

The Star.

Subscription $1.00 per year, in advance.
 C. A. STEPHENSON, Editor and Pub.
 WEDNESDAY, MARCH 18, 1896.

An independent local paper, published every Wednesday at Reynoldsville, Jefferson Co., Pa., devoted to the interests of Reynoldsville and Jefferson county. Non-political, will treat all with fairness, and will be especially friendly towards the laboring class.
 Subscription price $1.00 per year, in advance. Communications intended for publication must be accompanied by the writer's name, not for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith. Interesting news items solicited. Advertising rates made known on application at the office in Reynoldsville, Pa.
 Lively communications and change of advertisements should reach this office by Monday noon.
 Address all communications to C. A. Stephenson, Reynoldsville, Pa.
 Entered at the postoffice at Reynoldsville, Pa., as second class mail matter.

The old saying, "one cannot see into a millstone," is likely to become an obsolete one now that the X cathode rays are operating in photography.

"The Daily News" is the name of a new paper that made its first appearance in Pittsburg Monday afternoon. The new creature is of Republican parentage and it promises to be a very live Republican paper. "The Daily News" is sure to get a large patronage because it gives the news in an attractive and readable form.

It is now proposed to authorize postmasters and their deputies to open letters on which postage stamps have not been placed, to learn the name of writer and avoid forwarding it to the dead letter office. If all who write would have their names and addresses printed on the envelopes they use, as the post-office department requests, such troubles would not arise. Such work is neatly done in THE STAR office job department at reasonable prices.

It is always hard to get up in the world. When you see a man who is really and truly up in the world you see a man who has worked his way up. There is neither man nor woman at the top in any department who did not have to climb there with blistered hands and bleeding feet. The leading merchants, the leading insurance men, educators, all climbed patiently to eminence. Plants get up, trees get up, men and women get up, all in one way—by climbing up.

The Lock Haven Express says: "On the 13th of April the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will complete the first half century of its active existence. During this period it has made itself the greatest railroad corporation in the world. It has been foremost in all improvements in railroading. It has literally set the pace for the railroad world. It has never been behind but always first. Arrangements are in progress, we understand, to celebrate this semi-centennial in a fitting manner."

We should not only guard against sin in ourselves, but we should with equal care avoid anything that might prove the occasion of sin in others. A little pebble may turn the course of a tiny stream which in its onward flow becomes a mighty river; so an apparently trifling act may so change the whole course of a man's life as to render him a monster of iniquity, and result in his ruin. How careful, then, we should be to avoid everything which may bring a wrong influence to bear on the minds of others, or which may prove the occasion of their fall into sin. We are in some sense our brother's keeper. We should be deeply solicitous for his welfare.

Any man can take a newspaper. It is the cheapest thing he can buy. It instructs you and your wife, and teaches your children; it comes to you every week, rain or shine, calm or storm, brings you the best news of the neighborhood. No matter what happens, it enters your doors a welcome friend, full of sunshine, cheer and interest. It shortens long summer days and enlivens long winter evenings. It is your adviser, your gossip and friend. No man is just to his wife and children who does not give them the home paper to read.—Emlenton News. Subscribe for THE STAR and get all the news, state, county and home, for $1.00 a year, cash in advance.

Ruth Ashmore, addressing herself to "That Boy of Mine," in March Ladies' Home Journal, writes that his personal appearance "should be good. You owe that to yourself. And whether it is at the office or when you are out visiting you should be a clean, wholesome-looking young man. Cleanliness does much toward godliness, and a clean body aids a clean soul. It may not be in your power to possess a dress suit, but if you should not, don't borrow one and don't use one. Brush up the best clothes you have, make them immaculate, and then enjoy yourself and forget your clothes. Your linen can always be fresh and clean, and your tie can be in good style and properly knotted. Never wear a loud scarf and never wear imitation jewelry. Gentlemen select plain gold buttons, and simple gold links, and scarfpins of the most modest pattern. If you can afford dress clothes, remember never to appear in them until after dark. You may wear as you like best, either a lawn tie or a black satin one, but the stiff little bow should be looped by yourself and not bought ready made."

Did You Ever?

- Did you ever see a cow-slip on an orange peel?

The dull season of the year is the time to do the greatest amount of advertising, so say the most successful advertisers, and if it is so with them it is equally so with all. Competition demands it as much in the country as it does in the city, for the reason that the financial struggle is usually greater. The rates of advertisement in the country enable the merchant to advertise extensively the year around, gives him advantages over his city competitor. Just think of it, the little journal "Printers Ink," only one of many journals used by the city dealer, gets $5,000 to $7,000 per year for a page ad. 4x6 inches, amounting to more for one issue than the same space would cost in a country paper for two years. If it pays to advertise at all it pays to advertise all the time.

Borough Ordinance.

(No. 38.)
 AN ORDINANCE establishing a grade for a side or foot walk, on the North side of West Main street, in Reynoldsville borough, from the East side of Pine alley to the West side of Centennial hall, as shown on David Reynolds' plan, in front of lots Numbers 11, 12, 13 and 14, owned by S. Shaffer, Mrs. Tapper, M. M. Fisher and John Corbett.

Section 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the Town Council of the Borough of Reynoldsville, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by authority of the same, that the grade for a side or foot walk from the East side of Centennial hall, on the North side of Main street, in said borough, be and the same is hereby established as follows, to-wit: Beginning on the East line of Pine alley, at Solomon Shaffer's lot, at present grade; thence for the distance of fifty-eight and four-tenths feet at a fall of twenty-four inches in 100 feet; thence for a distance of thirty and four-tenths feet, at a fall of five inches in 100 feet; thence for the distance of thirty and eight-tenths feet at level; thence for the distance of fifty-eight and nine-tenths feet, at a rise of six inches in 100 feet; thence for the distance of sixty-seven and nine-tenths feet, at a rise of fifteen inches in 100 feet, to present grade at the West line of Centennial hall.

Section 2. That any ordinance or part of ordinance conflicting with the provisions of this ordinance be and the same is hereby repealed, so far as the same affects this ordinance.

Ordained and enacted into a law in Councils this 2nd day of March, A. D. 1896. SCOTT McCLELLAND, Pres. of Council.

J. S. HAMMOND, Clerk of Council. Burgess' office, March 2nd, A. D. 1896. Examined and approved.

Here is a problem taken from an exchange that our mathematical friends may try to solve: Three negroes stole a sack of apples and hid them in a barn. After they had retired one of them concluded he would get up and take his share. He counted the apples and found he could divide them equally by throwing one away, which he did. After he had gone another went for the same purpose. He threw one away and took one-third of the remainder. When he was gone the third man came, threw away one and took one-third of the remainder. When they awoke in the morning neither told the other what he had done but they threw one away and divided the remainder equally. How many apples were in the sack at the beginning?

That old established cough remedy, Down's Elixir, still more than holds its own in the public estimation, despite sharp and active competition. It is a "home remedy," and in this locality needs no words of praise from us, so well and favorably known is it. It is the standard remedy for coughs, colds and all throat troubles, with great numbers of our people, and their continued use and unsolicited recommendation of it speaks volumes in its favor.—Burlington, Vt. Free Press, January 26, 1882. For sale by H. A. Stoke.
