One Dollar A Year.

From this time forth THE STAR has decided to adopt a new regulation governing the financial part of its business. And that is to make the subscription price one dollar a year to all who will pay in advance. Those who want THE STAR for that price can get it by settling all arrearages and paying an extra dollar in advance. New subscribers will also receive the advance yearly dollar rate. The price will remain the same as heretofore, $1.50 a year, but a discount of 50 cents will be given those who pay in advance. THE STAR would like all its old subscribers to avail themselves of this offer and as many new ones as possible. Remember we will stick strictly to the $1.50 a year price when the subscription is not paid in advance. This special offer holds good until the 1st of January, 1896.

 Peter Nugent, who is employed to sprag cars in Big Soldier, slipped and threw his left hand on the rail in front of a loaded car and now his left hand is minus a forefinger. It is fortunate for Peter that his left hand was not crushed into jelly.

Sunday evening at 6:00 P. M. there will be a memory prayer-meeting held in the Baptist church. It is to be a union service by the young people of the Presbyterian, Methodist, Lutheran and Baptist churches.

Too much gas turned on, clothing hanging too close to stove, nobody in the kitchen, came pretty nearly causing Wm. Barkley's house on Jackson street to ascend toward the sky in smoke and flames early one morning last week.

The Festival of the Reformation and Children's General Council Home Mission Day services were held in the Trinity Lutheran church last Sunday evening. A program of songs, responsive services, questions and answers, addresses, &c., was nicely carried out. The Miller orchestra furnished music.

The season is now here when the use of a good horse blanket should not be forgotten. The habit farmers and teamsters have of hitching their horses to a post when they come into town and leaving them in the cold and weather while they transact their business is not a general one but there are too many instances where this is the case.

The number of pupils registered in the Reynoldsville Public Schools at the close of the second month, Oct. 25th, is 732. The lower grades are greatly overcrowded, and the general average for all rooms is upwards of 60. The attendance is quite irregular, and parents should remember that good results are impossible without regular attendance.

Squire John T. Earl, who has been editor and publisher of the Driftwood Gazette for ten years, has leased the Gazette office to T. R. Williams, a gentleman who has had sixteen years' experience in the newspaper business. Squire Earl has purchased an interest in the Herald at Depew, N. Y., to which he will give his time and brains. Bro. Earl is a bright young man with aspirations which we thought some time ago would not always be confined between the mountains at Driftwood.

Mrs. Daniel Mowery died at her home a few miles out from Reynoldsville Sunday afternoon and was buried in the cemetery at Emerickville Monday afternoon. The services were conducted by Rev. Metzenthin of this place. About ten days before she died Mrs. Mowery was confined without having a doctor present and blood poisoning set in. A husband and two children, the youngest two weeks old today, survive the young wife and mother. The deceased, who was a daughter of Israel Snyder, was almost twenty-three years old.

The B. L. & Y. C. M. Co. took an appeal on the tax assessments on their lands in Winslow township, it being in some instances three or four times higher than the assessments on adjoining lands. The following gentlemen having been appointed for that purpose over the coal company's lands last week to take testimony to present to the Judge at argument court to be held next week: Ben. Clark and J. M. Pierce, of Brookville; J. M. Hays, W. C. Schultze, C. J. Kerr, David Reynolds, J. J. Sutter, F. M. Brown and J. S. Hammond, of Reynoldsville. It took these gentlemen two days to go over the lands.

At 8:00 A. M. yesterday Pat. Waré, an honest, industrious and respected citizen of West Reynoldsville, and Sarah Lee were united in the holy bonds of matrimony in the St. Marys Catholic church by Father Brady in the presence of a large number of people. After the marriage ceremony Mr. Ward took his bride to a home in West Reynoldsville where they will spend their honeymoon and settle down to the realities of married life. A few friends were invited in to spend the evening and an elegant supper was served. THE STAR extends congratulations and joins with their host of friends in wishing them joy and happiness.

