Hood's Sarsaparilla

The One True Blood Purifier. $1.6 for 25.

Hood's Pills cure habitual constipation. Price 25 cents.

A late official report shows that contrary to common belief, cases of religious mania are rare in the British Isles. It also discloses the strange fact that more mental aberration is developed among the tribe of peddlers than among any other class, physicians and druggists coming next. Melancholia prevails most in Ireland.

"It is always best to lie on the right side," remarked the stump speaker when he heard of the election of the man he had been advocating.

Drawn Out.

The pain of a small burn can be easily extracted by placing it near heat, which draws it out. One feels the pain going out as it were, and this illustration explains a broad principle of cure of many things. For instance, in a sprain, severe or mild, warmth by friction begins a true operation. But, first and foremost, use St. Jacobs Oil. The needed warmth and friction comes from rubbing it on. The skin and injured muscle grow soft and heated and take up the curative properties of the remedy, and it is not long before one feels the pain drawn out. Other properties are at work to strengthen and restore, and a positive cure follows like magic.

$400 in Prizes on Oats and Corn.

Last year we offered $300 for the biggest yield on oats, 200 bushels Silver Mine Oats won. This year we offer $200 more on oats, $100 on Silver King Barley, a Barley yielding in 1895 116 bushels per acre, and $100 on Golden Triumph, Yellow Dent Corn, the corn of your dreams!

What's Tocsinte and Sand Vetch and Saen-lino and Lathyrus and Giant Spurry and Giant Incurate Clover and lots of such things? They'll make you rich if you plant a plenty. Catalogue tells you.

IF YOU WILL CUT THIS OUT AND SEND IT WITH 10c. postage to the John A. Salzer Seed Co., La Crosse, Wis., you will get, free, 10 grasses and grains, including above oats, barley, corn and their mammoth catalogue. Catalogue alone 5c.

shake it off

The general belief among doctors is that consumption itself is very rarely inherited. But the belief is becoming stronger that the tendency to consumption is very generally transmitted from parent to child. If there has been consumption in the family, each member should take special care to prepare the system against it. Live out doors; keep the body well nourished; and treat the first indication of failing health.

Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil, with Hypophosphites, is a fat-producing food and nerve-tonic. Its use is followed by improved nutrition, richer blood, stronger nerves and a more healthy action of all the organs. It strengthens the power of the body to resist disease. If you have inherited a tendency to weak lungs, shake it off.

JUST AS GOOD IS NOT SCOTT'S EMULSION.

Bottlebinding.

You can't judge of the quality of a book by the binding, nor tell the contents by the title. You look for the name of the author before you buy the book. The name of Robert Louis Stevenson (for instance) on the back guarantees the inside of the book, whatever the outside may be. There's a parallel between books and bottles. The binding, or wrapper, of a bottle is no guide to the quality of the medicine the bottle contains. The title on the bottle is no warrant for confidence in the contents. It all depends on the author's name. Never mind who made the bottle. Who made the medicine? That's the question. Think of this when buying Sarsaparilla. It isn't the binding of the bottle or the name of the medicine that you're to go by. That's only printer's ink and paper! The question is, who made the medicine? What's the author's name? When you see Ayer's name on a Sarsaparilla bottle, that's enough. The name Ayer guarantees the best, and has done so for 50 years.

Longfellow's "Hiawatha."

The Indian epic of "Hiawatha" took the world by surprise, writes Ezekiel Butterworth in an article "How Longfellow Wrote His Best-Known Poems" in Ladies' Home Journal. Its form and its matter were for a long time mysterious. How could a Cambridge literary recluse produce such an epic? Certain critics claimed that the idea, form and magic treatment of the poem had been borrowed from a Scandinavian saga, and the implication greatly disturbed his publishers, and must have caused his sensitive spirit great pain. It partly eclipsed for a time the new star in the literary horizon on which all eyes were fixed. The criticism was disarmed; the wonder grew; a fixed star had appeared. But the mystery of the poem is simply solved. Longfellow desired to produce an epic that should be in sympathy with all that was most beautiful and noble in the vanishing Indian race. Abraham Le Port, an Onondaga chieftain, had furnished Schoolcraft, the historian, much Indian lore and many mystic traditions, with certain Indian vocabularies, in which the musical and unmusical sounds of many words indicated their meaning. These traditions and vocabularies made the work of the poet easy. One only needs to read Schoolcraft, to whom the poet acknowledged his indebtedness, to see how this monument to the Indian race, their only great literary memorial, was built.

