If you need a jacket or cape call early Saturday, Oct. 10th, at Deemer's. Joseph M. King moved from West Reynolds to Hopkins last week. James Degnan, the lumberman, is convalescing from a severe sick spell. There will be a free silver meeting at Rathmel to-morrow, Thursday, evening. A number of Reynoldsville Republicans attended the rally at Big Run last Friday night. The Punsutawney News, one of our new exchanges, entered its twelfth year last week. The use of Ave Maria perfume imparts a charm to a finished toilet. Reynolds drug store. Rev. D. W. Shepherd will preach in the Bethel M. E. church next Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. There will be a bicyclo race meet at Brookwayville on Thursday, October 15th. Races to be called at 2.30 P. M.

Gents, see the fine all-wool overcoat for $7.00 at Bell's. There are four or five cases of typhoid fever in this place. All the latest fall novelties in dress goods at Deemer's this week. The Clearfield Monitor, a Prohibition organ, entered its fifth year last week. The Volunteer announced last week that henceforth it will be an out and out Republican newspaper. Mrs. Phillip Koehler kindly remembered THE STAR office last week and sent us a box of choice wedding cake. A lame man leading a cub bear attracted the attention of a large number of school children yesterday morning. It is probable that the Keystone band of this place will accompany the excursionists to Canton, Ohio, to-morrow. 'The Imperial' is to be the name of Green & Conser's new brick hotel now being erected at the corner of Main and Fourth streets. The voting place of the first precinct has been removed, by permission of Judge Reed, from the Burns House to Hose House No. 2. The wooden awning in front of D. M. Bolger's tailor shop and M. J. Coyle's store, on Main street, was torn down yesterday afternoon. This is the time of the year when the average man loses his angelic temper in the trying ordeal of putting upstoves in the preparation for winter. The Junior Endeavor of the Presbyterian church will hold a birthday party in the G. A. R. hall next Saturday evening, Oct. 10th, at 7:30 o'clock. The season of the year is here when withering and decaying vegetation is found on every hand. It should be promptly gathered up and destroyed. Some people who cannot pay their grocery and other bills raised enough 'coin of the realm' to take in the circus at DuBois last week. That is different. The usually placid waters of the Sandy Lick were somewhat disturbed by the heavy rains last week, and while the stream was full thousands of logs floated on its bosom to the Hopkins mill. The eleventh annual reunion of the 'Wildcat Regiment,' 105th Pa. Vol., will be held at Brookwayville on Thursday, October 15th. Parade at 2.00 P. M. Camp Fire in Felt's hall at 8.00 P. M. There was a Republican meeting at Eleanora last Wednesday evening. Ed. Carmalt, of Brookville, and Hon. W. O. Smith and A. J. Truitt, of Punsutawney, were the speakers of the evening. The members of the Keystone band who traveled with Norris Bros.' circus during the past season, returned to Reynoldsville Monday evening. The show closed the season at Bellaire, Ohio, Saturday last. There has been some talk during the past week about scholars being kept in to make up time lost by attending the circus. Read what 'Uncle William' has to say about it this week in 'Our Educational Column.'

The Mazomania Tribe No. 341, Improved Order of Red Men, of this place, will celebrate the third anniversary of the organization next Monday afternoon and evening with an Indian parade, supper and war dance.

The W. R. C. District Convention that was to have been held at Brookville last Thursday, was postponed until Wednesday, Oct. 21st. A number of the members of the order were unable to be present on the 1st of October.

Invitations are out for the wedding of Miss Minnie May Reynolds daughter of Thomas Reynolds, jr., of Paradise Settlement, and M. W. McDonald, insurance agent of this place, to take place Wednesday, October 14th.

E. D. Radebach, who washes, dries and bales hair at the tannery, was laid off duty several days the past week with a lame back. While manipulating the lever on the baling machine the chain broke and 'Doc' was thrown to the floor and his back injured.

The net amount of money raised at the dance in the Nolan block last Wednesday night, including the sum raised by subscription, for benefit of Frank Schlabig, was $20.00. On account of the inclement weather the attendance at the dance was not as large as it would have been had it been a pleasant evening.

