One Dollar A Year.

From this time forth THE STAR has decided to adopt a new regulation governing the financial part of its business. And that is to make the subscription price one dollar a year to all who will pay in advance. Those who want THE STAR for that price can get it by settling all arrearages and paying an extra dollar in advance. New subscribers will also receive the advance yearly dollar rate. The price will remain the same as heretofore, $1.50 a year, but a discount of 50 cents will be given those who pay in advance. THE STAR would like all its old subscribers to avail themselves of this offer and as many new ones as possible. Remember we will stick strictly to the $1.50 a year price when the subscription is not paid in advance. This special offer holds good until the 1st of January, 1896.

Liberal Donation.

Two hundred miners of Helvetia held a meeting last week and agreed to send three hundred sacks of flour to the idle miners at DuBols whose flour bins are empty. This is certainly a liberal donation from the Helvetia miners.

Lady Lawyer,

Miss Suzanne S. Beatty, who has occupied the position of official stenographer for the courts of this county for a number of years, was admitted to the Jefferson county bar last Wednesday. Miss Beatty was admitted to the Clarion county bar three or four months ago. This is the first lady admitted to the Jefferson county bar.

Don't Tell Any Person.

James Robertson and Miss Leela Edder will be married at the home of Mrs. Albert Reynolds on Main street this evening by Rev. P. J. Slattery, The young couple will leave on the 8.48 train for Brookville where the bride's parents live. Mr. Robertson is an honest, sober, industrious young man and Miss Edder is an estimable young lady who will make him an excellent helpmate. They are both members of the Foworth League.

First Sunday Stare Over. .

Rev. John W. Crawford, the new pastor of the M. E. church at this place, preached his first sermon to his new congregation last Sunday. He seems to be a very pleasant man, is a good talker and no doubt but that he will get into the good graces of his new people. Rev. Crawford returned to Emlenton Monday morning to pack up to move to Reynoldsville. He and his wife expect to arrive here on Friday, Thursday evening the people of Emlenton will give Rev. and Mrs. Crawford a farewell reception.

Funeral To-day.

Minnie M. Harries, daughter of John Harries, was born Oct. 23rd, 1878, died Sept. 23rd, 1895, at 2.04 A. M., aged 16 years and 11 months. Several weeks before her demise typhoid fever laid hold of her and this was followed by pneumonia and heart trouble. Funeral services will be held in the M. E. church at 1.30 P. M. to-day, conducted by Rev. Slattery, and her remains will be buried in the Syphrit cometery in Paradise. Minnie, who was large for her age, was a sweet girl with a lovable disposition, and as a result she had many friends. She was a member of the M. E. church, Sunday school and Epworth League and her young life was a daily testimony to the profession she made.

Paul Prayed.

Paul Broadhead, who has not a reputation of being a total abstainer from intoxicants, was in Reynoldsville last Wednesday and he lingered too long at the "flowing bowl" and by supper time he was well filled with the "ardont" and was disinclined to keep his mouth shut. While waiting for the 6.57 train on the A. V. the "world, the flesh and the devil," seemed to have the best claim on him, although he made several desperate attempts to be religious. Paul got down on his knees on the station platform three or four times to pray and before he would reach the amen some one would interrupt him and then the atmosphere would become

A Heavy Storm.

Just before one o'clock last Thursday a black cloud made its appearance in the western horizon and it increased in The Monday morning Courier con volume and blackness as on it came like ained a column article about the people the roaring waters of the mighty Niagara Falls. A number of our citizens thought a western evelone was about to visit our town, and it might well be called a young cyclone, for the lightning flashed, the thunder rolled, the wind howled, the rain descended as if the flood gates of heaven had been thrown wide open and the somber shadows were so thick lamps had to be lighted. The gutters and sewers were not large enough to contain the water and some of our streets were inundated while the storm lasted. The storm lifted a window, frame and all, out of the woolen mill, broke down a pine tree on Lawyer Mitchell's premises, blew a piece of the iron fancy work off the steeple of the M. E. church and broke two stained-glass windows, lifted the top off of many chimneys and left other signs of its fury in this place. In the woodland, especially west and north of Reynoldsville, considerable timber was blown down. Two Extremes.

