David Thomas Hiles, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hiles, of Prescottville, died on Wednesday, Feb. 12th, and was buried in Prospect cemetery on Friday afternoon. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. H. R. Johnson. David Thomas had suffered with spinal trouble from his infancy and had always been a special charge to his parents. The spinal trouble was aggravated by an attack of measles which resulted as above stated.

We received a report this week of a meeting of the W. C. T. U. Executive Committee held at Pancoast three weeks ago. Mention was made of the meeting at the time but we were unable to get a report then, and as it was published in all the county papers several weeks ago, and we have no space for it this week, we will not publish it but don't want to be two or three weeks behind time with reports of conventions.

The following members of Phil. Kearney Camp, No. 36, S. of V., of this place, indulged in a sleigh ride to Du-Bois last Wednesday evening to attend the celebration of Lincoln's birthday, which was observed with appropriate ceremonies in the opera house at Du-Bois by the S. of V. Camp of that place: A. M. Woodward, H. Alex. Stoke, A. M. Wadding, W. H. Ford, Henry A. Reed, Earl Sutter, Dr. B. E. Hoover, Wm. P. Woodring, Clark Wells, John Sharpe. When our neighbor, West Reynoldsville, was granted the privilege of becoming a borough, which was two years ago, the school board and supervisors of Winslow township and the same boards of the new borough were able to get a satisfactory adjustment of eth not-and in attempting to go by a their accounts, but the poor overseers of the borough and township did not corner. It is likely that he was so get their business settled and the Court tightly wrapped in lap robes and leap had to appoint an auditor. The matter year bliss that he was unable to protect has been hanging fire until several himself from the attack of the fence sks ago when it was settled.

Wrist Broken.

J. W. Hillis, of Paradise Settlement, slipped and fell last Saturday and broke his left wrist.

Arm Broken. Mrs. Joseph T. Guthrie, of West Reynoldsville, slipped and fell on a level piece of sidewalk while walking to a neighbor's house last Wednesday forenoon and broke her left arm below the elbow.

First in this Section.

The aseptolin treatment for consumption was used in the case of Will Bell at this place on Monday. This is the first time the treatment has been used in this section since its discovery. If there is any merit in the treatment it is to be hoped it will be successful in this case.

Unusual Occurrence.

One of the unusual things to occur is for father and son to be drawn from the same county at the same time for United States jurors. Ninian Cooper, of this place, as petit juror, and Hugh B. Cooper, his son, of Brockwayville, as grand juror, will have to attend United States Court at Scranton next month.

Naughty Umbrella Handle.

Miss Maud S. Reynolds came very early knocking her right eye out last Friday by slipping on the street and falling on the handle of her umbrella. A badly swollen and very black eye was the outcome of the accident. A quarter of an inch nearer the eye would have resulted seriously. She was knocked senseless for a minute.

Four Licenses Refused.

License court was held at Brookville on Monday and the hotel men of the county went to the county seat that day to get Judge Reed's decision as to license or no license. Out of the fortysix applications for license in the county, twenty-one were refused. Those granted at this place were: Ross House Commercial Hotel, Hotel McConnell, Hotel Dillman, Hotel Belnap, Burns House. Refused: City Hotel, Hotel America, West End Hotel and Hotel Royal.

Typhoid Feyer Victim.

Miss Julia Bauer, daughter of William Bauer, of this place, died at the General Hospital in Allegheny City at five o'clock last Saturday morning of typhoid fever. Her remains were brought to this place Saturday evening and were buried in Beulah cemetery Monday afternoon. Services were held in the Lutheran church, conducted by Rev. Metzenthin. Miss Bauer went to Pittsburg last fall to accept a position as a domestic for a family in that city. She was stricken with typhoid fever a few weeks ago, which resulted in death. Miss Bauer had many young friends here who learned with sadness of her death. She was not yet eighteen

Paid for His Fun.

