One Dollar A Year.

From this time forth THE STAR has decided to adopt a new regulation governing the financial part of its business. And that is to make the subscription price one dollar a year to all who will pay in advance. Those who want THE STAR for that price can get it by settling all arrearages and paying an extra dollar in advance. New subscribers will also receive the advance yearly dollar rate. The price will remain the same as heretofore, $1.50 a year, but a discount of 50 cents will be given those who pay in advance. THE STAR would like all its old subscribers to avail themselves of this offer and as many new ones as possible. Remember we will stick strictly to the $1.50 a year price when the subscription is not paid in advance. This special offer holds good until the 1st of January, 1896.

Among the Victims.

A teacher in the M. E. Sunday school was talking to his class a few Sundays ago about drinking, and he said to a Jackson street boy, who was interested: "You would not drink beer, would you?" The boy's answer was: "No, but my pap does; him and Mr. Blank bought a keg last night."

Both wheels were broken but the riders escaped without serious injury.

Ross Resigned.

The town council of West Reynoldsville held a meeting in the council chambers of that borough on Friday evening, Aug. 16th. Bills to the amount of $225.00 were presented and orders drawn for the same. Council authorized new sidewalks to be built along Broadway and Pike streets where needed. The resignation of W. S. Ross, as a member of the council, was read and accepted. The resignation to take effect on the 16th inst. No other business, council adjourned.

Election Notice.

The special election to decide whether the majority of the voters of Reynoldsville want to bond the borough to the amount of $8,000 for the purpose of improving the streets of our town will be held at the Burns house on Saturday next, Aug. 24th. It is impossible to tell what the result will be. Some of our citizens, especially those in the east end of town are in favor of bonding, while many in the west end are opposed to it. We are in favor of the proposition to bond the borough to the amount specified for street improvement. It is very probable that a large vote will be polled on Saturday.

Return the Bags.

W. J. Hutchison went to his farm in Beechwoods one day last week and filled several bags of apples to bring home with him. He did not get back to town until after dark and he stopped on Main street a few minutes on business and while away from his wagon some boys stole his apples, bags and all. Mr. Hutchison, who is a good natured fellow, will be thankful if the boys return the bags. The day after the apples were stolen a number of boys were munching apples most all day. It was a bold piece of business and Mr. Hutchison would be doing the proper caper to find the guilty parties and make them suffer for their misdemeanor.

Lookout for Uncle Sam.

Spitting tobacco juice into the outside drop letter box at the postoffice may be sport for the parties who have done so several times, but if Uncle Sam gets hold of them they will learn, to their sorrow, that it is not the proper thing to do. Yesterday morning when Postmaster McGaw opened the letter box he found two or three letters with big tobacco stains upon them. One letter addressed to a lady had a stained spot the size of a silver dollar just above the lady's name. The offense is a penitentiary act and we would not be surprised if Uncle Sam would send a detective here to find the parties who have been guilty of injecting tobacco juice into the letter box.

The Picnic.

Wal, the day was nice as could be, There was no fear of rain; An' folks was thinkin' here's a chance We may not have again.
The boys had hired livery rigs Ter haul their ladies round Ter Gourley's little picnic grove, Jes two miles out town.
Their girls piled grub in baskets And started in er crowd, A laughin' hard ef they could screech, And talkin' jes es loud.
They finally dray into their place Their picnic wuz ter be, An' they all got out ter see What their wuz ter see.
Their folks wuz thar to meet us En take our baskets, too; That saved us lots o' trouble, En we had nothin' else ter do.
"Let's play ball, sez Sutter, Then all made for their sled; And ther way De Bowser covered groun' Would make Virginia Reel.
"Doe ter tha bat," the umpire sed; Then Doc stepped to his plate; An' he'd a surprizez the ball— Ef he hadn't struck too late.
The girls called us to supper then, The umpire called the game, A course our side got beat'n, But the umpire wuz ter blame.
When we got to the table, why, Jes' wuz all home ward fied, Go in a basketful o' other things, Jes for poor doggie's sake."
But when it cumz ter ettiket, I think it's wrong don't you? Ter go ter scrip'n' cukes an' things Afore the rest er thro'.
En sum folks cum with better stuff An eth' folks could take, But these 'ere people giv ther rest A little stumy-cake.
Wal, supper's over, night cum on, Ther folks all home ward fied, An Alexander was the only wun That hed any tears to shed.
Yer see the girls hed got at Frank An stuffed hay down his back; Till the space between his shoulders looked Jes like a pedler's pack.
When he came ter get ter bed It caused him sore distress, When mamma sez ther Frankie must Go outside to undress.
—U. DORSEY.

Reunion To-morrow.

If the weather is favorable a large crowd is expected to come to Reynoldsville to-morrow, Thursday, to attend the P. O. S. of A. reunion. The committee of arrangement, G. W. Kline, James Robertson, George Roller, T. O. Saxton and W. J. Robertson, and all members of Camp No. 268, have left nothing undone that was possible for them to do to make the second reunion of the North-western Reunion Association a grand success, and we believe their efforts will be appreciated by the visitors. Every citizen should help to give the visitors a good impression of Reynoldsville. If you cannot do anything else be pleasant and courteous.

The convention convenes in the P. O. S. of A. hall at 9.30 A. M., game of base ball at 9.30 A. M., dinner in Reynolds block, parade at 1.30 P. M., after which Rev. C. H. Fitzwilliam will lecture in Centennial hall; at 8.00 P. M. Rev. P. J. Slattery will deliver a lecture in Centennial hall. These lectures are free and everybody invited to attend.