Albert Bitters, of this place, and Miss Lavere Kunselman, of Emerickville, were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Kunselman, in Emerickville on Wednesday, September 30th, by Rev. J. G. Harshaw, pastor of the M. E. church. Mr. Bitters and bride went to Ridgway and several other places in Elk county on a wedding trip.

The wandering hobo is now working a new game. A few months ago nearly every hobo arrested was found to have from one to a dozen spectacles, worth at wholesale about $1.50 a dozen. They always had a story about having the glasses and would sell them for whatever they could get. Their present play is to offer at a small sum a cheap imitation gold ring with 'diamond' setting, with the story that they found it in their travels.

Congregational Meeting.

The Presbyterians of this place will hold a congregational meeting in their church this Wednesday evening to call a pastor. At the present writing it is uncertain just what the new preacher's name will be, however, we believe it will either be Rev. Robinson or Rev. Gordon.

Indian Parade.

The Improved Order of Red Men will give an Indian street parade in Reynoldsville on Monday, Oct. 12th, at 2.30 P. M. A supper will be served in the Grand Army hall at 6.30 P. M. for 25 cents. A dance will be held in the Nolan block and will be opened at 8.00 P. M. with an amusing Indian war dance. All are invited.

Church Notices.

Under this heading will be found the subjects and texts of the pastors of the various churches of Reynoldsville for the following Sunday:

Rev. D. W. Shepherd will preach in the Baptist church next Sunday. Morning: 'God manifest in unexpected places.' Evening: 'The purpose of Christ's ministry.'

Leg Broken.

Frank, eleven-year-old son of Daniel Strouse, had his right leg broken last Wednesday between the hind wheel and standard of a wagon which he had jumped on to take a ride. In attempting to get off the wagon his leg was run in between the spokes of the wheel and the boy was carried around on the wheel to the standard before the wagon could be stopped and the result was as above stated.

Silver Meeting.

Posters were stuck up around town last Friday on which was the following announcement: Grand mass meeting will be held on Wednesday evening, Oct. 7th, at Reynoldsville, in Centennial hall, when the question of the free coinage of gold and silver will be fully discussed and made plain by W. B. Wilson, Master Workman Independent Order of Knights of Labor, and other prominent speakers.

Naturalization Court.

Judge John W. Reed held naturalization court in Brookville last Thursday and about two hundred foreigners were made citizens of the United States. Each person was put through a rigid examination before the oath of allegiance was administered to them. About thirty from Eleanora drove to this place in time to catch the 7:40 train Thursday morning for Brookville to become citizens. A few from Reynoldsville and West Reynolds were naturalized.

Wanted a Fight.

Allen's Mills is usually a quiet hamlet, but when there is anything of a special order, even a knock down, it is generally done up in first class style. Last Thursday evening about the time the male portion of the neighborhood gathered into the one store and postoffice combined after mail and tobacco and to discuss the financial situation, a pugilistic encounter of the John L. style occurred, and as is generally the case the man who insisted on having the fight, although he was the larger man, got the worst of it and had to plead for mercy.

Of Importance to Pupils.

At the meeting of the school board Monday evening Prof. Lenker was granted permission to demote all scholars who get behind in their studies by absenting themselves from school. The directors claim that there are too many pupils who are granted permission by their parents to stay away from school just whenever they are inclined to do so, therefore, the scholars who absent themselves from school and get behind in their studies can expect to be put back into lower rooms.

The board also passed a resolution to the effect that all pupils coming out of families where they had typhoid fever would have to get a certificate from a physician before they will be admitted to the school.

Excursion to Canton.

Arrangements have been made to run an excursion train to Canton, Ohio, to-morrow, Thursday, Oct. 8th, to accommodate all those who want to visit Major William McKinley, Republican candidate for President, at his home and hear him make a speech. The train will leave DuBois at 6:50 A. M., Falls Creek 7:00, Reynoldsville 7:40, and Brookville 8:15 A. M. Train will stop at all stations between DuBois and Red Bank, and will arrive at Canton about 4:00 P. M., where the excursionists will remain four or five hours and then start on the return trip home. Fare for the round trip from stations east of Brookville $3.50, from stations west of Brookville $3.00. Hon. John W. Reed, president judge of Jefferson county, will accompany the excursion and make the introductory address at Canton. Ed. A. Carmalt, Chairman Jefferson County Republican Committee, received the following letter from Major McKinley's private secretary, James Boyle: 'Six delegations booked for Oct. 8th, but if your delegation desires to come on that date Major McKinley will be delighted to receive them.'

