Saturday, July 11th, marked the beginning of what is known as "dog days." The season ends August 24th.

A case of trespass was heard before Squire Neff one day last week and the defendant was bound over to September term of court.

Rev. John Jay Srodes, of Monroe, Pa., will preach in the Presbyterian church next Sunday as a candidate for pastor of the church.

Saturday being a good harvest day the usual large number of farmers' rigs tied along Main street were conspicuous by their absence.

A boy is noisy because he feels so good he can't keep still; a man is silent because he has so much to think about that is disagreeable.

Reid Wilson returned Monday from a trip to Clarion, Emington and several other places.

Rev. E. T. Derr, formerly pastor of the Reynoldsburg Baptist church, will preach in that church next Sunday.

It will require considerable hustling to get the new school building ready for opening of the schools the last day of August.

Mrs. Robt. Catheart returned to her home at Sharon, Pa., after an extended visit with her daughter, Mrs. H. R. Johnson, in this place.

A few Reynoldsburg people attended colored camp meeting at Sykesville Sunday. Broad Axe Smith is doing the preaching there.

Irvin F. Dempsey, telegraph operator at Oak Ridge, spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Dempsey, in West Reynoldsburg.

J. A. Welsh, an ex-groceryman of Reynoldsburg, will open a shoe store in the William Foster brick block inside of the next two or three weeks.

There will be no preaching in the Lutheran church next Sunday. Rev. Metzenthin, the pastor, will preach for Rev. Ash at Church, Clarion county.

The Eclipse Oil Co. has disposed of its retail oil interests in this place to H. Alex. Stoeke, who will fill all orders for small amounts. The Eclipse Co. will look after the wholesale trade only.

A large number of Reynoldsburg people attended the Royal Arcanum annual picnic at Punxsutawney last Thursday and had a delightful time. The picnic will be held at Clearfield next year.

Rev. J. C. McDonald, of Oil City, formerly pastor of the Reynoldsburg M. E. church, was struck by an electric street car in Oil City one day last week and was painfully injured. He was on a bicycle when the car struck him.

A good newspaper advertisement never sleeps. The merchant may slumber, but the advertisement is drumming and hustling trade in a thousand different places at the same time. Successful business men recognize this fact.

The Emery and Marlow "Jolly Lot" at the opera house last Wednesday evening delighted the audience. Glen Emery and Bessie Marlow, who have been making a specialty of comedy work for four or five years, are first-class in their line.

James Dillman was arraigned before Squire Neff last Thursday on a charge of wantonly pointing and discharging a gun or pistol with intent to kill. Mrs. Maggie Matthew was the plaintiff. The defendant was bound over to court in the sum of $500.00.

A meeting of the Reynoldsburg Cemetery Co. was held last Friday evening at which time a committee was appointed to sell shares for the purpose of purchasing the land known as Pleasant Avenue cemetery. A large number of shares have already been sold.

Rev. Hunter Corbett, who has spent thirty-two years in China as a missionary, delivered an interesting talk in Centennial hall last Thursday evening on his work in China. A good sized audience listened attentively to Mr. Corbett for an hour and a half.

The thirteenth semi-annual convention of the Washington township Sunday school association will be held in the Sugar Hill Presbyterian church on Thursday, July 30. There will be three sessions, the first at 10 o'clock A. M., the second at 1:30 and the third at 7:30 P. M.

It isn't the loudest talker nor the biggest bluffer that convinces the most people. On the contrary both of them invite distrust. Quiet argument gains more converts than bluster. Earnestness, sincerity, seem more inherent in the low-voiced orator than to the rampant demagogue.

Prof. W. M. Brown, who has been principal of the Big Run schools three years and who was an applicant for the principalship of the Reynoldsburg schools, has been appointed principal of the New Bethlehem schools at a salary of $70.00 per month, for a term of eight months. Prof. Brown is a scholar and a gentleman.

Dame fashion, always capricious but ever pleasing, has inaugurated a perfume fad that is sweeping from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Seely's Ave Maria perfume is the lucky recipient of society's favors, and in all the large cities it is considered by refined people the proper thing. It is the daintiest of all dainty perfumes. Reynolds drug store.

Three Assault and Battery Cases.

Three Italian assault and battery cases will be tried before Squire E. Neff's tribunal to-morrow, Thursday, afternoon. Two of them are the outcome of one fight.

Finger Amputated.

Marshall Harding, a brakeman on the R. & F. C. Ry, had the index finger of his right hand so badly smashed last Friday night while making a coupling that the finger had to be amputated.

Out With the National Guard.

M. W. McDonald, insurance agent of this place, who is a member of Co. H, 16th regiment, is in camp this week with the National Guard of Pennsylvania on the banks of the "Blue Juniata," across from Lewistown, Pa.

Birthday Party.

Bessie Cox, eleven-year-old daughter of Borough Treasurer W. T. Cox, had birthday party last Thursday evening which was attended by about fourteen lasses near about the same age as Bessie. The young folks had a good time. Refreshments were served.

New Shop.