Arrangements have been made with the railroads so that visitors can remain for the evening meeting.

A silk flag will be given to the Camp having the largest percentage of members in the parade to-morrow, and a set of officers' emblems will be given to the Camp having next to the highest number of members in line.

A Visit at Hopkins.

The editor of THE STAR had business at Hopkins mill, two miles west of Reynoldsville, last Thursday. We found it to be a veritable hive of industry, everybody busy, even the dogs barking at strangers and the children playing with their dolls, &c. Notwithstanding the business done at Hopkins the people all have time to be very courteous and pleasant. We are thankful to John H. Schofield and a number of the employees of Hopkins mill for favors received while in that hamlet.

The men at Hopkins got fair wages, are paid every Saturday and are all willing to do a good day's work. A man who wants to "soldier" has no business to apply for work on that plant. Twelve million is the output at this mill during the sawing season. This year the cut will be finished sometime in November. Mr. Hopkins has logs enough to feed the mill for seven years at least, and perhaps longer.

Will Marry on Tuesday.

Rev. Paul Metzenthin, pastor of the Reynoldsville Trinity Lutheran church, and Miss Elizabeth Priestler, daughter of Henry Priestler, will join the matrimonial ranks next Monday or Tuesday. Rev. E. Metzenthin, of Steelton Pa., father of the soon to be benedict, is expected here Monday evening to perform the ceremony Tuesday. If he can not come the young couple will go to DuBois Monday and be married by Rev. Rosenbaum of that place. A wedding trip to Pittsburg is on the program.

MIDNIGHT VISITORS.

Fill Their Stomachs, Get Some Money and a Pair of Shoes.

Tuesday night of last week thieves gained entrance into the houses of D. F. Robinson and Frank Miller and raised a bedroom window to pay Esq. M. M. Davis a visit, but did not go in because Mr. Davis was at the window to receive them before they got into the house.

At Robinson's a back window was pried open. The light-fingered visitors found the larder, in which was bread, butter, half a boiled ham and other palatable things. They helped themselves generously. They found a basket of eating apples and did not hesitate to get outside of them and throw the cores over the floor. There was not enough oil in the kitchen lamp to burn as long as they desired to tarry and they took the lamp to the back porch where a can of oil was standing and in filling the lamp they spilled oil over the porch but did not leave a note apologizing for their slovenness. Before taking their departure they found Mrs. Robinson's pocket book and carried its contents, ten or twelve dollars, away with them. They left the front and back doors standing wide open.

At Frank Miller's they gained entrance into the house through a window. They examined Mrs. Miller's silverware but did not borrow any of it. They went into Mr. Miller's room and took his pants, coat and shoes, which were on a chair at the head of his bed, carried them into the yard, turned his pockets inside out, but were none the better off for that. They left the clothing in the yard and took the shoes with them and Frank was wearing new leather the next day.

No one is positive whether the above net was the work of home talent or the fellows who have been "doing" DuBois so successfully.

Cozy Lodge Room.

Through the kindness of James Robertson and August Kleinbans a representative of THE STAR was shown through the P. O. S. of A. rooms in the Reynolds block one day last week. This order has just recently rented the rooms they now occupy and have fitted them up with new carpets and new furniture. The rooms are real cozy for the purpose for which they are used. The Daughters of America meet in these rooms. The P. O. S. of A. has a membership of over one hundred in good standing.

There is some talking among the members of fitting up the rear room of their lodge departments for a reading room in the near future. This would be a good step to take and, no doubt, would be greatly enjoyed by the members if a good library is put in.

An Outsider's View.

The Reynoldsville STAR this week gives its subscribers advantage of a reduced subscription rate to all who desire same for the coming year. The offer is good from now until January 1st, 1896. THE STAR is one of the best local and general newspapers coming to our exchange table and deserves much better patronage than is given by the business men of the town. Reynoldsville is, or used to be, a pretty large town, but to judge from the amount of advertisers, outside people would imagine it had a population of about 100 people. The best way in the world to kill a town is for the merchants to spare the advertising columns of their papers. No man ever lived long enough to be well enough known to do a successful business without advertising.—Emporium Weekly Echo.

The Falls Creek Herald, consisting of twenty-four pages, came to this office last Friday. Eight pages of the "boom" sheet were printed on extra heavy book paper. The edition was illustrated by pictures of some of the leading men and business places of Falls Creek. Bro. Bangert shows a spirit of enterprise and the citizens of that town encourage him by advertising liberally. His paper is always well filled with advertising, but forty-five columns of the special edition were devoted to advertising.

A union meeting will be held in the Presbyterian church at 7.30 this evening. The members of the different choirs are requested to be present and assist with the music. Miss Jennie Scott will talk to the people in the interests of an undenominational school in Alabama, which she is soliciting money for. A collection will be taken sometime during the evening.

A. A. Swab, who is now running a hack between Rathmel and Reynoldsville is making arrangements with some of the business men of this place so that he can sell tickets to the Rathmel people that will entitle them to a ride between the two places and the tickets will be redeemed by the merchants when goods are bought at the stores.

James Moore and Robt. S. Williams, of West Reynoldsville, got the contract from the Winslow township school directors Saturday to build the Murray school about 14 miles west of Reynoldsville. The building is to be finished in time for the winter term.

Ladies, call and see our line of novelty dress goods. Deemer & Co.

Come quick and pay me. I do not like to run out on the street and dun you, as it looks bad. J. A. WELSH.