Shot An Old Citizen.

Detective Frank P. Adelsperger, whose business it is to hunt people who disobey the civil laws of our land,—and he generally gets the 'game' that he goes for,—occasionally likes to lie away to the woodland and hunt smaller game. Last Friday forenoon Mr. Adelsperger was in the woods near Kline's when a pheasant flew up and Adelsperger shot at it. He was horrified to hear some one cry out from behind a clump of bushes just in front of him, and he was not comforted much to find Daniel Sharp, of sassafras fame, with blood flowing from numerous places on his head, face and neck. Mr. Sharp was gathering wild grapes at the time and Mr. Adelsperger did not see him until after a portion of the shot that missed the pheasant had been buried in the old man's flesh. Mr. Adelsperger took Mr. Sharp home and called two doctors. They found Daniel feeling as comfortable as could be expected under the circumstances, and not dangerously injured. Mr. Adelsperger felt very badly about the accident, but he was not to blame for it. Daniel Sharp is one of the oldest citizens of this section, he lived here when the site whereon Reynoldsville is built was a howling wilderness, the wild beasts were numerous and the Red man and his tomahawk were not strangers. Mr. Sharp has outlived the three score and ten limit. He is eighty-four years old. If Mr. Adelsperger had blown out his flickering lamp of life, he would have removed Reynoldsville's sure harbinger of spring, for it has been Mr. Sharp's custom for many years to dig up sassafras root in the very early spring time and peddle it out to the citizens of Reynoldsville, and when he appears with sassafras over his shoulder it is a sure sign that spring time has come.

Council Meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of town council was held Monday evening, with President Stone in the chair. Members present: Copping, Heckman, Spears, Hoffman and Ritzle. Minutes of previous meeting were read and approved. Ezra D. Hartman appeared before the council and asked council to give him a building permit free of charge because he had made some repairs on Jackson street. On motion it was refused. Burgess Robertson reported fees collected for fines and licenses $6.00. On motion bills amounting to $503.36 were ordered paid. Chairman of street committee reported the alley between Worth and Jackson streets to be in bad condition. Mr. Copping, who had been in charge of the circulating of the petition to remove the voting place of the first precinct to hose house No. 2, reported that Judge Reed had granted the removal, and also that the water company had granted the borough permission to put the city water into hose house No. 2, no charge to be made for the water used for said purpose. There being no further business, on motion the meeting adjourned.

No Sanitary Organization.

It is a well known fact that a few years ago a board of health was organized in Reynoldsville and after a short life it became inactive and the town is at present without a proper sanitary organization. This should not be so. Benjamin Lee, Secretary of the State Board of Health, says: 'Sanitary reform is making such rapid advance that the efficiency of a local board of health is beginning to be regarded as an index of the intelligence of the community.' If this be true it is high time that Reynoldsville proves by an efficient board of health that this is an intelligent community. The terms of some of the members of the board have expired, but, if we are correctly informed, it is the duty of the President of the Town Council to appoint persons to fill the vacancies of those whose terms have expired, and that it will be legal to reappoint such members if it appears desirable.

Killed on a Bridge.

Last Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Rosa Ann London, sister of John Hopkins of this place, was killed by a B. & P. passenger train on a bridge near Big Run. Mrs. London, who was sixty-five years old, and two other old people were walking across the railroad bridge and did not hear the train until it appeared around a short curve near the bridge. The train was running fast and was so close to the bridge when the engineer discovered the people that he could not stop his train. Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Smouser, who were with Mrs. London, just got off the bridge in time to escape the iron horse. Mrs. London was killed instantly. Mr. Hopkins attended the funeral of his sister Friday. Her remains were buried in a cemetery near her home, which was near where she met such a violent death.

Defective Sidewalk.

