Instructing Sub-Junior.

The sub-junior class of the borough schools, composed of twenty-eight members, is now receiving four or five weeks' instruction in botany and algebra by Prof. Lenkerd. The Prof. is doing this work gratuitously with a two-fold purpose in view. One is that the class will be sure to get through the course laid out for them in the next term, and the other is that they can study botany more advantageously at this season of the year than during the winter months.

Remove It, Gentlemen.

The wooden awnings in front of C. F. Hoffman's jewelry store, Bolger's tailoring establishment and Wiggett's fish market have been torn down. The removal of the wooden awnings adds greatly to the appearance of Main street. The council did a good act in issuing an edict for the removal of these awnings, but THE STAR suggests that if the council wants to make further improvements on Main street that at the next meeting an order be issued, not allowing many days for its execution, that the fire alarm bell tower be removed from Main street. It is as much of an "eye-sore" as wooden awnings ever could be.

Teachers' Examinations.

County Supt. R. B. Teitrick will begin the annual examinations for teachers' certificates the latter part of this month. He will reach Reynoldsville on Saturday, July 10th. Certificates will be in hands of teachers by July 24th. No certificates will be issued while the examinations are in progress. The above is a portion of the notice sent out by Supt. Teitrick.

At 5.00 P. M. Thursday, June 10th, Miss Barbara Gene Waite, the accomplished and youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Waite, of Winslow township, was married to Charles Hoffman, a highly esteemed and promising young man of Justice, Ohio. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. F. Reber, pastor of the Reynoldsville Presbyterian church, of which Miss Waite was a member. The wedding took place at the home of the bride in the presence of only the members of the family, with the exception of Miss Mary Cooper, of this place, and Mrs. Annie O'Harra, of Pancoast. Supper was served soon after the ceremony and Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman started on the 8.05 P. M. train en route for their future home in the Buckeye State. They were given a big reception at Justice, Ohio, Friday evening. Mr. Hoffman and his now bride began their love-making at Ada, Ohio, when they were both students in the college at that place several years ago. Mrs. Hoffman's host of young friends in this place wish her happiness and prosperity on the matrimonial sea.

School Directors' Convention.

The twelfth semi-annual convention of the Jefferson County School Directors Association was held in Assembly Hall Reynoldsville, on Monday of this week. The attendance was not as large as it should have been, yet it was an interesting convention. It was called to order at 10.30 A. M. by president of the Association, G. W. Porter, of Lindsey. Dr. A. F. Balmer, of Brookville, secretary, was at his post of duty. Miles W. King, of Reynoldsville, and James London, of Henderson twp., were elected vice-presidents. After the roll call the program was taken up. In the absence of directors who were in for papers in the forenoon, the workings of the compulsory educational law in various sections was reported by J. C. Smith, of Young twp., J. E. Pantall, of Punxsutawney, Dr. Balmer, of Brookville, G. W. Porter, of Lindsey, and County Supt. Teitrick. Hon. S. B. Elliott delivered an address in which he spoke of the good results of the compulsory law in Germany and Switzerland. The convention adjourned at 12.00, noon, to meet at 1.30 P. M.

After the opening of the afternoon session Miss Frankie King favored the convention with a selection on the piano.

A paper on "Sanitary and School Hygiene" was read by Dr. J. W. Frost. "Should Schools be Closed With Semi-weekly Papers instead of Readers?" was the next topic discussed. Remarks on this were made by D. M. Dunsmore, J. C. Smith, Prof. Lenkerd, Prof. Teitrick and C. Mitchell, Esq.

"Teachers—their Qualifications, and how They Should be Employed," was opened by Thos. R. Eolt, of Beaver twp., followed by Hon. Elliott, C. Mitchell, Dr. Balmer, Prof. Teitrick and J. E. Pantall.

"Duties of School Directors and Citizens as to Public Schools," paper by J. E. Pantall. Discussion by G. W. Porter, Hon. Elliott, Prof. Lenkerd, W. A. London, W. S. Reid, C. Mitchell.

