For a few months at least, we will offer THE STAR to new subscribers for $1.00 a year, CASH IN ADVANCE. This offer holds good to old subscribers who pay all arrears and one year in advance. All back subscriptions will be charged at the old rate of $1.50 per year.

Press me closer, all my own;
Warm my heart for thee alone,
Every nerve responsive thrills;
Each carress my being fills.
Rest and peace in vain I crave;
In ecstasy I live, I slave.
Dower'd with hope, with promise blest,
Thou dost reign upon my breast.
Closer still, for I am thine;
Burns my heart, for thou art mine;
Thou the message, I the wire—
The furnace, thou the fire—
I the servant, thou the master—
Roaring, red-hot mustard plaster.
—Bob Burdette.

J. W. Riggs and E. L. Evans, of this place, were out last week appraising the timber land of Joseph Strauss, deceased.

Last Sunday evening Rev. C. H. Prescott, of Cleveland, Ohio, preached for Rev. E. Lewis Kelley in the Baptist church.

Thirteen-month-old baby of Mrs. George Wells died Monday morning and was buried at Sandy Valley yesterday afternoon.

A number of Reynoldsville people went to the scene of horror at the Berwind-White shaft above DuBois Monday afternoon.

Watches never as cheap as now. Ed. Gooder, the jeweler, is having a special sale on watches this week at prices never heard of before.

Rev. Paul W. Metzenthin, the youngest preacher in Reynoldsville, preached in the St. Paul's Lutheran church at DuBois last Friday evening.

An old banjoist who has been making annual visits to this place for five or six years, struck the town this week. He gains a livelihood by passing the hat.

The Helping Hand Society of the M. E. church netted over $25.00 at the chicken and waffle supper given at the residence of Ab. Reynolds last Wednesday evening.

Lunch was served in the Sunday school room of the Baptist church Thursday evening to a large number of people who drove to this place from DuBois on a sleighing excursion.

Mrs. Walter A. Fleming, nee Lettie Smith, of Buffalo, N. Y., who was born and raised in Reynoldsville, has recently undergone an operation for appendicitis. She is considered out of danger.

Jim Ford, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Ford of Grant street, who is a driver in the mines at Eleanor, had one of his feet badly bruised in a wreck of coal cars in the mines at that place one day last week.

A petition was presented to Judge Reed from Falls Creek last week asking that a borough be created out of a portion of Washington township. The Judge refused the prayers of the petitioners and Falls Creek will not be incorporated.

This week Adam Lindy raised the bodies of the two infants of Mrs. Joseph Strauss, which were buried in Wildwood cemetery and shipped them to Philadelphia. They will be re-interred in the family cemetery there.—Brookwayville Record.

John H. Corbett has moved into his handsome new residence on Main street. This house is built on the latest modern plan. Mr. Corbett certainly has a beautiful home, or will have when the exterior surroundings are fixed up.

A party was held at the residence of David Reynolds on Mabel street last Wednesday evening. A large number of young people from Emericville were at the party. Tripping the "light fantastic" was the prominent amusement of the evening.

Remember, if the performance of Gorton's minstrels, at the opera house to-night is not as represented, and satisfactory to the audience, the price paid for admission will be refunded by application at the box office immediately after the first part.

We received two pieces of music last week, "Eleanor Waltz," by J. H. Frischkorn, and "Ramona," two step by George M. Barr, which are published by Frischkorn & Barr, Kittanning, Pa. The composers have no reasons to be ashamed of their productions.

An Aberdeen granite monument, direct from Scotland, arrived at this place last week. The freight on this monument was almost one hundred dollars. This beautiful monument will be placed in the Catholic cemetery to mark the grave of Mrs. Wm. Burke.

Sleighing parties from DuBois, Falls Creek and Brookville met at this place last Friday night and whirled in the "mazy waltz" in the Clover Cycle Club rooms. Some of the youth and beauty of Reynoldsville joined the visitors in the dance. They all took a midnight feast at Hotel McConnell.

