A number of young people of Reynoldsville, Brookville, DuBois, Punxsutawney and several other towns, held a dance in the Clover Cycle Club rooms Friday evening. A wandering band of Italians, with harp and violins furnished the music. James K. Johnston, of the Reynoldsville Hardware Co., and wife were at Bennezzette last week attending a birthday surprise party given to W. K. Winslow, brother-in-law of Mr. Johnston. It was a large gathering and a complete surprise to Mr. Winslow. About two hundred people from Reynoldsville, Punxsutawney and DuBois picniced at the house formerly occupied by Mr. Haskell near Helvetia last Thursday afternoon and evening. A dance was one of the special features. Stitler's Orchestra of DuBois furnished the music. J. E. Welsh & Co. have opened a new shoe store in the Wm. Foster brick building, two doors west of postoffice. John A. Welsh, the ex-groceryman, who is a very pleasant and agreeable gentleman, will have charge of the store. Holyey, of Pittston, Pa., the temperance lecturer, delivered three good lectures in this place—Sunday afternoon, Monday and Tuesday evenings—in Centennial hall. B. and Arnold McKee and their families were in Clarion county last week attending a birthday party given to their Grandmother McKee, who was eighty-four years old. The young people got up a dance and got the old grandmother to join in one set, which she danced through as lively as any of the other dancers. The illustrated industrial edition of the Ridgway Advocate, issued last week, surpasses anything of the kind that has ever been produced in this section of the State. On the outside of the cover is a bird's-eye view of Ridgway and its immediate surroundings, while the inside pages of the edition contained cuts of many of the business men, public buildings, beautiful houses, &c., and the history of the town and people is well written. The people of Ridgway should give the Ridgway Publishing Company great praise for the industrial edition, as it is certainly a credit not only to the publishers but to the town also.

Will Charge for Bicycles. Beginning last Thursday the A. V. R'y will hereafter charge for hauling bicycles at the rate of 15 per cent of amount paid for ticket. Killed in the Mines. Clyde Hawkinberry, aged eighteen years, a driver in the Eleanor mine, was killed while at work Monday night by being caught between the cars. Team Ranaway. The West Reynoldsville Cornet band experienced a little excitement on their way to Emerickville Saturday afternoon to witness the game of ball between the Tannery and Emerickville clubs, some of the musicians being members of the ball team. Driving down the hill near Schewm's the wagon tongue dropped out of the neck yoke and the horses ran away. All escaped without injury and the wagon was only slightly damaged. Didn't Come. A number of Christian Endeavorers of DuBois were to have come to Reynoldsville Thursday evening to join the Presbyterian Endeavor of this place in a moonlight picnic. The visitors failed to put in an appearance. The reason given for not coming was that the man who had been hired to haul the Endeavorers to this place got a chance to make a little more money by hauling a load of picnics to Helvetia, and to Helvetia he went. Victim of Consumption. Clarence Kroh, aged about eighteen years, son of Henry Kroh, deceased, died at the Edgewood Deaf and Dumb school near Pittsburg last week of consumption. His remains were brought to this place on the noon train Friday and taken to the Kroh homestead. Funeral services were held in the Emerickville Lutheran church Saturday forenoon and the mortal remains of the young man were buried in the Lutheran cemetery beside the remains of his father, mother, brothers and sisters who preceded him to the eternity from whence no one returns. Died Suddenly. Edward Windle, aged about eighty years, who has resided in Reynoldsville a quarter of a century, died suddenly at his home at 3:40 yesterday afternoon from heart failure. Mr. Windle had eaten a hearty dinner and was cutting weeds in the yard a short time before he died. He went into the house and said he would lie down a little while. Soon after his wife noticed his head was off the pillow and walked up to him and found that the death chill was already upon him. His spirit had silently taken its flight. Mr. Windle was a quiet and peaceable neighbor and a good citizen, upright in his dealings with his fellow men. The time of funeral was not yet decided upon last evening. The Bicycle was Stolen. Several weeks ago a fellow who claimed to be from Indiana county and was on his way home from Driftwood, where he had been visiting his brother, rode into Reynoldsville on a bicycle. He said he was sick, had run out of money and wanted to put up his wheel for 30 days for $15.00 to travel