The driver failed to make the turn and his horses ran into Mr. McMillen's sleigh. There was some excitement in that immediate vicinity for a few minutes. McMillen's sleigh was not as valuable after the collision as it was before.

Accepted the Call.

Rev. W. F. Reber has accepted the call to become pastor of the Reynoldsville Presbyterian church. He is a student in the Theological Seminary at Allegheny, where he will graduate in May and then be installed as pastor of the church. Until that time he will either fill the pulpit every Sunday or send some one. He will preach here next Sunday.

Had Seen Hogs Hanging Up.

Saturday a sleighing party of school children drove to Brookville. They visited the jail and among the prisoners saw the Italian who was convicted of murder in the first degree. In one family the children were talking about it after they returned home and were wondering if the man would be hung. The youngest of the family, a lad not quite five years old, listened awhile and then asked his mother if they would put a stick in the man's mouth and between his legs, when he was hung, like Seeley's did their hogs.

Change in Business.

James K. Johnston, who has been a member of the Reynoldsville Hardware Company store in this place since 1891, has sold his interest in the store to the two partners, A. T. McClure and Francis D. Smith. Mr. Johnston has not decided yet what he will do in the future. It is likely he will embark in some other line of business in Reynoldsville. Messrs. McClure and Smith, who are now proprietors of the mammoth hardware store, are genial, gentlemanly fellows, who are well known in this section of the country, and have many warm friends.

Chief of Fire Department.

Delegates from Fire Companies Nos. 1 and 2 met at the office of Dr. James Bee Neale last Wednesday evening and elected Frank J. Black, ex-newspaper man, ex-assistant postmaster and now proprietor of Hotel McConnell, chief of the fire departments, and Mayor Peter Robertson assistant chief. As mentioned last week, Mr. Black was foreman of the fire company in this place fourteen years. Mayor Robertson was foreman of Fire Co. No. 2 a short time when he resigned to accept the office of Mayor of Reynoldsville. The fire companies made good selections for chief and assistant.

Greater Reynoldsville.

We have been reliably informed that a number of prominent citizens of West Reynoldsville, who were opposed to that town becoming a part of the Reynoldsville borough, but preferred to make it a separated borough, would not object now to annexation with this borough. That would be the proper thing to do. It is all virtually one town anyhow, why keep up two boroughs? Annexation would be a better thing for both boroughs, we think. Prescottville is so closely connected with Reynoldsville that strangers cannot tell where the one ends and the other begins. Why not annex Prescottville also?

Prohibition Ticket.

At the Prohibition caucus held in Centennial hall Saturday evening, the following ticket was nominated: Justice of the Peace, Robert L. Miles; Burgess, J. C. Doane; Councilmen, Vine R. Pratt, A. E. Dunn, S. Shaffer; School Directors, Rufus Kirk, J. K. Johnson; Tax Collector, Matthew Phillips; High Constable, James Tyson; Auditors, Frank Beck, J. Van Reed; Overseer of the Poor, Jonathan Whitmore; Register, (1st precinct) E. C. Davis, (2nd precinct) John Dunn; Judge of Election, (1st precinct) Thomas Davis, (2nd precinct) Milton Stiles; Inspector (1st precinct) D. W. Stiles, (2nd precinct) E. L. Evans.

Tea Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Riston entertained a number of their gentlemen and lady friends last Thursday evening. An elegant luncheon was served at six o'clock. The most prominent thing in the evening's amusements was "characteristic cards," on which were thirty-four sentences. The first letter in each word was the initial and the whole sentence characteristic of some noted person. Miss Mamie Stone, of Beaver, Pa., who is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. F. Robinson, guessed thirty of them and received a beautiful framed picture as a prize. F. M. Brown and M. E. Weed were tie at twenty-four and had to draw to settle the prize for the gentlemen. Mr. Weed got the prize—a book.

A Nice Young Man Leaving.

Charles Kah, who has been in the employ of Priester Bros., furniture dealers and undertakers in this place, ten years, left Reynoldsville this week to locate at New Bethlehem, where he has bought a furniture store. He has also bought a furniture store and undertaking establishment at Fairmount, a small town about one mile east of New Bethlehem. Chas. will keep both stores going for a time at least, as an experiment. Chas. Kah, who is a very nice young man, is a good business man. He has made many warm friends in Reynoldsville who are sorry to see him leave, yet they were pleased to see him embark in business for himself. The people of New Bethlehem will find Charles an honest, upright fellow, who will attend strictly to his business.