In a Hot Box

"I got into a hot place once," remarked ex-Sheriff Healy, of Marin County. "In fact, it was the hottest place I ever got into in my life. When I was running an engine on the narrow-gauge road I noticed a leak at the soft plug in the crown sheet of my engine. It kept getting worse, so I decided to plug it.

"That night I raked the fire, and when the fire box cooled off a little, crawled in and examined the leak. I measured the hole carefully, and, after trying the callipers on a rat-tail file, I had concluded that it was just the thing. I would drive it in and break it off.

"I put the end of the file in the hole, hit it a crack with the hammer, and, instead of striking, it went clear through. The next minute boiling hot water was pouring down on me from the boiler.

"The fire box was only about four feet square and the soft plug was right in the center over my head, so I could not get close enough into any of the corners without getting my legs scalded. I am pretty large, and the door of the fire box was small, but I had to get out or get scalded. I turned my back to the hot water, and by the time I wiggled out the door I was the hottest man on the coast. When I pulled off my clothes I took about eight square inches of skin with them. Since then I draw the water before I do any plugging."—San Francisco Post.

He Expressed His Opinion.

One of the most prominent physicians in Washington owns a farm somewhere in New England, and whenever he gets unbearably tired of his fashionable patients in town he goes there, puts on his oldest clothes, lays in a stock of corn-cob pipes and rusticates. One day last summer he was jogging lazily along a country road in a rickety old cart drawn by a horse almost as rickety. A countryman walking on the same road asked for a lift and the two fell into conversation.

"Who are you working for?" asked the countryman.

"Oh, I'm working for Dr. J., down there," answered the physician.

"What doin'?"

"Oh, went on the doctor, "I do everything for him. I take care of him, you know. I dress him and I feed him, and I even wash his face and put him to bed. I do everything he needs done."

"How much d'ye get for it?" asked the native.

"My board and clothes."

"An' you do all that for him—wash him, an' dress him, an' feed him, an' all that?"

"Yes."

The countryman looked at the doctor a moment in silence. Then he leaned over the wheel and spat solemnly.

"Well, of all the dern fools I ever see!" was all he said.—Washington Post.

STABBED THE BRIDEGROOM.

Fought With the Brother of His Young Wife.

Harry Shafer married Susie Blair, in Hagerstown. Both reside in Franklin county, and came to the bride's parents for the wedding dinner. There John Blair, the 15-year-old brother of the bride, and the new bridegroom became involved in a dispute over a borrowed team, and Blair stabbed Shafer, who is 17 years old, in the neck and chest. The wounded man has a chance of recovery. Blair is now in jail.

THREE FATALITIES AT WILKESBARRE.

Charles Schrader, a miner, and Andrew Swindish, a laborer, were killed by a fall of coal in the Plymouth mine. In a drunken row among Hungarians Joseph Krauswagen was shot and killed by Peter Wassal. The murderer was arrested.

There are 26 applicants for retail liquor licenses before the Washington county court, six for distilleries, four for taverns, and one for wholesale. Seven of the retailers' applications are from Charlestown, four from McDonalia and two from the town of Washington, where there has not been a retail license for 25 years. Now Charles A. Bailey is applying for the Hotel Main and Jacob Koenig for the Horse House. Judge McEivaine will preside at the license court, which opens February 17.

At Unlontown, Nelson Wiltrout was lodged in jail charged with robbing the postoffice at Wooddale of postage stamps to the value of $16.63. In October, it had been discovered that a pair of stamps had been purchased at Sears, Roebuck & Co., of Chicago, and paid for with $10 worth of stamps, and that a horse blanket had been bought in Pittsburg for $2.50 and paid for in stamps.

A Great Whistle.