Harry Cooper, one of the latter day giants, was in Reynoldsville several hours Saturday and attracted the attention of all as he walked down Main street. Mr. Cooper is seven feet eight inches tall, and when in good health tips the scales at 400 lbs. His mother lives at Eleanora and he has been staying with her since last fall. Mr. Cooper took the train here for Boston, Mass., but he was unwilling to tell whether he was going to make an engagement with a show, or what he proposes to do in the "Old Colony" State. He has traveled as a giant in a side show for sometime. The shows that he has traveled with advertise him to be eight feet four inches tall.

Joseph Moore, of Oakdale, Pa., was in town yesterday. Mr. Moore is about fifty years old, is three feet, ten inches tall and weighs fifty-seven pounds.

Pittsburg Exposition.

The Pittsburg Exposition was opened on the 4th of this month with an attendance of about 20,000 people the first night and since the rallroads have inaugurated excursions the crowd at the big show daily is immense. The displays, the music and the art gallery this year surpass all former years, and it is a well known fact that in the past the Exposition has been well worth traveling to Pittsburg to see. Besides the beautiful pictures, grand displays of various kinds and best of music, there are various kinds of amusements, espe cially for the young people. Four dollars and twenty cents will take you from Reynoldsville to Pittsburg and return and admit you to the Exposition.

Five Horses Cremated.

During the severe storm last Thursday lightning struck the barn of Daniel Goodlander at Luthersburg and the barn was all ablaze so quickley that there was no time to remove anything from the building. Five good horses, all the harness, seventeen tons of hay, three sleighs, one wagon, three buggles, and two pairs of sleds were burned. The loss amounts to over $2,000, without insurance. Mr. Good-lander, who is a brother-in-law of F. K.

STREET FAKIR OUSTED.

A Howling Mob-Revolvers, Eggs, Medicine Bottles-Disgraceful Scene.

of DuBols raiding a street corner swindler in that town Saturday night. Monday afternoon the greased-hat fakir came to Reynoldsville with what there was left of his medicine camp. He has a soldier's state license to sell, and while our Burgess did not give him a a written permit to sell, yet he told him to get on a side street and sell his goods. The "doctor" and a woman dressed in short fanciful skirts with a box of snakes, made their appearance in a buggy on the corner of Fourth and Main streets soon after dark. A crowd soon gathered and after a sideshow performance the "doctor" introduced his medicine, which he sold at 25 cents a bottle, and as a bait he gave a card with each bottle, which he redeemed for 50 cents, giving the people who bought 50 cents and the bottle of medicine for their 25 cents. About ten cards were sold on those terms and redeemed. Then he offered to recompense all who bought and the quarters were handed in from all sides. When the buyers were slow he raised the amount to $1.00, then $1.50 and up to $2.00. When the amount was raised to $1.00 the fakir pulled out a big roll of bills and wrapped each man's 25 cents in a dollar william. By the time the $2.00 buyers were all gatherd in the crowd got uneasy and wanted their cards redeemed The "doctor" began to recompense his customers by giving them the amount their card called for in medicine instead of each, as they expected. In the mean time the woman had gathered the money into a satchel, drew a revolver to keep the crowd back, and the "doctor" got out of the buggy, and the crowd got bolsterous. When medicine bottles and eggs began to fly the "doctor" decided it was time for him to get out of that mob and he struck for Hotel Belnap. The crowd followed him, tore one tail of his coat off, kicked his hat full of holes and handled the "doctor" very roughly, but he succeeded in getting to his room where three fellows caught him and when Proprie tor Dillman got to the room they were choking the man until his tongue was out two or three inches and he was getting black in the face. The woman remained in the buggy for a few minutes after an egg shell had been smashed on her right temple and the contents of the egg ran down over her bespangled suit. The entire affair was a disgrace to a civilized community, and it is to be deplored that it was enacted on the streets of Reynoldsville. The fakir is not entitled to a license and is not deserving of sympathy for the treatment received, and on the other hand the people who were foolish enough to bite at such a plain scheme to get their money, are not deserving of sympathy. Addlesperger and Sheilds went with the man to the 8.48 train last night. He went to Brookville.

Committees of Arrangement.