Last Sunday evening two Italians named respectively, Louis Grgis and John Franco, who live at London mine, indulged in a fracas and Franco belabored Grgis on the head with a macaroni roller. Thursday Grgis appeared before Esq. John M. Hays and made information against Franco for the attempt to make macaroni out of his pate. A warrant was issued and served on the fending Ike and he was locked in the Reynoldsville "cooler" so that it would be convenient for him to appear before Hays' tribunal for a hearing on Friday. Early Friday morning there was a hustling around among some of the Italian friends of the manipulator of the macaroni roller and the matter was finally settled by Franco paying $25.00 and all

Presco Change.

J. A. Welsh, who has been in the grocery business in Reynoldsville for five years, has sold his store to W. R. Martin, who took charge of the store last Friday morning. Mr. Martin, who has been a coal miner for thirty-two years, had considerable experience in the store business early in life, and he thinks the experience of those days will serve him well in the business he has now embarked in. Mr. Welsh, whom we have always found to be a at all. We are always glad to get news, pleasant and honest man to do business with, has not decided what he will do in the future, but for the present he expeets to devote his time in trying to collect money from people whom he placed sufficient confidence in while in business to trust them to goods, which they have failed to pay for.

A Fence Rail Did It.

During the past week M. W. McDonald, the insurance agent, has been sporting a black eye and a skinned face, in fact has looked very much like a chap who had been in a pugilistic encounter and got badly used up, but as he is a gentlemanly fellow and is not noted for participating in "scraps," the natural inference of his friends was that he had run up against a mishap. Mr. McDonald was out for a sleigh ride Wednesday night-whether alone or driving with one hand, THE STAR saysnow drift he was upset into a fence

Conversation Party.

Miss Marie, daughter of Esq. M. M. Davis, gave a party to a number, of the young people of Reynoldsville last Thursday evening in honor of Miss Alice Allen, of Parker, Pa., who has been Miss Davis' guest several weeks. The evening hours were pleasantly whiled away by various amusements and at a reasonable hour excellent refreshments were served. During the evening the young people were given a eard on which was various topics for discussion, such as: "Our school days:" "The latest fad;" "Sleighing parties;" "The new woman:" "Dancing:" "Girls:" "Boys;" &c., and the ladies were to get a gentleman to sign his name opposite a topic, and vice versa until the cards were filled, and then at a given signal each lady or gentleman was to find the the one whose name appeared first on their card and they were given three minutes time to talk on the topic that they had mutually agreed to discuss when the name was signed opposite the topic, and this changing about every few minutes was continued until all the topics were exhausted, if the ladies were not. A party now-a-days without giving some prize seems to be an exception, but this party was up-to-date and the winner of the prize of the evening was to guess how many beans was in a small box that all had the privilege of looking at. Glenn A. Milliren was the lucky guesser and got the prize, which was a box of choice caudy.

The Last Spree.

Patrick Fennell, who has been in the employe of Degnan & McDonald, lumbermen of this place, off and on for almost twenty years, was found dead in their camp near Reynoldsville last Monday evening. Fennell was noted for getting on protracted sprees, and all last week he spent in this place indulging freely in the cup that intoxicates. He walked to the camp Sunday evening and after the week's drunk was not able to go to work Monday morning. He lounged around the boarding house all day, sticking close to his bunk most of the time, and little attention was paid to him because he was getting over his spree. When the men came in from work in the evening they found the man in his bunk stiff and cold in death's embrace. Heart failure, superinduced by the week's spree was ascribed the cause of his sudden death. He was about fifty years old and unmarried. His remains were brought to John M. Hays' undertaking rooms in this place, where they will remain until his friends arrive from Messengerville, N. Y., to attend the funeral. This is another warning of what liquor will do when it gets the opportunity.

Snow Balled.

The "Wreath of Roses," a society of small girls of the Catholic church, enjoyed a sleighride to DuBois Saturday, and were pelted with water-soaked snow balls both going into and coming out of that town. One little girl was hit in the mouth with a snow ball and her lip was badly cut. M. J. Farrell, who chaperoned the girls, ran after the snow-ballers and secured the names of two of them, Roy Orner and Chas. Yeager. Mr. Farrell called at the newspaper offices of DuBois and gave the names of the two boys who were in the gang that did the snow balling. The Express made mention of the affair and gave the names of the two boys, but the Courier ignored the whole business. If DuBois people come to Reynoldsville and are snow balled and can find out who did the contemptible work, we will be obliged to them if they report the parties at this office and we will see that their names appear in print.