Miss Luella Crawford is holding a series of gospel temperance meetings in Reynoldsville this week. To-night and to-morrow night the meetings will be held in the Presbyterian church, and on Friday and Saturday evenings in the M. E. church. Miss Crawford is a good talker. Those who heard her on Monday and Tuesday evenings were pleased.

Fifth Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. U. G. Scheenbocker will celebrate the fifth anniversary of their wedding to-morrow evening, Thursday, March 26th, at their home on Fourth street. A number of invitations have been issued. Fifth anniversary is "wooden wedding."

Was You One?

Last week a number of people disregarded the ordinance that requires the snow to be removed from sidewalks within twenty-four hours after it has fallen. Burgess Lattimer got the names of fifty-four negligent people and has given them to the Borough Attorney to impose and collect a fine for disobeying the ordinance.

Better Outlook.

With the tannery running all departments, the woolen mill running day and night, an advance of five cents per ton for mining coal and the Hopkins mill in operation, which will soon start up, there should be a marked improvement in business in Reynoldsville. It is to be hoped that business will be increased along all lines and that there will be better times in Reynoldsville this summer than there has been for some time. The outlook is encouraging.

Five Cents Advance.

The Bell, Lewis & Yates C. M. Co. posted notices at Reynoldsville Monday afternoon that an advance of five cents per ton for mining coal would be granted on the first of April. This will make the price of mining 40 cents per ton in this place. We are glad the miners have received the increase and hope they will be kept busy all summer. The company granted this advance without being requested to do so, but as there is to be an advance all over the district and this company has repeatedly declared it would pay as much for mining as its competitors did, it has only done what it should do in making the advance. So far as we have learned the B., L. & Y. C. M. Co. was the first in the district to notify their employees that an advance would be granted.

Three Story Brick Hotel.

Green & Conser, proprietors of Hotel Dillman, will build a large three story brick hotel on the corner of Main and Fourth streets during the coming summer. The frame building on the corner, in which G. W. Bussard had his meat market, was moved to the extreme northern end of Fourth street during the past week. E. C. Burns, the Republican nominee for sheriff of this county, had the contract of moving the building. The other old buildings on Main street on the site for the proposed new hotel, will be torn down. The new hotel will have 56 feet front on Main street which will take in about half of Hotel Dillman as it now stands and that will make it necessary for Green & Conser to tear down half their present hotel before they can build the new one. The new hotel will be 56x95 feet and will contain forty bed rooms. It will be built on the same plan as the Ross House in Ridgway.

P. O. Business One Week.

Postmaster McGaw kept strict account of the amount of business done in the Reynoldsville postoffice last week, which was as follows: The amount of mail on hand on Monday morning was 111 pieces, including 40 letters in the general delivery. Number of letters, cards, &c., received during the week, 4,891; number of letters, cards, &c., sent out, 3,555; total number handled, 8,446. The letters were handled at least six times on an average, that would be equal to handling over 50,000 letters. Number of pounds of papers received during the week, 948 pounds; number sent out, 365 pounds; total 1,313 pounds. The papers were handled, on an average, three times. That would make about two ton. Amount of stamps, stamped envelopes and postal cards sold, $63.39; number of money orders issued, 60, amount $359.54; amount money orders paid, $154.25; total $513.79; registered letters handled, 40. On Saturday evening there were 56 pieces in the office, including 16 letters and 7 papers in the general delivery.

Just a Little Satchel.

A woodsman, who had been dallying with the cup that intoxicates, got off the westbound passenger train Thursday afternoon at Sandy Valley and took a small satchel with him that belonged to a commercial man. After the train left Sandy Valley the agent missed his little "grip." He got off the train at Reynoldsville, hired a horse and cutter, engaged the services of Detective Frank P. Adelsperger and headed for Sandy Valley. At the Valley the two men got a description of the man who gripped the "grip," and also learned that he had gone to a lumber camp near Sandy Valley. The officer and drummer followed on and found their man in camp. The satchel was there also, but it had been broken open. By a special request from Adelsperger the woodsman decided to accompany the officer and drummer to Reynoldsville. On the way down the matter was settled by the woodsman paying the officer and drummer for their time and the horse hire. It is likely the fellow will stick his hands in his pockets after this when he gets off a passenger train if he has an inclination to take a satchel that does not belong to him.