It was announced that a meeting yould be held in the opera house on Tuesday evening of last week to make arrangements for the 10th reunion of the 105th Regiment Pa. V. V., which will be held in Reynoldsville on the

At a reasonable hour the young people returned to their respective homes wishing Miss

Josephine many happy birthdays. Mrs. Mary Touhy, wife of John Touhy and daughter of Michael Martin, died of consumption Saturday and was buried in the Catholic cemetery yesterday morning. Services were held in the Catholic church at nine o'clock. Mary Martin and John Touhy were married almost three years ago. One child preceded the mother to the Great Beyond and a child 14 months old is left mothorless

Mr. and Mrs. Asa Scott, of Sykesville, passed through Reynoldsville Wednesday afternoon on the west bound train over the A. V. R'y on their way to Trinidad, Southern Colorado, for the benefit of Mrs. Scott's health. Consumption is sapping her life away and the doctors advised Mrs. Scott to try the climate of Colorado as there was no other hope for her. Mrs. Scott is a daughter of Solomon Phillippi, of Winslow township, and a sister of Dr. M. F. Phillippi who died from lung trouble.

A tramp who was either drunk or had rooms to let in his gray pate, made himself conspicuous on Main street last Wednesday evening. The man should have been locked up until morning, and we cannot understand why he was not. He was foul mouthed and could wear like a Turk. A number of bad boys gathered around the old man and made matters worse. Several times the crowd that gathered around the man blockaded the pavement on Main street. A policeman dispursed the growd once or twice, but it did not take them long to gather again. Such nes are not a credit to the town, and should not be tolerated.

from the c he used.

Where is our Board of Health?

There are two cases of typhoid fever on Worth street and four on Pleasant avenue. Unless great care is taken there may be a typhoid fever epidemic in that section of town. A town the size of Reynoldsville is supposed to have a board of health, but we have not, or at least if there is one it should be stirred up to life and activity. Dr. Bowser was president of the board last year and at the meeting of the town council in March of this year Dr. Neale was elected president, but there was a dispute about whether the town council had anything to do with electing a president of the board of health after it had been organized, and since that time the board has been inactive. According to law we should have a board of health and it is about time the difficulties be settled, whatever they may be, and that Reynoldsville has a live board of health.

Didn't Know His Whistle.

Jim Montgomery, engineer on the Driftwood accommodation, did not know the whistle on his engine. The engine was put in the shop for repairs and Machinist W. S. Stone put a chime whistle on the engine and it was mutually ageed by the officials and employes at Reynoldsville that they would not tell Jim of the change. When the 8.48 P. M. train arrived here Wednesday Jim got his regular engine. Hopkins was the first station and Jim pulled the whistle but he let go of it as if he had a hot piece of iron in his hand. He thought the whistle at Hopkins mill was blowing, and out went his head at the cab window and there was nothing to be heard but the noise of the running train. He pulled the whistle of his engine again and if the passengers had stuck their heads out of the windows they could have heard Jim, above the din and roar of the train, exclaim: "What in is the matter with that whistle?"

Arnold of this place, was always opposed to paying out money for insurance. Geo. Nolder, another brother-inlaw of F. K. Arnold who lives near Luthersburg, had his house burned by lightning one day last week.

Died on the Way.

We mentioned last week that Mr. and Mrs Nathaniel Kelley had stopped a day or two with Jos. T. Guthrie in West Reynoldsville the week before on their way from Bradford to Blairsville. Pa. Their household goods had been shipped to Blairsville, but Mr. Kelley would have to travel part of the way alone. At the West Penn Junction, on the A. V. R'y, Mrs. Kelley took suddenly ill. She was removed to the house of a grandson a few miles below the Junction where she died last Friday and was burled Sunday. Mrs. Margaret Kelley was a sister of Jos. T. Guthrie. She was seventy-five years old.

"The Burglar."

A famous play by a famous author "The Burglar," by Mr. Augustus Thomas, also author of "Alabama," will be seen at the opera house Tuesday evening, Oct. 1st. This play particularly appeals to the ladies and children, as one of the principal roles is enacted by a child not yet seven years of age, and the costuming of the ladles is very rich and appropriate. A pretty love story is entwined in the plot of "The Burglar," and the sensational developments, though mild, are absorbingly interesting. Tickets on sale at Stoke's drug