Warden Sage, of Sing Sing prison, is having constructed an immense and powerful steam whistle to be used to alarm officers and citizens in case of an escape, an uprising in the prison or fire. It will also signal the beginning of work in the shops in the morning and the shutting down at night. The whistle is known as a Fitts patent twelve-inch three-barred steam gong, and is the largest in use. It is composed of three cylindrical bells or barrels placed one above the other. These barrels are fastened to the steam conductor, which passes through them. The entire whistle is eight feet in height, and, contrary to ordinary whistles, the barrels or resonators are inverted. Each barrel has a different tone, thus producing a blended sound, without ear-splitting effects. It is asserted that under favorable atmospheric conditions the whistle can be heard at a distance of thirty miles. Even under unfavorable circumstances the alarm should be heard seven to ten miles away.

COULD ONLY EAT PEPTONOLDS

BUY PINK PILLS MADE IT POSSIBLE TO EAT ANYTHING.

Get Your Digestion Right and Your Health Will Take Care of Itself.

From the Star, Washington, D. C.

"Dr. Williams' Pink Pills miraculously cured me of two diseases and have otherwise done me a vast amount of good," said Mrs. E. A. Meeker, of No. 307 Third street, Southeast Washington, D. C., to a Star reporter to-day.

"For many years I was a sufferer from muscular rheumatism in its worst form, and in addition had stomach trouble to such an extent that for a long time I could eat nothing stronger than beef peptonoids. The rheumatism commenced in my back and not only extended into my left arm, almost paralyzing it from the shoulder to the elbow, but attacked my hips and limbs with such vehemence that it was impossible for me to go out on the street without being supported by an attendant.

"I was attended by four different physicians—not all at one time—of both the allopathic and homeopathic schools, and there were times when I was covered from my neck to my feet with sores or some other kind of plasters, for I tried everything of the sort that was recommended by my friends.

"During the greater part of this time my husband and son were urging me to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, but I steadily refused to do so.

"About two years or two and a half years ago the physician who was then attending me, and I have had none since, said to me, 'Mrs. Meeker, there is no use for me to come and see you any more; you have muscular rheumatism, a disease incident to old age, and you cannot be cured. I will give you some iron for your blood, and when this prescription runs out you can get it renewed. If you get much worse you can send for me, but I will not again call until I am summoned.

"Of course I was much discouraged, but still I tried a noted massage treatment thoroughly, but without the slightest effect. At last my husband persuaded me to try the Pink Pills.

"I want to say that when I began taking the Pink Pills it was without the least faith in their efficacy for good or belief that they would benefit me, but simply to please my husband and son by taking something. However, I took them as directed by the makers, and at the end of the month I found to my great surprise that my stomach was so much better that I had no longer to subsist on beef peptonoids, but could begin to indulge in more solid food.

"So I told my husband that as the Pink Pills were evidently doing me good, I would try them for another month.

"I continued to use them as directed and during the second month my eyesight, which had been very bad for a long time, began to improve, and it was much more pleasant for me to go on the street, though I still had to be attended on account of my weak limbs.

"How many boxes of the Pink Pills I took in all I could not begin to tell, as there were periods when I would stop using them for a week at a time. But when I resumed I continued until I felt I could safely cease taking them as about fifteen months.

"Sometimes after my eyesight began to grow better, my memory, which had been defective and caused me much trouble for a long time, returned and became as good as when as I was many years younger. During the period to which I refer I had great difficulty in remembering where I had put anything, but as I said before, this trouble entirely disappeared and has never returned, while my eyesight also continues excellent.

"My long continued illness had reduced my weight from between 130 and 140 pounds to 112 pounds, but while I was taking the Pink Pills I gained thirty pounds, and I now weigh 142 pounds.

"Some of my friends freely asserted that my flesh, as they noticed my increasing weight, was not solid and predicted that I would speedily lose it. Such, however, has not been the case, although I have not eaten any of the pills since last December. All my rheumatism having by that time disappeared, since which time I have had no return of the dread complaint. I have been told that the disease will visit me again, but if it does, I shall again resort to the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

"With my experience with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I have not hesitated to recommend them to others who were afflicted. My niece, who lives near Hillsboro, Loudoun County, Va., suffered for a long time with a peculiar disease of the hips and limbs. I believed the medicine which did me so much good would cure her also, and I bought three boxes of them and sent to her. She took them and was cured completely of her complaint."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. They are sold in boxes (never in loose form) by the dozen or hundred) at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, and may be had of all druggists or directly by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.