President Porter delivered an address. On the secretary of the convention was instructed to request our representatives in Senate and House at Harrisburg to use their influence against any reduction in the State appropriation.

Convention adjourned to meet in Brookville on Thursday, Dec. 30th, 1897, that being the time of teachers' institute.

Reynoldsville Gets Second Prize.

The Knights of Pythias fifth annual reunion held in Brookville last Thursday was a success in every particular. The day was fine, the crowd large, the program excellent, the old town was dressed in gala attire and the parade a big one. At a business meeting held in the forenoon Punxsutawney was selected as the place for holding the sixth reunion the second Thursday of June, 1898. The parade was formed at one o'clock and marched through the principal streets. After the parade a public meeting was held in the court house, which was called to order by President N. L. Strong. After the address of welcome and response, the large assemblage was addressed by Grand Chancellor Dr. H. N. Durnell, Supreme Vice Chancellor Sample, Past Grand Chancellor R. H. Jackson, and Supreme Representatives H. O. Kline and John H. Carr. At the special convocation of the Grand Lodge the rank of past chancellor was conferred on about thirty members.

Valent Lodge No. 461, of Reynoldsville, got the $50.00 in gold prize for having the largest number of men in line; the Chestnut Ridge Lodge, of $100.00 banner for having the largest percentage of members in line; Ridgway Lodge, $30.00 in gold for best appearance in parade; DuBois $20.00 in gold for having best band.

A Hellish Assault.

An Italian, whose name is unknown, was committed to Brookville jail last night for a criminal assault on a Miss Burton, aged seventeen years, at London mine yesterday afternoon. The Ike was going for a bucket of water and when he got in front of the house where the girl had a window out cleaning it he stopped and looked wicked at her a little while and dropped his bucket and ran in the house after her. She saw him coming and jumped out of the window, but he was quick enough to catch her dress, which he held on and almost jumped through the window. He threw her down and had her by the throat when her brother and Will Repsher, who heard her scream, came to her rescue. The Ike would not let her go and even in the presence of the two men the fiend continued the attempt to accomplish his hellish crime. Repsher hit the Ike on the head twice with a car brake shoe, which weighs about twelve pounds, and knocked him insensible before he let go of the girl. Then the girl's brother kicked him until there seemed to be no life left in him. The Ike was arrested and brought to Reynoldsville last evening for a hearing before Squire Neff, but he refused to talk to an interpreter or give his name, and was committed to jail without a hearing. He was so badly battered up that he was in a critical condition.

Alive to Their Interests.

The people of the county are awakening to the fact that the best men obtainable should be drawn as jurors, and not those chaps that don't have much else to do and are continually trying to get their name in the jury wheel. If the Republicans of Jefferson county nominate Milton H. Carrier, of Clover township, for jury commissioner at the primary election Saturday they will have a christian gentleman to help fill the jury wheel. The Democrats have some good material to select a jury commissioner from, and if they nominate their best man there is no doubt but that the jury wheel will be filled to the satisfaction of the court of our county.

Installed the Officers.

Mrs. Wm. Copping installed the following new officers in the Daughters of St. George Lodge on night last week: President, Mrs. John Bashor; vice-pres, Mrs. Sam'l Tovery; financial secretary, Mrs. Wm. Booker; asst. sec., Mrs. Hannah Ennewine; treasurer, Mrs. Wm. Copping; 1st conductor, Miss Lizzie Northy; 2nd con., Mrs. Annie Reed; chaplain, Mrs. Wm. Northy; inside guard, Mrs. John McGinnis; outside guard, Mrs. Reed.

Dr. Mary E. Kimball, of Brookville, Pa., will be at Mrs. Miles King's on Friday, June 18th, and ladies wishing to see her professionally will call between 2.00 and 5.00 P. M.

FELL UNDER A TRAIN.

Both Legs Crushed—Death Ensued Six Hours Afterwards.

