Pearls of Thought.

If we love much we shall find a way to do much.

A sad countenance is a hypocrite's favorite mask.

Try to make somebody happy and see what comes of it.

Love your enemy to death and he will make a good friend.

Never act like a fool unless you are willing to be considered one.

Don't insist upon talking about yourself to the man who wants to talk about himself.

We may bate an enemy without hurting him, but we can't do it without hurting ourselves.

The man who can work and not worry, rest and not rust, is not apt to be an object of interest to an undertaker.

Fishing for compliments may secure a few bites, but it is certain of many back bites. What is caught that way is not worth stringing.

There are men so stupid that when an idea tunnels their thick skull it rattles about in their dusty cranium like seeds in a gourd or beans in a bladder.

There are others so full of large thoughts that their heads swell upward like the domes of cathedrals.—Renaissance.

The Insidious Cigarette.

In speaking of the deceitfulness of the horrid cigarette the Pittsburg Chronicle Telegraph says: "The good people who have for years been engaged in a battle with the deadly cigarette must feel disheartened when they read the statistics relating to the trade."

Notwithstanding the eliminations of a self-respecting public, the warning of doctors and the enactment of legislatures, the little white cylinder pushes its insidious way under the noses of increasing numbers every year.

More than three and a third thousand millions (to be exact, 3,333,845,569) of cigarettes were sold during the past fiscal year, and the consumption shows an increase which is almost startling.

The profits in the business must also be very tempting, for two of the largest manufacturers outside the trust are making preparations to build a plant with a capacity of 12,500,000 cigarettes a day.

It would appear from additional points on the tobacco trade that all lovers of the weed are not surrendering to the paper imitation, and the inference is that the devotees of the latter are recruited from the callow youth who never enjoyed the solace of a Henry Clay cigar or even a toby.

The production of cigars during the year was 4,120,440,379, an increase of 63,000,000 over the previous year, while the output of smoking tobacco shows that the popularity of the pipe is fully maintained."

Still Room For Research.

"What is this new substance I hear so much about?" asked the eminent scientist's wife.

"What new substance, my dear?"

"The element in the air that has just been detected."

"Oh, that, my dear," he answered, beaming over his spectacles with the good nature of superior wisdom, "is known as argon!"

"Oh!"

"Yes; its discovery is one of the most remarkable triumphs of the age. It has revolutionized some of the old theories, or at least it will revolutionize them before it gets through."

"What is it?"

"It's—er—did you say, 'What is it?'"

"I said that."

"Well—ahem—you see, we haven't as yet discovered much about it except its name."—Washington Star.

The Veil Butterfly.

A novelty this summer is the butterfly designed to fasten millady's veil. These butterflies are made with a patent catch and are charming to decorate the bodice as well as to fasten the veil.

Many of them are enamelled in all the natural colors of the butterfly. Darning needles for this purpose rival the butterflies in popularity.

One darning needle more beautiful than the others is of green gold set with rose diamonds and emeralds. Very fine gold chains are worn about the neck for full dress occasions.

Suspended from them are jeweled pendants or a succession of gems.

Choosing a Wife.

The plainest features become handsome unawares when associated only with kind feelings, and the loveliest face disagreeable when linked with ill humor or caprice.

People should remember this when they are selecting a face which they are to see every morning across the breakfast table for the remainder of their lives.—N. P. Willis.