It was Likely Home Talent.

About two o'clock yesterday morning J. C. McEntire, of West Reynoldsville, heard a noise in his blacksmith shop, which is close to his house, and on making an investigation he found three men in the shop, or rather two in the shop and one stationed near the door as a sentinel. The night was not dark and Mr. McEntire got close enough to the man at the door before he was discovered to see that he was a young man. He wore a big coat with a large collar on, which was turned up around his ears. The three men made a hasty exit out of the back door of the shop. They had Mr. McEntire's brace and a box of bits in the middle of the shop floor from which they were selecting what they wanted when the owner of the shop made his appearance. The only object the men seemed to have in the shop was to get a good burglary outfit, but were frightened away before they secured what they wanted. They took the brace and several bits with them. There are reasons to believe that this was home talent getting an outfit.

A little after three o'clock yesterday morning Mrs. C. S. Armagost heard some person on the sidewalk between her house and the postoffice. She got out of bed and raised a window but could not see any person. In fifteen or twenty minutes afterwards she heard some one again and this time she raised the window quietly and was surprised to see five or six men at the rear of the postoffice. When she asked what was wanted they all ran to the back part of the lot. In the morning the brace that was taken out of Rev. McEntire's shop was found at the rear of the postoffice.

The Wrong Date.

We clipped an item from the Punxsutawney Spirit last week about the date of the farmers' institute to be held in Paradise, which was incorrect. The institute will be held in Paradise on Friday and Saturday of this week, March 27th and 28th, instead of March 30th and 31st. The schedule of dates has been changed from that first intended and that is the whyfore of the wrong dates being published last week. The Department has supplied the following lecturers for the farmers' institutes to be held in this county, at Mt. Pleasant, Paradise and Westville, and they will be present at the institute in Paradise this week: Prof. Hamilton, Deputy Secretary of Agriculture, Harrisburg, Pa.; Hon. T. B. Terry, Hudson, Ohio; Hon. John A. Woodward, Centre county, Pa.; Hon. N. B. Critchfield, Somers, Pa., and Prof. E. H. Hess, of State College, Pa.

Special Term.

Last fall the several coal companies of this county took an appeal from the valuation of their properties for tax purposes as fixed by the Board of County Commissioners. Judge Reed held a special term of Court in November to hear the cases. At that time the B., R. & P. C. & I. Co. case was tried and the Judge sustained the company in its appeal. The general impression was that that would settle the matter so far as the other companies were concerned, but it did not, and a special term of court is being held at Brookville this week, the business to be transacted being the appeal of the Bell, Lewis & Yates C. M. Co. A large number of witnesses are in attendance at court.

Two of a Kind.

An expression was innocently made in this office a day or two ago which was a little amusing as it had a bearing on a species of humbug which is practiced by the DuBois newspaper which can only get a showing of a circulation by gratuitous distribution. It came about in this way: Robert McIntosh, of the Beechwoods district, came in to pay for the Weekly Courier some months in advance and he was accompanied by Wm. Dalley, of the same neighborhood. In the course of the conversation which ensued Mr. Dalley remarked that the Reynoldsville Volunteer was now offering to do what the DuBois Express has been offering to do, send the paper a year for nothing.—DuBois Courier.

Gorton's Minstrels.

"Gorton's Minstrels have been here before and they will come again. We are said to be fond of fine horses, our beautiful women, and our unsurpassed corn juice, but it might be added that we dearly love a good minstrel show. Gorton's Minstrels come up to the Lexington idea; for downright fun their entertainment is not surpassed by any."—Lexington, Ky., Press. At the Reynoldsville opera house to-night, March 25th.