The case of Harry Evans vs. The Borough of Brookville, concluded in the common Pleas Court this week, imposes the burden of $1,000 on the taxpayers of our town, the third case of the kind within recent years, because of defective sidewalks. We believe it safe to say that there are to-day scores of places on sidewalks of our streets in a worse condition than where the plaintiff in this case was injured, and where accidents are possible any day, and the question that arises is, are our town fathers going to permit this condition to exist, running the risk of being compelled from time to time to pay large awards of damages? A thousand dollars would repair the sidewalks of town and keep them in condition for one year at least.—Brookville Republican. There are sidewalks in Reynoldsville that need repairing before some one gets injured. Deemer's jacket and wrap opening Saturday, Oct. 10th. The finest line of $10.00 overcoats ever shown in town at Bell's. Save money buying shoes at Robinson's. $5.00 buys a fine all-wool suit at Bell's.

Hawthorne-Koehler Nuptials.

At 4.30 P. M. on Wednesday, Sept. 30th, at the home of Phillip Koehler, in West Reynoldsville, Miss Louisa Koehler and Prof. Claude K. Hawthorne, of Ohl, Pa., were united in the holy bonds of matrimony by Rev. James H. Jelbart, M. E. pastor, of Stanton, Pa., of whose church the groom is a member. Miss Lizzie Koehler, sister of the bride, and Mr. Glenn A. Milliren, cousin of the groom, stood up with the contracting parties and the ceremony was performed in the presence of the two families and a few immediate relatives and friends. After congratulations the entire party sat down to a feast of good things to eat. The wedding presents were beautiful, valuable and useful, consisting of a sideboard, silver tea set, dining table, set of china dishes, dining room chairs, silverware, &c. The young couple left that evening, amid a shower of rice, on the 7.52 train for Brookville and from there to Summerville and then to Prof. Hawthorne's home at Ohl. In three or four weeks they will go to housekeeping at Summerville, where the Prof. has been elected principal of the schools.

The bride was one of West Reynoldsville's fairest and finest young ladies, she is a good christian lady and was a faithful worker in all the departments of the M. E. church, of which she was a member, and will be greatly missed in the church. Louisa has a host of friends in Reynoldsville who wish her the fullest enjoyment in the new life she has entered. Prof. Hawthorne, who was principal of the West Reynoldsville schools last winter, is a very nice young man, full of the spirit of progressiveness, who will no doubt make the best of this life. THE STAR wishes the young people abundant success as they travel life's pathway together. Those present from out of town were: Mr. and Mrs. James F. Hawthorne, of Ohl, Mrs. Dr. J. K. Brown, of Summerville, Rev. and Mrs. J. K. Adams, of Big Run, O. C. Jones, of Ohl, Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Jelbart, of Stanton, Pa.

Protection of the Public Health.

State Supt. Schaeffer says: 'I am of the opinion that the Act of Assembly, approved June 18, 1895, entitled 'An Act to provide for the more effectual protection of the public health, in the several municipalities of this Commonwealth,' is intended to be a general law. There may be some question as to a direct application of the compulsory feature of the act to townships, inasmuch as there is no provision made, under existing laws, for the organization of local Boards of Health outside of the cities and boroughs of the Commonwealth; but at the same time it is advisable for all school boards to take such measures as, in their judgment, may be necessary to prevent the spread of contagious and infectious diseases in the district over which the directors have jurisdiction. I think that the directors ought to have a reasonable discretion in the matter and should have the right to exercise their own good judgment as to the necessity of the case. If contagious diseases are prevalent in the neighborhood or if there is danger of the spread of a contagion from contact with other localities, the directors ought to take every precaution to protect the schools even if the law did not require them to do so. They may close the schools temporarily, if necessary, until the danger is over. It is inadvisable for school boards, without relinquishing any of the powers conferred upon them by law, to co-operate with the local boards of health (where there are such boards,) if an emergency should arise requiring prompt and decisive action on the part of the local authorities. It requires unceasing vigilance and systematic efforts of the part of every body concerned, to maintain proper sanitary regulations in connection with the schools and homes, and school directors cannot be too careful in guarding against the introduction and spread of disease, which endangers the health and lives of the children.'
