Stole an Empty Freezer.

There was a party at the West End Hotel Wednesday evening. Ice cream was among the refreshments served. The cream was packed in a large and small freezer, the contents of the large one was used first. The large freezer had just been emptied when there was a racket at the front part of the house to attract the attention of all in the house and then some miscreants stole what they supposed to be a full freezer of cream and carried the freezer on to the hill, but found that it contained only salted ice.

Taken to Jail.

Mrs. Jennie Hartless, a red haired feminine who resided near the banks of the placid Sandy Lick at the place commonly called "Poverty Flat," was arrested last Thursday morning for keeping a disorderly house. She was given a hearing before the tribunal of Justice W. L. Johnson and the evidence against her was such that His Honor could not do otherwise than recommend the case to the higher court of our county. As bail was not obtainable the woman was lodged in the West Reynoldsville lock-up until Friday morning and then taken to the Brookville jail.

"Queen of the Rostrum."

The 12th of last May Mrs. Annabelle M. Holvey delivered a temperance lecture in Centennial hall to a small but appreciative audience, and proved herself to be an attractive, eloquent and logical speaker, exerting a wonderful influence over her hearers. A large number of our people were convinced, when too late, that at that time they missed an opportunity of hearing as fine a lady talker as is on the rostrum to-day. The Altoona Tribune says: "She is queen of the rostrum, who must be heard to be appreciated." Mrs. Holvey has been persuaded to come to Reynoldsville again and will deliver three free lectures in this place. She will speak in Centennial hall at 2:30 p. m. Sunday, at eight o'clock Monday evening and at the same hour Tuesday evening. The people of Reynoldsville can be assured that they will hear a woman with a good voice and an inexhaustible vocabulary if they go to hear Mrs. Holvey.

Was it Murder?

Smith, of Eleanora, Pa., went to DuBois Saturday afternoon with three other men and was found dead on the B. R. & P. R'y track about three o'clock Sunday morning, after an engine had run over him. Smith and his companions had been drinking before they arrived in DuBois and kept it up after their arrival. Sometime during the evening three of the party went to Kate Bader's, on the outskirts of town, where a row occurred and one of the party, named Brennan, was shot in the hip. At the inquest there was no evidence to show Smith's whereabouts from eleven or twelve o'clock at night until his body was found on the railroad track. Chief of Police Tracy, in his testimony, said he had been informed that there was a big fight at Kate Bader's at 2:00 a. m. Sunday. Henrietta, engineer of the engine that ran over Smith, gave in the following testimony: "Body was warm but no heart beat or movement of muscles could be observed. Only about two minutes elapsed between time I felt man under locomotive and time I heard his body. I heard no noise or cry of pain. Body was bleeding but very little if any. It is usual to find blood on engine when a man is run over. Blood was clotted and not running. Nearly all blood was on his nose and ear, very little on ground and none on break beam or pilot. I believe a man run over would make a noise. I never saw a man killed before who did not bleed freely."

The supposition is that Smith was foully dealt with and his body carried to the railroad that an iron horse might get the credit of crushing out his life.

Mrs. Kate Bader, at whose house Brennan was shot and where the Sunday morning row is reported to have taken place, is known in Reynoldsville, as she was sent to the Jefferson county jail several years ago on account of some disturbance that occurred at her house in West Reynoldsville.

THE K. G. E. REUNION.

SEVENTH ANNUAL GATHERING AN ENJOYABLE AFFAIR.

Town Handsomely Decorated—Parade, Speeches, Bicycle Races, &c.

The seventh annual reunion of the Northwestern Reunion Association of the Knights of Golden Eagle was held in Reynoldsville last Friday, and although the crowd of visitors was not swelled to the proportion that was expected, considering the ideal day for such a gathering, yet there was a fair-sized crowd of Knights of Golden Eagle and their friends in town that day and the reunion was a very pleasant one. The Castle at this place left nothing undone to make the reunion a complete success, and the members of Mountain Cliff Castle can congratulate themselves that their efforts were not in vain. The town was handsomely bedecked in gala attire. Four large arches spanned Main street at different points, large flags were flung to the breeze across the street and a generous supply of evergreen and small flags were used in decorating the front of business houses. The visitors began coming into town early. The special train from Falls Creek over the R. & F. C. R'y, which arrived here about 10:45 with K. G. E. from towns along the B. R. & P. R'y, brought in the largest crowd that came to town at one time during the day.

The first on the program was the school of instruction at 11:00 a. m., but on account of Grand Chief Tobin, of Philadelphia, not arriving until the 1:42 p. m. train, this part of the program was omitted.

The parade formed on Main street at 2:00 p. m., right resting on Third street, marched down Main street to West Reynoldsville, back to Main, up Main to Tenth, Tenth to Jackson, Jackson to Fifth, and Fifth to Main in following order:

Four police on foot.
Grand Chief and other speakers in carriage.
Chief Marshal E. Neff and staff, Sharpe Neale, Trade City, Chas. Anderson, Chas. Platt, DuBois, and John Hill, Adrian, all mounted.
Reynoldsville Cornet Band.
Trade City Castle, No. 311.
Mahoning Castle, No. 266.
Volunteer Band.
Gustaf Adolf Castle, No. 311.
Jefferson Castle, No. 368.
Mountain Cliff Castle, No. 336.

There were about 250 men in line, including the two bands.

After the parade the people assembled in Centennial hall to hear speeches, recitations, &c. George Harris was chosen chairman. Rev. J. C. McEntire delivered the address of welcome, which was responded to by A. M. Armstrong of Brookwayville. Miss Edna A. Vaux, of Pittsburg, who is a visitor at Esq. E. Neff's, captivated the large audience with a recitation delivered in first class elocutionary style. The applause was so long and loud that Miss Vaux had to respond with a second selection.

Grand Chief Tobin was introduced by Chairman Harris and he spent a half hour in eulogizing the Knights of Golden Eagle and telling his audience some interesting facts about the order. He urged all to respect their obligations, to prove themselves of the same usefulness to the order they desire it to be to them.

A business meeting was held at 4:00 p. m. when the time and place for holding the next reunion was decided upon and new officers were elected. The eighth reunion will be held in DuBois Sept. 10th, 1897. Following officers were elected: President, C. A. Anderson, DuBois; vice-presidents, Edwin Hoare, Reynoldsville, Geo. Broadbent, DeLancey, T. T. Davis, Horatio; Secretary, John Simpson, DuBois; Treasurer, Harry Fye, DuBois.

The committee on prizes, which was composed of Edwin Hoare, Reynoldsville, D. B. Robinson, Punxsutawney, Wm. Fitzgerald, Trade City, awarded the prizes as follows: First, $40.00, Trade City Castle; second, $20.00, Gustaf Adolf Castle, DuBois; third, $10.00, Jefferson Castle, DeLancey.

There was a bicycle race at 5:00 p. m., in which there were four starters, Howard Kaucher, Newell Meeker, Jos. Mitchell and Albert Sutter. The starting point was Tom Reynolds' barn and the finish in front of Hotel Matson. Meeker took first prizes, $5.00; Kaucher second, $3.00, and Sutter third, $2.00. The ladies of the K. G. E. served dinner and supper in the G. A. R. hall.