Last Friday morning Birtrell LeRoy Eaton, who was sixteen years old the 6th of this month, met with an accident at Big Soldier which ended his young life about six hours afterwards. Young Eaton was employed as water boy at the new coke ovens and had gone up on the train that hauls the men to work in the morning. By jumping off at the lower switch those employed at the coke ovens save themselves a little walk. The train was running slow at this point and a number of the men jumped off. Eaton being among the number. He had his dinner bucket in one hand a hold of the handle bar of the car with the other, and instead of letting go of the bar when his feet struck the ground, he hung on and was thrown under the cruel wheels. Both legs, between the knees and ankles, were terribly crushed. The boy was hauled to the Main street crossing and carried from there to his home, near the tannery, on a stretcher. Three or four doctors were at the crossing when the unfortunate youth arrived and everything possible was done for the boy's comfort and to save his life, but the efforts were unsuccessful. Both legs were amputated, the right leg below the knee and the left one above the knee. The boy only lived about an hour and a half after his limbs were amputated. The accident happened about 6.30 A. M. and about 12.30 P. M. his spirit had taken its flight to the realms of Eternity.

A short funeral service was conducted at the sad home at 10.00 A. M. Sunday by Rev. J. W. Crawford and the remains were taken to Sandy Valley for burial.

The boy's father is in the Dayton, Pa., Soldiers' Home near the gates of death by a paralytic stroke. Mrs. Eaton gets a small pension and with the little money the boy could earn they managed to live. Now that this support has been removed the broken hearted woman will have a harder time than ever to keep the "gaunt wolf" of want from her door.

A Very Close Call.

J. Gettos Schlabig, son of Milton Schlabig of Reynoldsville, who is employed with a switch crew in the B., R. & P. yards at DuBois, had a very narrow escape from a horrible death Sunday morning. The DuBois Courier gives the following account of Schlabig's mishap:

"The crew was engaged in shifting cars at Falls Creek. Schlabig was on the front end of the string, and jumped off in front of them in order to turn a switch. As he struck the ground his ankle turned under him and he fell lengthwise between the rails. In a moment the cars were on him. When he saw he could not escape lay perfectly still as the best thing to do under the circumstances. Fortunately no part of his body got under the wheels, and his injuries came from the break beams raking his body. His companions, who had witnessed the accident, succeeded in stopping the engine after three and a half cars had passed over him. He was taken out and brought to his home at 108 South Franklin street, and Drs. Free and Fugate summoned. Upon examination it was found that he had sustained the fracture of both bones in the right leg just above the ankle, and was badly bruised about the head and right arm. He thinks he broke the leg in alighting."

Blacksnake in Commissioners Office.

Last Friday noon as the editor of THE STAR was walking leisurely to the A. V. R'y station at Brookville he was overtaken at the north end of the iron bridge that spans the Red Bank creek by County Commissioner Wm. C. Murray, who had a club in one hand and a package in the other. Mr. Murray stopped on the bridge and opened the package and to our great surprise he had a blacksnake, that was at least four and one-half feet long, wrapped in the paper. The snake's head was crushed, but the reptile was still able to breathe. Mr. Murray informed the scribe that the snake had been found in the commissioners office and that commissioner Hinderliter had knocked the fight out of it with a poker. Commissioner Murray and Clerk Davis saw the reptile in the office, with its head raised about a foot, before Hinderliter "swipped" it one with the poker. This is not a snake fabrication, but an actual fact.

Married at Sykesville.

Miss Alma Scott, daughter of Asa W. Scott, of Sykesville, was married to Wm. S. Garol, of Hillsdale, Pa., at the home of the bride's father at six o'clock Wednesday evening, June 9th, in the presence of a large assemblage. Rev. W. G. Patterson, pastor of the Sykesville Baptist church, performed the ceremony. Supper was served. Music for the occasion was furnished by the Strouse Family. The maids of honor were Miss Estella Strouse, of Paradise, Miss Ada Scott, of Reynoldsville, Miss Erma Scott, of Mt. Jewett, and Miss Etta Sykes. The groomsmen were Clarence Smith, John Strouse, Asa W. Sykes and Ambrose Strouse. The presents were numerous. It was a beautiful June wedding. The house was profusely decorated with roses, rhododendron and other flowers.