L. M. Snyder, the blacksmith, has torn down his old shop on Jackson street and is having a new two-story building, with a large basement, erected on the site of the old shop. The first floor of the new building will be used for a blacksmith shop.

Frisky Pony.

Samuel Brillhart has a pony that got unmanageable Saturday afternoon while making the descent of a hill not far from town. The pony ran down Main street at a brisk speed with the harness on its back. In the course of time Mr. Brillhart followed the runaway nag drawing the buggy with him.

Easy to tell who is Boss.

In a case recently tried before a Squire in this place, the husband of the woman who was plaintiff in the case was giving in his testimony as one of her witnesses and part of it was not satisfactory to his wife and she threatened to knock him off the chair in the witness box if he did not testify as she wanted him to.

Don't Publish it.

It is not an unfrequent thing for young men and young women, as well as older persons, who perform acts which are legitimate news items for publication, to request the editor to "keep it out of the paper," and the very next week condemn the same paper for not publishing the act of another party, forgetting, apparently, their late visit to the printing office.

Law Suit Started.

The Oil City Fuel Supply Co. entered suit against Samuel Tilton Reynolds before a Justice of the Peace in Brookville on Monday of this week for a claim of something like $72.00 for gas furnished for Mr. Reynolds' brick-kiln in 1891 or 1892. As an offset to the gas company's claim Mr. Reynolds presented a bill of eighteen hundred dollars for damage. His claim is that the company was to furnish a sufficient pressure of gas to burn the brick thoroughly and that this the company failed to do and consequently a kiln of brick was spoiled, which delayed him in the erection of his brick block.

Succeeding Grandly.

Prof. Harry Pattison, who did such excellent work and gave general satisfaction the three years he was principal of the Reynoldsburg schools, is becoming prominent in educational work in the state of Washington. He has been re-elected superintendent of the New Whatcom, Wash., schools at a salary of $1,250.00 per year. At a recent meeting of the State Teachers' Association held at Spokane, Prof. Pattison took an active part on the program and was elected treasurer of the Association. The New Whatcom Blade, is giving a report of the meeting of the Association, says: "Prof. Harry Pattison read a paper upon 'School Libraries,' which was replete with interesting and valuable suggestions, the tenor of which was that the teacher should seek the co-operation of the parent in directing the course of reading for each individual member of his school."

We Want the County Institute.

Several months ago THE STAR suggested that our new County Superintendent get out of the old way of continuously holding the county institute at Brookville, and that it be held at Reynoldsburg, Punxsutawney and Brookville in turn. THE STAR cited reasons why the change should be made, which we will not repeat at this time. Prof. Teitrick informed us after he read the article in THE STAR that he is of the opinion that it would be the proper thing to do. Last week the DuBois Courier correspondent from this place suggested that the place of holding the institute be changed. We understand there is some talk of circulating a petition in this place to be sent to Prof. Teitrick requesting him to change the place of holding the institute and that it be held in Reynoldsburg this year. There is no reason why Brookville should have the institute year after year. Pass it around, Bro. Teitrick.

Wild Cat Killed Yesterday.

A fellow named Bailey was in town last evening with a large domestic cat that had been killed in the woods near Sykesville yesterday afternoon after a hard fight, which he was determined to call a wild cat. The dead cat drew a large crowd and occasioned considerable amusement by some of those present agreeing with the young man that it was a wild cat. Bailey said the cat had whipped four large dogs and almost fatigued four men, who pounded it on the head with clubs, before the animal gave up the battle. As it was a common cat that had inhabited the woods until it had become ferocious, Bailey started home somewhat crest-fallen because his game had not proven to be a real wild cat and he failed to get the bounty expected and a fair price for the cat's skin.

Will Take a Rest.

Dr. Warren, pastor of the Brookville M. E. church, has notified his official members that he intends to take a superannuary relation at the close of the present conference year. Falling health has compelled him to take this step. This year will complete his fortieth of consecutive work in the ministry, everyone of which has been a year of full work. He hopes that a year of entire rest will again fit him for active labor. In this wish his host of friends in the Erie and East Ohio Conference will heartily join. Immediately after conference he will occupy his home at Chautauqua, there to seek restoration to health.—Brookville Democrat.

Good Advice.

Burdette gives good advice, as follows: "There are young men that do not work, my son; but the world is not proud of them. It does not know their names even; it simply speaks of them as old so-and-so's boys. Nobody likes them, nobody hates them; the great busy world doesn't even know they are there. So find out what you want to do, son, and take off your coat and make a dust in the world. The busier you are the less devilry you are apt to get into, the sweater will be your sleep, the brighter and happier your holidays, and the better satisfied will the world be with you."

Get Them Printed.

Have you ever noticed how little of the old fashioned double sheet note paper is now used. It is so much more convenient to use the single sheet paper. Then how much better it is to have your name and address printed on one corner of the paper you correspond with. Many persons do not write a copper plate hand, as a consequence the address is often hard to make out and mistakes often occur. It is not very expensive to have your note heads printed and you will be well pleased. Call at THE STAR office and see about it.