Runaway Sunday.

Will Hay, of DuBois, drove to this place Sunday after his wife and another lady who were visiting Mrs. Hay's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Schwem, who live a mile and a half west of Reynoldsville. Mr. Hay stopped at Hotel Belnap and John Warnick drove out to Mr. Schwem's after the ladies. On the return trip John managed to strike a good sized snow drift, upset the ladies into the snow and let the horse run off. The sleigh and the horse called it quits at the corner of Brown and Pike streets in West Reynoldsville and the horse ran to Hotel Belnap where it was caught. The horse was badly cut about the legs and the sleigh was somewhat demoral ized by the time the horse left it on the hill. John has been "guyed" considerably about the runaway, as it is claimed the horse was not in much of a hurry to run off.

Building and Loan Meeting.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Reynoldsville Building and Loan Association, held in the Flynn hall Monday evening, two thousand dollars were sold, and four directors, John M. Hays, Thos. E. Evans, James M. Moore, Milton S. Sterley, and one auditor, M. C. Coleman, were elected. A vote was to have been taken at this meeting on the proposed amendments to the bylaws, but this vote was postponed until some future time.

An excellent home-talent entertain ment will be given in Centennial Hall Saturday evening. Admission 10 and 15 cents. See program in this issue.

Fresh fish, oysters, fresh butter and ggs at the Home Supply store opposite

THE BALLOT'S DECISION!

REPUBLICAN PRIMARIES.

Out of the long list of good men seeking the Republican nomination for state and county offices, the following are the names of the successful candidates as returns show up to time we go to press:

Congress, Hon. A. C. White. State Senator, Jas. G. Mitchell. Sheriff, Ed. C. Burns, Register and Recorder, J. S. Barr.

Prothonotary, W. D. Clarke. County Treasurer, W. H. Lucas Assembly it is close between J. W.

oust and W. O. Smith. County Commissioners, John J. Hin-

derliter, and looks favorable for Val. S.

West Reynoldsville Council. The town council of West Reynoldsville met in the town hall of that borough last Wednesday evening and disposed of the business presented for consideration, which was largely to order bills to be paid as follows:

Secretary's bill of $16.64 for one year's services and making out duplicate. Bill was accepted and ordered to be paid.

Interv $30.00 was ordered to be paid.

H. C. Campbell, Esq., presented a bill for $100.00 for attorney's service in settling the accounts between the West Reynoldsville borough and Winslow township, which account resulted from the town cutting loose from the township and becoming a borough. A third of the bill was ordered paid by council and the other two-thirds was referred to school directors and poor overseers of the borough.

Valentine Tea Party.

Mrs. G. W. Palen, of West Reynoldsville, gave a six o'clock tea to a large number of lady friends last Thursday evening. The name of each invited guest was painted in gold letters on little celluloid hearts, and the ladies were informed that at the table and place where they found the heart with their name upon it, that was where they were expected to sit down for supper. After the good things had been disposed of the ladies were given pencils, paper and the word "Valentine" and were to make as many words out of the letters contained in the word given as possible. Of course a prize was to be given the lady who coined the largest number of words, and also one to the lady with smallest number of words. Mrs. F. M. Brown got the first prize, a valentine banjo, and Mrs. W. S. Ross got the "booby" prize.

An effort will be made to produce the best program ever given by home talent in Reynoldsville. Admission 10c. for children and 15c. for adults. Come early and get seats and spend an hour in mirth and laughter.

SOCIETY'S WHIRL.

W. S. Stone was in Pittsburg over

Sunday. E. S. Vosburg, of Driftwood, was in town Monday. Miss Belle Arnold visited friends in DuBois last week. Mrs. Albert Reynolds visited in DuBois last week. County Commissioner S. M. Shields was in Reynoldsville Friday.

John R. Hillis, of Urey, Pa., spent Sunday at his home in Paradise.

Rev. Jas. H. Jelbart, of Belleview, Pa., was in town one day last week.