from this place home on the train. Frank Sutter gave the fellow $15.00 and took the wheel. Lawyer Weakley drew up an article of agreement for Sutter and the stranger, for which the stranger paid one dollar out of the fifteen dollars received from Sutter. Last week Mr. Sutter was informed that the bicycle in his possession had been stolen from a man named Ford at Punxsutawney and that Ford offered a reward of $20.00 for the return of the bicycle. Sutter returned the wheel to the owner and got the reward offered. Corbett Gathering. Years ago two brothers, named John and William Corbett, came from Ireland to America to buy flax seed. The ship on which they had traveled started on the return trip before the two brothers were ready to go back and the result of it was two Irishmen never returned to their native land. John married and settled in Virginia and William married and settled in New Jersey. John became the father of eight sons and several daughters. William became the father of one son, whom he called William Corbett. This son married and he became the father of ten sons and two daughters. The descendants of Wm. Corbett, jr., held a reunion on the Clarion Assembly grounds, near Strattonville last Thursday. It was a large reunion, over 300 being present, and all the descendants of the ten sons and two daughters referred to were not present. They gathered in from Clearfield, Armstrong, Elk, Jefferson, Clarion and several other counties, and one family who reside in China attended this reunion. It was a large family gathering and the day was pleasantly spent in that woodland nook by speech-making, singing, social chats about other days, &c. Provisions for the inner man had not been forgotten and at the noon hour a sumptuous feast was partaken of. Those present from Reynoldsville were: J. H. Corbett and wife, Dr. R. DeVere King and his grandmother, Mrs. Jacob King, A. M. Woodward and wife and daughter, Miss Zoe, and Guy Corbett.

Hastings and parade to pass by so that all the scholars can see the Governor, and that the Governor can see the scholars. The school children can fall in line at rear of parade and march to the Presbyterian church and then drop out and proceed to school house while the parade continues up Main to Tenth, to Jackson, to Fifth, to Grant and up Grant street to school building. Arrangements have been made for excursion rates on railroads. A special train will leave DuBois at 10.00 A. M., and returning leave Reynoldsville at 9.00 P. M. and run through to Punxsutawney. Our County Fair. The premium list, rules and regulations, speed program, etc., for the coming fair of the Jefferson County Agricultural Association, has been printed in pamphlet form, and any one desiring a copy should call on or address the Secretary, Mr. C. S. Irvin. Two important changes in the rules and regulations will not escape the attention of the public. First, the abrogation of the requirement that each exhibitor purchase a season ticket, thus making all entries for exhibition absolutely free. Second, that no season tickets will be sold, and a uniform charge of 25 cents for admission be charged adults, and 15 cents for children; vehicles entering the grounds, 25 cents. The speed program embraces nine purses, four for horses owned within the county, and the other five for quick steppers, the premiums in each of the latter being $150.00 and $200.00. The road and farmers' races last year proved the most interesting events of the week and it is desired that persons having horses eligible for these races compete for the purses offered, the entrance in each case being free. Crawford, pastor, Morning: Religion is Triune—Knowledge, Practice and Felicity, Jno. 13: 17. Evening: "The Good of Seeming Discordant Providences," Rom. 8: 28. Still Running Steadily. The report which was current a couple of weeks ago that work at the Shawmut mines was slackening up a little was unfounded. All the mines of the Shawmut company are running as steadily as ever. What gave rise to the report was two or three days' idleness caused by lack of cars and an accident. There is no let up in sight up to date.—Brookwayville Record. Thirty-Fifth Reunion. Esq. M. M. Davis was at Marion Center, Indiana county, last Friday attending the thirty-fifth reunion of the company he went to war with, Co. A, 61st Rgt. Pa. Vol., the Capt. Jacob Creps company. It was thirty-five years ago last Friday that this company left Marion Center to go to the front to defend their country. Notice to Gas Consumers. On and after November 1st, 1896, no gas will be furnished by this company except through registering meters. For domestic consumers the rate will be 15 cents per thousand, subject to a discount of 10 per cent if paid on or before the 10th of the following month. OIL CITY FUEL SUPPLY CO.

