow became melancholy after her husband died and last Thursday night took enough morphine to end her life at noon on Friday. Her maiden name was Dasie Bowser and the home of her parents is in Warsaw township. She left a letter for her mother-in-law and sister in which she stated she was going to meet Warren.

Bonds Not Sold Yet.

It has been discovered recently that the last Legislature passed a bill allowing cities and boroughs to bond only to the amount of 2 per cent on the valuation of the property, and for this reason the New York parties have not taken the bonds of this borough yet. The general opinion is that the act is unconstitutional, but until an opinion is given by good authority the bonds of this borough for school purposes will not be taken by the New York parties. If the law will stand, then Reynoldsville will not build a new brick school house. The matter will be settled in a few days. Esq. Davis thinks it will terminate all right and the school house will be erected.

McCracken for Judge.

The Democratic county convention assembled in the court house at Brookville on Monday. The convention was called to order by Whitehill, chairman county committee. W. M. Fairman, Esq., of Punxsutawney, was chosen to preside. The result of the votes cast at the primary election Saturday made W. L. McCracken, of Brookville, ex-district attorney, candidate for President Judge, Eli Coulter, of Punxsutawney, for county surveyor, and J. G. Ernest, of Punxsutawney, for coroner. The convention elected G. M. McDonald, Esq., of Reynoldsville, county chairman; J. W. Wilson, Wm. Fairman and A. M. Armstrong delegates to the State Convention; J. P. Taylor member State Central Committee.

A New Bridge Needed.

County Commissioners Samuel States and Daniel Brewer came up from Brookville last Friday morning and drove out to take a look at the bridge which spans Trout Run near the site of the old Swartz mill. It is an unsettled thing whether the bridge was ever accepted by the county or whether it belongs to the township. However, the bridge needs repairing. If it is the county's work to look after the bridge it will be replaced with a new iron bridge and will be attended to at once. If the township has to repair the bridge the work had better be done before an accident occurs on it. This is the bridge that Dr. Reynolds' horse and cart took a tumble off of last year. Guard rails cannot be put up too soon. It is very likely the commissioners will find it their duty to do the work and that a new iron bridge will span the stream before snow flies.

Elected Teachers.

The school directors of Winslow township met at the sample rooms of Hotel Belnap last Saturday for the purpose of selecting teachers for the ensuing term. About one hundred and twenty teachers were willing to accommodate the directors and act as instructors in the schools, but as the directors had only twenty-three schools to provide with teachers, about one hundred of the would-be teachers were disappointed. The list of those who got schools is as follows: Best, O. H. Johnston; Sandy Valley, J. M. Holben; Cross Roads, No. 1 J. M. McCraight, No. 2 Ada Fye; Dean; No. 1 Smith Lobaugh, No. 2 Mary McCraight; Rathmel, No. 1 A. T. Smitten, No. 2 Katie Lydon, No. 3 Rebecca Wyant; Bollinger, Nettie Coax; Prescottville, No. 1 Myrtle Dean, No. 2 Mary Patton; McCraight, Myrtle Shields; Phillippi, Iris Johnston; Salt Works, Miss Minnie Smeltzer; Kline, Grant Lucas; Sykesville, No. 1 Nelson Craft, No. 2 Gilbert Gregory; Jenks, Nellie Satter; Snyder, Almada Johnston; Steel, Joseph Syphrit; Pancoast, Sadie Kelleher; Murray, Mary McKee; The Murray school is a new one and the school house will be put up near Jacob Schwem's, on the Brookville road.

TO PAVE OR NOT TO PAVE?

Question for the Voters of this Borough to Settle Aug. 24th.

Two years ago Main street was paved from the iron bridge to the Presbyterian church, and who would want to return to the old way of having a muddy street and the crossings inundated every spring and fall? We are positive a long and loud howl would go up, especially by the people along that portion of Main street that has been paved, if council would decide to tear up the paving. If a paved street is a good thing for the west end of Main street would it not be just as good a thing for the east end of Main street? The tax payers are not all huddled into one end of Reynoldsville. What will enhance the property in one section of town in the way of street improvements will in another. Ever since the paving was done on Main street there has been a dissatisfaction among many of the tax payers of the east end of town because the paving was not extended to that part of town. The matter has been agitated until the town council finally decided to submit it to the voters of the borough, and Saturday, August 24th, 1895, has been selected as the day for the people to express themselves on the subject by ballot. The proposition is to bond the borough for $8,000 and to expend the money in extending paving on Main street to Tom Reynolds' barn, pave Tenth to Jackson, Jackson to Fifth, Fifth to Main. The last assessed valuation is $665,338; amount of existing debt is $10,422.08; the percentage of the proposed increase on the last assessed valuation is 1.202+ per cent. It will be seen by the above figures that Reynoldsville can afford to issue bonds for $8,000 to improve the town by having good streets. How much money has been expended on the unpaved streets of our town this year and how much better will the same streets be next spring? Every year considerable money is spent in repairing the prominent streets. True we should have a sewerage in Reynoldsville, and are badly in need of it, paved streets or not, but under the existing condition of things it will be some time before we get the sewerage and why not have good streets until we get the sewerage? The voters of the west end should remember the golden rule when they go to the ballot box on August 24th. We have heard very few people express their views on the question and do not know how the vote will go, but hardly think the people of Reynoldsville will vote against bonding the borough for $8,000 when they consider the value of good streets.

Think it was an Accident.

