against him. The New York World in speaking of the Torbett Concert Company says: Miss Ollie Torbett, a granddaughter of Gen. Jas. P. Drake, of Mexican War fame, is one of the most fascinating and delightful of violinists, and for three asons has been with the Kellogg Company and others. She is a very young and lovely girl and a thorough musician, her audience being at once captivated by her wonderful playing and childish, beautiful face.

Accepted Calls.

ev. Percy Smith and Rev. Ralston, who were candidates for pastor of the Reynoldsville Presbyterian church, have accepted calls from other churches. Rev. Smith has gone to Burgettstown, Washington Co., Pa., and Rev. Ralston to Sherman, N. Y.

Firemen's Parade.

The firemen of Hose Co. No. 1, with their two hose carts and hook and ladder wagon, headed with a martial band and a beautiful silk flag, paraded Main street Monday afternoon to show off their new helmets and coats recently purchased by the town council. Hose Co. No. 2 was provided with the same kind of helmets and coats.

Given up the Ministry.

Rev. Paul W. Metzenthin, former pastor of the Trinity Lutheran church of this place, and who was given a call to the Grace Lutheran church of Franklin last week, has decided to give up the ministry for the present at least, and has accepted a position in Priester Bros.' furniture and undertaking establishment in this place.

New Trains. By referring to "traveiers' guide" at head of first column on local page it will be seen that the new passenger train put on Monday arrives in this place, over the R. & F. C. West Reynoldsville Board of Health.

At a special meeting of the West Reynoldsville town council held last week it was decided to have a board of health in that borough, and the following gentlemen were appointed as members of the board: H. L. Hoke, G. G. Williams, Joseph McKernan, John Burgeson and Pat. Ward. These gentlemen will meet to-morrow evening and organize the new board of health.

"Nigger in the Fence."

It was mentioned in this paper last week that Martin McGregor, of Lindsey, had been lodged in the county jail for trying to bribe a nephew to set fire to a mill owned by Mr. McGregor, on which he had $1,500 insurance. We have since been reliably informed that Mr. McGregor and his nephew, who accused him of proposed arson, have been enemies for over a year. This being the case, it would look as if there was a "nigger in the fence."

The Jollification.

The Republican jollification in this place last Wednesday evening was not filled with as much political enthusiasm as might have been expected, or doubtless would have been had the ratification been held five or six days sooner. There was a special train run down from Rathmel which brought in quite a number of men, women and small boys, but few of the visitors, or people of this place, joined in the parade. There was one thing the ratification did not lack in and that was red lights, Main street was well illuminated with red fire during the parade.

Respond to a Thought.

A large audience assembled at the Newmarket last evening to hear the Lutteman Sextette, whose beautiful singing amply bore out all the commendation which has been received in other places in Europe and America. Given voices of unusual sweetness and power, such as seem the product of the and of Jennie Lind, cultivation and association has blended them so that they seem to respond to a thought .-The St. Paul Pioneer. This Sextette will appear with the Torbett Concert Co. in the Public School Assembly Hall Thursday evening, Nov. 19.

Refused New Trial.

Jerry Allen, of Allens Mills, and Mr. Humphrey, of Port Barnett, sheriffed Ninian Cooper for a tract of land in Washington township in 1860. They paid the costs and continued the case until 1877 when the sheriff was again set on to Mr. Cooper. Again Messrs. Allen and Humphrey paid the costs and continued the case until the May term of court of this year when it came to a trial and Mr. Cooper won the case. An application was then made for a new trial. Judge Harry White, of Indiana, held argument court in Brookville on Wednesday of last week and after hearing this case, refused Messrs. Allen and Humphrey a new trial.

New Coal Works.

The Bloomington Coal Co. is opening up a large coal mine up Skunk Hollow, about a mile and a half above Rathmel from which they expect to ship at least thirty cars of coal a day. Men are now at work on a branch railroad from Rathmel to the mine, which will connect with the Reynoldsville & Falls Creek R'y, and the coal will be shipped through this place to Falls Creek. Mr. Reuben McPherson, who was an outside boss at the Reynoldsville tannery about a dozen years ago, has charge of the construction of the new railroad. There will be very little grading to do on this short branch. It is expected that the Bloomington Coal Co. will be shipping coal from their new mine by the first of January, 1807.

The Franklin correspondent to Oil City Derrick on Saturday of last week says: An endless amount of fun and amuse-ment was furnished to those who were ment was furnished to those who were so fortunate as to see the funny extravaganza, "The Spinster's Fortnight Club," given by the Presbyterian ladies in the Opera house this evening. Cynthia Priseilla, Rovilla Abigail, Ophelia Arvilla, Patience Desire, Sophronia Araminta, Anastasia Melissa, and many other of the belles of 60 years ago were represented by home talent, and the piece was rendered in a way that east credit upon the ladies that participated. The object of the club is matrimony. The object of the club is matrimony, and in the course of the action they have the chance of being made over into girls by means of a mystical machine in the hands of Prof. Renovo Makeover.

BAPTIST.

Rev. T. A. T. Hanna, the same gentle### man that preached in the Baptist church last Sunday, will preach in the same church next Sunday morning and evening.