Hotel Imperial.

This week Green & Conser will open their new and elegant three-story, stone-trimmed, buff-colored brick hotel to the public. There are few, if any, towns in this section that have a finer hotel than Hotel Imperial. The interior of the hotel is beautiful, especially the decorations, kalsomining and finish in the dining room, office, bar-room, halls and parlors. The house is well planned and will be convenient and comfortable. The hotel has entrances on Main and Fourth streets.

In the basement are billiard room, barbershop, boiler room and laundry. On the ground floor, large office, writing and reading room, bar-room, commodious dining room, kitchen, lavatories, etc. On the second floor large parlor and bedrooms. There are also a number of finely furnished bedrooms on the third floor. The building has thirty bedrooms. Bath-rooms and closets on the second and third floors. The house is furnished with new furniture; brass and iron beds are used exclusively. It is heated throughout with steam. Gas, with Welsbach burners, is used for lights; the halls and rooms are well illuminated. A system of electric bells connect all parts of the house with the office.

James V. Young, contractor of this place, was the builder of the new structure; Frank W. Campbell, of this place, did the decorating and Priester Bros., furniture dealers, furnished the house.

Thos. Green and John C. Conser, who were born and raised in Reynoldsville, are now the owners and proprietors of a magnificent hotel.

Will W. Wiley, of this place, who has been with Green & Conser several years, is clerk in the new hotel.

West Reynoldsville Ticket.

Stauffer; town council, Samuel Sutter, James Orr; high constable, M. C. Kelley; school directors, M. H. Stiles, N. W. Drake; tax collector, S. E. Brewer; poor overseer, John Bartle; Auditor, Wilson Barry; judge of election, Earl Sutter; inspector, W. B. Stauffer.

McKee; school directors, Joseph McKernan, David Bollinger; poor overseer, P. McEntire; tax collector, Wilson Gross; auditor, T. C. McEntire; judge of election, John Crawley; inspector, W. P. Woodring.

Frozen to Death.

The remains of Stanley Baltruszis, a Poleander twenty years old, were brought to Reynoldsville Monday from Eleonora and shipped to Wilkesbarre, Pa., by express. The young man's parents live at that place. Baltruszis and a companion went to Punxsutawney Friday and imbibed freely from the cup that intoxicates. They started to walk to Eleonora, a distance of eight or nine miles but got separated near the Muth farm. One of the Muth boys hitched into a sled and hauled Baltruszis to Eleonora and let him out of the sled a square from where he boarded at 2:00 A. M. Saturday. He fell before reaching his boarding house and was unable to get up. Several women found his dead body in the snow Saturday morning.

"Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde."

Mr. Nourse is truly a great orator. In voice, gesture, logic, humor and pathos, he is a master. His frequent flights of true eloquence are wonderful. His style is so bright and inviting that one is charmed from the start. He is an excellent story-teller, and his power of mimicry is great. His subject, "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," was one which brought forth the full dramatic power of the orator. He spoke for two hours and ten minutes. At the close of his lecture, one gentleman grasped him by the hand and said, "You have missed your calling; you ought to be on the stage instead of the platform."—Fort Wayne (Ind.) Sentinel. Assembly hall, Reynoldsville, Feb. 5th. Seats on sale at Stoke's drug store.

Two Railroads Consolidated.

There was filed at the State Department in Harrisburg Saturday last a joint agreement of consolidation and merger between the Reynoldsville & Falls Creek Railroad Co. and the Falls Creek Railroad Co., forming a new corporation under the name of Reynoldsville & Falls Creek Railroad Co. The concern is capitalized at $330,000. L. W. Robinson, general manager of Jefferson & Clearfield Coal & Iron Co., is president. The road is eleven miles long.

Sleighride and Dance.

About ten couples of young people from DuBois took a sleighride to this place Monday evening and were joined by a number of Reynoldsville young people at the Nolan block, and together they indulged in a social dance. Light refreshments were served about midnight at Hotel Imperial.

Bargains in Boys suits at Deemer's.

MINERS ASK FOR A REDUCTION.

Pick Men Will Work for 30 Cents—The Sprague Tipple Abandoned.