County Commissioner States was in Reynoldsville last Friday on county business. He is feeling very badly over the death of his son, Elmer J. States, which occurred the 19th of July. In conversation with Mr. States he said he thought his son's death was an accident. Some six years ago Elmer was struck on the head by a swinging boom while at work on the abutments of a railroad bridge, and from that time on he was melancholy most of the time, but showed no other signs of a weakened mind. Prior to the accident he was a bright and jovial young man. Up to the time of his death he was very industrious; worked early and late. He bought a piece of land some distance from his father's farm and to save a long walk to and from his meals, Elmer built a little shanty on his land and would carry enough provisions from home to his shanty to do him for days at a time. On the morning of the 19th the young man's reasoning faculties were clouded and he imagined his father was going to kill him and he went into Punxsutawney and bought a selfacting revolver. He returned to his shanty and wrote a letter to a young lady to the effect that in case his father should kill him he wanted her to have his property. In the afternoon the young man was at home with no apparent sign of insanity. In the evening a young friend was passing his shanty and Elmer invited him in, showed him the new revolver, asked him to explain how it worked as he, Elmer, did not understand it. Elmer asked his friend to stay all night, but on account of attending lodge he could not stay. Elmer prepared everything for his breakfast and left no sign that he contemplated committing the rash act, and Mr. States is of the opinion that he was examining the revolver and it went off with the sad result. The deceased was highly respected in the community where he resided.

The DuBois Courier in giving an account of the sad affair, said the young man had trouble at his home and lived in a shanty. Mr. States felt as much grieved over the bereavement as any father could feel and the statement made by the Courier only added to his burden. However, last Saturday morning the Courier corrected its misstatement. Mr. States and his son never had any trouble and there was no grounds for the statement that he had trouble at his home.

Triplets.

Hiram Vandevort, a Winslow twp. farmer, was in town Monday and informed a representative of THE STAR that one of his cows gave birth to three calves Sunday night. One of the calves was injured and died Monday, but the other two are "bully" calves.

Council Meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of the Reynoldsville Town Council was held on Monday evening, August 5th. All members attended.

The minutes of meetings of July 5th and 18th were read, and approved.

Ninian Cooper asked if a grade would be necessary, in building a permanent walk in front of Presbyterian church. Referred to street committee.

Mr. Test produced a map of the Tom Reynolds addition to Reynoldsville borough, and he and Mr. Cooper suggested that Grant street and Willow Alley be run at such an angle through the Burns property as to connect with the same street and alley as laid out in the Reynolds' addition.

Jos. Morrison asked to be exonerated from payment of borough tax on his occupation. He was informed that the tax collector had been refused exoneration on the same item.

The chairman of the finance committee reported the sale of the certificates of indebtedness, authorized at the last regular meeting, amounting to $1200.00. Burgess Lattimer reported fines and licenses collected for the month of July, $9.00.

The street commissioner reported work done on streets and sewers by sundry persons, amounting in all to $143.50, which on motion was ordered paid, as were also the following bills: James McPherson, police services $8.75; T. C. Shields, police services $18.00; Jerry Myers, for building fire alarm tower, $105.00; W. C. McMillen, for lumber, $14.28; Geo. F. Cant, for surveying, $12.50; J. S. Hammond, services and expenses to date, $12.20; S. Lattimer, stationery, ink, and order of R. F. Evans cashed by him, total $3.16; F. K. Arnold, interest due on certificates of indebtedness, $21.00; Mrs. Imogene A. Reynolds, interest on certificates of indebtedness, $9.00.

A communication from G. W. Rea, relative to ditch at Fifth and Main streets, was read and referred to the street committee.

The application of James Lusk, for exoneration from tax on two dogs for year 1894 was on motion refused.

The secretary was on motion directed to secure a ballot box for the special election to be held on August 24th.

The fire alarm bell was discussed, and it was decided to write the manufacturers that unless they sent a man at their own expense to adjust the bell and put it in satisfactory shape, before the expiration of the trial time, the bell would be returned and rejected.

On motion the secretary was directed to draw a duplicate order for $2.25, in favor of G. G. Sprague, in place of one for that amount stolen from him.

On motion the ordinance introduced at the last meeting, for the opening of Willow Alley, was withdrawn.

In lieu of the ordinance withdrawn, there was introduced an ordinance to open Willow Alley from the line between Jerry Heckman and Charles Prescott to the line of Tenth street, and there was also introduced an ordinance for the opening of Ninth street, from Main to Grant street.

Ordinances No. 30, for the opening of Grant street as laid out in Van Vliet plan; No. 31, for the opening of Grant street from line of Van Vliet plan to line of proposed extension of Tenth street, and No. 32, for the opening of Tenth street from Main to Grant street passed second and final reading.

There being no further business, council on motion adjourned.

Something for the Grocersmen.

The following was clipped from the Ellenville (N. Y.) Journal: At the request of a lady we "help her out" by publishing the following in her own language. "Mr. Editor—I wish to say a few words to the merchants of the town, and it is really a delicate subject to handle. You know it is time when our good grocersmen set their vegetables outside on the pavement; and do you know, there are a great many tall dogs in town and—and it operates as if they had been drinking from the Saratoga Mineral Springs. Now Mr. Editor, you must know what I mean to say; and if you will help me out, you will do the public a great favor. What we want is the vegetables in boxes, or in other words, above high water mark. For the good of woman and mankind the grocers will please attend to it. Those wire screens they use over boxes and barrels are not water tight. This is a delicate matter, but you know when a lady goes shopping for cabbage and beets, she does not like to be obliged to buy peas also. Please put this in shape so as to offend no lady.
