Golden Wedding.

Monday of this week marked the fiftieth anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Brocius, of Summer-ville, parents of Mrs. W. T. Cox of Reynoldsville, and the event was celebrated with a golden wedding. There was a large crowd present and it was a happy occasion for the old couple who had traveled life's pathway together for a half century. On account of sickness in her family Mrs. Cox was unable to attend the golden wedding. Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Hilderbrand and Rutherford Cox, of this place, were among the number present.

Pickpockets—Home Talent.

Last Friday when the new school building was thrown open to the public for inspection a large crowd entered the building. The assembly room was jammed part of the time, which afforded pickpockets a good opportunity to get in their work, which was taken advantage of by some young men. The supposition is that the thieves belong to our own town. Three pocket books and a purse were stolen and rifled of all ready cash therein and then wrapped in a newspaper and placed in a conspicuous place in the shed adjoining the Reynoldsville Hardware Co. store. The pocket books were given to Detective Adelsperger. The three books had notes in so there was no difficulty in finding owners for them, but the purse had nothing in it to show to whom it belonged and it is still in Mr. Adelsperger's possession. Following are the names of victims known and amounts taken: Mrs. Thos. Spears over $3.00; Mrs. Lucy Wagner about $2.00; W. T. Cathers about $2.00. Mr. Cathers says when he entered the assembly room there were some young men near the door apparently tussling with one another and who crowded around him and pushed him out of the room, but as he thought they were having some fun among themselves he paid no attention to them. After he left the assembly room he missed his pocketbook. Mrs. Spears was jostled around among some young men near the entrance of the assembly room and at the time thought them very rude. It is evident that the young men who did the jostling picked pockets at the same time.

Pretty Home Wedding.

A quiet and very pretty home wedding occurred at the brick mansion of Mr. J. J. Sutter, Pleasant Avenue, at 10:30 A. M., Thursday, September 3rd, when Miss Lotta Blanche, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sutter, was married to James E. Mitchell, son of Lawyer C. Mitchell, in the presence of the families of the contracting parties. The parlor, where the nuptial knot was tied, was beautifully decorated with ferns and evergreen. While Miss Dorothy Sutter played a wedding march, from Leybach, Miss Annie Mitchell, sister of the groom, and Frank O. Sutter, brother of the bride, escorted the young couple into the parlor where Rev. J. G. Harshaw, pastor of the Emerickville M. E. church, performed the ceremony which bound two lives together as one. The bride was dressed in white and carried bride's roses and carnations. After the congratulations a sumptuous dinner was served. The presents were useful, beautiful and valuable, among which was a bedroom suite and a check for $100.00. The young couple left on the 1.00 P. M. train for Kane, Pa., their future home. They will board at the summer resort hotel, Thompson House, several weeks before they can get a suitable house to live in. The groom, who is a merchant tailor at Kane, is a sober, industrious and honest young man, who has many friends in this native town. The bride is one of Reynoldsville's pretty and charming young ladies, with a sweet disposition which has won for her many friends. She will make a good helpmate for James in life's conflicts. THE STAR joins their legion of friends in wishing that they may enjoy life to its fullest extent and live to a ripe old age.

PROF. G. W. LENKERD.

New Principal of the Borough Schools—He is an Energetic Young Man.

The above is a picture of the new principal of our borough schools, which were opened for the fall and winter term last week with bright prospects of a very successful term. Prof. Lenkerd has shown evidence, so far, of being a live and progressive young man. He devotes about three hours each day in hearing the senior class in the high school recite. The remainder of the time he devotes in looking after tardy and delinquent pupils and visiting the rooms of the school. Heretofore all the principals of our school have been requested to look after the interests of the school and at the same time teach the pupils of the highest board. It is evident that our school board has awakened to the fact that the principal cannot do the work expected of him in looking after twelve rooms and at the same time be compelled to teach one of the rooms, and in all probability Prof. Weaver, the supply teacher, will be kept where he now is, in room No. 13, and Prof. Madden will have charge of the junior and sub-junior classes in room No. 14, or the high school. This is the first term that twelve school rooms in one building have ever been run in Reynoldsville, and it is also the first term for the high school. This term marks a new era in the schools of Reynoldsville.

It Was Not a "Fake."

Some of the visitors who were in Reynoldsville Friday to be present at the dedication of the new school building, and even some of our own townspeople, seemed to be of the opinion that the statement that Gov. Hastings would be here was only a "fake" to get a large crowd to town that day. The announcement that the governor would be here, had been made in good faith, as he had given his word to be present if possible, and the committee heard nothing to the contrary until a telegram, which will be found in another column of this issue, was received about one o'clock Friday afternoon. Prof. Lenkerd received three or four letters from Gov. Hastings. We publish one, which is sufficient to show that the announcement of the Governor's coming was not a scheme to deceive the public: HARRISBURG, August 29, 1896. MR. LENKERD, MY DEAR SIR:—Unless something unforeseen takes place I will be with you on the 4th of September. I expect to be in Chicago at the opening of the campaign there on the 2nd, but will be with you unless something unforeseen prevents. I do not want you to count on me too surely, because on a long trip from Chicago to Reynoldsville, something may turn up, and you better have another speaker on hand in case of an emergency.

