Henry C. Deible, of this place, was one of the jurors on the trial of the Dodsons in Brookville last week for murder.

Before buying your Xmas present you should call and examine Ed. Gooder's stock of watches, clocks, jewelry and silverware.

Wm. Northy, who was injured in Big Soldier mine several weeks ago, is now able to hobble around by the assistance of a cane.

Shoes for ladies, shoes for babies, shoes for men, shoes for everybody at J. E. Welsh & Co's. Good stock. Low prices. Call and see.

An entertainment will be given by the pupils of the Sandy Valley school in the school house at that place Thursday evening—Christmas eve.

Remember the entertainment to be given in the opera house Christmas evening under auspices of the Helping Hand Society of the M. E. church.

Hon. R. G. Hoer, who lectured in this place about two years ago, died at his home in Plainfield, N. J., last Friday of bronchitis and Bright's disease, after two weeks' illness.

If you want a watch it will cost you nothing to get price, and if they are not lower than any in town don't buy. But come and see for yourself at C. F. Hoffman's, the jeweler.

Div. No. 1, A. O. H. of America, have issued invitations for a grand ball to be given in the Star building Thursday evening, Dec. 31st. Roseco's orchestra will furnish the music.

J. S. Morrow, proprietor of the large general merchandise store in the opera house block, has a fine selection of candy which he is selling at low prices. That is the place to buy candy.

There will be no paper issued from this office next week, but the office will be open to do job work, receive money on back subscriptions and to receive new subscriptions for THE STAR.

There was not the sound of a church bell in Reynoldsville all day Sunday. The reason for the silence of the bells was the dangerous illness of Miss Marie Davis, as the least noise affected her.

Senator S. R. Peale, of Lock Haven, John W. Peale, of New York, and Alex. Dunsmore, of Glen Richey, Pa., who are interested in the Bloomington Coal Co. mines at Rathmel, were in Reynoldsville Friday.

The public school of Rathmel will give an entertainment in the P. O. S. of A. hall at that place on Thursday evening, December 31st. Proceeds to be used in purchasing a bell for the school building in Rathmel.

About Christmas time almost every person has a dollar or two to spend either foolishly or otherwise. An excellent way to spend a dollar would be to subscribe for THE STAR and get the news during all of 1897.

The popular Irish melodrama, "Kathleen Mavourneen," will be produced in the Reynolds opera house Thursday evening, Dec. 31st, by home talent for the benefit of the Catholic church. Reserved seats 35 cents; general admission 25 cents.

When making out the list of good deeds you propose doing during the happy holidays, just look at the label on THE STAR and see if it is paid up to date. It is a good thing to be generous and charitable—and it is also well to be just.

Wm. M. Burge, the well known grocer of West Reynoldsville, has purchased a large and fine stock of candies, fruits, &c., for the holiday trade, which he is selling at very reasonable prices. He also handles fresh groceries, tobacco, cigars, &c.

The A. V. R'y will sell excursion tickets on Dec. 24th, 25th and 31st, 1896, and on January 1st, 1897, good for return trip until January 4th, 1897, inclusive. No excursion rates for adults will be made less than forty cents, or children less than twenty cents.

A horse was left standing on one of our streets last Friday morning without being tied and it frightened at something and ran off. The vehicle attached to the animal was almost a total wreck when the horse was stopped. When will people learn not to leave horses stand on the street untied?

Alva, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Jones, of Jackson street, aged one year, four months and twenty-seven days, died Friday morning and was buried in Beulah cemetery Saturday afternoon. Funeral services were held at the home of bereaved parents at 2:00 P. M. Saturday, conducted by Rev. Crawford.

The latest money-making scheme for church societies is the "photographic social." Every lady is requested to bring a photograph of herself, taken in childhood. They are all shuffled together, and each gentleman that draws one is expected to guess the original, and rejoice in paying for her supper.

A number of young people of Rockdale Mills, and vicinity, held a surprise party at the home of Alex. McClelland, Rockdale Mills, Saturday evening, Dec. 12th, in honor of Miss Mary Hoer, of Cecil, North Dakota, who has been visiting in Beechwoods over a year and was about to start for her western home. All present had a jolly time.

Two Weeks' Vacation.
To-day the public schools of this borough close for two weeks' vacation, and the following verse will express the feelings of many pupils as they hop-skip-and-jump home this afternoon:
"We have laid our books away,
For vacation with its fun,
With wholesome pleasures for each day,
And sorrow when it's done."

Lived in the County Fifty Years.
John Foltz, of Big Run, father of J. Martin Foltz, one of the supervisors of Winslow township, died early last Friday morning, aged 88 years, 9 months and 18 days. Funeral services were held at the residence of his son, William Foltz, in Big Run Sunday and his remains were lowered to their last resting place in the Cypress cemetery in Paradise. The deceased had lived in Jefferson county since 1846, a half century, and was well known in the county.