Through Meters Only. The great question affecting all natural gas companies is the preservation of the supply. That it is gradually but surely being exhausted, no one for a moment doubts, and it is believed that with modern burners, registering meters and economical use, the life of this incomparable fuel will be greatly prolonged. With this object in view the Oil City Fuel Supply Co. has notified its consumers in Brookville, Reynoldsville, DuBois, Falls Creek and Brockwayville that on and after November 1st, 1896, it will furnish gas only through registering meters, at 15 cents per thousand cubic feet, subject to a discount of 10 per cent if paid on or before the 10th of the following month in which it was burned. The majority of the consumers in the towns named have for sometime been using meters with the result that their bills have been astonishingly low, and there will be no objection raised to the enforcement of the rule. There can be no question about the equity of selling gas through meters—now advanced in their mechanical construction to a state of excellence which permits of no improvement. Under this system consumers pay for the actual amount of gas consumed, no more, no less, and they are careful not to waste it. They do not turn it on full force and then open the doors and windows when a room gets too warm, as people paying a monthly rate frequently do, but they turn off the gas, and save money for themselves and gas for the company. Under the old schedule of rates the moment a stove is connected the charge commences, even though the stove is not used for weeks, and continues until it is ordered discontinued, so that frequently consumers pay for gas that was not burned. If the gas is used through a meter, however, every stove in the house can be connected and ready for cold spells without any cost except when actually in use, which is a decided advantage over the old system. Practically all the cities which are favored with natural gas have been using meters for years with entire satisfaction, even at a much higher rate than that established here. At Sharon and Mendville for instance, the rate is 25 cents per thousand cubic feet, and yet at that price gas compares very favorably with coal, and is in general use. Of Interest to School Children. At a meeting of the school board the first of this month rules and regulations for the government of the Reynoldsville schools were adopted, and as school begins next Monday we publish this week in another column, the rules respecting the pupils of the schools. Every boy and girl should read these rules carefully, and if necessary paste them up some where to refer to until they are thoroughly familiar with the requirements contained in the rules so as to be able to obey them, and there will be no occasion for pupils getting into trouble during the ensuing term for disobeying the school laws unless they wilfully disobey them. Prof. Lenkerd has adopted a new system in this place for tardiness or absence of scholars. The pupils who are either tardy or absent will be given a printed "note of inquiry" as follows: "Your—was—on—, Was it by your permission? Please answer by writing your name after the word 'yes' or 'no,' as the case may require." There are two forms of answers for parents to sign, as follows: "Yes, it was by my permission," or "No, it was not by my permission." This printed blank will be filled out and enclosed in two envelopes, one directed to parents and the other to be used to return sealed answer to teacher. Two sets of tickets have been printed which the principal will give to the pupils who have been absent or tardy, as follows: "Absentee ticket, admit bearer." "Tardy ticket, admit bearer," which will be presented to their teachers for admittance into their respective school rooms. A Hustling Business. Millirens, who have the largest and most complete line of clothing and gents' furnishing goods in this town, are, without a doubt, doing more business than any other firm in the county. They seem to be continually receiving new goods and always selling them; their success is due to extremely low prices and the manner in which they treat their customers, and always making things good where the goods seldom fail to give satisfaction. The entertainment at Rathmel Monday evening, Aug. 24th, was a success. The singing by choir, solos by Miss Ida Fye, duet by Misses Ida and Rosie Fye, recitations by Miss Anna Hay, select reading by Miss McKee, and the speech by Rev. Buzza were all well received and highly enjoyed by those present. About twenty dollars was cleared by the entertainment. When you want good shoes call at J. E. Welsh & Co's. They sell the Wm. Richardson make of shoes. Be wise and economize by buying your clothing, hats and shoes at Millirens. Gents call at Millirens and see the fine dress shoes, at moderate prices. Go to the entertainment in the opera house Thursday evening.