Small Blaze.

The town was startled a little after eight o'clock Monday evening by the fire alarm. A rush was made for the upper end of town to look for the fire, which was in the house of Daniel Solida in that part of town called "Snyder-town." Hose Co. No. 2 was soon on hand and successfully mastered the fire fiend. The fire started from a defective flue.

Malcolm McGregor, late Euphonium Soloist with Cappa, Liberati and Bellstedt's Bands, is now one of the features with Gorton's Gold-Band, and can be heard here at noon to-day during the open-air concert.

MORE STREET LIGHTS NEEDED.

Nights at Small Expense.

One unfavorable feature of Reynoldsville, which strangers have not been slow to notice, especially if they happen to strike the town on a real dark night, is the lack of street lights. Years ago it would not have been considered a drawback to a town the size of Reynoldsville to see a man carry a lantern on the street, but to day a town the size of ours where such a thing is seen, is not considered up-to-date. Far from it. Occasionally a man with a lantern can be seen in this place. By the perfection and introduction of the new Welsbach gas lights it is possible for the streets of Reynoldsville to be well illuminated every night at a very small cost. Heretofore the expense of keeping up gas torches has been quite heavy, as they consume a large quantity of gas, but the Welsbach light, however, has lessened the consumption of gas besides giving a better and more powerful light. By the use of a glass globe designed exclusively for street lamps the burner is as secure as indoors. After the first cost for pole and fixtures the cost would only be a trifle each month for the gas consumed. In some places the cost is only 25 cents a month. We hope our new town council will decide to give the people of Reynoldsville more light and will have a number of Welsbach lights put on the streets of our town. There is no doubt but that if it is considered necessary—but it is not—that an individual subscription could be raised to aid the council in doing a good work for the town, which will not only be greatly appreciated by the citizens of Reynoldsville, but will give the town a better impression on the outside world. Come, Borough Dads, give us better illumination on dark nights.

Risk Life for His Brother.

Monday forenoon a fire damp explosion occurred in the Adrian coal mine near Punxsutawney and two men, whose names we did not learn, lost their lives in attempting to rescue another man. The mine caught afire. Several thousand feet of hose and a steam fire engine were taken from DuBois to Adrian to fight the fire in the mine. E. W. Robinson, brother of General Manager L. W. Robinson, was the only person in the mine when the explosion occurred and he was overcome by the gas. The DuBois Courier says: "Two men went to his assistance but before they could bring him from the mine they were overcome by the gas and died before assistance could reach them. Two more men went into the mine for the first rescuers and for Mr. Robinson. They were also partially overcome by the gas and fearing they would be unable to escape with their lives and the forms of the three insensible men they left the latter and hastened from the fatal spot. Mr. L. W. Robinson was present when the rescuers came from the mine, and seeing that his brother had been left behind he entered the mine alone and carried him out insensible.

Mr. Alton Lindsey, the well known public reader and impersonator, will give one of his novel and popular entertainments at the Centennial hall on Friday evening, March 27th. Mr. Lindsey comes very highly recommended as an entertainer of force and originality. He is inimitable as a portrayor of odd and quaint characters. His monologue work in which he sustains a number of characters in dialogue is highly spoken of. A rare treat may be expected. The price of admission will be 20 cents; children 10 cents.

The fire companies promptly responded to an alarm from Pleasant avenue about one o'clock last Wednesday afternoon, which proved to be in the dwelling of John Richards. There was more smoke than fire. About the only damage done was to burn the muslin and paper off one room. The origin of the fire is unknown. There was no one at home and the house had to be broken into.

Quite a crowd of our people went to DuBois last evening on the special train over the Reynoldsville and Falls Creek railroad to attend the concert held in the DuBois Baptist church. The railroad fare and admission to the concert was only forty cents. After the entertainment lunch was served in the basement of the church.

His Work Shows Genius.

I have heard Mr. Alton Lindsey in some of his character impersonations. His work is of a high order and shows genius and thorough training.