Caught in a Bad Act.
N. U. Bond, of Brockwayville, a young attorney who took an active part in the defence of the Dodsons in their trial for murder, appeared at the jail Friday with a basket of clothing for the prisoners. Mr. Bond said there was nothing in the basket but clothing. The sheriff, to be on the safe side, examined the basket and found two loaded and one unloaded revolvers among the clothing in the basket. It is very likely Mr. Bond will have to give an explanation to the court as to how the revolvers came to be in the basket.

Informal Call.
Rev. W. F. Reber, of Fayetteville, Franklin Co., Pa., a student in the Theological Seminary in Allegheny City, preached for the Presbyterian congregation in this place Sunday morning and evening, and he made such a favorable impression that after the evening service he was given an informal call to fill the pulpit until May when he would be given a regular call. The Presbyterian congregation does not know whether Rev. Reber will accept the informal call or not. He will preach here again the second Sunday in January.

Wedding Bells.
At 4:00 P. M. to-morrow, Thursday, December 24th, Miss Mary J. Pomroy and William Bolt will be united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Pomroy, on Jackson street, by Rev. J. W. Crawford, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church. Mrs. Erdice, of Brookville, will play the wedding march, and Miss Edith Pomroy, sister of the bride, and John Trudgen, jr., will stand with the young couple while Rev. Crawford ties the nuptial knot. After the marriage ceremonies and congratulations an elegant repast will be served to the invited guests. The young couple have a house rented and expect to go to house-keeping in about a week or ten days. THE STAR extends congratulations.

Start for Dakota to-day.
Mrs. Jesse H. Hoer and two daughters, Misses Mary and Vira, of Cecil, North Dakota, who have been visiting friends and relatives in Reynoldsville, Brookville, Beechwoods and DuBois over one year, turned their faces homeward this week, where terrible blizzards are not strangers. Mrs. Hoer and daughters will go to Brookville to-day where they will remain a short time, then on to Manorsville for a short visit, then to Ohio, then to Dakota. Mrs. Hoer says she is loathe to leave her friends in this section who have been so extremely kind in their efforts to make her visit a pleasant one and that her visit has been very enjoyable.

Merry Christmas—Happy New Year.
It is an old established custom with country newspapers to skip an issue during the holidays, and as we have no desire to get away from the "old land mark," the readers of THE STAR will have to exist one week without its visit, and that will be next week. When the next issue of THE STAR reaches your home the old year, 1896, will have been stored in the archives of time and the new year, 1897, with its supply of joys, pleasures, disappointments and sorrows for all, will be six days old, therefore, we take this opportunity of wishing our readers and friends a merry Christmas and joy, prosperity and plenty in the new and untried year soon to be ushered in.

Let the Dollars Fly.
There is nothing quite so essential to happiness at this season as the possession of a little spare pocket money. There is no way so effectual to supply this particular craving as to pay small bills. The debtor who shall fall before Christmas day to discharge his small debts will fall most lamentably in his duty to his kind. Every dollar put in circulation this kindly season gets fairly hot in the swiftness with which it passes from hand to hand, on its errand of Christmas liquidation. There fore we say let the dollar fly! Pay the butcher, the baker, the printer and all other bread-earners who minister in one way or another to private and public comfort! A clearing up of small indebtedness would bring joy as unconfined as when the hungry children of Israel found unexpected manna in the wilderness.

An Englishman Murdered.
William Britton, an English coal miner, aged about twenty-three years, who was married two months ago, was murdered at Eleanora last Saturday afternoon by an Italian. The facts in case, which were given to a representative of THE STAR by two gentlemen from Eleanora, are about as follows: Two weeks ago Saturday some Italians had trouble among themselves and one of them got the worst of it. Last Saturday the Italian who got used up the Saturday two weeks before was looking for satisfaction. The Ikes raised a disturbance in the company store or pay office and were put out. After they got outside Britton took a hand in it and knocked two or three Italians down and then an Ike, whose name we did not learn, stabbed Britton near the heart with a stiletto. Britton dropped dead in his tracks without uttering a word. The Italian, of which the following is a description, escaped: Black crooked eyes, black mustache, about five feet 10 inches tall, fresh cut on one ear.

William Britton's remains were buried in the cemetery at Eleanora Monday afternoon.

LATER.
The Italian who killed Britton was captured and lodged in the Brookville jail yesterday.