The pick miners at the Sprague mine have been getting 40 cents per ton for drawing pillars, and the machine miners get 25 cents for the same work, consequently most of the work was done by the machine men, the pick men only getting about one day a week. Lack of work and the great wolf of want lurking around very closely to their family circles, resulted in the pick men of the Sprague mine, Rathmel, holding a meeting one evening last week and deciding to ask the company for a reduction from 40 to 30 cents for pick mining and more work to do. It was the intention, so we have been informed by General Manager Robinson, to let the pick men in the Sprague look for work elsewhere, but at the men's request have decided to give them more work at 30 cents per ton, 5 cents more than the work can be done for with the machines. This reduction only applies to the pick men in the Sprague.

The Sprague mine, so far as shipping coal from that opening, has become a thing of the past. The last coal was weighed at the Sprague tipple Saturday. Hereafter all the coal from the Sprague mine will come out through the rope haulage at Big Soldier. The tipple will be torn down at the Sprague mine and all the railroad tracks around the mines will be taken up. Coal has been shipped from the Sprague mines about fifteen or sixteen years and an immense amount of "black diamonds" have been taken out at that opening during that time.

The Henry mine, near Rathmel, which furnished coal to the Jefferson and Clearfield Coal and Iron Co., has been shut down indefinitely.

The Bloomington Coal Company mines have been started and a small amount of coal is being shipped from that mine at present. The output will soon be increased. The married men of Rathmel are securing work as fast as possible in these new mines.

Four Polanders Arrested.

Early Sunday morning the watchman at Falls Creek discovered that a car had been broken into and merchandise stolen out of it. He called several of the railroad men and, as a fresh snow had fallen, they had little difficulty in tracking the robbers to the Falls Creek mines. Two men were left to watch the houses and the other one returned to Falls Creek and telegraphed Supt. S. B. Rumsey, at this place. Mr. Rumsey ordered an engine out, sent for Detective Frank P. Adelsperger, they were joined by train dispatcher, D. M. Dunsmore, and all three went to Falls Creek on the engine. There they joined several other men and all proceeded to the mines. They entered the boarding house kept by John Kovolski, a Poleander. Search was made and a box of rubber shoes were found between two ticks on a bed. A trap door, over which the proprietor was sitting, was raised, under which was a dugout filled with merchandise of all kinds, including two hundred one-pound packages of coffee. Four Polanders were arrested and three escaped. After the men had been arrested and the goods secured, several officers came down from DuBois to assist in capturing the thieves.

There were three half barrels of beer in the boarding house that had been purchased to take an active part in christening a three-day-old baby that day.

The four men were taken to DuBois, given a hearing Monday forenoon and sent to the Clearfield jail in the afternoon.

Airbreaks Failed to Work.

J. A. Warnock, of Foxburg, who was visiting his sister, Mrs. M. M. Fisher, in this place, received a message Saturday evening that his father-in-law, D. G. Moriarty, a passenger engineer on the Pittsburgh and Western narrow gauge railroad had been killed. Mr. Warnock left Reynoldsville Monday morning, his first opportunity to get a train for home.

An awful wreck occurred near Shippenville Saturday afternoon, in which Engineer Moriarty, Fireman Beatty and Mail Agent Copely were killed instantly. Brakeman Wise was injured so badly that he cannot live, Conductor Tunks and a dozen other passengers seriously injured and a number slightly injured. The train was a through passenger making the trip from Kane to Butler. The approach to the Paint creek trestle, near Shippenville, is steep and when attempting to apply the airbrakes to control the train on this steep grade, the air would not work and the train ran down the grade with such speed that when it struck the curve near the trestle, the entire train jumped the track and went over the trestle, a fall of 30 feet, on to the jagged rocks below. The engine, combination baggage and mail car and one coach were piled in a mass of wreckage in the bed of the creek. The train cleared the trestle so completely in the plunge into the stream that the trestle was not damaged in the least.

Buy Two and Save Money.

Wants Donations.

W. H. Warner, the man who was connected with the Warner Safe Cure Remedies that were advertised extensively in this section a few years ago, and whose connection with the Safe Cure business terminated disastrously for him in 1893, shortly after its organization into an English Stock Company, has a good supply of check in stock. We received a circular from Mr. W. a few days ago in which he states that at the suggestion of friends he has secured a pharmaceutical product which he proposes to advertise extensively, and says: "With the pardonable assumption that you may be interested in the details of the undertaking, I take the liberty of addressing you." He has the undaunted cheek to ask us to donate him anywhere from $50 to $5,000 worth of space to give him an interest in the company he is about to organize to handle the medicine he proposes to place on the market. As an inducement he says the company will advertise extensively. If Mr. Warner gets any space in THE STAR he will pay for it.