Faithfully yours, DANIEL H. HASTINGS.

P. S. In order to make your appointment I have been compelled to cancel the Syracuse engagement.

The above postscript would indicate that Gov. Hastings was very anxious to get to Reynoldsville Sept. 4th, and might have been accepted in good faith by our people had he not gone to Detroit, Mich., to make a political speech Sept. 3rd. The people of this place are not pleased with the governor's actions.

Democratic Meeting.

Thursday evening of last week the Bryan and Sewall Club of this place held a meeting at their headquarters in the Nolan block, which was well attended. Stewart Whitehill, of Brookville, and Hon. Jacob Truby, of Clearfield, were the speakers of the evening. Ex-District Attorney W. L. McCracken attended the meeting.

MURDERED BY HIGHWAYMEN.

The Supposed Murderers are now in the Jefferson County Jail.

Lewis Helman, a peddler of DuBois, was murdered on the public highway in a strip of woods about a mile south of Brookwayville early last Wednesday evening by two men, whom it is claimed, are known in the neighborhood where the murder occurred. Helman and H. Shakespeare were driving towards DuBois when the two robbers attacked them with revolvers. Helman was shot in the breast and died an hour afterwards at the home of Thos. Hutchison. Shakespeare escaped without injury. Helman had over $80.00 in cash in his pocket, but the robbers did not secure any of the money. The murderers made good their escape. The body of Helman was taken to DuBois, where he had a wife and four small children. On Thursday his remains were taken to Punxsutawney and buried in the Jewish cemetery at that place, it being the custom to bury the dead as soon as possible. No coffin or rough box was used, the body being wrapped in clothes, and no friends or relatives except the Rabbi accompanied the remains.

The commissioners of Jefferson county offered a reward of $300.00 for the capture of the murderers of Lewis Helman.

William and Frank Dodson, of Spring Creek, Elk Co., were suspected of being the men who murdered Helman and several officers, with a posse of men, surrounded the home of William Dodson Friday night. Towards morning one of the men came to the house, rapped three times and was admitted. Later the other one appeared, gave three raps and was admitted. The officers, Deputy Sheriff McMackin, of Ridgway, and Constable S. R. Van Horn, of Brookwayville, went to the door of the Dodson house and demanded admittance. Mrs. Dodson denied the presence of the men, but when informed that the men had been seen going into the house, she saw the game was up and the men came out and surrendered.

They were taken to Ridgway Saturday morning and lodged in jail. H. Shakespeare, who was with Helman when attacked by the highwaymen, was sent for and he went to Ridgway on the first train and identified the men as the ones who killed Helman. The men were taken to Brookwayville on the first train over the B. R. & P. Monday for a hearing. They waived a hearing and were taken to Brookville jail Monday afternoon. There was a large crowd at Falls Creek when the R. & C. passenger train, which the prisoners were on, arrived. The two men with hand-cuffs on were as much of a curiosity to the crowd as if they had been wild animals of some kind. There was quite a crowd at the A. V. station in this place when the train arrived here.

The Dodson's are not murderous looking fellows, but have the appearance of being "tough." They do not have an intelligent look. They are medium sized men. William Dodson is now under $300.00 bail for threatening to shoot an Elk Co. officer, and Frank Dodson is a jail bird; he was discharged from the penitentiary about a month ago, says the Ridgway Star.

A brother of the accused men accompanied them to Brookville, and in a conversation with the editor of THE STAR, he acknowledged that his brothers had been in the neighborhood where the murder took place the afternoon it occurred, but that he had eighteen or twenty witnesses, who know his brothers, to prove that two strange men had been seen following the peddlers at different points between Mill Creek and where the murder occurred.

There seems to be sufficient evidence to show clearly that Helman came to his death at the hands of William and Frank Dodson, however the men are innocent in the sight of the law until proven guilty.

School Board Meeting.

Following is some of the business transacted by the school board of this borough at a meeting held Monday evening: It was decided to build board sidewalks on the Main and Grant street sides of the school house. To buy window blinds for the school building. To furnish chairs and tables for room No. 15. To order more desks for some of the rooms. Speaking tubes to be put in working order in all rooms to connect with superintendent's office. The price of tuition in high school for all resident pupils over twenty-one years old and all non-resident pupils, was placed at $2.00 per month. If the school becomes crowded at any time, resident pupils are to have preference over non-resident pupils, and pupils of school age to have preference over the other two classes.

A light of glass was broken out of the school building by one of the pupils one day last week. The boy's father was notified and requested to pay the damage. If he refuses to do so he will be prosecuted. The school board proposes to see to it that pupils do not damage the building or do mischief without paying damage or being punished for it.