People Didn't Attend.
Prof. Joseph P. Frampton, of Punxsutawney, entertainer, elocutionist, reciter and soloist, was advertised to give an entertainment in Centennial hall Friday evening, Dec. 18th. The hall was illuminated, Prof. and his brother, Harry, were on hands ready to give the entertainment, but they didn't give it because a sufficient audience failed to materialize. Those holding complimentary tickets were most all there. Nothing daunted, the Prof. engaged the hall for Tuesday evening, Dec. 21st, and advertised his entertainment the second time, but there were only two or three present and the entertainment was not given.

League Officers.
At the meeting of the Epworth League last Wednesday evening the following officers were elected for the ensuing six months: President, C. A. Stephenson; 1st vice-president, Roman E. Koehler; 2nd vice-president, Miss Olive Jones; 3rd vice-president, Miss Stella Doane; 4th vice-president, Miss Jennie McEntire; secretary, Elsie Ross; treasurer, Thos. D. Hoon; librarian, Will Northy; organist, Miss Carrie Albright; chorister, S. M. Lowther.

Sheriff-elect Burns.
Edward Charles Burns, sheriff-elect of Jefferson county, who has lived in Reynoldsville since the days when he was a tow-headed youngster, will move to Brookville on Monday, January 4th, and will take the oath of office as sheriff on that day.

Book Reception.
A public reception will be given in the Assembly Hall, public school building, this afternoon at 2:30. All books contributed for the school library will be appreciated by the school.

Save money on shoes at Robinson's.

THREE MURDER CASES.
Looks Very Much as if the Jury in the Dodson Case will not Agree.

The trial of Frank and William Dodson for the murder of Louis Helman, the Jewish peddler, near Brookwayville last September, the facts of which we have mentioned before, was called in the Jefferson county courts about three o'clock Tuesday afternoon of last week. The court house was crowded when the prisoners were brought in, as it was most of the time during the trial, and every person present stretched their necks to get a look at the men who were to be tried for a heinous crime. Prothonotary Clark read the charge to which both prisoners answered, "Not guilty." The next thing to do was to call a jury, and the twelve men selected to decide whether the prisoners at the bar were guilty of the crime charged, were:

George Beatty, Winslow township; S. E. Brison, Rathmel; Henry Bush, Perry township; H. C. Deible, Reynoldsville; Samuel Fike, Knox township; George A. Hapler, Beaver township; Joseph McGill, Clover township; George Roberts, Winslow township; J. F. Shovelstall, Oliver township; J. B. Smith, McCalmont township; G. W. Snyder, Ringgold township; J. D. Thompson, Clover township.

The trial occupied the court until Saturday noon when the jury retired to the jury room.
On Sunday the jury asked for instructions on the testimony of several witnesses, but Judge Reed refused to take up the matter on Sunday. Monday morning the jury came into court and the stenographer read the testimonies asked for. At the request of the jury Judge Reed repeated his charge as to identification and alibi.

The jury was in the court room yesterday forenoon again, for instructions. It is now claimed that Samuel Fike, of Knox township, is related to the Dodsons by marriage, and that eleven of the jurors agree on murder in the first degree, but Fike holds out for acquittal. The latter part of this statement must certainly be supposition, as a jury does not make known how they stand until after a verdict has been rendered. There is little doubt but that the jury will have to be discharged and the prisoners given a new trial.

COOK CASE.
The case of Isaac Cook, constable of Young township, who shot and killed Augustina Carino near Walston last August—the Italian was resisting the officer—which occupied the time of the court since Saturday noon, was given to the jury about 5:00 p. m. yesterday.

ITALIAN CASE.
The case of Joseph Aiello, an Ike, charged with murdering Louis Sealzo at Walston one year ago, was called yesterday as soon as the jury in the Cook case went out.

Should be Gentlemen in Court Room.
During the trial of a rape case in the Jefferson county court last week an attorney used unnecessarily vulgar language and Judge Reed took advantage of the occasion to give the attorneys a little lecture on propriety in the court room. He said a lawyer should always be a gentleman, and his language should not be such as to have a demoralizing influence upon his hearers. He should not offend the refined with the language of the hoodlum, nor tickle the ears of uncouth with low fustian or blackguardism. The proceedings of court should be clean, dignified and characterized by a disposition to elevate, rather than degrade, the moral sense. It is better late than never to do good. For years there have been certain lawyers practicing at the bar of this county who embraced every opportunity in open court to use rank language and bullying the persons on trial. We think Judge Reed's little speech was not out of place, and it is to be hoped that hereafter all lawyers of this county will conduct themselves as gentlemen in court.

Sunday School Treats.
The scholars of the Presbyterian, Baptist, Methodist Episcopal and Lutheran Sunday schools will receive treats in their respective churches to-morrow, Thursday, evening.

Did you see the pretty berry set in the window at Hoffman's, the jeweler.
If you want good value for your money, buy shoes at J. E. Welsh & Co's.