F. A. Weaver, of the Brookville Republican, called at THE STAR office Monday

Val. S. Murray, of Gaskill township, father of Dr. J. H. Murray, was in town Monday. Milton L. and Miss Tacy Dempsey visited in DuBois several days during he past week. John Ross, of Beaver Falls, spent Sunday with his brother, W. S. Ross, at the Ross House. Wm. P. Woodring went to Big Run

Monday to work in the tannery at that place for a short time. Mrs. Sarah McAfoos, of New Maysville, has been a visitor at Frank S. Hoffman's the past week. Misses Annie and Cora Steel, of Brookville, were the guests of Miss Hettie Beer over Sunday. Joseph C. Macro, of this place, started out yesterday as traveling salesman for a Pittsburg macaroni establishment. Mr. and Mrs. W. Z. McLear, of West Chester, Pa., visited the latter's brother, A. T. Bing, in this place last Friday.

Glenn A. Milliren, the clothier, is in Philadelphia this week buying a large stock of goods for the spring W. E. Metzenthin, of Harrisburg, is visiting his brother, Rev. Paul Metzenthin, pastor of the Lutheran church at this place. J. M. Cathers, one of the train dispatchers on the Reynoldsville and Falls

Creek R'y, with head office at Big Soldier, was in DuBois Friday. Miss Maybel Sutter went to Pittsburg last Saturday afternoon where she will remain for some time as a student in the Martin Short Hand College. Daniel Brewer, of Brookville, one of the present board of commissioners of this county, spent Sunday with his son, E. S. Brewer, in West Reynoldsville. Chas. J. Kah, J. C. Bauer and wife, Misses Caroline Herpel and Christina Bauer, of Fairmount, came to Reynoldsville Monday to attend the funeral of Julia Bauer.

B. T. Hastings, of Brookville, who began setting type sixty years ago and can still do a good day's work at the case, spent Saturday with his daughter, Mrs. S. T. Dougherty, in this place.

James M. Marsh, of Sligo, Pa., the genial passenger conductor on the Sligo Branch of the A. V. R'y, and an old and tried friend of ye editor, was in Reynoldsville last Saturday and graced our sanctum with his smiling countenance. W. C. Elliott, editor of the Volunteer, and wife were at Clearfield last week attending the wedding of Robert H. Warren, of Pittsburg, and Miss Cora Hastings, of Clearfield, niece of Mrs. Elliott. The wedding took place

Wednesday evening. Jackson S. Schultze, of Ridgway, Division Superintendent of the Elk Tanning Co., was in town last Thursday. Mr. Schultze formerly was a visitor at Reynoldsville every two weeks, but on account of the duliness in the tannery business has not been here for sometime.

Dr. J. H. Hoffman, of Pittsburg, spent several days of last week with his brother, C. F. Hoffman, the jeweler in this place. Doctor had been on the sick list for a few weeks and was visiting at Brookville and in this place to recuperate so that he can again prescribe for the sick people on his list in the "Smoky City."

From the Ridgway Democrat we learn that Ed. P. Windle, an erstwhile Revnoldsville young man, whose parents still reside in this place, will move from Ridgway, where he has been employed as a machinist at the McEwen shops and at the works of the Ridgway Mfg. Co. for seven years, to Bradford, where he has been offered a good position. Ed. is a first-class machinist.

Rev. H. R. Johnson, pastor of the Reynoldsville Presbyterian church, filled Dr. Conway's pulpit at Brookville Sunday, the latter gentleman being called to Cool Spring to preach the dedicatorial sermon in the new Presbyterian church at that place. Rev. A. F. Walker, of Tarentum, Pa., who has been visiting Rev. Johnson for a week, filled the pulpit of the Presbyterian church at this place in the pastor's absence.

Filthy Remedy.

One of the filthlest remedies for bringing the measles out on a child is to make tea out of the alvine discharges from sheep. Several days ago a West Reynoldsville man lost a half day's work and walked far enough into the country to find a sheep pen; he got some of the excretion therefrom, brought it home, made a tea and gave it to his offspring to drink to drive out the