Tampered With the Mails. A boy named McIntyre, whose home is in Reynoldsville, but who is stopping with friends in DuBois, was arrested by Officer Patchell and turned over to Postmaster Daley this morning for tampering with the U.S. mails. Last night the boy went to the Commercial hotel letter box and took a letter out. He went again this morning and took two others and was caught. There are two stories as to how he obtained access to the box. One is that he was told the combination by a person at Reynoldsville and an other is that the combination was left on after the box had been opened. The offense with which the boy is charged is a serious one. He is about twelve years of age. - DuBois Express, Nov. 11.

Thanksgiving-Day Excursion. The Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg Ry will run an excursion to Buffalo, N. Y., on Wednesday, Nov. 25th. Tickets will be good for four days. Fare for round trip $3.00. Train leaves Reynoldsville at 12.50 P. M. Tickets good going only on day of sale, and are good for return passage on any regular train if used on or before Saturday, Nov. 28th. This will afford every person an opportunity to spend Thanksgiv-ing Day in Greater Buffalo, the Queen City of the Lakes.

Rugby Team. The Reynoldsville High School Rugby team is raising a guarantee for a game of Rugby between said team and the DuBois High School team, the game to take place on or before Thanksgiving. It is to be hoped that the citizens will give them their liberal JAS. PENTZ, Sec.

A Golden Wedding.

One of the most enjoyable social events ever witnessed in the Beechwoods took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Burtop on the 10th Inst., is being the celebration of their golden wedding.

During the forenoon friends and neighbors from far and near could be seen wending their way towards the Burtop farm, and by twelve o'clock no less than one hundred people had assembled to extend congratulations to this much respected couple. At the noon hour as many as could sit around the festive board at one time did so and pertook of the bountiful supply of good things too numerous to mention, suffice it to say that either after a walk or drive over the hills of Jefferson Co., inballing the pure frosty air, everybody present did ample justice to the inner

The next interesting feature of the occasion was the display of many valuable presents which was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Burtop by an old friend and neighbor, Mr. Jerry Allen, in a very appropriate manner. In a few well chosen words Mr. Burtop responded, thanking those present for their many evidences of sincere friendship. During the evening a number of young folks gathered and enjoyed a social dance until about midnight when all left for their respective homes feeling that life was still worth living. This golden wedding, being the first that most of the guests had ever attended, they will remember it as one of the happiest events of their lives.

Mr. and Mrs. Burtop are perhaps as well and favorably known as any couple in the Beechwoods, being among the earlier settlers of that section. They came to the United States from England Oct. 3rd, 1854. Coming to Tyrone and from there to the Brooks farm, in Clearfield Co., where they stayed but a short time with their uncle. They then came to Jefferson county and remained for three years and then went to Newberry Port, Mass. In 1866 they again returned to this county and settled down on their farm where they have permanently lived ever since. They have one son, George, whose familiar face can be seen upon our streets every Saturday with his father, and the question is often asked as to which is the oldest.

Mr. and Mrs. Burtop, although over 70 years of age, are still quite active and sprightly and the best wishes of their many friends are that they may live for many years, and enjoy the fruits of their many years of hard labor.

Dynamite Magazine Exploded.

A sorting magazine, nitro glycerine and other high grade explosives, located two miles north-west of Johnsonburg, exploded Saturday afternoon. Lewis Stewart and Peter Donahue were torn to pieces by the awful explosion. A dispatch from Johnsonburg says: "Two men and two teams were in range of the tear-up when the several tons of stuff exploded and there has not enough been found of the men to identify them; only scattered bits of flesh here and there through the woods. The and there through the woods. The teams were as completely wiped out of existence, only parts of the harness being found where they were eaught in branches and tops of trees. Of the wagons there has been one broken wheel and a part of one axle found, and at the place where the wagons, there has been the wagons the wag place where the magazine stood there is nothing left of it and a great hole in the earth markes its former location. The shock of the explosion caused great excitement at Johnsonburg. Heavy glass windows in the Armstrong hotel fell with a sudden crash into many pieces, as though they had been struck with a batteringram, and the windows of many stores and private houses went the same way. Men rushed out of their places of business into the streets and places of business into the streets and women and children ran terrified from their homes, some of them thinking the last call had come. Others thought there had been an explosion at the paper mill and many eyes were turned that way to see if disaster had not befallen the hundreds of hands employed within those walls. The cruption seemed to be in the very midst of the community, and numbers of the women who ran out into the streets were crying out that it was in their homes, their out that it was in their homes, their first impression being that their families had for some unknown reason had un-expectedly been made the victims of a dynamite plot."

Whom to Avoid.

People who narrate every little foible of a man. People who deal scandal and unpleasant gossip. People who misconstrue and misrepresent the actions of women.

People who do not hesitate to wound and who are too proud to hear. People who cannot discriminate between cordiality and familiarity. People who are quick to be insulted, and as loath to accept apologies. People utterly devoid of gratitude.

Coarseness exists in such natures. People who deal in insinuations, which are far worse than accusations. People who attend to everybody's affairs, because they have none of their

People who tell you disagreeable things-for malice and not prompted by kindness. People who deal in words of double meaning with the tendency to make false impressions.