Grant Lucas, teacher of the Kline school in Winslow township, and Miss Kate Reitzel, of Winterburn, were secretly married at Limestone, N. Y., week before last. The marriage was kept quiet until last week when some one got hold of the secret who did not keep it. Mr. Lucas, who taught one term of school in Reynoldsville, is well known here, and the Dubois Courier in speaking of the marriage says: "The bride is much better known here than the new benedict as she has for several years spent much of her time with her brother-in-law and sister Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Casey, of the Central hotel. She is a bright and amiable young girl and made many friends among the young people of DuBois."

Slight Attack.

F. K. Arnold, the ex-banker of this place, had a slight attack of paralysis Saturday evening. He is improving nicely from the effects of it.

Fell off a Shed.

J. M. Doemer, a carpenter who lives near Panic, fell off a shed sixteen feet high one day last week and broke his left arm above the elbow, dislocated his left wrist, fractured a rib, injured his left thigh and was otherwise bruised. He will not do any more carpenter work for a few weeks at least.

Arm Broken.

LaVelle Shaw, a ten-year-old lad who is a pupil in one of the rooms on the second floor of the borough school building, is now at his home with a broken arm. LaVelle was sliding down the back-step baluster last Thursday afternoon and lost his equilibrium and fell a distance of ten feet and broke his left fore-arm.

Fifteen Day Shut Down.

It was reported that the West Reynoldsville tannery would be shut down for two months, but there have been no orders to that effect yet. Orders have been issued to quit soaking hides for 15 days, and by that time the hides will be worked out of the beam house, and then that department of the tannery will be shut down 15 days. By this way of running only part of the tannery will be shut down at one time.

The Mule Kicked.

Chas. Williams, a driver in Big Soldier mine, has had his head bandaged for a few days. Charley's mule was not making as fast time Saturday forenoon as he wanted it to and he used a persuader generously which made the mule light in the rear end and it began tossing its hind feet into the air and Charley's forehead and right arm happened to be just where the mule wanted its feet to go, and that is the whyfore of the bandage on the young man's head and also explains why he has a sore arm.

Wants to Put in Electric Light.

R. W. St. Clair, of Punxsutawney, a young man who has had considerable experience with electric light plants, has been making an effort the past week to get up a stock company and put in an electric plant in Reynoldsville. Mr. St. Clair informed a representative of THE STAR that he is meeting with good success and has already secured almost enough stock to put in the plant. Electric lights for this place have been talked of for years, but it has always ended in talk. There is no reason why we cannot have electric lights in Reynoldsville. Turn on the light.

Business Change.

In July of the present year a new firm began business in this place under the name of the Reynoldsville Furniture Co. and opened up business in the room next door to J. A. Welsh's grocery. J. W. Hutchison had charge of the business. Last week Mr. Hutchison sold his interest to J. A. Welsh, his partner, and Mr. Welsh conducted the business until the first of this week and another change was made and W. D. Williams & Co. took charge of the store. Walter D. Williams, a young man well known in this place, having lived here for years, will have charge of the business.

Found the Case.

About five months ago Dr. Reynolds case of surgical instruments mysteriously disappeared from his desk in the drug store. Dr. paid sixteen dollars for the case and had been the owner of it but a short time. Detective Adlesperger was informed of the loss and he went quietly to work to look for the thief, as it was believed some light fingered chap had picked it up. Last Saturday evening Adlesperger walked into Reynoldsville office with a West Reynoldsville boy who informed the Dr. where the case could be found. The boy had stolen the case thinking it to be a large pocketbook and when he examined his plunder and discovered he had no use for it, and being afraid to enter the store, he slipped it through a broken light of glass in the front part of the cellar. Some of the instruments were rusty and the case was moldy.

Auditors' Statement.

Dr. B. E. Hoover and W. H. Bell, jr., audited the accounts of the receipts and expenditures for the 10th annual reunion of the 105 Regt. P. V., held in this place on the 17th of last month, and make the following statement: Total amount contributed, $163.16. Expense: Moore & Dickinson, $8.77; Keystone bank $26.00; C. A. Stephenson, printing, $3.25; F. S. Hoffman $1.95; J. M. Hays, incidental expenses, $14.03; L. J. McEntire & Co. $5.90; Jas. McPherson $2.80; Mrs. G. G. Sprague $2.24; E. C. Burns $3.00; Thos. Total expenses, $136.03; balance in treasurer's hands, $27.13.
 A meeting of the citizens who contributed to the fund will be held in the G. A. R. hall Friday evening to determine what shall be done with the balance of the money in the treasurer's hands.

Two Shows in one Night.

The Duncan Clark Female minstrels gave an exhibition, or rather two exhibitions, in the opera house Saturday evening to a full house. Of course there were no ladies at the show but there were a number of married men of Reynoldsville present. After the first show was over it was announced that tickets at 25 cents apiece would be sold for a second exhibition, but all the married men and small boys were requested by the manager of the show not to remain for the second performance. This was a good advertisement for the show and a large number of tickets were sold. However, those who remained expecting more vulgarity than there was in the show proper, were disappointed. During the early part of the first show a woman came to the door wearing a veil and raised quite a commotion. She said, "I want in to get my husband, this is no place for him." She did get in and walked up to a married man and took hold of him. It is said by some of the single fellows who were there that had there been a back way out all the married men in the show would have "taken a sneak" while the woman was trying to get into the show. The woman was one of the show girls and that was part of the performance. If reports are true a tougher gang never struck Reynoldsville than Duncan Clark's Female minstrels.

Fiction Not in it.

It is an old saying that "truth is stranger than fiction," and in many instances fiction is not "in it" when the truth is told. A little romance, in which a fellow who has been spending the summer in Reynoldsville figured conspicuously, occurred recently, and if our story editor had time to write it up the account would make interesting reading for the people who delight in hearing or reading scandals. The story given us is as follows: The sojourner in this place wrote a letter to a married woman in McKean county, the husband got hold of the letter and his ire was soon far above summer heat. He lost no time in getting ready and bringing his wife to Reynoldsville to see the author of the epistle. When they arrived in this place and began looking for the victim, one of the twin gave away the object of their visit and the man for whom they were looking got "wind of it" and he hastily sought safety in a woodland nook near town where he squandered a long half day enjoying his own company. The enraged husband remained in town one day and night and failing to find the object of his search, took his spouse and hid away to his domicile in McKean county.

Italians, Revolver, Knife, Razor.

About half past five Sunday morning the people living near the iron bridge that spans the Sandy Lick were awakened from their peaceful slumber by four or five shots from a revolver and the "gabble" of Italian tongues. The fracas began at the shoe shop next door to Riggs' store, which is owned by an Italian. As near as we can learn an Italian named Pool and wife who live in West Reynoldsville accused Shoemaker of circulating scandalous stories about Mrs. Pool. Mr. Pool called at Shoemaker's Saturday evening while under the influence of liquor and was thrown out of the shop. Sunday morning Shoemaker had early callers which proved to be Pool and his wife and another Italian and they were armed with a big knife, razor and revolver. They proceeded to "do Shoemaker up" but he escaped and ran across the bridge, the other Italians in hot pursuit, yelling and shooting. Shoemaker escaped without serious injury. His hands were cut considerably.
 One of the Italians who took part in the Sunday morning fracas went into Shoemaker's shop last evening and renewed the fight. Both Italians were badly carved, but not to death. Shoemaker was taken to a doctor's office for repairs and "Tony," the other Ike, was locked up.

Will Tap a New Coal Field.

The Brookwayville Record, in speaking of the projected railroad that will connect Reynoldsville with Warren, says:
 Those who are familiar with the lay of the country say that should the new road be located on the present survey it will afford a natural and easy outlet to Brookwayville's best coal field. On account of the dip of the measures the coal would have to be opened from this side, but that could easily be accomplished on the James Kearney farm. From there the only sharp grade is encountered to the Uncle Tommy Hutchison farm, from whence the grade is easy to the main line of the projected road. It is said that an opening on either the James or Mathew Kearney farm would tap a field of which the coal from one thousand acres could be loaded from one tippie. Nowhere else in the valley is there such a continuous body of workable coal. The field embraces between 2,000 and 3,000 acres of the best coal in the section, which is still in the hands of original owners. The building of the new road will no doubt inaugurate operations in this vicinity.

While Millirens competitors brag success, they breath failure.
